It Sometimes Happens!

As the publisher of weekly newspapers well knows, it isn't easy to nail down "exclusive" stories or sit on a "scoop" several days until edition day.

One such fellow apparently missed by a few hours last week the chance to print one of the most important stories of his life — about himself. He is William O. Walker, Cleveland publisher of the Negro weekly newspaper Call and Post, which has a Columbus edition.

Friday evening Governor-elect James A. Rhodes announced that he had appointed Walker as director of the Department of Industrial Relations — the first Negro to become a member of the cabinet of an Ohio governor.

Walker's own paper, although dateline Saturday, was distributed earlier in the week. It missed the story completely. Rhodes, usually wise to the ways of publicity, apparently missed his timing on that one.

Jimmy has been a regular columnist in the Call and Post, penning a piece on Negro history.

The governor's selection of Mr. Walker is to be commended. He is an able business man and newspaper publisher.

Mr. Heer "Steps Up"

He announced that he was resigning from the position as head of the Franklin County Democratic organization and at the same time was relinquishing management of the F. J. Heer Printing Co.

But Mr. Heer was careful to leave no impression that he is stepping down, or retiring. Instead he is merely taking another job and will devote his full time to other business interests.

And it stands to reason that he will be active in many ways in the civic affairs of this area.

While many people on the opposite side of the political fence have differed with him often over the past 30 years it is still a fact that he has contributed much to the growth of the community in this time.

We like his attitude toward this change. It is not retirement. He is not through. He is merely "stepping up" to a new position in our community. We wish him well.

Notes and Nubbins: Mose and Mildred Williams are in California and will take off by plane in early February for Hawaii . . . Real estate man John Hart has been honored for the third year for being in the million dollar sales class . . . Mrs. Ed Melvin is in Mt. Carmel Hospital . . . Never knew til now that Sarabell Henderson and Howard Terhune were married at Lincoln Village Chapel on May 4 and now live at Olentangy Village but will be spending their winter in Florida . . . A lengthy epistle from Jack Morris advises that he received a nice gift from the air force in that he now is a major. He and his family are now stationed in Hawaii.

Burglars Hit

Burglars, on a New Year's shopping spree, took nearly $1000 in loot from businesses and residences in the city.

Willie James Page, 47, told police burglars kicked out boarded up basement windows to gain entrance to his home at 471 Starling-st. Page said clothing, a phonograph, radio, and television were taken. The items were valued at $800.

Progress Report Due Next Week

Watch next week's edition for Hartley Newspapers' Annual Progress Report.

This year's special supplement will feature social, economic, religious, business, and education reports from Columbus area experts.

The report, complete with pictures, will give readers a comprehensive and detailed account of progress made here in 1962, and will outline trends in the various fields in 1963.

2000 Workers To Leave West Side Plant

WESTGATE NOW HAVEN FOR ICE-SKATING ENTHUSIASTS

THE COLUMBUS Recreation Department reported this week that it is employing quality ice skating instructors and supervisors to man five city parks — including Westgate shown above. Besides Westgate Franklin, Schiller, Goodale and Whetstone are included in this new skating program. Supervisors will be on the job from 4 to 10 p.m. on school days, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturdays and from 1 to 10 p.m. on Sundays on those days when the ice is safe for skating. The Parks and Forestry Department is also cooperating by maintaining the ice (department official seen in background with "ice smoother" machine) and by providing wood-burning warming areas. All of the instructors at the five ponds are Ohio State University students.

Supply Center Joins General Depot Force

Some 2000 government workers will leave the West Side in the next few months and trek across Columbus to form one of the country's seven major military supply centers.

The Defense Department announced the move Friday which will evacuate the Construction Supply Center, now being operated at 52 Starling-st, and combine it with the Columbus General Depot in East Columbus.

The name "General Depot" will also be changed and operations there will assume the name of the incoming organization, the "Defense Construction Supply Center."

Brig. Gen. Walter A. Huntsberry, who will command the new center setup, announced that the organization wil be under the direction of the Defense Supply Agency (DSA) with headquarters at Cameron Station, Alexandria, Va.

The new center will serve a 14-state area, including Kansas, Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska and North and South Dakota.

General Huntsberry also reported that there will still be some activity at the Starling address, but said that this would "eventually phase out" also.

At Starling-st, the Defense Construction Supply Center was operating along with an 1800 - member organization known as the Mobility Support Center.

Further reports indicate that the mobility groups will leave the West Side area in "about a year" and eventually will locate at the Supply Center's new East Columbus location but remain under the separate command of Colonel Earle Butler who is now in charge of its operations.

The last office group that will leave Starling-st is the Veterans Administration Claims department which is employing about 15 persons.

Both moving operations by the Supply and Support groups will take several months since there isn't, at the present time, adequate space on the Depot grounds to house all the workers.

The Department of Defense last week, however, let a $2.5-million contract to a Chicago firm to remodel more warehouses at the Depot so that the needed offices can be set up.

The East Columbus center will be responsible for processing and shipping all DSA-managed supplies authorized for stockage there to all of the military installations in the mentioned 14-state area.

A routing center will also be established which will be responsible for receiving, screening and transmitting requisitions to the appropriate Defense Supply Agency centers. In addition to construction materials, these centers will handle food, clothing and textiles, automotive, electronic, medical, industrial, petroleum and other general supplies.

The Defense Construction Supply Center set up began Starling-st operations in September of 1960. The Mobility Support Center was added in August of 1962. Before this, the building was known as the Engineer Maintenance Center which was started in the West Side more than eight years ago.

Courageous German Refugee To Become American Citizen

By BETTY DAFT

German by birth, American by choice—Mrs. Eva Gossing will soon become a citizen of the country to whom she gave her allegiance and loyalty six years ago.

Paul and Eva Gossing with two of their children, Peter, then eight, and 15-year-old Ingrid, arrived at the house at 650 S. Richardson-av, made ready by members of their sponsoring Hilltop Lutheran Church, in the fall of 1956.

Another daughter, Rosemarie, with her small son, Klaus, arrived soon after.

The family, fleeing the virtual bondage living in their Russian - controlled province would mean, had been living in a displaced persons camp at Fulda, in Hessen, Germany.

And Mrs. Gossing's fiercely determined, "We came to this country; the country didn't come to us. It is we who will change," has charted her family's course and attitude.

The mysteries of the American way of life, so different from that in Germany, were tackled with a will and soon mastered by the entire family. Soap operas on television, with their continuing thread of story, were Mrs. Gossing's "language school."

We came, Mrs. Gossing said thoughtfully, "to work, to make a home for our children in freedom. All this we found, but there was something even more important — we found again a belief in people. This we had lost in Germany.

"And all this trust and kindness, we pay back," she said proudly.

This "repayment" by Mrs. Gossing has enriched the lives of all she has met. Homemade gifts from her talented hands—crocheted and baked, a sympathetic ear and an understanding heart for others' problems, have earned her a host of devoted friends.

Her husband, Paul, is an ornamental ironworker, and evidences of his skill and artistry are seen throughout the house—the bars of the television, at the stairway, the living room arch and the fireplace. And a handmade coffee table, with a top of mosaic tile, and legs of wrought iron, is another example of his craftsmanship.

The Gossings, as every other family, has had its share of triumph and tragedy in the past six years . . . their successes are perhaps even more thankfully received because they seemed so far away in 1956.

Rosemarie is practicing her profession in Columbus as a registered nurse; Ingrid, at 22, is now Mrs. Paul Creager, wife of a forestry student at Ohio State University; Peter, 15, is a student at Hilltonia Junior High, and their father is working at the craft he learned so well.

However, the family's heartfelt happiness on arrival in their new home was sadly tempered during their first year here. After a series of operations on her back, their mother was paralyzed from the neck down.

But Mrs. Gossing's tragedy was far from defeat. The same faith in her God that saw her through heart-breaking experiences in her war-torn homeland, changed despair to acceptance.

With the same high courage

AMERICANA, the motif in her hand - crocheted afghan, has also been woven through the lives of Mrs. Paul Gossing, her husband and children, during their six years in this country. German-born Mrs. Gossing will apply for citizenship early this year. Native flowers, and early American churches, schools and houses, are stitched in bright colors on the afghan, to be entered in the Ohio State Fair next summer.

Baby Piccione First To Claim '63 Title

First baby boy born in Columbus in 1963, and apparently the first in the community, is little Master Piccione, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Piccione, 2975 Westmoor-dr.

First to be reported to Hartley Newspapers by the early morning deadline Wednesday, Jan. 2, the baby was the only claimant to the First Baby title and to the congratulatory gifts offered by area merchants.

Baby Piccione, still unnamed at press time, made his debut nearly two weeks before the expected date, soon after midnight bells rang in the new year at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Dr. John Boutselis of Lincoln Village was the attending physician.

The Picciones have two daughters, Denise Anne, six; Lisa Jo, four, and another son, year-and-a-half old Jeffry.

Pictures of the community's first brand spanking new citizen, and a story about the family, will appear in next week's issue.

Traffic Commission Makes Rules Affecting West Side

Columbus Traffic and Transportation Commission has made two rulings of interest to the West area.

First was that there will be no parking from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the west side of Belle-st from W. State-st to Chapel-st.

Second was that Powell-av traffic must stop for Steele-av vehicles.

The first ruling came as a result of a request by Jim Seger of 311 W. State-st. Traffic Engineer Gallagher explained a wholesale auto parts company is experiencing difficulty in getting large trucks in and out of the place of business during the day. The business is on the southwest corner of Belle-st and W. State-st.

The items came to the attention of the board by Norman Weatherby of 158 N. Powell-av and also associate member Russell H. Campbell. Traffic Engineer Gallagher explained this is the first intersection west of Hague-av and the second intersection north of Broad-st, and presented the accident picture as well as the traffic volume count.

CLEAR SAILING?

Sabin Shipment In For Sunday Sipping

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

The airli[illegible] carrying Sabin Type III landed at Port Columbus Friday morning right on schedule and welcoming health officials on hand to greet the shipment couldn't help but hope that there'll be the same "clear sailing" during the administering.

They, of course, are very much aware of the doubts some persons have in their mind over the polio vaccine which will be distributed at 119 greater Columbus locations next Sunday, Jan. 6.

They are pinning most of their hopes on the fact that the vaccine was given a clean bill of health not only by local competent medical authorities but also, more recently, by the U.S. Surgeon General.

A cold winter wind was sweeping the Port Columbus runway as the American Airlines plane carrying the controversial Sabin pulled to a halt.

James E. Stein, Franklin County territorial manager for the Wyeth Laboratories (developers of the vaccine) was among the officials waiting for the shipment.

Stein explained that some 600,000 doses were being brought in for administering Sunday. 100,000 were shipped by plane and the rest will be brought in from Cincinnati by shuttle buses.

The precious serum was handled with care by the air-

TEENS IN MARCH

TEENAGE GUYS and gals—volunteers in the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes—will be stationed on Saturday, Jan. 12, at street corners, department stores, shopping centers and the downtown area in Franklin County, to request passersby to "Give for the Life of a Child." In exchange for a contribution, the volunteers will present each donor with a Rainbow Crutch indicating they have helped to provide exemplary medical care for these crippled children. Shown here is Vicki Stewart, of West High School, discussing plans with Senator Richard Metcalf, a member of the March of Dimes board.

Oct. 10, 1775, Sir William Howe became the commander-in-chief of the British army in America.

Camp Fire Girls

NANCY TRUELOVE
HE. 3-7216

Mrs. Johnny Ackerman, guardian, held a Christmas party at her home for the Da Kon Ya Camp Fire group. The girls had a gift exchange, refreshments, and played games. Da Kon Ya members are: Stephanie Emory, Pat Currier, Becky Hobbs, Karen Roberts, Bonnie Plevel, Roberta Ackerman, Georgia Brannan, Sue Ann Lavitchka, Linda Waddell, and Diane Guenther. This group of girls also spent an afternoon bowling at the new Lincoln Village Lanes.

Wa Chu Cun Camp Fire Girls recently held a special mothers' meeting. The girls wrote their invitations in Indian symbols. At the meeting, the girls served refreshments and entertained with explanations of the seven crafts and honor beads. Terry Hines, Jackie Cline, Naomi Kirk, Sharon Congrove, Linda Congrove, Kathy Clinger, Karen Clinger, Corinne Gibson, and Pam Gary, gave the Trailseekers Desire and the Trailseekers Law. On Dec. 17 these girls held a Christmas Council fire and received their Trailseekers certificates. Mrs. Joanne Clinger and Mrs. Rosella Congrove, guardians, presented each girl her Trailseekers charm.

Mrs. Fern Dellinger and Mrs. Irene Manley, guardians, held a Christmas party for the Na Pa Can Ya group after caroling at the Great Western Shopping Center, Dec. 14. The girls were served hot punch and submarine sandwiches. Their guardians presented them their new Horizon ties. Sally Dellinger, Judy Manley, Terry Tripp, Betty Anne Ainsworth, Patty Buckner, and Diana Debo are members of the Horizon Club group.

A brunch was held at the Southern Hotel, Dec. 27, for all Columbus members of the Horizon Club. Approximately 35 girls from the West Side attended this Christmas program. Mrs. Fern Dellinger, Mrs. Betty Jenks, Mrs. Alice Hussey, Mrs. Irene Manley, Mrs. Jerri Fine, and Mrs. Lucille Minnlear, Horizon Club guardians, were all represented by members of their respective groups.

The Wa Zu Nah Ki Camp Fire group, under the guardianship of Mrs. Wanita Gladden and Mrs. Wanda Schneider, held its Christmas party Dec. 22. The girls had a gift exchange, refreshments, and played games. Members of the group are: Susan Schneider, Judy Reiser, Christine Riner, Paula Kartsimas, Karen Kartsimas, Marsha Gladden, and Sueanna Schults.

Let's Maintain Faith In Sabin

We're convinced! Sabin's safe.

When a newspaper is to take an editorial stand on a subject, the procedure is to check with men who know, men whose opinions are respected and men who have devoted many hours of research time to a particular situation.

Such is the case with Sabin Type III oral vaccine, the third and final installment in the fight against polio which will be administered in the greater Columbus area on Sunday, Jan. 6.

The men who know — medical officials across the country—have given the controversial vaccine their stamp of approval and that's good enough for us.

These competent medical men are urging everyone to take the final Sabin sip because they know you are 30 times more likely to contract polio Type III by not taking the vaccine than by taking it.

Besides that, any remote dangers of the vaccine are reduced to near nothingness by the fact that it's being administered in winter weather—non-polio season.

This effort needs the support of residents everywhere. Without the vaccine, a person will continue to be a potential polio carrier even if he's received Type I and II.

Even elderly persons, who may have an immunity to polio, can still be carriers of the disease.

For these reasons, Sabin Type III must be taken by everyone if we're to ever finish polio for good.

Winter Hunting Is Bonus To Sportsmen

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Starting off a new year with last year's hunting season still in progress is a bonus to sportsmen that has come about in recent years.

The rabbit season is open to Jan. 31, and cock pheasants may be taken on state hunting areas until that date. In the south hunting zone (check your hunting regulation digest to find it) either cock or hen pheasants may be taken through January. Ohio has the longest ruffed grouse season in the nation, and it extends to Feb. 23. Hunting raccoons and opossums is allowed until Feb. 15.

All of this adds up to plenty of outdoor fun for hunters who do not fear ice and snow. Hunting and fishing have become truly year around sports. With ice fishing to fill in a few gaps, the outdoorsman can easily pass the time until spring arrives.

A winter hunt has charms all its own, but you must be adequately dressed to enjoy them. With the snow crunching under foot, crisp air and a blue sky, you will find much of interest outdoors.

Dogs that are properly conditioned love to get out and hunt under these conditions. Beagles are not hampered by snow if it is not too deep, and can trail both rabbits and birds. Rabbits seem to enjoy the chase, and often run longer over snow than at any other time.

Observation is easy when the snow is on. Once in a while you can see the whole chase from the time a rabbit is jumped until it runs in a hole or is shot. A fox stands out boldly against a white background, and few can sneak out of a field without being seen if you are quiet and observant.

Winter birds enliven the scene at this season. Woodpeckers and nuthatches search bark crannies for insects and insect eggs. Brilliant cardinals and somber song sparrows are found where seeds and berries abound. Squirrels are out seeking buried treasures in the form of hickory nuts and acorns left from last fall.

Nature is never completely dormant. A superficial glance at a field or valley will give you the impression that it is barren. But closer observation will reveal many forms of life. Patterns of tracks betray the night time activity, and are fun to follow.

Actually, hunting is just an excuse to get outdoors in mid-winter, as it is at other seasons. A fellow would look pretty silly out tramping around in snow drifts in near zero temperatures. But if he has some dogs and a gun along, then he is participating in one of our national pastimes.

SECOND EDEN

In war
Good will is placed Upon a darkened shelf
While vicious dogs of hate patrol the earth.

In peace
The cruelty
Of conflict is condoned
While victor and the vanquished share
The loss.

Yet peace
Shall be but truce
Until men's hearts and minds
Unite to rebuild Eden on The earth.

"Peace in our time." So spoke Neville Chamberlain when he landed at Croyden after his fateful meeting in Munich with "Corporal" Hitler and the man Winston Churchhill called "that black-hearted blaggard," Benito Mussolini.

We know now, by hindsight, that the Fuehrer and Il Duce had the upper hand and could determine war or peace. Now they are gone, but other evil leaders still remain to darken the future.

It says here .....
Love is the only enduring foundation for the peace.

Leftovers ... by John McPeek

Fear Knowledge And You Block Truth

Many things disturb me:

Greed, cruelty, stupidity, selfishness, hatred, bigotry, injustice ... to name a few.

But most reprehensible of all is fear of knowledge. If this great fear — the fear of seeking truth —were to be wiped out, I'm sure most of man's inhumanity to man would end.

McPeek

There are no greater cowards than those who draw back in frightened alarm when they are confronted with views and teachings that appear to disagree with their beliefs and standards.

This is why I hate censorship and all who have the unmitigated gall to set themselves up as "protectors" of their neighbors.

There are many physical things I fear. But I thank the heavens there is not one gram of fear of knowledge within me.

I have stated before that all men should have the right to view what they choose, hear what they choose and read what they choose.

I recently read Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer," a novel that for nearly 30 years was banned from publication in America, his native country.

It was banned for its "obscene filth." No one can deny that the book contains much filth — but it is the filth of man, a filth that not even the most blinded amongst us can't deny surrounds us.

Do not misunderstand — I am not writing this in defense of smut. I am against what is ugly in our lives as much as you may be. But how can we find truth if we cannot first recognize and understand evil?

And should any man be censored who writes with such penetration about today's youth, as Henry Miller does in the following:

"... Youth ends where manhood begins, it is said. A phrase without meaning, since from the beginning of history man has never enjoyed the full measure of youth or known the limitless possibilities of adulthood.

"How can one know the splendor and fullness of youth if one's energies are consumed in combating the errors and falsities of parents and ancestors? Is youth to waste its strength unlocking the grip of death? Is youth's only mission on earth to rebel, to destroy, to assassinate? Is youth only to be offered up to sacrifice?

"What of the dreams of youth? Are they always to be regarded as follies? Are they to be populated only with chimeras? ... Stifle or deform youth's dreams and you destroy the creator. Where there has been no real youth there can be no real manhood.

"If society has come to resemble a collection of deformities, is it not the work of educators and preceptors?

"Today, as yesterday, the youth who would live his own life has no place to turn, no place to live his youth unless, retiring into his chrysalis, he closes all apertures and buries himself alive. The conception of our mother the earth being 'an egg which doth contain all good things in it' has undergone a profound change. The cosmic egg contains an addled yolk. This is the present view of mother earth.

"The psychoanalysts have traced the poison back to the womb, but to what avail? In the light of this profound discovery we are given permission ... to step from one rotten egg into another. ...

"Why breed new monsters of negation and futility? Let society scotch its own rotten corpse! Let us have a new heaven and a new earth! — that was the sense of Rimbaud's obstinate revolt."

I don't know how the preceeding discourse on the spiritual suicide of modern youth affects you, but frankly, I eagerly will wade through 50 pages of "smut" to read one such illuminating passage.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Budget Meat Suggestions Given for Month

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Bananas, apples, grapes, compare citrus prices.

Vegetables — Potatoes, yams, carrots, cabbage, celery, lettuce.

January is the month that finds housewives struggling even more to meet their weekly food budget. This is normally because they tended to forget their budget during the holidays.

Mrs. Franks

One way of bringing the budget back in line is to consider the more thrifty cuts of meat. There are numerous thrifty cuts that have the same kind of good flavor and nutrition as the more expensive cuts. In beef, there are chuck steaks, brisket, ox joints, stew meat, short ribs, pot roasts and ground beef.

In pork, you'll find that sausage meat, smoked picnics, pork hocks, shoulder steak and roasts and end-cut loin roasts and chops are possible on budget menus. Shoulder roasts from lamb and veal, as well these animals.

Canned meats are a treat to Mom because they're easy to prepare and a treat to the family because they're so tasty. All that is needed is a little imagination, a can opener and a supply of versatile meats-in-a-can.

Franks are good any time of year, and so is sauerkraut. The two foods are combined in the promotion "National Kraut and Frankfurter Week" beginning Jan. 24. Watch for your grocer to feature these at that time.

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

What this country needs is more cheerleaders and fewer belittlers.

More people are better off right now than any previous generation. Back breaking drudgery is still around for those who refused to go to school and "sharpen up the tools" that old Mother Nature gave them. But what we don't need is a growing army of sadsack crabbers about the entire educational set-up.

People who never taught a term of school in their lives and never went beyond the eighth grade constantly rave about "what ails our schools." Of course there still are defects and blind spots in every school system, but hungry-minded kids are exposed to more stimulation and inspiration than ever before.

Let's take an inventory of other great forces that operate every day in our urban centers to give ambitious youngsters a real start. Junior Achievement is one. High school age students of both sexes have to learn basic economics or their project goes down the drain.

Lions clubs, Kiwanis clubs, Sertoma clubs, and most recently Civitan clubs are each picking honest projects, and men of ability and purpose in life are putting time, brains and money back of such efforts. De Molay for Masonic youngsters and CYO for Catholic counterparts are influencing more teenagers than the general public knows about.

More and more high school coaches are now doing regular classroom teaching as part of their duty. That added contact enables them to sort out the dolts and make every attempt to show these indifferent youngsters what it really means to get all the education possible at a time when our social needs for skill and dedication are so desperately obvious.

What a tragedy it is that so many have only one idea about the whole school business, namely to reach the legal age for "dropping out" of school. Add to this folly the rash of green kid marriages and it becomes no mystery why this land is temporarily morally and spiritually ill.

Teachers and ministers who really love children are well aware that environment and outside social influences are either helpful or destructive, depending on how persistantly parents back them up in their guidance efforts.

Conversely, any teacher today whose certificate means nothing more than a license to draw public money, has no moral right to such a license. Any church having a preacher that "the kids don't go for" is missing out dangerously because the only way to produce the new and solid citizens is to get 'em young and raise 'em right.

Cites Civic Apathy

To the Editor:

In the past, meetings of the Whitehall City Council have been well attended and people express their pros and cons but I have noticed a gradual decline in attendance.

Being a civic minded individual, I was concerned, worried and constantly seeking an answer! I got my answer Tuesday night, Dec. 18.

Council was holding a public hearing on Ordinance 137-62 relative to apartments at Fairway-blvd and E. Main-st.

Mr. George Chamblin, 628 Fairway-blvd, speaking for himself and other property owners on Fairway-blvd, opposed the ordinance.

W. B. McKleskey also spoke in opposition.

Council by a unanimous vote adopted the ordinance, thereby allowing more apartments in Whitehall.

Before adjournment Councilman Ray Shipley commended the councilmen's "refusing to be pressured or blackmailed," as he put it, "by those people east of Hamilton-rd into rejecting the ordinance."

Jesus Is Most Worthy Guide In New Year

The New Year celebrations are mileposts of life. New Year's Day is not different from other days of the calendar year, and yet so much seems to depend upon it.

The prophet had warned Israel, "Sanctify yourselves, for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you. You have not passed this way before."

Rev. Daniel

Like the Israelites, let us sanctify ourselves at the beginning of the new year that as we enter a strange land it may become a land of promise, even though it be filled full of uncertainties.

Our New Year's Eve joyousness ought to be checked by the sobering thought that is is serious business upon which we are engaged. We are not prompted by fear, but rather by a sense of uncertainty, together with the magnitude of the consequences any future conduct may involve.

The uncertainties of life loom ahead of us today, but life is not the only uncertainty in this new land of tomorrow. Those who are living prosperously today may become hungry. Those who are enjoying radiant health today may tomorrow find their lives enslaved by pain and suffering. The choice dreams of our hearts may be blasted. The vision we have had of the future may prove to be but a mirage.

But while the new year is full of uncertainties, there are many certainties as well.

There will be "wars and rumors of war." Sin will continue in this new year of our Lord. There will be adultery of the soul and of the body. There will be thievery. There will be murder. And what is more devastating than all these sins, there will be gossip. There will be countless thousands mourning because of man's inhumanity to man.

But now, these things having been said, let this also be said just as seriously and just as thoughtfully. Among the certainties there will be found love, greatest of the abiding virtues. Parents will still love their children, and their hearts will be gladdened when they find that love is returned.

There will be men and women who will love God and goodness during this new year. And, on this we who are Christians may build a firm foundation. The God who loved mankind so much will continue to love us with the same rich love.

Just as there will be many faithless individuals next year, so will there be many who are faithful. As there will be sin, so will there be ideals.

We should first prepare ourselves for the uncertainties of the future. A faith in God is the best possible preparation for the shocks of life. And then, we should strive to pick our way among the many certainties.

The Israelites were very quick to discover that in order to find their way in a new land they needed a good leader. The Ark of the Covenant was their constant guide and became their stronghold in the face of new difficulties.

The purpose of the church in this new year will be to offer to the world the leadership of Jesus through this new and strange land. He is a leader whom experience has taught us to trust in every new experience. He is the one who, facing all of life was able to live it ideally. He came face to face with sin and temptation. He knew disappointment which was greater than the disappointment we shall know. Yet He took His defeated and frustrated existence and turned it into triumphant living. His secret lay in the choices which He made.

It is Jesus whom we proclaim as our guide. It is Jesus whom we offer as a worthy leader. It is Jesus whom we shall trust in this strange land of 1963, through which we have never passed before.

—Raymond S. Daniel, pastor
Briggsdale Methodist Church

Old Frank-rd Project Gets Beef-Up Job

The 30-year-old plan to link Frank and Refugee-rds between High-st and Lockbourne-rd, has grown into a $9.7 million project for a 4.3-mile, four-lane expressway.

Programmed for 1967, the expressway tentatively is planned to start at the South Freeway and dip under High-st south to parallel Fornof-rd. Bypassing the Buckeye Steel Casting Co. plant, the 60-mile-an-hour road swings northeast to parallel Refugee-rd to Alum Creek-dr.

A future expansion would tie it in with an interchange planned for relocated Rt. 33 (College-av) and quick access to the East Freeway by way of James-rd extended.

A $25,000 engineering study recommended the expressway as an intermediate road between the Innerbelt and the Outerbelt expressways.

City Councilman William R. Fornof said he will move for land purchases for the project in 1963.

Presbyterians Note Display, Aid Refugees

Hilliard Presbyterian Church members have gone "all out" on a blanket drive, held during the Christmas season, for refugees around the world.

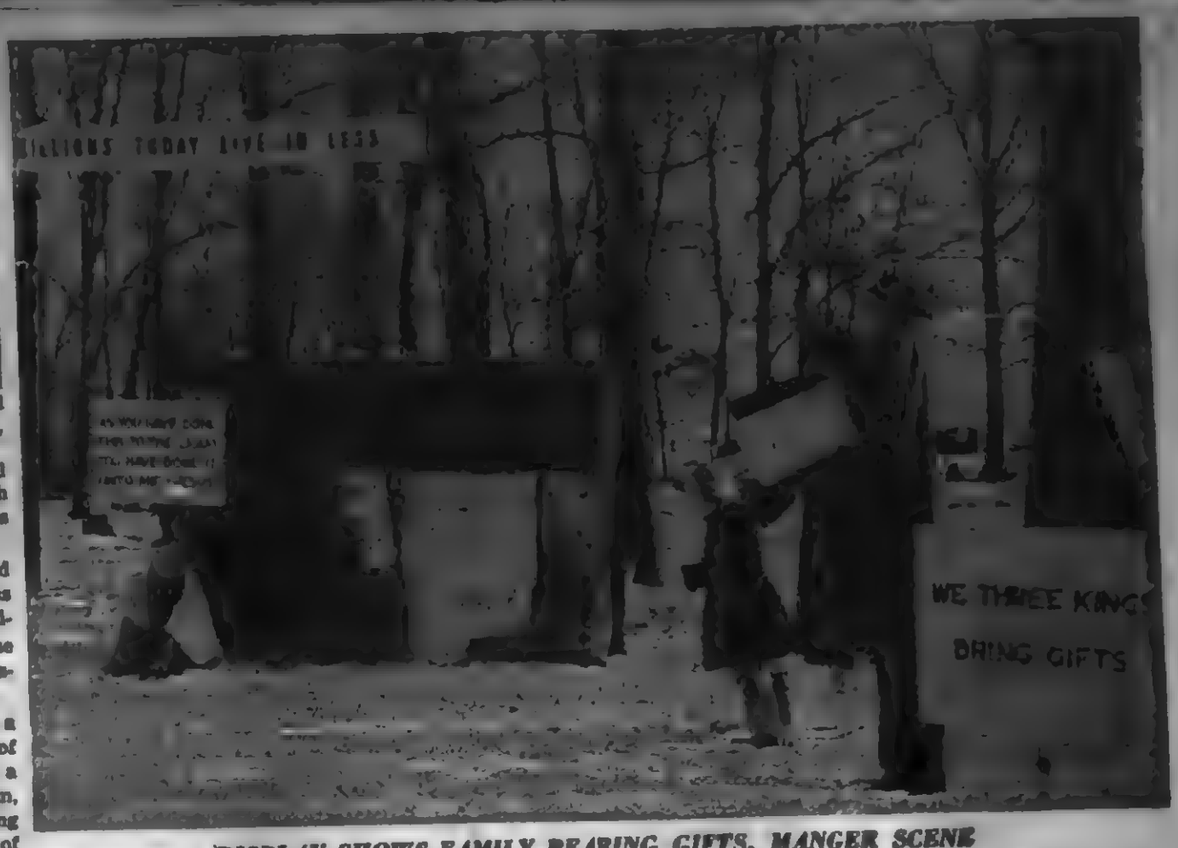
Dedication for the blankets, many of them new, will be Sunday, Jan. 6, at both morning worship services (9:30 and 11 a.m.).

Rev. Alfred T. Davies said the response to the drive has been "outstanding" and credited the display in front of the church with getting the message across to members.

The hand-made display, a product of the talents of church members, depicts a rough looking manger, a man, wife and daughter bearing gifts and telling the story of the need for help.

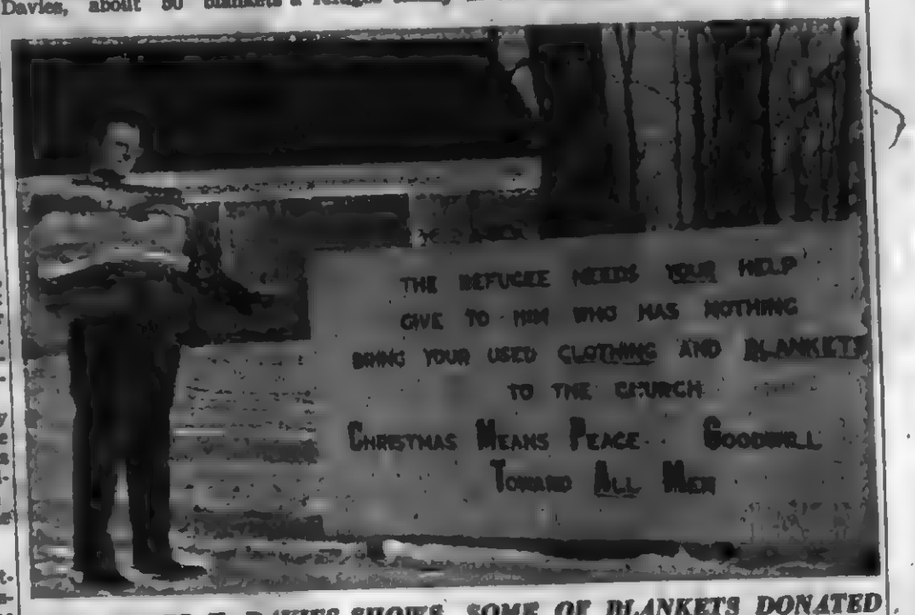
Blankets will still be accepted at the church up to worship time next Sunday.

They will be sent to the Church World Service Center for shipping and distribution.



To date, according to Rev. Davies, about 50 blankets have been collected.

The Hilliard Presbyterians have also taken an interest in Cuban refugees and have established a fund to be used to relocate refugees.



The church hopes to have a refugee family in the Hilliard community sometime within the next year.

Rev. Davies said about $500 is needed now for refugee aid.

Checks for the fund should be made out to Hilliard Presbyterian Church Refugee Fund.

REV. ALFRED T. DAVIES SHOWS SOME OF BLANKETS DONATED

Spotted At Blacklick

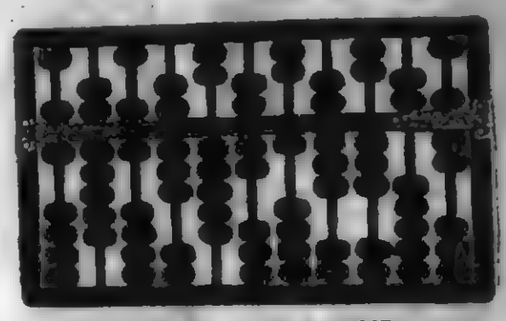
Blacklick Woods, on Livingston-av near Reynoldsburg, has become well known as an undisturbed woodland where the rare pileated woodpecker has continued to make its home since the coming of the white man.

The bird is the largest of seven species of woodpeckers in Ohio, according to Blacklick naturalists, and is a spectacular crow-size bird with conspicuous black and white coloration and a distinctive red crest.

Because of its great size and coloration, it is unmistakable at close range. Its presence often is announced by its loud flicker-like call or drumming on a hollow tree, naturalists say.

The pileated also have been reported at Darby Creek, Blendon Woods and Highbanks Metropolitan Parks.

Geologist Dates Talk On Glacier



Dr. Jane Forsyth, geologist, will present an illustrated talk "A Geologist Visits Glacier National Park" at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 3, at Blacklick Woods on E. Livingston-av.

Miss Forsyth, who recently visited the park, will have slides and explain some of its geology. She'll also have various rock samples.

The talk will be held in the Beech-Maple Lodge.

Measurements Of Bagged Deer Racks Available

With the Ohio gun season three weeks past, many large deer racks are being reported, according to Ohio Division of Wildlife fieldmen and Buckeye deer hunters.

Max Shipley of 705 N. Ogden-av, Columbus taxidermist at 1001 W. Broad-st, and a Boone and Crockett Club enthusiast, reports he has 35 big Ohio heads on hand for mounting already.

"Many of them are Buckeye Big Buck Club size and some of them are big enough for Boone and Crockett Club," he commented.

Any deer hunter who killed an Ohio deer in fair chase is eligible for membership in Big Bucks. Deer taken during the 1962 season can't be measured before Feb. 15, 1963, as there is a 60-day shrinking period.

To have a rack measured, write to Big Buck, 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12.

The mineral Mica can be made as thin as tissue paper.

Surburban Freight Reorganizes Sales, Operation Functions

A thoroughgoing change in operating strategy at Suburban Motor Freight, Inc., has been disclosed by James R. Riley, president. Sales and operations, for the first time in the company's 47-year history, are now functioning as separate units.

Division of sales and operations in the Columbus-based, national regular common carrier, explained Riley, has been brought about by the creation of a "diffuse marketing structure."

Riley announced that Jack L. Stewart, a vice-president and board member, has returned to Columbus to organize the independent marketing office. Stewart had been in Toledo for the past three years directing integration of a subsidiary, the Liberty Highway Co., with the parent line.

"Implementation and extension of organizational changes," said Riley, "including the headquarters staff, presages a number of new assignments."

Stewart has named two Suburban Motor Freight veterans to his staff: C. B. "Cy" Souders, sales manager, and William R. Barnhart, national accounts coordinator.

Founded in 1915, Suburban Motor Freight is one of the nation's largest highway regular common carriers. The company provides service in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia, and interline accommodations to 41 other states and Canada.

field crew as the ten cardboard boxes were dislodged from a packing of dry ice used in the plane to keep the vaccine cold. The cartons were immediately shipped to the health department to be cold-storaged there.

Stein mentioned that four million doses of Wyeth Type III vaccine have been given in this country to date and that only one possible case of polio has developed coincident with the administration of the serum.

The final decision to proceed with immunization by Sabin III here was made by the Franklin County Sabin on Sunday Steering Committee.

He said his committee — made up of respected medical authorities — have concurred with representatives of every segment of the community concerned with the problem.

"Every adult and child — even if they had a complete series of Salk shots and Type I and II Sabin vaccine — must take Type III in order to finish polio for good," McLaughlin emphasized.

The Sabin has the complete backing of the Academy of Medicine of Columbus and and Franklin County which cites the vaccine as "a community program which should receive everyone's support."

One of the most significant points in the controversy is the fact that it's among the safest of all preventative medicines, according to health officials, especially when administered during cold-weather months. McLoughlin pointed out that the risk of giving it in January weather is "virtually non-existent."

Wyeth representatives said "better than a half-million" persons received Type I vaccine and that "about a half-million" persons took Type II in the greater Columbus area.

"We have no reason now to believe that any less will take advantage of Type III," said Stein. "At least, we're planning on it happening this way and we're bringing in enough to meet this estimate."

Sabin Type III will be administered at 119 "stations" in and around the greater Columbus area. The sites located in Hartley Newspaper locations include:

Dr. Sabin To Speak

Dr. Albert Sabin, developer of the Sabin polio vaccine, will discuss Type III on WLW-C, TV 4's "Viewpoint" program Friday, Jan. 4, at 9:30 p.m. The Sabin will be administered Sunday, Jan. 6.

Guest panelist for this special program is Dr. Richard Fulton, president of the Columbus Academy of Medicine. Dr. Sabin is expected to answer questions from the panel concerning Sabin live virus polio vaccine Type III and the controversy over its use.

March Of Dimes Helps Save Boy

Johnny Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wilson of of 4889 Neff-rd, Grove City, celebrated his fourth birthday recently. It was a happy affair.

Yet at one time, Johnny's parents had little hope that he would live to celebrate even his first birthday. For he was born with the often fatal birth defect of water on the brain, or hydrocephalus.

Surgical treatment saved Johnny's life when he was three months old. At that time, doctors performed what is known as a shunt operation. They inserted in Johnny's head a plastic tube which allowed excess fluid from the brain to be harmlessly absorbed by the youngster's body.

Without the operation, fluid within the brain is prevented from taking its normal course, and causes the head to swell enormously. This is what had happened to Johnny. (If shunt surgery is not performed in time, mental retardation and blindness may ensue, even death, in certain cases.)

Since 1958, doctors have performed two other shunt operations and have treated Johnny for gastroenteritis and septicemia.

Today, Johnny leads a relatively healthy, happy and carefree life. Like any other little boy who lives on a farm, he loves to hug lambs, chase cows and tease chicks on the family's 100 acres.

He is a good example of thousands of afflicted children being helped to live nearly normal lives through a unique medical care program financed by the National Foundation - March of Dimes.

Babies with birth defects are born every other minute in the United States, 250,000 of them each year, almost 700 each day.

Johnny goes regularly to a special Birth Defects Clinical Study Center at Children's Hospital, supported by March of Dimes funds.

At the center, trained specialists work together to help children with many kinds of birth defects, behalf.

Every four months, Johnny's mother drives him to the center for his check-up. A doctor always measures his head to make sure there is no change in size. Since 1959, his head size has remained relatively constant.

Johnny is growing up to be an impish, energetic and friendly little boy who likes to do everything and go everywhere. Especially, he likes to wheedle rides on a pony at the next farm. He'll settle, though, for a tour on the tractor with his mother or father, Julia and John Wilson.

Like Johnny, other afflicted children who receive proper treatment may live to enjoy shooting cap pistols, watching television, singing songs or playing a toy banjo —with the best of four-year-olds.

Christian Scientists Set Lecture

Geith A. Plimmer

The Christian Science way of worshipping God will be explained in a public lecture at Whetstone High School, 4405 Scenic-dr, Thursday, Jan. 10, 8 p.m.

Geith A. Plimmer of London will be the speaker. He is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, and will speak here at the invitation of the Third Church of Christ, Scientist.

Formerly a schoolmaster in New Zealand and his native Australia, and a joint headmaster in England, he left the teaching profession to devote full time to the practice of Christian Science.

He served as an officiating minister to the Allied Forces in Italy during World War II, and has represented Christian Science as the former district manager of committees on publication for Great Britain and Ireland, including radio and television appearances over the British Broadcasting Co. network.

Admiral Burke Slates Speeches At Two Locations

Admiral Arleigh Burke, former chief of naval operations and a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will speak to the Foreman's Club at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 10, in the Arts and Crafts Center under the auspices of Dollar Federal Savings.

His subject will be "American National Power and World Peace."

On Jan. 11, Admiral Burke will speak at the Athletic Club under the joint auspices of the Navy League of Columbus and the Athletic Club membership.

His subject will be "Road to Freedom."

Youths To Meet

High school students, armed with traffic safety ideas and recommendations, will meet Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Ohio Exposition Center (State Fairgrounds) Youth Building for the seventh annual Youth Traffic Safety State Assembly Conference.

Guthrie Is Elected To Directorship

William S. Guthrie, president of Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Association, 36 E. Gay-st, has been elected to director of the Federal Home Loan Bank, Cincinnati. His two-year term began Jan 1.

He and three other directors will represent Ohio members.

There are eight Federal Home Loan Bank districts in the United States, with a central bank for each. These systems for savings and loans correspond to the Federal Reserve Bank system for the banking industry.

Guthrie is also a member of the U. S. Savings and Loan League Committee on Federally Chartered Associations, a director of the Columbus Board of Realtors, the Columbus Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Columbus Development Committee. He is a trustee of Wilmington College, on everal Community agency boards, the Multiple Sclerosis Society, and the governing board of First Community Church.

Buckeye Names James W. Hill Vice President

James W. Hill, 269 Villagedr, has been appointed vice-president at Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Association, it has been announced by William S. Guthrie, president.

Hill will be in charge of the coordination and development of Buckeye's three branch offices, the development and supervision of an expanded home improvement loan program, and will assist with property appraisals and loan procurements.

For six years prior to joining Buckeye, Hill was an executive in the savings and loan industry. Before that he was assistant mortgage loan agent for the Columbus office of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. for 15 years.

The Buckeye president also announced the firm's new customer drive-in facilities at 43 E. Long-st are now open. Two teller windows have been installed and a 30-car parking lot is available for customers transacting business at the main office, 36 E. Gay-st.

Parks Sponsor Explorers Group

The Columbus Metropolitan Parks will continue to sponsor a Junior Explorers program in 1963.

This program is open to boys and girls 10 years of age or older, who like outdoor adventure and exploration. Those wishing to take part should meet the naturalist at Blacklick Woods nature center, Saturday mornings at 9.

Programs are scheduled for every Saturday morning from 9 to noon.

Bridegroom's Father Reads Vows Uniting Miss Clark, Mr. Webb

A large sunburst arrangement of white gladioli, large white chrysanthemums and pompons against a background of frosted jade foliage, banked the sanctuary of Westgate Friends Church Dec. 15 at 2:30, when Miss Patricia Ann Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clark, 3039 Palmetto, became the bride of Mr. Harold Vincent Webb, son of Chaplain and Mrs. Harry Webb of Dayton. The bridegroom's father, Chaplain Webb, assisted by Rev. Leonard Wines, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves, and bouffant floor-length skirt, accented by alternating lace tiers.

Her illusion veil fell from a pearl tiara and she carried a sheath of snowdrift fujii pompons centered with a removable white orchid and accented with Oregon holly.

Mrs. Judith Roush was the matron of honor, and Miss Dorothy Clark served as [illegible].

They wore matching gowns of Kelly green brocade taffeta, white fur headbands, and carried white fur muffs with an arrangement of Oregon holly and red carnations.

Best man was Mr. Donald E. Moore of Akron, and ushers were Mr. Charles D. Foust of Akron and Mr. Robert C. Langdon of Columbus.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Ohio State University College of Education, and plans to teach in the Akron school system.

Mr. Webb, a graduate of Ohio State College of Commerce, is an accountant at Firestone Tire and Rubber Company in Akron. He is a member of Beta Alpha Psi Honorary Fraternity.

Following a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., and the South, the couple will reside at 1170 Copley-rd, Akron.

Kids Do Have Their Ups And Downs At Glenwood...

PULL YOURSELF TOGETHER!

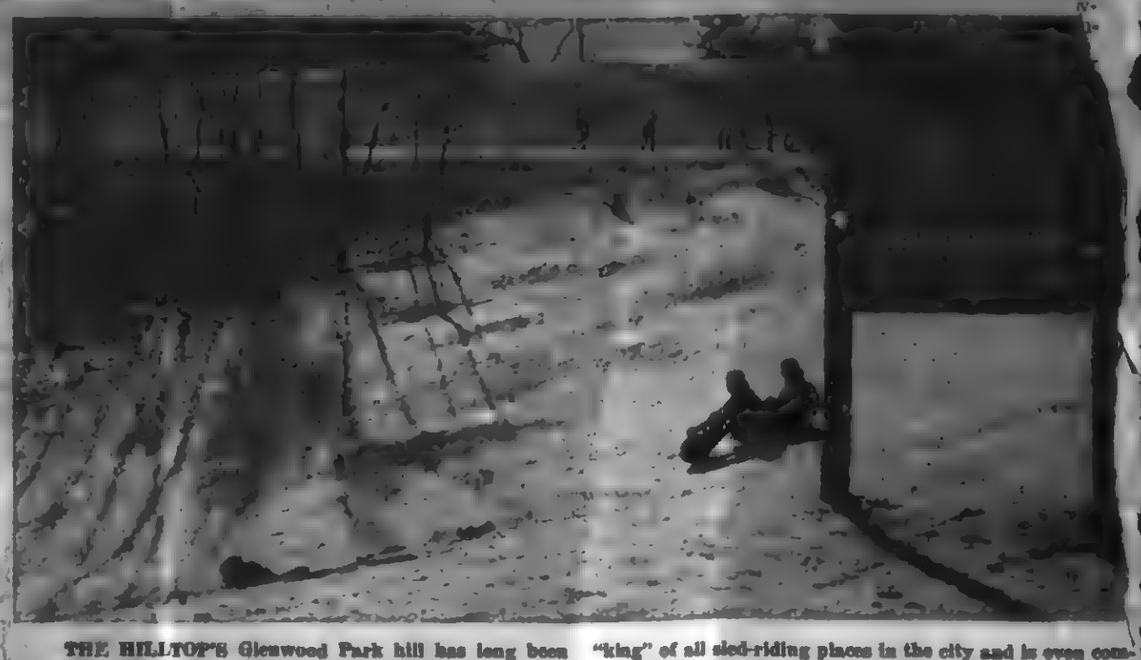
NICE DOGGIE!

WEE-WOW-WEE!

WHO NEEDS A SLED?

As the song says, the weather outside may be frightful but it's certainly nothing less than delightful for kids all over the city who have discovered the "built-in" pleasures of Glenwood Park.

The big attraction at the Hilltop Recreation site is, of course, the mammoth hill where youngsters — ever since the first snowflakes fell in December — have called "home."



Hartley Newspaper Photographer Harley Groom grabbed these pictures of antics there and he reported that hill-coasting is the one sport left where necessity is really the mother of invention.

Take, for example, the lad who got a new leather jacket for Christmas and found out that it was much more adaptable to "belly-smackers" than any ol' sled ever was.

The disc sleds are growing in popularity and, of course, many are being employed on the Glenwood hill with much glee. The disc device puts more sport into the fun, especially with the bumpy texture of the coaster slide site.

There certainly doesn't seem to be any age limit involved in sledding enjoyment. Even some parents who originally took little Johnny to the hill, were seen leaving their cars for a few quick "slides into childhood."

For Hilltop parents, the hill has become the No. 1 inter "baby-sitter." The kids spend whole days sliding, slipping, yelling, playing and cavorting on the hill. Parents say that it has far-reaching advantages, too. Like, for instance, the fact that the youngsters are "plum tuckered out" by the time they return home.

THE HILLTOP'S Glenwood Park hill has long been a favorite for sled riding, but it seemed to grow in popularity this year as the weather timed its "big freezes" just right to please the youngsters. The hill seems to be the "king" of all sled-riding places in the city and is even complete with built-in-bumps to even more delight the younger set.

SNOW WAS NO 'BALL' FOR THESE YOUTHS

Fun in the snow proved to be painful for three city teenagers this past week.

In separate sledding accidents, Anthony Coleman, 13, of 2090 Woodward-av, broke his wrist, and Danny Ely, 16, of 1309 Shanley-dr, suffered shoulder and back injuries.

Ely was treated and released at Riverside Hospital, as was Coleman at St. Anthony.

Several stitches were needed to treat Sam Anthony Polizzi, 15, of 526 City Park-av, when he cut himself picking up a snowball which had a piece of glass in it.

Jan. 20 Is Deadline For Those 'Dog Tags'

The 1963 dog licenses are now on sale according to Fred C. Dunn, Franklin County Auditor. Deadline for purchase is Jan. 20. After that date, a $1 penalty will be charged.

Auditor Dunn emphasized to dog owners the convenience and expediency of using a mail-order application form which appears in this paper to facilitate the purchase of licenses. The application includes complete instructions for mail purchases.

For those who do not procure a form, the following information, together with a stamped, self-addressed envelope is needed: the sex, age, color, breed, whether it is a short or long-haired dog, and the owner's name and address. Fee is $2.

Licenses are also on sale at the Court House License Division (Mound-st side of the Court House basement), Mound and High-sts, as well as at the Humane Society Animal Shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk.

All dogs three months or older on Jan. 1 must be licensed to prevent impounding and their owners being subjected to a subsequent penalty of as much as $25.

The license tag is protection for the dog, since through this registration number the owner of a lost or injured dog may be located quickly.

Money derived from the sale of licenses is allocated, in part, to finance activities of the Humane Society.

The auditor's office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and until noon on Saturdays for the purchases of such licenses.

If the choice be . . . between the burden of taxes and the weight of chains, free men will need no time to deliberate which they will choose.—Vice President Johnson.

Fifteen John Hervey citations, three of them to Ohioans, have been awarded by the Ohio State School of Journalism for excellence in harness racing news coverage.

West Sider Retires After Long Term In Law Capacity

Ralph Quelette, a 50-year-old veteran of law enforcement, has traveled an average of 65,000 miles a year transferring prisoners from one place to another and never lost one of them. He and his family reside at 1615 Reaver-ln.

Quelette, a father of four, has not decided what he will do after retirement. He has been a deputy marshal for 23 years and chose to take the option of retirement, although still qualified to serve.

He has been supervisor of the Columbus office for the past 10 years.

Busiest times he recalls were about 20 years ago when moonshining and bootlegging were rampant. He used to average 185 arrests every six months.

Before becoming marshal in 1939, he was a deputy sheriff in Franklin County.

HILLTOP BOY 'RUNS AWAY' FOR 2 HOURS

An eight-year-old Hilltop boy, scolded Friday evening for eating too much Christmas candy, slipped out of the house about 10:30 p.m. and, after walking around for two hours, hitched a ride home while four police cruisers searched for him.

Police identified him as Michael Adrian Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, 878 Demorest-rd. Mrs. Young said she discovered he was missing upon awakening about midnight.

The boy told police he flagged down a car in W. Broad-st an asked the couple, whom he did not know, to take him home. He arrived at 12:40 a.m., unharmed, police said.

Poison ivy plants are poisonous all year, but most cases of poisoning occur during the spring and summer after the leaves appear. The poisonous material is in the sap of the poison ivy plants.

You Said It

"Two Bits"

A Spanish coin, the real, amounted to an eighth of the old Spanish-American dollar, the legendary "piece of eight." The real became known as a "bit" and was worth 12½ cents. Although there is no such thing as a one bit piece in U.S. currency, the term "two bits" is widely used to indicate a quarter.

TORCH SPOTLIGHTS WEST

THE HILLTOP'S HIGHEST point of land, West High School grounds, is now spotlighted, thanks to the June, 1962, graduating class. Four 500-watt floodlights, trained on the school's cupola and controlled by a photo-electric cell that turns on the lights at dusk, were the gifts of last June's graduates, along with a new electric scoreboard for the gymnasium. David P. Randall, principal, expressed the school's appreciation of cupola lights that now make West High a Hilltop landmark.

Fire Damages West Side Home; Poodle Is Victim

A fire, which apparently started in an electric blanket in a West Side basement bedroom, caused $2500 damage Sunday afternoon.

The mishap occurred in a frame structure at 135 Guernsey-av. A white French Poodle, Jon, died of smoke inhalation.

Flames damaged the bedroom and various kitchen appliances were scorched by the heat.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stemm, first-floor residents, and Mrs. Stemm's mother, Mrs. Bernice Chappelear, were at the Church of Christ, 3361 W. Broad-st, when the fire broke out.

The Stemms' son, Gilbert, 22, and daughter, Martha Jo, 11, were not at home. Mrs. Chappelear occupies the second floor with her son Floyd, a ministry student who was preaching at Tuscarawas, Sunday.

Maternity Home Receives Gift

Friends Home, 245 N. Powell-av, a maternity home for unwed mothers, has received a console TV, radio and record player from Mrs. Lowell Sullivan in memory of her mother, Mrs. Bert Young, who was a close friend and co-worker of the founder.

Mrs. Maye Evans, superintendent of the home, accepted the gift. It was delivered through the courtesy of Herb Kunzi of Hilltop Van and Storage as a project of Kiwanis.

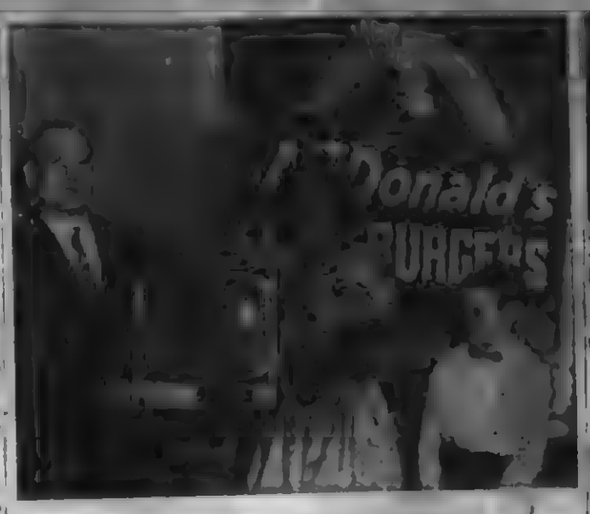
Bonus Checks Are Issued At Glick's Annual Party

"From one store in 1907 to six stores in 1962, making Glick's Central Ohio's largest home furnishers, could not have been accomplished without the loyalty and patronage of our customers who have faith in our future."



That was the remark from the president of Glick Furniture Co., Robert A. Glick, as he addressed more than 160 executives and associates who attended the firm's Christmas party recently.

During the evening bonus checks were distributed to all employes. An added bonus was given for every year of service.

Mrs. Frank Glick, chairman of the board of directors, her two sons Robert and William I. Glick, executive vice president, spoke on the company's achievements during the past year.

The president also reported on the progress of Glick's sixth store in Chillicothe which opened Nov. 14. According to Glick, the company enjoyed a successful year with sales ahead of 1961.

Scientists of the Agricultural Research Service have developed an electronic process for measuring wool fiber fineness that is much faster and more precise than the standard visual microscopic technique.

PRIZES PRESENTED

ANTON J. FELKER, regional supervisor for McDonald's Carryout Restaurants, announced the winner of a portable TV set was Floyd Woosley, 213 Westgate-st. Woosley was presented the prize by Janet Greene on WTVN-TV's "Cinderella" program. Also present was Doug Leffel, 132 Grace-st, Hilliard, who won the final "Trip to Toyland" contest. Doug visited the Kiddie Korner store in the Northern Lights Shopping Center, where he had the chance to pick up all the toys he could carry in three minutes.

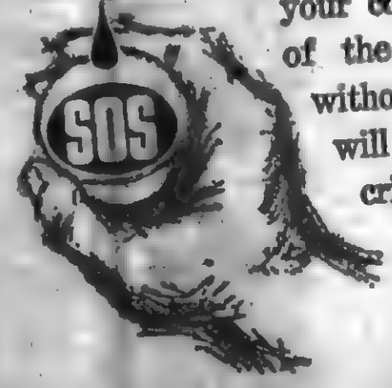
FINISH POLIO FOR GOOD JAN. 6



Franklin County is now protected against Type I and Type II polio. But until Sabin Type III vaccine is distributed on January 6, our community will be wide open to attack by the Type III virus, which causes 44% of all polio cases.

Local medical authorities and the U. S. Surgeon General feel it is most urgent that our community be protected against the Type III virus.

Medical statistics show you are 30 times safer taking the Type III vaccine than not taking it. The vaccine is among the safest of all preventive medicines and the risk it entails is smaller than the risk you take with medicines for the prevention of whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, measles, smallpox or rabies.

Another safeguard: Unlike some communities, Franklin County is taking the added safety measure of distributing the vaccine during cold weather.

Health and medical authorities are agreed: with your cooperation, January 6 can be the end of the line for polio in our community; without your cooperation, Franklin County will continue to be threatened by this crippling disease.

Cowboys Rebound, Hogtie Lions, 62-55

By BOB LYNCH

In one of only three Saturday night contests which involved City League squads, the West High Cowboy basketeers defeated Bexley's Lions, 62-52. The Cowboys were led by Charlie Castle, who bombed the nets for 21 points, and Jerry Carter, who totaled 14.

The game started out as a very close affair, with both squads totaling 11 first-period points. However, the Cowboys gradually pulled away during the second quarter to lead by seven at the half, 30-23. Carter led the first half surge for the visitors by popping an even dozen tallies.

THE THIRD period proved to be much the same as the second, although the Cowboys did increase their margin to 11, 46-35, at the third-quarter break. The final period of play, however, almost proved to be the Cowboys' downfall, as the Lions roared back to within three points with only three minutes remaining. But the Cowboys never permitted them to come any closer, as they forged to a 10-point game-winning margin.

Castle led all scorers in the contest by netting 21. Two other Cowboys landed in double figures: Karl Smith, with 12; and Jerry Carter, with 14. For the Lions, Jim Hoyer had 14, and Jeff Schmidt and Roger Williamson totaled 11.

BISHOP READY nailed down third place in its own holiday cage tournament with a 69-52 win over Jackson Township in the tourney's consolation game. The Silver Knights bowed in the opener Thursday, 46-41, to Monroe Township.

Hank Martensen was Ready's top gun in the loss to Monroe, dropping in 15 points while teammate Jay Kubin added 10 more.

ELSEWHERE AROUND the area, Aquinas became Dennison St. Marys sixth straight cage victim as the Terriers dropped a 65-53 verdict.

St. Marys garnered 23 of their points at the foul line which made up the difference. Pat Mentel led Aquinas' scoring with 19 points with Mike Welling chipping in with 12 other markers.

All area teams jump back into cage action this weekend with West's (4-4) City League encounter at Central (4-1) an area headliner. Other City League play has Aquinas (4-2) at Eastmoor (2-3).

Other Friday action has Ready (4-3) at New Albany (1-6) and Holy Family (1-4) at Darby Township. Saturday's games send Ready to Delaware St. Marys (6-0), Holy Family to Jackson Township and Watterson (7-0) to Aquinas.

Amateur Wrestling Gaining Fan Appeal

There is always a definite progression in a sport as it moves from an amateur to a professional level but there is probably no greater diversity exhibited than in the scope of wrestling—professional vs amateur.

Sports fans who include the pro grapplers in their long line of athletic interests might be taken back a step or two if they stopped in to catch the act of matmen on the collegiate or high school level.

FOR WHAT THEY would see would bear little resemblance to the "act" or "show" performed by the "groan for pay" boys.

In fact, the many-feathered villain or the curly-haired champion of fair play, wrapped in the silk cape, would feel a bit out of place in the arena with the crew-cut high school wrestler equipped with no more than his own physical strength and the fundamentals of the sport taught meticulously by his coach.

All sports fall into one of two classes — team or individual. Wrestling, although scored on a team basis, is broken down into a number of individual contests.

AS ONE SCHOOLBOY grappler put it, "when you get out there in the center of that mat with your opponent, you know it's up to you. Nobody else can help you out."

Amateur wrestling employs many of the same basic holds that you might see in the professional ring but if you're coming out to watch a long series of bouncing acrobatics and painstaking facial expressions — forget it.

We had a little visit with Don Woodland, head wrestling coach at Franklin Heights High School and his Falcon matmen, last week.

DON NOT ONLY explained what the sport is all about on an amateur level but provided some graphic sidelights as he put his wrestlers through their paces to demonstrate the technicalities of the sport.

Woodland, who recently traveled to the nation's capital as a representative for the Ohio Wrestling Coaches Association, pointed out that high school wrestling is the fastest growing spectator and participation sport in all of the 50 states.

Just to give you a few statistics on the subject on a local level, only 12 high schools in the Central District participated in the sport five years ago.

TODAY, NEARLY 40 of the 44 schools in the district have embraced wrestling as part of their athletic program, according to Woodland.

The popularity of wrestling is underlined even more when you consider that only 13 boys turned out for the Falcon wrestling program five years ago as compared with 89 candidates this season.

"Of course, nothing succeeds like success," Woodland said, pointing out that Franklin Heights has accumulated a fine 61-21-1 record in the five-year span.

WHAT ATTRIBUTES must a boy possess to be a good wrestler? "Most important," Woodland declares, "is attitude and dedication to the sport. Also vital is above normal strength and endurance."

The attitude and dedication are things that must always be "the unknown quality." They can be nurtured but cannot be taught.

The strength and endurance part is more tangible. Before practice at Franklin Heights, for example, each wrestler must run four miles, complete 200 situps and finish up his "warmup" with 50 pushups. Agility and coordination are other factors.

WRESTLING COMPETITION on the individual basis is set up in several maximum weight classes (103 pounds, 112 pounds, etc.). Since young men, especially of high school age, are prone to growth and consequently weight increase, a two-pound advance is allowed each grappler after Jan. 1, one more pound as of Feb. 1 and an additional pound in the second day of the tournament.

"This is where the dedication part comes in," Woodland said. "If these boys want to wrestle badly enough, they know they have to cut short the pizzas and Pepsis. It's good training."

The wrestling match begins with a hand shake between combatants and the referee's whistle which starts the clock and initiates the match in the center of the mat.

Matches last through three two-minute periods unless, of course, there is a "fall." A fall occurs when a wrestler's shoulders are held in contact with the mat for a period of two seconds.

If no fall is accomplished within the time limit, the decision is awarded to the wrestler who has scored the most points during the bout.

Points (on an individual basis) are scored thusly: the takedown — when one of the combatants is taken to the floor from his starting position by his opponent. Two points awarded for first takedown, one for each takedown thereafter.

THE "REVERSAL" — when the position of advantage is reversed. Two points awarded. The "escape"—when one wrestler breaks away. One point awarded. The "predicament" — when one shoulder is on the mat and the other is at a 45 degree angle. Two points award. The "near fall" —when wrestler is in a pinning position and a fall is imminent. Three points awarded.

As far as team scoring is figured, three points are awarded for a decision, two points for a draw (only in duel meets), five points for a forfeit and five points for a fall pin.

Incidently, the winner's arm is not raised in victory until the two opponents shake hands to officially finish the match.

ONE MORE POINT in regard to the weight classifications: There's no limit to the heavyweight's weight but the minimum is 185 pounds.

That's about the story on wrestling on the amateur level. Oh! one more thing. Who attends wrestling matches? Just about everybody, but Woodland claims in his situation about 60 to 70 per cent of spectators are of the gentler sex with mom taking "most avid fan" honors.

Amateur wrestling is on the way up in the sports world. Baseball had to step aside for football and football is beginning to feel the pressure of increased interest in basketball. Could be one of these days wrestling might put a deadlock "full nelson" on that indefinable pastime called S-P-O-R-T.

BITS OF WIT(T) — The Harlem Ambassadors, starring Leon Hilliard, have a booking opening in this area for Jan. 22. The Ambassadors, who appeared at the World's Fair this year, will play any type of local team in any gym that seats 800 or more.

Sixty per cent of the gate goes to the Ambassadors with the remaining 40 per cent going to the game's sponsors. Any interested club or group should contact Hymie Ford, 407 W. Morrell-st, Jackson, Mich.

BETTY BOWLED 'EM OVER

HEART FUND Bowling Tournament Chairman Earl Flora presents Mrs. Jesse (Betty) Scott of 188 S. Westgate-av, the trophy awarded to the tourney's top woman bowler. Mrs. Scott, who also received a cash prize, toppled all other gal contestants with a score of 173.

Hilltop Woman Tourney Winner

The Sixth Annual Heart Fund Bowling Tournament realized a total of $11,608.70 for the Franklin County Heart Council, tourney chairman Earl Flora announced last week.

Of the total amount contributed, $8,192.24 has been set aside for research purposes in the fight against cardiovascular diseases.

Rohr finished with a score of 188 and Mrs. Scott, 173. Scores were figured on the basis of pins downed above the bowler's league average.

Both were awarded mounted gold trophies donated by the Southern Bowling and Billiard Supply Co. and cash prizes, which also were presented to top winners at all the lanes.

THE TOURNAMENT, held Nov. 11-17, carried a one dollar entry fee with 70 per cent of the proceeds going to research and the other 30 per cent used as prize money.

The total figure of $8,192.24 for research includes the $220.50 donated by the Columbus Savings and Loan Assn. at 50 cents per pin for the 441 pins spilled in the TV Bowlathon on the eve of the tournament.

Columbus Recreation Dept. Expands Program For Boys

The Columbus Recreation Department has expanded its Boys' Recreation clubs to include 38 different sites for this Saturday morning program, starting January 5.

The program will run 10 consecutive Saturdays.

This physical activity is for boys from the fourth through ninth grades and will provide opportunities for learning new skills.

Activities will include basketball, volleyball, wrestling, tumbling, group games and physical fitness tests. The program will be conducted by physical education teachers and physical education students under the supervision of the Columbus Recreation Department.

All boys of the aforementioned grades may join one of these clubs without charge. The fourth, fifth, and sixth grades' program will be from 9 to 11 a.m., and the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades' program from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Boy Injured By Gun Shot

An 11-year old boy was accidentally shot in the right ear Sunday by his 13-year old brother. The victim, Mark Good, 5220 Fisher-rd, was listed in good condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

The family said the bullet, fired from a .22 caliber rifle, penetrated the fleshy part of the ear and glanced off the boy's head. The 13-year old brother, Randy, said he didn't know the gun was loaded.

Both boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Good.

Fifteen Wittenberg University students, known as the "Singing Syncopates" will make a five-week tour of U.S. Armed Forces bases in Greenland, Newfoundland, Labrador and Iceland from Jan. 7 through Feb. 10, 1963.

TB Society To Begin Tuberculosis Testing Program In City Schools

The Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County embarks on its tuberculosis testing program in Columbus Public Schools on Jan. 7.

The Society will offer the tests to every first grader in each of the city's 106 elementary schools. The tests have already been given students in most suburban and Franklin County school systems, and 102 positive reactors found.

The test is known as the Mantoux or needle-type skin test and is approved by the Academy of Medicine and local health authorities. It is painless.

During the test, clear fluid called tuberculin is injected between the layers of the skin on the forearm. The area where the test is made is checked 48 hours later to determine reactions.

A positive reaction means the pupil has been in close contact with someone who has contagious tuberculosis and that TB germs have entered his body. All positive reactors and their close contacts are x-rayed to locate contagious tuberculosis.

Approximately one out of every 100 first graders tested is a positive reactor, medical authorities report.

Before any child will be given the test, parents must sign a request form supplied to them by the Tuberculosis Society.

GETS SUSPENSION

Rustic Tavern, Inc., owners of the Playtime Grill, 1213 W. Broad-st, received a seven-day suspension beginning Jan. 3 by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control for selling intoxicating liquor to minors on Aug. 11.

Permit Granted

Frank Wallace, 2338 W. Broad-st, has received a permit to build a steel and glass telephone booth. Valuation is $500. Ohio Bell Telephone Co., 575 S. Front-st, is the contractor.

The armed merchant ship Ontranio sank Oct. 6, 1918, after colliding with the steamship Reishmir off the coast of Scotland, taking the lives of 364 U.S. soldiers enroute to Europe during World War I.

Noises of 85 decibels may cause some loss of hearing but recovery occurs in a month or two. Noises of 100 decibels continued for a few minutes may cause temporary loss of hearing and if continued for over an hour may cause permanent loss of hearing in some ranges. Noises of over 120 decibels cause heating of the skin, blurring of vision probably due to vibrations, and muscular weakness in addition to loss of hearing.

STOPPING A CAR'S ENGINE BEFORE IT WARMS UP IS A MAJOR CAUSE OF ENGINE REPAIR. It's these 2-minute drives to the store that cause the trouble, because your car engine can't really get warmed up. Unburned gasoline, trapped in the cylinder chambers, runs into the crankcase oil, increasing sludge deposits and hastening the need for engine overhaul. It also pays to know how you can benefit by insuring your car with State Farm Mutual. Call me today!

First County Courts Held In Franklinton Home

There was no courthouse or public building of any kind in Franklinton when the village was named seat of Franklin County governmet in 1803.

When the courts came to the settlement, judges presided in a room in the house of a settler, John Overdier, until the courthouse was built in 1807-08 at the northeast corner of Broad and Sandusky-st.

The square structure, with its octagonal cupola, continued to serve as courthouse until the county seat was moved to Columbus in 1824.

After that it was used as a schoolhouse and, in 1873, was torn down to make way for Franklinton Elementary. This building, in turn, was razed a few years ago.

County courts, after the seat of government was moved to the capital, were held first in the United States Courthouse

Judges of the Court of Common Pleas when sessions were moved from Franklinton were Gustavus Swan, president judge, and Edward Livingston, Samuel G. Flenniken and Arora Buttles, associate judges.

A. I. McDowell was clerk of courts, and Robert Brotherton was sherrif.

A low, one-story brick structure, built at the rear of the US Courthouse in 1828 or 1829, housed county offices.

Divided into four sections, each with an outside entrance, the building's north portion was occupied by the clerk of courts; next was the office of county recorder, then county treasurer and, in the south room, county auditor.

County offices remained in this building until 1840 when they were moved into the present courthouse at Mound and High-st. The building was razed in the spring of 1857 when the square was graded.

Two lots at the southeast corner of High and Mound-sts were deeded to the county in 1837, for the location of a courthouse, county offices and jail by Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Wright.

Soon after the building's construction, however, the site was found to be too small for its intended purposes and a third lot, adjoining the first two on the south, was purchased for $1,556.04. South boundary of the additional lot was then called Strawberry Alley.

The purchase extended the tract to about two and a half acres, an entire city block.

The basement of the main building was used as a jail, the first story above for the sherrif's residence, and the courthouse was located on the second floor.

Two small wings housed offices of the clerk, auditor and treasurer.

Official business increased as the county and city grew and larger facilities were soon needed, promoting the construction of second building in 1852 and 1853, a few feet south of the original courthouse and facing High-st. The two were connected by a passage on the upper floor.

Log Prison First Jail In County

A little log structure, built by Lucas Sullivant in 1804 as a jailhouse, became the first official building of Franklin County. Sullivant received $90 for construction of the prison.

Built of 12-foot logs, their sides hewed to fit snugly, the prison had two floors and a roof of large shingles, or clapboards, split by hand and kept in place by heavy poles laid across them, rather than by nails.

The building had one door and two windows (eight by ten inches) secured by two bars of iron.

Four years later Lucas and Sally Sullivant deeded to Franklin County "Inlot 25," as the location of a new prison.

This structure, built of bricks, was to serve as a prison until 1824 when the seat of county government was transferred across the river to Columbus.

County prisoners were at first lodged in Columbus in a brick building on the south side of Gay-st, between High and Third-st.

When the new court house was completed in 1840, they were moved to cells in the basement of the building. Escapes from the insecure prison were frequent.

Construction on the present county jail, east of the court house and facing Mound-st, was started in 1864 and completed in May, 1866.

The front of the two-story building was built of brick and housed the sheriff's office and residence. The rear of the structure, with massive stone walls, contained the prison.

Township Is Named For Marion

Marion Township, now a part of Columbus, was organized Feb. 24, 1873, and named after William Marion, pioneer from Boston, Mass., who settled in the area in 1807.

William and his brother, Nathaniel, owned nearly 2000 acres in what was to become Marion and Truro Townships, purchased soon ofter their arrival.

He married Sally Waite from Johnstown, N.Y., the same year, and died in 1837 at age 50.

The first settlement along Alum Creek was in 1799, and pioneers in the region were John White and his wife, Col. and Mrs. E. C. Livingston from New York, David Nelson and Col. Frankenburg, an officer of the Hanoverian army.

Agriculture Advanced By Weber

Weber-rd in north Columbus perpetuates the name of an early settler who was a pioneer in agriculture in that area.

Frederick Weber purchased a five-acre tract with a log cabin, between what is now Weber-rd and Oakland Park-av, east of Indianola-av, in 1834.

The area was sparsely settled because of its wet, heavily-timbered condition.

However, the industrious Weber by means of crop rotation, drainage and proper plowing, found that potatoes, cabbage and other vegetables could be raised, in addition to wheat and corn. He also planted an orchard of apples and peaches.

During the fall and winter Weber and his sons were busy clearing more land. Hard-working and thrifty, Weber soon extended his land holdings to a productive farm of 310 acres.

BUGGY-MAKING WAS ONCE MAJOR COLUMBUS INDUSTRY

CITY HALL IS BURNED

COLUMBUS' FIRST CITY HALL was this ornate structure, later destroyed by fire and replaced with the present structure.

Ohio School For Deaf First State Institution

The establishment of the School for the Deaf, first state educational institution for the handicapped in Ohio, came about largely through the efforts of Dr. and Mrs. Hoge of the First Presbyterian Church on Spring-st and members of their congregation.

Their petition, signed by a large number of prominent citizens, was presented to the State Legislature in its 1826-'27 session. Recommended by Gov. Morrow, the act of incorporation was passed.

The school was opened Oct. 16, 1829 in a small rented building at the corner of Broad and High-st, with three pupils.

First superintendent and only instructor of the school when it opened was Horatio N. Hubbell, who studied at the American Asylum, Hartford, Conn., for a year and a half to become qualified for the post. Hubbell continued as superintendent of the school until 1851.

The preceding February, 1829, a 10-acre site about half a mile east of the State House on E. Town-st was purchased for $300.

Construction on the first building at the new location was started in 1832, and a three-story structure, 50 by 80 feet, designed to provide school, lodging, dining and sitting rooms for 60 to 80 pupils, was occupied in the fall of 1834.

A south wing four stories high was added, and occupied in October, 1846.

By 1848 100 pupils were attending the school, and nearly 360 had been educated there.

Applicants so far exceeded the school's facilities that in March, 1864, an act was passed for the construction of a new building with accommodations for 350 pupils and staff.

J. M. Blackburn, architect, submitted the approved plan and was appointed to execute it.

Among items included in the cornerstone, laid Oct. 31, 1864, were portraits of Pres. and Mrs. Lincoln, Gov. Brough and generals, currency, copies of State documents, the emancipation proclamation, newspapers, and a list of the officers, teachers and pupils.

The new building was occupied in September, 1868, but the formal opening was not held until Feb. 11, 1869.

Camp Chase Housed 7000 During Civil War Years

Columbus was half a century old when Camp Chase, bustling center of Civil War activity in this part of Ohio, was established.

The encampment, sprawling over 635 acres of land on what is now W. Broad-st west of Hague-av, resembled a bustling town within months after it was constructed in the spring of 1861. The site was then four miles from Columbus.

Seven thousand men encamped there, and its 160 buildings included officers quarters, private quarters, mess halls, stables, hospitals, cooking and baking houses, a large parade ground and the prison.

The prison section, located on Sullivant-av at Hague-av, was enclosed by a 14-foot board fence topped with spaced platforms for use by sentinels, and all was enclosed by an outer fence that continued around the entire camp and parade ground.

Known first as Camp Jackson, the camp was temporarily established first in Goodale Park, and then torn down and moved during the spring of 1861 to its new site, where it retained its original name until June.

Col. A. E. King was first commander.

Salmon P. Chase, whose name the camp bore, was once a United States Senator and later elected governor of Ohio in 1855 and 1857. Following a term as secretary of the treasury in Lincoln's Cabinet, he was named chief justice of the US Supreme Court.

Camp Chase Cemetery, on Sulivant-av two blocks west of Hague-av, burial ground for 2260 Confederate soldiers and spies, is all that remains of the post.

First prisoner was received June 29, 1861, and on July 5, 23 prisoners from the 23rd Virginia Regiment, captured in the Kanawha Valley, were brought to Columbus.

At the time of the surrender at Appomattox, there were 3,400 prisoners at the camp.

At war's end Camp Chase, so teeming with action for five years, became silent and empty. In February, 1866, military records and documents were moved to Columbus and an un-armed guard stationed at the place to keep watch over the property.

On July 14 of the same year, the prison property was offered for sale by order of Gen. Richardson, the camp torn down and a portion of the lumber shipped to Dayton where it was used in the construction of the National Soldiers Home there.

Records are sparse—there are none to indicate exactly how many troops were encamped there during the war years or how many Confederates housed in the prison.

But stories told by the headstones are eloquent. Spies were identified simply as "citizens." All prisoners' graves are numbered and labeled.

Final pages of the camp's history, with the high death rate from widespread disease during the closing months of the war, are clearly written. Men died so quickly that some graves contain bodies of two men.

The heartbreak of family divided, the tragedy of all Civil Wars, everywhere, is told in one headstone, the story of two brothers, so divided in their opinions and loyalties that they enlisted on opposing sides.

The Confederate soldier was captured and sent to the prison at Camp Chase. And here he met his brother, a Union guard.

The Confederate became ill and died; the Union soldier in his official position as a guard was forced to bury his brother as an enemy.

Many Southerners made the sad trip to Columbus at war's end seeking the graves of loved ones. Some were successful here, others continued on.

Simple white headstones mark each grave, identifying the soldier and his military connection. A small American flag is placed at the head of the grave.

A monument in the center of the cemetery is a stone archway bearing the single word, "Americans." On the top of the arch is a statue of a Confederate soldier, and beneath it, a huge rock bear-enclosure."

Ohio Escapes Disaster In '37 Financial Panic

Ohio was saved from the financial disaster that overwhelmed other states during the panic of 1837 to 1841 through the singlehanded efforts of a Columbus man, Alfred Kelley.

Kelley had come to the city in 1830 as acting canal commissioner, responsible for building the Ohio Canal System. Although this was his principal work he was also interested in railroads, turnpikes, taxation, banking, public credit and schools.

Ohio at that time, and many other states as well, was embarked on a gigantic program of building and expansion of roads and canals, all financed on borrowed money and to be repaid from expected revenue from toll roads and canals.

When the speculatory bubble burst in 1837, state after state was overwhelmed and, impoverished from overextending their credit, was forced to repudiate or disclaim their debts.

Some projects had to be abandoned, half-finished and unproductive, while others were found to be premature and impractical.

Kelley was in New York at the time, trying to borrow money by pledging or selling bonds in order to pay interest on the canal bonds he had helped to negotiate. Financiers, however, refused the bonds as pledges of security.

Ohio's treasury was empty and legislators were considering repudiating the state's debts.

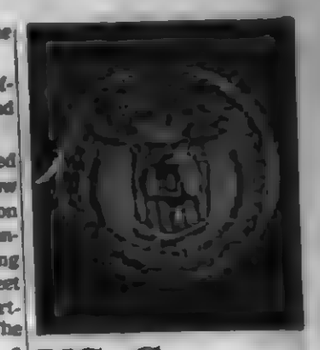
It was then that Kelley offered his own notes, even though failure in their payment would have meant personal bankruptcy.

The money was advanced and Ohio's interest was paid. The state neither repudiated her debts nor ever again kept her creditors waiting.

Some of the states who had taken the action later paid her debts, but others still remain unpaid.

Kelley returned to Columbus and helped Ohio rebuild her finances.

Darby Creek Is Settled Early In 1810



A settlement sprang up along Darby Creek as early as 1810, 20 years before the township was to be formed.

James Boyd, John Hayden, John Patterson and W. Renler were among the earliest, with others arriving at intervals along the banks of Darby until 1825, when a number of Welsh families joined them.

A sawmill was built along the Darby in 1837 and later, while the Urbana and Western Railway was being built, a steam sawmill was constructed to provide railroad ties.

Joseph O'Harra was named first postmaster for the Darby postoffice in 1848, a post he would hold for 10 or 12 years.

Other pioneer families in the area were those of Jacob Rogers, James Langton, John D. Acton, Paul Alder, William Walker, Henry Francis, James Huggett, Chauncey Beach, N. E. Fares, George M. Clover and John Kilgore.

US Court Comes To Columbus

Citizens of Columbus, in spite of determined opposition, succeeded in 1821 in having the United States Courts moved from Chillicothe to the capital.

The United States Court House was built on the Public Square in a line with the first state house and about 50 or 60 feet north of the state offices.

The plain, two-story brick structure was about 50 feet square, with a roof rising on all four sides to a circular dome.

A broad, winding stairway from the large entrance hall, led to the second floor. Two large rooms on either side of the center, first-floor hall housed offices of the clerk and marshal, and jury rooms.

The courtroom and a jury room were located on the second floor.

Although financed partially by an appropriation passed by the legislature, the greater part of the building funds was assumed by citizens who raised the money by subscription.

United States court continued to be held in Columbus until 1855, when the state was divided into two districts and the courts moved to Cincinnati.

The court house was torn down soon after.

When the court came to the capital Harvey D. Evans was clerk, and Dr. John Hamm of Zanesville was marshall.

William K. Bond of Chillicothe became clerk after Evans died in 1825, and Bond was succeeded in 1829 or 1830 by William Miner who continued in the post even after the court moved to Cincinnati.

Marshals who succeeded Dr. Hamm were William Doherty, Gen. John Patterson of Jefferson County, John Patterson of Adams, Demas Adams, John McElwin, D. B. Robertson of Fairfield County, G. W. Jones of Knox County, and H. H. Robinson of Cincinnati.

FORTS OF 1812

The Ohio Historical Society administers the sites of two War of 1812 forts for public appreciation: Fort Meigs, Perrysburg and Fort Amanda, Auglaize County.

CITY IN 1834

Columbus was incorporated as a borough in 1816 and, in 1834, became a city by special act of the Legislature. Population was then 3,500.

CAPITAL UNIVERSITY MOVED

CAPITAL UNIVERSITY was located first on N. High-st at Goodale-st, above. Later the University was moved to its present site in Bexley, and in 1876 Capital presented the appearance at right.

Beauty Shop Open On Hague Ave.

Opening of a new beauty shop at 314 N. Hague-av has been announced by Phyllis Weiner, owner.

Doing business as Phyl's House of Beauty, the salon is open Tuesday through Saturday.

Mrs. Weiner formerly operated shops at 1260 W. Broad-st, Buckeye Lake and Baltimore.

The owner said the new shop will feature a complete beauty service and high fashion styling.

"NO SURRENDER"

"For myself," said Alexander Stephens in a speech before Congress, "I can only say, if the last funeral pyre of liberty were lighted, I would mount it and expire in its flames before I would be coerced by any power, however great and strong, to sell or surrender the land of my home." Lincoln said that this (Stephen's) speech was the best speech he had ever heard.

Economists Change Minds On Predicted 1963 Slump

By JERRY WOLFROM
Business Editor
Hartley Newspapers

Some of the national economists who predicted a recession for 1963 apparently are backing off and taking another look.

Even as recent as August most business analysts agreed that a downturn could be expected early in 1963. Now, however, many are doing a quick about-face by predicting that no slump is in sight through the current year.

About one-third of the nation's leading economists are devoutly clinging to their early fall prognostications — but even these holdouts believe that the 1963 recession will be "extremely mild." Several of these pessimistic prophets are banking officials.

Most business observers cite the Cuban and Indian incidents as reason for their change of mind. One economist believes that the Cold War adds certain impetus to consumer spending. According to this theory, people feel they may as well do the things and buy the things they want, rather than to wait for some turn of international events to dictate their spending habits for them.

Another economist says that defense spending probably will be upped in 1963, giving the nation temporary reprieve. There is evidence that many companies have built up their inventories as a result of the tension created in India and Cuba.

Record auto sales seem to indicate that American consumers are not too worried about any impending recession. As one bank official said, "I'm beginning to believe the old saying you can't have two good years in a row, is all wrong."

Several Detroit automobile executives have echoed this reasoning by predicting 1963 sales may outdistance the records set last year.

Steel, a segment of the economy that has slumped badly in recent months, can expect an upswing as a result of healthy automotive buying. Several plants reported orders have increased 15 to 20 percent in December.

Even stock prices, so-called leading indicators of business climates, have moved steadily higher as 1962 drew to a close. Similiarly, a number of commodity prices have slipped up.

It should be noted, however, that just as quickly as they reversed themselves and predicted a properous 1963, national economists can just as easily change their minds and predict all sorts of dire business setbacks at a moment's notice.

Half-Million Dollar Permit Just 'Record'

According to officials of Columbus Division of Sewerage and Drainage, a recent city building permit concerning an addition to the sewage disposal plant on Jackson-pk for $577,000 was "just a matter of record for the Division of Building Regulations."

The contract for the addition, which was for additional sludge filtration facilities, was let Jan. 8, 1962.

"Construction has long since started," officials reported.

'Peppermint Chiffon Pie' Is Light, Refreshing Dessert

Pie for dessert is an American tradition. The crust and filling may be prepared in any number of ways to provide a rich, satisfying, or delicate and refreshing dish to compliment any menu plan.

As a refreshing dessert, peppermint chiffon pie is an unbaked pie variety.

The combination of a buttery, chocolate crumb crust and peppermint-flavored chiffon filling produces an eye and taste appealing treat to serve often. Made with nutritious milk and eggs, it is a dessert that is extra-rich in important food values.

For meals that are heavy and need a sparkling finish, peppermint chiffon pie is made to order. It is a convenient "make-ahead" dessert that will please every one.

PEPPERMINT CHIFFON PIE CRUST

1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs.
¼ cup sugar.
⅓ cup melted butter.

Blend crumbs, sugar and butter. Press firmly into 9" pie plate. Chill.

FILLING

1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin.
6 tablespoons sugar.
⅛ teaspoon salt.
2 cups milk.
3 eggs, separated.
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract.
Few drops red coloring.
½ cup crushed peppermint candy.

Mix gelatin, three tablespoons sugar and salt; add milk, mix well. Beat egg yolks and blend with milk mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture coats spoon. Cool. Add peppermint extract and tint pink with coloring as desired.

Beat egg whites until stiff; beat in the remaining three tablespoons sugar; fold into gelatin mixture. Pour into pie shell. Chill until firm. Garnish with peppermint candy. Makes eight servings.

REGISTRATION OPEN FOR WINTER TERM AT HILLTOP YWCA

Regularly scheduled classes and other activities at the Hilltop YWCA Center, 2879 Valleyview-dr, will start the week of January 14 when the winter term begins.

On Monday of that week, two classes will be offered in hat-making. One will work with felt hats, making new ones and remaking old, and another will feature basic fabric hats to match spring suits and dresses.

Shoe covering, to complete the outfit, will also be taught.

Other classes meeting on that day will be beginning and advanced cake decorating, along with a new class in beginning sewing.

The day-long Tuesday at the Y" programs (home arts, gourment luncheon, world affairs) will resume Jan. 15.

On Tuesday mornings a class in gourmet and foreign cooking will be an innovation. Late in the afternoon, each Tuesday, "FUN-da-mentals of Charm" will be given for senior high girls.

YW Wives will meet as usual on Wednesday mornings. At the same time a course will be given in basic knitting.

On Thursdays, the popular "Fitness and Fashion" special (45-minute, "Tone Up and Tune Up", and 1 hour of self improvement) will meet in two sections, beginning and advanced.

Beginning and intermediate bridge classes will also be held on that day.

Another "first" for the Hilltop Center will be a crewel embroidery workshop. The creation of of this beautiful embroidery is a revival of an old world art, now exciting much interest.

This class, as well as the Charm School for junior high girls, will also meet on Thursdays.

Baby-sitting will be available for all events if the demand is sufficient.

Registrations may be made now by calling CA. 4-9121. Further information may be had on request.

All classes are arranged as a privilege of YWCA membership, or membership in the Hilltop YMCA.

Church Of God Marks Birthday

The Church of God, 3398 Clime-rd, will celebrate its fifth anniversary on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Jan. 4, 5 and 6, with services starting at 7:30 each evening.

A song fest is planned Saturday, Jan. 5, featuring the Songsters of Dayton and the Revelators of Columbus.

Rev. E. T. Hitte is pastor.

According to the National Fire Protection Association, unsafe and inadequate ashtrays are responsible for about one-third of the 95,000 annual fires in U.S. homes attributed to careless smoking.

NOBLE ALLEN

It Takes a Lot to Satisfy
A HEALTHY APPETITE
Anyone that has ever tried to fill the bottomless pits of growing boys will tell you that it is practically an impossibility. Yet we must continue to feed them so that they will continue to grow.
With the right kind of encouragement from parents, these boys will develop a hunger for God's word. Take them to church Sunday where they may study and learn more of God's word.
"Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled."
EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Four Girls Escape From Juvenile Diagnostic Center

James Grant, superintendent of the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 2280 W. Broad-st, revealed Tuesday that four of seven teenage girls are still at large after fleeing the institution.

Grant said the girls escaped through a basement window about 7:15 p.m.

A few minutes after the escape was discovered staff members rounded up three of the girls walking along near by roads. Police and sheriff's deputies have been alerted for the other four.

The girls live in groups of 16 with two adult chaperones in each cottage at the center. The escapees were housed in a cottage which was short of adult supervision because of the holidays, Grant said.

The missing girls, aged 13 to 15, are from Hamilton, Portage, and Cuyahoga Counties. Officials said they are wearing sweaters, skirts and coats.

There are 67 girls and 200 boys confined in the center. All have been sent here for diagnostic study.

Combining For Meet

The combined annual meetings of the Franklin Conservation District and the Franklin Dairy Service Cooperative will be held Tuesday, Jan. 15, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the King Avenue Methodist Church, King and Neil-avs.

Directors for the district and the service unit will be elected, service reports will be given.

Program for the meeting also includes singing by the "Sweet Adelines" and "Communications of Tomorrow" a talk by John Grubenhoff of the Bell Telephone Co.

Dinner (at $1 each) will be served at noon.

Sam Frantz, Ralph Schrock, Neil Stevenson, Wilbur Gantz, Orrin Schott, Herman Weber, Gary Dever, Galen McLeod, Kenneth Noble, Charles R. Taylor, Dale Rawn, Richard Barbee, Dale Worthington, Leonard Gantz, your milk tester, SCD technician, any county agent or the SCD Extension office.

Airman Finishes Basic Training

An area man has been assigned to permanent base for training and duty following completion of his United States Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Airman Basic Michael D Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Moss, 1635 Rosemont-av will be a heating specialist at Westover AFB, Mass.

Parents Without Partners To Hear Attorney Sexton

What steps must be taken by a widow, widower or divorcee to purchase a home and what are their chances of getting a mortgage? What percentage of ones income should be used for installment buying?

This, along with many other important facts of installment buying, will be the subject of discussion when Parents Without Partners, Inc. meets with Robert Sexton, Columbus attorney. All single parents are invited to this meeting being held Tuesday, Jan. 8, 8:30 p.m. at Trinity Episcopal Church, 125 E. Broad-st.

Those interested in further information may contact Mrs. Juanita Mattes, membership secretary, 125 E. Broad-st, AX, 1-1817.

Refugee—

and inner strength that made it possible to lead her children 800 miles from Communist control to free Germany, she has shaped a full and happy life.

"The men in Germany, as here, are the heads of the household," she said gaily, "but the women wear the crowns." And hers is the hand that still guides her husband and children, and manages her household.

"I must keep busy," she explains. "No one can live my life and do these things for me, not even my good husband."

And with understanding support from her family, she keeps her house immaculate, cooks and keeps household accounts, as well as maintaining close touch with her daughters and their families, and young Peter's progress in school.

And there are so many other things to do — gifts of cookies for the milkman, mailman, "and all those who are so good to me," and crocheted pincushions for their wives, "so they won't be jealous of me," she added merrily.

"Oh, there is so much I can give to people. Any my citizenship—that, too, is something I can give to Peter. For with his parents' citizenship, he, too, will become an American."

Striving always to become truly American, Mrs. Gossing still holds fast to the best of her German heritage. "I'm proud of being German, and saddened by those from Germany who are critical and unappreciative of this wonderful country."

A gift from a friend in Germany has a place of prominence on her living room wall. The framed, floral composition, made entirely from flower petals and leaves, arrived with the note, "From the ground where you once stepped, I gathered these for you, for your remembrance."

As we start 1963, let's look backward—then forward.

At Rodenfels Chevrolet, 555 West Broad Street, it's hats off to the past; coats off to the future. 1962 treated us handsomely. Again we were able to keep our position of leadership in Central Ohio. Your valued patronage made it possible for us to sell more new cars and trucks than any other automobile dealer in Central Ohio again last year. So, hats off to you and '62.

As for the future, we plan to continue our healthy growth. A new Truck Service Center is nearing completion and will employ 18 additional mechanics. This will free up space and man power in our present Service Department to handle additional passenger cars with speed and efficiency. Our service men surely will take their coats off for the big year coming up.

If you haven't visited us lately at 555 or 515 West Broad, consider this your invitation to renew old acquaintances early in 1963. If per chance we have yet to meet, let's resolve to do something about it soon.

Gratefully,
R. P. Rodenfels

Dems Lead In Numbers For Council

Candidates for muncipal offices are coming in all shapes and sizes—but, mostly Democratic—as the Feb. 8 filing date for hopefuls draws near.

Voters will have the final say at the May primary.

In the mayor race, incumbent Mayor W. Ralston Westlake has indicated that he'll be willing to be a Republican candidate for a second term.

He is expected to face former Columbus Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, a Democratic candidate who served two years of an unexpired term as mayor and was re-elected to a full term from 1956 to 1960.

A spokesman for the Franklin County Republican Headquarters stated that Chairman William Schneider "had been interviewing some possible candidates" but indicated that no decision would be made until a meeting set for the end of January. No endorsements have been made by the Republicans as yet.

Jerry Ryan, recently-elected

★ SHADES OF 1959 RACE . . . ? ★

Mayoralty Hopefuls List Thoughts On Re-Election . . . Platform Plans

SENSENBRENNER

Four years have elapsed, but when Columbus voters trek to the polls for the primary election May 7, they'll probably be reminded of a similar situation in 1959, That's, at least, how it looks now.

This "flashback" to the past stems from the fact that the two political candidates who opposed each other in that year for the office of mayor are throwing those well-known hats in the ring again.

Although the deadline for filing is Feb. 6, Columbus Mayor W. Ralston Westlake and former city father M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner have both shown that they definitely are ready to race again.

Voters should have it tougher deciding this year than in 1959, however, since both Republican Westlake and Democrat Sensenbrenner have tempting platform promises for the people of this city.

A questionnaire prepared by the Hartley Newspapers editorial staff and designed to bring to the front some of the most important things in the minds of Columbus voters has been answered by both men and is reprinted herewith:

Q. — Are you going to be a candidate for mayor of Columbus this year?

WESTLAKE—Some of my friends already are circulating nominating petitions and my name will be submitted to the Franklin County Republican committee at their next meeting.

SENSENBRENNER — Absolutely.

Q. — Why do you feel you should be elected mayor?

WESTLAKE — I feel that my record during my first term in the office is one of the best reasons why I should be given another term. The people of Columbus must have felt that I was the best qualified of all candidates when they elected me to my first term. With four years of experience in the post, I am even better qualified now to more ably serve the people during a second term.

SENSENBRENNER — I am deeply concerned with the future of our city and I want to resume the speedy pace of progress that characterized my six years of administration. Under my administration our city earned the All-America City award. This was the result of hard work and citizens working together for progress.

Q. — What platform will you campaign on?

WESTLAKE—On the salient features of my present administration: Integrity in city government, a sound fiscal policy that has kept the city in the black; substantial progress in the city's current multi-million-dollar public works construction program and imaginative, yet practical, plans for its future development as one of the most liveable cities in America. As the result of [illegible] action, the old Scioto Conservancy District was dissolved and the new, more streamlined program district was born, aided by a million-dollar loan from the city. I'll continue to push this type of program in this city.

SENSENBRENNER — We must concentrate on improvement of the whole downtown district which is so vital to all other sections of our city. Many additions are needed to enhance the services in the heart of the city such as better mass transportation and parking.

Q. — What can you claim as the outstanding factor of progress for Columbus under your administration?

WESTLAKE—A dedicated group of executives and employes who have the best interest of the city at heart.

SENSENBRENNER — Our policy on annexation. We grew more area-wise in the six-year Sensenbrenner administration than in the first 140 years in the life of Columbus. This brought our city to the attention of the entire nation and provided the potential of Columbus' become the greatest city in the Mid-West. Other factors of nearly equal importance include the fact that we were the first city in the nation to have a master control plan of traffic using Civil Defense funds; slum elimination which started with my administration; elimination of the Fifth-av and Hudson-st railway crossing; two, fine Senior Citizens Center (now being completed at Sunshine Center and Poindexter Village); four recreation centers; improved Columbus zoo; elimination of the Third-st viaduct and, above all industry, such as Western Eelectric which we brought in) which is a tremendous asset to the city.

Q. — In your opinion, what is the most serious problem facing Columbus right now that will need attention by the next administration? Why?

WESTLAKE — Biggest

Vs. Progress

This week our newspapers are talking about progress—a whole 12 page section of it.

Now, we're all for progress—we just won't get anywhere without it. But, in our lazy-like way, we have these reflections:

When you sit down to the table there is no improvement in menus over old fashioned fried chicken, corn on the cob and plenty of juicy sliced red ripe tomatoes.

Of course we won't convince modern educators but we still think Mr. McGuffey really had something in his readers.

All the modern lipsticks, face creams, eye paint and hair tints still haven't produced a gal that exceeds in beauty that sun ripened lass who recognizes her God-given outward appearance is more to be loved than the artificials.

Today you may have more of them, but perhaps you are no better off than when your present 50c dollar was worth 100 cents.

Progress has called for men shaving at least once a day and that means a man has to cut a swath across his face 30 miles long in half a lifetime.

Most every home has more furniture and more debts on it than ever before but they also have that much more moving around the house when the good woman decides to change things a bit.

Yep, we're all for progress but [illegible] to the extent that we can't just get downright lazy once in awhile.

A lot of youngsters have recently advised us that John Glenn was not the first to go around the world in a day. Santa Claus has been doing it for years.

Will [illegible] Repeat?

The recent Shrine magazine, Aladdin's Lamp, contains a bit that should be passed along, as follows:

One of the most widely read books of all times is "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Written in 1788 by Edward Gibbon, it sets forth five basic reasons why that great civilization withered and died. These were:

The undermining of the dignity and sanctity of the home, which is the basis for human society.

Higher and higher taxes; the spending of public money for free bread and circuses

Catcher Who Played For First 'Y' Champs Will Speak To Youth

John Edwards

Hilltop's John Edwards, Cincinnati Redlegs catcher, played on a championship team long before the Reds copped the National League pennant in 1961. He was a member of the West Broad Flaming Arrows team which took the first Gra-Y crown at the Hilltop "Y" in 1949.

Edwards, picked as sophomore of 1962 last week by the Cincinnati Chapter of the Baseball Writers of America, will be guest speaker at the 15th annual meeting of the Hilltop YMCA at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 29. The meeting will be held in the Westinghouse Corp. building at 300 Phillipi-rd.

The Cincinnati catcher is slated to talk about his long association with the Hilltop YMCA and his career with the Reds.

John was active in the local "Y" program while attending West Broad and West High schools.

Edwards served as one of the first coaches in the Hilltop YMCA Little Nine and was active in the Hi-Y program while attending West High.

The 23-year-old catcher, who upped his batting average 69 points last season to .255, is currently completing his last quarter in ceramic engineering at Ohio State University.

Since Johnny played with the Arrows in 1949 active clubs in the Gra-Y program have grown from three to 12.

David Randall, West High School principal, will be master of ceremonies for the event.

Mack Pemberton will serve as chairman of the nominating committee. The committee will select candidates to run for membership on the Hilltop "Y" Board and Advisory Council.

Tickets will be sold for $1.75 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12 years of age.

Sertoma International Starting West Branch

A new service organization is moving into the West area.

Sertoma International is building a Western branch which meets weekly at noon Tuesdays in Monaco's Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st. The first meeting was held yesterday.

Hilltop businessmen interested in affiliating with the group may contact William Blake at Marble Cliff Quarries, HU. 6-5231.

Sertoma is an organization of business, professional, institutional and agricultural men united in community service. The downtown club was founded in 1924. Other clubs include Eastern, Tri-Village and Worthington.

Sertoma Clubs Youth Employment Service is one of the more well known projects of the clubs. It is a non-profit service to help teenagers find

THE COLONEL WAS TAKEN BY SURPRISE

New Year's baby of the year in west Columbus, and first boy born in the city in 1963 was little John Joel Piccione, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Piccione, 2975 Westmoor-dr.

The year was just 31 minutes old when Baby Piccione made his debut at Mt. Carmel Hospital, weighing in at seven pounds, three ounces.

As winner of the Hartley Newspapers' Stork Derby, the newcomer and his family are the recipients of scores of gifts offered, along with their congratulations, by area merchants.

Two sisters, Denise Anne, six, and Lisa Jo, four, and a brother, one and one-half-year-old Jeffry, were waiting to welcome the baby when he and his mother arrived home last week.

Hilltop's Community Council will start the ball rolling for another year at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 10 while the West Side Neighborhood Council closes the door on last year's activities at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 17.

The Hilltop council, meeting in the local YMCA, will reorganize under new officers and plan projects for 1963 under the guidance of President Pierson "Pete" Block.

The West Side council will hold its second annual meeting at Gladden Community House and elect new officers.

Ernest H. Stork, Columbus director of public service, will be the main speaker of the evening. The director will speak on the city's present and future plans for the West Side.

Once Hilltop committee chairmen are selected, the

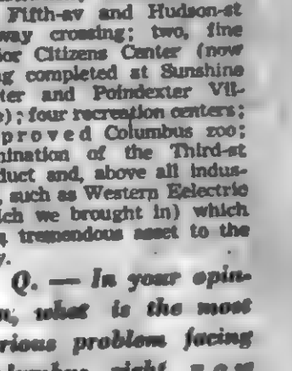
Hilltopper Heads City Board Of Education

Paul R. Langdon, 75 Powhatan-av, member of the Columbus Board of Education since 1955, was elected president of the group at last Wednesday's board meeting.

Langdon, first elected to the school board in 1955 and re-elected in 1959, served as president in 1958, and as vice-president since 1959.



He succeeds Frank S. Williams as president. Homer Trantham was named vice-president.

Controller and manager of finance and accounting at Battelle Memorial Institute, Langdon is a member of Westgate Friends Church, is a director of Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends and past president of the Friends Rescue Home board.

He is a member of Hilltop Kiwanis, and has served in offices in a number of city, state and national professional organizations.

Langdon was graduated from West High School, earned a bachelor of science degree from Ohio State University, and did graduate work at Ohio State, Northwestern and American universities. He also studied law at Franklin and LaSalle universities.

He and his wife are the parents of two sons, Larry, 22, and Bob, 20.

West Side Board Election Tonight

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m.

Date of the installation was erroneously reported as Jan. 8 in last week's edition.

Democratic Club Slates Meeting

Members of the Ninth Ward Democratic Club will hold their monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 15 in the adult room at the Gladden Community House, W. Town-st and Hawkes-av.

New officers will be nominated and elected.

Margaret Duey, club president, will call the meeting to order.

Optimists Sponsor Tourney

The Western Optimist Club will sponsor the "Out Strike The Star Contest" at Lincoln Village Lanes again this year.

Prominent area bowlers will set the pace for hopefuls each Saturday and Sunday, for six weeks, starting Saturday, Jan. 12.

Bowling will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. each contest day.

Donations will be 50 cents and the challenger will throw five balls in trying to "out strike" the stars of the week.

If a bowler should happen to strike five times with his first five balls, he will be allowed to continue until he misses, or hits 300.

Optimist officials have leaked out a rumor that Gov.-elect James Rhodes, reportedly an avid bowler himself, may take a crack at beating the champs.

Proceeds from the event will be used to finance the Optimists' boys work in west Columbus and Franklin County.

IT'S A GIRL!

Santa Claus came a few days late to the Gary Sixt residence, 35 N. Brinker-av. They are announcing the birth of a baby girl, Holly Lynne, on Dec. 29. Mother, daughter and papa, who is athletic director of the Hilltop YMCA, are all doing well.

Denomination Leader To Speak At Dedication

Dedication rites will be conducted for the recently completed fellowship hall of the Hilltop Church of God, 635 Whitethorne-av, Sunday, Jan. 13, at the 10:30 morning worship service. Rev. E. Ruthven Neff is pastor.

Dr. E. Eugene Sterner, director of church service of the executive council, Church of God, Anderson, Ind., will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Sterner has written widely in the field of Christian fellowship, fellowship evangelism, and related themes. He was educated at Anderson

Nassau Teacher To Study S-W Education Structure

The newest type export to the U.S. from the Bahama Islands is a neat, intelligent and attractive elementary school teacher by the name of Mrs. Iby Dumont.

She is presently touring the South-Western City School District, observing teaching methods which may help her improve her own school in Nassau.

Mrs. Dumont is in this country on a Fulbright Travel Grant, sponsored by the U.S. State Department and the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

She already has spent three months in Utah, and short visits in Washington D.C., San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Plans are for her to spend about five weeks in the S-W schools.

Her husband is a police inspector in Nassau and she two children - - a son, nine, a daughter, six.

As nearly all visitors to this country, she admitted that her pre-conceived ideas of Americans was somewhat amiss.

Greatest difference in American and Bahaman schools, the teacher explained, is that in her country the schools are controlled by the government and are all under one office, rather than individual districts.

Mrs. Dumont expressed surprise at the reading ability of elementary students here, and at their friendliness and willingness to talk to people.

She is particularly interested in reading programs in S-W schools, and said that children in this country are quite a bit ahead of their counterparts in the Bahamas in reading proficiency.

Most of this she attributes to better and more abundant reading materials.

External qualification, training outside her own country, is very important Mrs. Dumont said because it gives a broader scope of the field one is in, and because the training facilities in other, bigger countries are more elaborate than in the Bahamas.

To prove her point, she said that she just recently received word that her husband is being sent to England for six months of study at a London law enforcement schools.

He will visit her in Columbus before leaving for London.

After only a half day in the S-W district, she admitted that she was impressed with the people she met, but didn't want to express an opinion on the district until she has spent more time studying it.

Mrs. Dumont will move to Grove City in about two weeks to stay during her study.

Insurance Firm Head Succumbs

Service for Mabel A. Moffat, 243 Buena Vista, New Rome, owner of Ohio Group Insurance Agency, was held Thursday, Jan. 3, in the Jerry Spears Funeral Home. Interment was in West Jefferson.

She is survived by daughter, Mrs. James Wagner; two grandchildren, Judy and Bobby; nephew, Don Stevens; half-cousin, Leona J[illegible].

The Alaska boundary dispute was settled in favor of the U. S. Oct. 17, 1903.

Nursing Home Open House Set For Sunday

Murray Hill Manor, called Central Ohio's first non-sectarian nursing home in 40 years, will hold open house Sunday, Jan. 13.

Murray Hill Manor, 880 Greenlawn-av, has been built to accommodate elderly persons who are alone and unable to care for themselves, according to Robert W. Stuart, administrator.

The Manor is a one-story brick structure built to house 98 men and women. Constructed by Virginia Homes, Inc., in cooperation with the Columbus Hospital Federation, the Manor exceeds the basic state and local requirements for nursing and convalescent homes, Stuart said.

Built on a three and one-half acre site, the three-wing building will be open for public inspection Sunday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The first U. S. president to travel to a foreign country while in office was Theodore Roosevelt, who visited Panama in 1906.

THREE STUDENTS have been selected as Central High School Boosters over the past few months. They have been selected for displaying outstanding school spirit. They are, from left, Nancy Armstrong, Dan Shaw and Kae Boggess. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Armstrong of 964 Highland-st. She is a member of the Varsity Cheerleaders, Future Teachers' Association and Y-Teens. Dan is the son of Mrs. Agnes Dixon of 275 Dakota-av. He is a member of the Chess Club, Student Council, Boys' Ensemble, Senior Choir and Future Teachers association. Kae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Davis of 775 Bellows-av. She is a member of the Varsity Cheerleaders and Y-Teens.

Jones Displays Ceramic Pottery

Richard W. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Haydn Jones, 82 S. Sylvan-av, is displaying ceramic pottery and sculpture at the Hilltop Branch Library this month.

A graduate of West High School and Ohio State University, he is now head of the art department at Lowery High School, Dearborn, Mich.

Jones also studied at the University of Mexico as an exchange student and the University of California through a John Hay fellowship. The fellowship is awarded to 75 artists every year.

part time jobs. The office is located at 5 E. Long-st, Room 906. Phone is CA. 4-7633.

Each reference is checked out and school records examined before the service sends a teenager to a job. So far, more than 1,000 teenagers have found part time employment through this Sertoma sponsored service since its inception two years ago.

To sponsor the YES (Youth Employment Service), Sertoma clubs annually present a pancake festival. It was held Dec. 1 last year at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

The clubs have four objectives:

- Service—Each club plans its work to fit the needs of its community.
- Friendship — Weekly meetings and wholesome social affairs bring men together.
- Freedom — Sertoma stands for the preservation of individual freedom and free enterprise.
- A Code of Ethics — A Sertoman pledges himself to "wish no success that is not founded on the highest justice and morality."

council will outline plans for 1963 and pick several worthy projects.

The council will also discuss possible changes to the outdated charter, said Block.

New community council officers were installed at a Christmas dinner meeting in the St. John Lutheran Church.

Council committees will give their year-end report at the West Side meeting. Members will also hear a report from the nominating committee.

Following the reports, election of officers and area representatives will be held by the council.

Baby sitting service will be available for parents attending the West Side meeting.

Both councils encourage all area residents to become active members in their organizations.

The fellowship hall is the first unit of the $160,000 expansion program to be carried out at the Hilltop Church of God over the next five to 10 years.

The 4,000 square feet of ground floor contains a small gymnasium, modern kitchen and storage facilities. A partial second floor contains heating and utility units, and rest rooms, complete with lockers and showers.

On Sundays, the hall is used for Sunday School classes for the Junior High Department, and for the Junior High and Senior High Youth Fellowship services in the evenings.

On week evenings, the facility is used for church dinners, and church-related fellowship, social and recreation activities.

Since it was opened on Nov. 1, one or more activities has been held nearly every night of the week. Twice each week, on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 5, directed, non-denominational recreation activities are held for boys and girls of the community.

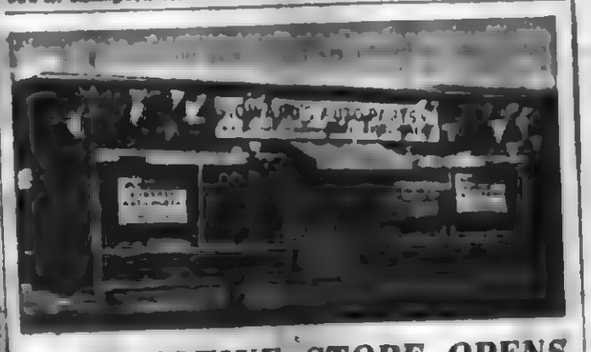
Clyde Vorhees and Harold Rathburn were the general contractors.



The structure was erected and equipped for use at a cost of $52,000.

Agricultural Act of 1962 provides a long range program of land use adjustment. A limited number of Ohio farmers may be eligible to convert crop land to grass, trees, wildlife and income-producing recreation uses. Fishing, swimming, boating, hunting preserves, picnicking, camping and other recreational uses will be considered in the pilot recreation development. Cost sharing to facilitate adjustment of crop land to non-crop use is available from ASCS. Loans for facilities may be available from FHA.

REMODELING COMPLETED

WITH MAHOGANY TRIM and new folding doors, this bedroom represents the latest remodeling job done by Fetter and Slyby, 44 E. Broad-st. The contractors say they are ready to advise anyone contemplating a remodeling or modernizing job. All work is guaranteed because the firm employs its own workmen. F.H.A. terms with no down payment are available. Fetter and Slyby also specialize in basements, recreation rooms, dens, bedroom additions and garages. The company has been in business 10 years in Columbus. Central Ohioans contemplating any remodeling may see the recently completed modernizing operation at 696 S. Hampton-rd.

AUTOMOTIVE STORE OPENS

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS

Falcon Footnotes

By Gail and Lynn Bradford

Job Experience Gained In Vocational Training

Franklin Heights is offering three unique educational programs to its students besides the regular academic courses.

He spends the afternoon on the job, gaining experience and applying his knowledge in various places of business in the Columbus area.

High school credits are given for this training and wages are paid for time on the job.

Franklin Heights is the only school in the South-Western School District to offer all three programs, and only 28 other schools in the state offer similar programs.

Cooperative Office Education

The students are gaining experience in the clerical, stenographic and bookkeeping [illegible].

They are employed by banks, automobile dealers and elementary school offices.

From this program there is a student in a law firm, another in a dental supply house and still another in a credit bureau office.

Fred Linard is the program coordinator.

Distributive Education

Twenty students are enrolled in the Distributive Education program.

Student trainees receive supervised work experience in distributive fields such as transportation, manufacturing and merchandising of both services and goods.

D. E. students hold positions in area retail stores, restaurants and service stations.

Diversified Cooperative

This program involves students interested in industrial occupations.

They learn techniques, styles and choice of correct materials.

Warren Doerr is coordinator.

There are no specific requirements set up yet for participation in the programs, however, good class and job attendance is a must.

The students enrolled in these programs receive valuable training which will help them to get a job after graduation.

Newspaper Staff To Receive Free Chest X-Rays

Hartley Newspapers employes will receive free Christmas Seal chest x-rays on Monday, Jan. 14, TB Society officials announced this week.

The Christmas Seal x-ray cruiser last served employes of Hartley Newspapers in 1958. At that time, 41 free chest x-rays were given and revealed three suspected findings.

The society offers free x-ray service to any firm employing 40 or more people. An estimated 60 local firms will be provided free x-ray service by spring.

FULL CLUB PRIVILEGES FOR YOU AT FORT LAUDERDALE'S beach club HOTEL

Directly on the OCEAN . . .

The Spacious Beach Club Hotel combines all the facilities of a resort hotel with the seclusion of a private club. Its acres of beautifully landscaped grounds are away from the crowds, yet golf, fishing, sailing, Jai Alai, horse and dog racing are all within easy radius. The large club-size guest rooms—the Carousel Bar, center of Lobster Roasts, Supper on the Grass—and Barbecue Steak Parties, the exciting fun in the Lulu Belle Night Club, all combine to make the Beach Club Hotel one of Florida's finest winter resorts.

ARCHITECT'S CONCEPTION of the chapel of the Lutheran Senior City which is under construction at 977 Parkview-av shows the contemporary motif employed. The city has been in planning by the Lutheran Welfare League of Columbus.

Lutheran Senior City To Serve 25 Counties

Lutheran Senior City's modern architecture one-floor dwelling will provide accommodations for 285 persons of age 62 and older. Construction of Lutheran Senior City is now under way on spacious grounds located at 977 Parkview-av with entrance off Johnstown-rd.

It will serve the needs of senior citizens in a 25-county area of Central Ohio. Facilities will be for couples, as well as single persons.

The structure will consist of a number of individual neighborhoods or living quarters built around outside courts and all connected with covered hallways leading to a central dining, recreation and service area.

A chaplain will serve the spiritual needs of the residents desiring such, providing the full services of a pastor in respect to domestic, family and spiritual needs.

Those residents of other faiths desiring to avail themselves of other church and ministerial services in the community will have opportunities to do so.

Lutheran Senior City is the outgrowth of five years of planning by The Lutheran Welfare League of Columbus.

Actively furthering the big dream of a haven for the older generation have been C. T. Hathaway, Revs. Bradow, Riemiller, and Kibler, assisted by the office manager of The Lutheran Welfare League, Miss F. Bell.

Residents of Lutheran Senior City will have freedom to come and go as they like, compatible with their capabilities.

Dog Owners Reminded That License Deadline Is Near

Deadline is Sunday, Jan. 20, for purchasing dog licenses.

According to Ohio law, every dog three months or older must have a license and wear a tag at all times. Failure to purchase a license for your dog may result in arrest and, if convicted, a fine of as much as $25 and costs may be imposed.

License fees are $2 for male, spayed female and female dogs or $10 for a kennel permit.

Since the deadline falls on Sunday this year and the courthouse will be closed at noon Saturday, Jan. 19, applications for licenses will be taken at the Animal Shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk, from 9 a. to 4 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 20.

All applications by mail will be honored if postmarked not later than midnight, Jan. 20.

When mailing to the Franklin County auditor, state breed, sex, age, color, long or short hair, of dog. Enclose the proper fee and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teenagers To Assist Crutch Sale

Franklin County teenagers have volunteered to assist the TAPS (Teens against Polio) annual crutch sale to be held Saturday, Jan. 12.

Teenagers will sell plastic lapel buttons in the shape of a tiny crutch for the benefit of the March of Dimes. They will be stationed at shopping centers, neighborhood stores and the downtown area.

Only with public help can Franklin County continue its program of patient aid, research and education in the fields of birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Association Of Baptists To Convene

Woman's Missionary Union of the Capital City Association of Baptists (SBC) will meet at 10 a.m. Friday, Jan. 11, at Tri-Village Baptist Church.

Conferences, to be led by association officers, have been scheduled as follows:

Prayer, Mrs. W. C. Dudley, Gahanna; community missions, Mrs. J. Frank Heaton, Whitehall; stewardship, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Ashville; mission study, Mrs. James Baker, North Linden.

A special conference for general officers will feature methods for presentation of more [illegible] programs in the local church. This will be led by Mrs. J. Paul Cotner, Jr., of Southside Baptist Church.

Following a brief business session, Rev. J. Willard Jarvis, pastor Whitehall Baptist Church, will address the group. Luncheon will be served by the hostess church.

Township Heads To Convene At Deshler Hilton

The 35th annual convention of the Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks will be held at the Deshler Hilton Hotel Thursday through Saturday, Jan. 24-26.

About 1700 members are expected to attend.

The welcoming address will be given by Mayor W. Ralston [illegible].

Other speakers who will address the assembly include Frank Thatcher of Wilmington, president of the County Engineers' Association; State Senator Tennyson Guyer, Findlay; State Representative Harry Jump, Willard; Lieutenant-Governor-elect John W. Brown, Medina, who will serve as toastmaster.

The trustees' and clerks' proposed legislative program for the forthcoming 105th General Assembly of Ohio will be discussed.

MRS. JOHN VENTERS

Dorr-Venters Rites Are Read At Hoge Memorial Church

Miss Joy Dorr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dorr, 331 S. Roys-av, became the bride of Mr. John Venters, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Venters of Gallipolis, Friday, Nov. 23.

The ceremony was held at 8 p.m. in Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, with Rev. Calvin W. Didier officiating.

The bride chose a gown of satin brocade designed with a fitted bodice, crescent neckline outlined with tiny seed pearls, and pearl-edged, bracelet length sleeves. The pleated ballerina-length skirt was worn over crinolines.

Miss Joyce Blake, maid of honor, wore a montigo blue street-length gown with a rounded neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a bell skirt. She carried yellow roses in a cascade arrangement.

Mr. Phillip M. Humalainen was best man, and seating the guests were Mr. Donald Gardner and Mr. Wayne M. Humalainen.

Hostesses were Mrs. Barbara Dorr, Mrs. Ada Gardner, Mrs. Faye Hammond, Miss Patricia Venters, Miss Catherine Kuhn and Miss Francis Koselke.

The reception followed in the church basement.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue jacquard sheath with white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother chose a gray wool sheath with blue accessories. Their corsages were pink roses.

NEW 'TUESDAY AT Y' SERIES AT HILLTOP TO START ON JAN. 15

The winter term of "Tuesday at the Y" at the Hilltop YWCA Center, 2879 Valleyview-dr, will begin Jan. 15 with a program designed to start milady on a happy new year.

"Being Yourself Through Make-Up" will be the topic of the morning session, with Mr. Brant, beauty consultant with the F. and R. Lazarus and Co., lecturing and giving a demonstration.

Mr. Brant will use a model from the audience to highlight his instruction in the art of applying make-up. A period for questions and individual advice will follow the lecture.

In the afternoon, Victor Ewald, coordinator of volunteer services for Columbus State Hospital, will speak to the group on "Person to Person."

Ewald is a former YMCA secretary, and has had experience in industrial methods and procedures, and personnel and industrial relations.

Gourmet luncheon will be served at noon, and will be furnished by the class in gourmet and foreign cooking under the instruction of Mrs. Don Gephart. This class will meet from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on Tuesdays throughout the winter term.

Cost of the day-long "Tuesday at the Y" program is $1, including luncheon.

Baby sitting, with crafts, is available without charge. Mothers are asked to bring a sack lunch for their children. Milk will be furnished.

All sessions are arranged as a privilege of YWCA membership or YMCA family membership. For further information call CA. 4-9121.

Penny Pennell, Thomas Evans Repeat Marriage Vows Dec. 21

Resurrection Lutheran Church was the setting, Dec. 21, for the marriage of Miss Penny Pennell to Mr. Thomas Evans. Rev. Milton C. Mann read the ceremony at 8:30 p.m., which was followed by a reception at the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm H. Pennell, 316 Hilliard-Rome-rd, Hilliard.

Mr. Evans is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Evans, Scioto Darby-rd, Hilliard.

They wore identical aqua sheer wool gowns. They carried white fur muffs centered with pink poinsettias, and wore pillboxes of white fur.

Mr. John Echard served as best man, and ushers were Mr. Malcolm E. Pennell, brother of the bride, and Mr. John Roberts.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Evans were both graduated from Hilliard High School.

The bride was graduated from Bowling Green University and is presently teaching at Avery Elementary School in Hilliard.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Radio Electronics Television School in Detroit, and was employed by Electrosonics Co. He is presently serving with the United States Army.

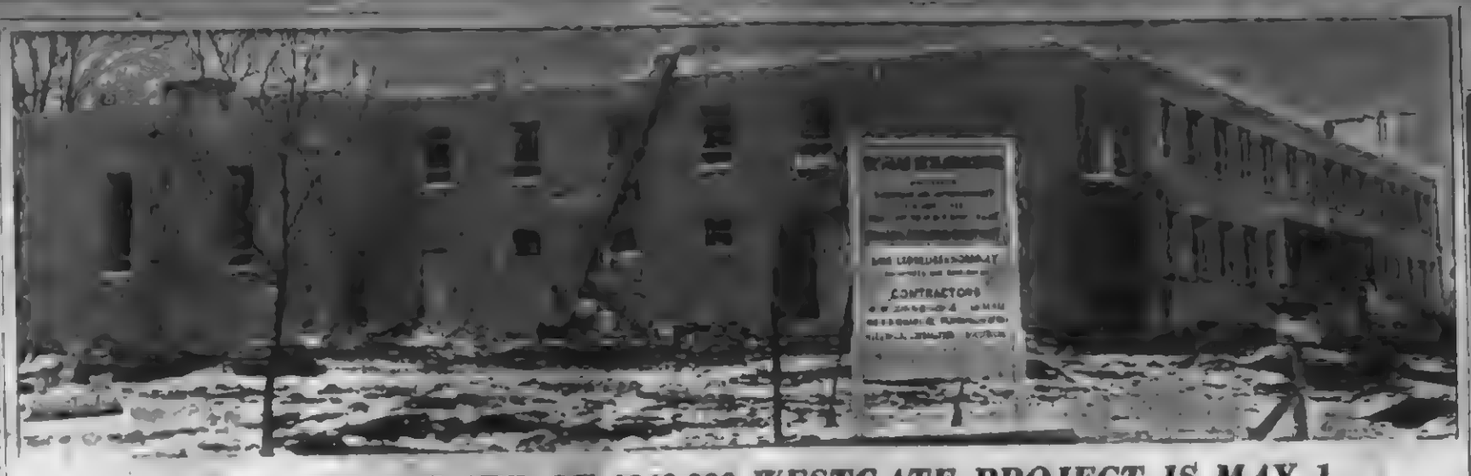
New Service Is Announced By Columbus Public Library

Columbus Public Library has started issuing a comprehensive listing of new books near the first and the middle of each month.



Copies of the list, which includes the latest fiction, non-fiction, reference, children's and young adult books on the shelves of the library, will be available for the asking at area library agencies, according to City Librarian Edward Daniels.

All books on the list will be available at the Main Library, and many of them are also on the shelves of the 13 branch libraries. Patrons may request books from the central library through their branches.

If a book is in circulation, patrons may request notification when it becomes available. A book reserve postal card, to be mailed to the home, costs a nickel.

Some patrons may wish to have the new book list mailed directly to their homes. This is possible, the librarian said, if the patron deposits a quantity of stamped, self-addressed envelopes at his neighborhood library agency.

COMPLETION DATE OF $369,000 WESTGATE PROJECT IS MAY 1

WESTGATE RECREATION CENTER is progressing rapidly as the completion date of May 1 approaches. The $369,000 project is located in the eastern part of the 45-acre Hilltop park. The center will closely resemble Whetstone in the North Side. Sheaf Construction Co. holds the general contract. Work began July 11, 1962. The center consists of two floors and basement, measuring 120 by 190 feet.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

NANCY TRUELOVE
BR. 9-7316

The Shu Na Ka Camp Fire group recently held a council fire in the home of Mrs. Guy Taylor. Games were played and each girl received her first honor beads.

Mrs. Betty Jenks, guardian of the Ko Da Ki Wa Horizon Club group, recently held a dinner party for her girls and their families at Westgate Methodist Church. The program consisted of group singing, a special dance by Donna Jenks and a demonstration of customs of other nations, with each girl representing a different country.

Members of this group are Dorothy Flowers, Donna Jenks, Suzanne Johnson, Diane Miller, Alice Marie Miller, Diane Pappas, Susie Richards, Bonnie Wisecup, Debbie Xander and Rita Zagianis. At Christmas time, the girls donated home made cookies and other gifts to the Winter Haven Rest Home.

The Te Wa Ka Camp Fire group recently held a party at the home of of their guardian, Mrs. Paul Calkins. Mrs. Margaret Tuttle, assistant guardian, Becky Roush, Debra Waltz, Roberta Barnes, Debbie Ellis, Karen Gilkey, Teri Nichols, Dixie Triplet, Connie Tuttle, Susan Tuttle, Kathy Vance, Debbie Williams and Marcia Calkins were among those attending.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

The first dance of the year was held last Friday night. About 105 Hilltop boys and girls came to the "Y" for an evening of dancing and conversation.

Dances are held each Friday night from 7:30 to 10:30 for junior and senior high school students.

Last Saturday was the first "All Day at the 'Y'" program. More than 120 children attended from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

A movie, "The Steel Helmet," was shown. In the afternoon, crafts and activities were conducted. This program is held the first Saturday of each month.

The Hilltop Gra-Y clubs have started the basketball season with two practices. The regular season begins today.

Parents and friends are invited to watch the games which are held at West Broad School on Wednesdays and Fridays and at John Burroughs on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

The Gra-Y Council meeting was held Wednesday in the "Y". Discussion was held on the world service mint sale which begins the middle of February. Also there was discussion about the tall tale contest which will be held the latter part of February.

The Gra-Y "Club-of-the-Month" for November was North Franklin. President Steve Davis accepted the flag which will be displayed in North Franklin School during January.

BISHOP CRARENCE G. Issenmann is surrounded by Cuban youngsters and Catholic Welfare Bureau officials during a special party Sunday at the K of C Hall to celebrate Wiseman's Day. This is a Cuban holiday, like Christmas here, when presents are exchanged. The youths were brought to the greater Columbus area by the Welfare Bureau and are now living in foster homes and orphanages in this city.

BY MARCH

Bishop Plans Mass In Spanish Here For Cuban Youths

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Columbus Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann mixed business with pleasure last Sunday in the K of C Hall.

The "business" is significant in the fact that it effects a new Catholic mass in this city and the "pleasure" was for the benefit of Cuban refugee youths brought to Columbus through the Catholic Welfare Bureau.

The bishop, speaking before some 300 greater Columbus residents (more than 70 Cuban children), laid preliminary plans for conducting a mass in Spanish once a month in a centralized church here for these people from Cuba.

"I would like to propose," the bishop said, "that we conduct a mass in one church here in Spanish once a month."

According to Joseph Gibboney, supervisor of the Cuban program for the Welfare Bureau, the bishop's plan should be in operation by March. The actual mass, Gibboney explained, will be in the traditional Latin but the sermon and singing will be in Spanish.

It will be a first for the Ohio area — a state which ranks fifth in the nation in number of Cubans in this country.

The bishop, who worked through an interpreter to give his talk Sunday, also said that he "feels like Pope John XXIII when he spoke to the United States Bishops" recently during the ecumenical council in Rome. "The Pope said he wished he could speak to all the bishops in the various languages," Bishop Issenmann said, "and, right now, I wish I could speak Spanish so that I could talk to you directly."

Adding a note of humor, the bishop said, "but, at least, you can tell your relatives in Cuba that you have seen the bishop . . . and tell them that he's pretty well."

The Cubans were compared by Bishop Issenmann to his ancestors who first came to this country from France. "You're carrying on a tradition," he said, "of the ancestors of all of us who had the courage to escape from other countries."

He added that he knew that the "hearts (of these children) belong in Cuba" but he said he "hopes you'll stay with us forever."

The get-together Sunday was actually part of a Cuban tradition. That is, the celebration of the Wise Men's Day (Jan. 6) a day in Cuba — like Christmas here — when gifts are distributed. There is no Santa Claus in that country.

The bishop threw gifts to the children and they, in turn, broke open a pinata filled with candy.

Besides Bishop Issenmann, the group heard comments by Gibboney (who said the bureau is "happy to be of assistance to Cubans in this country") and from Dr. Julio Sanguily, medical director at St. Anthony Hospital.

Dr. Sanguily was a medical chief in Cuba and conducted a clinic there. His son, Julio, Jr., is on the staff at Mt. Carmel Hospital. "I think all you Cuban youngsters will return home some day in peace," Dr. Sanguily theorized.

Fr. Paul Sicilia, professor at Josephinum College in Worthington, told the group in Spanish about the patron saint of Cuba, Caridad del Cobre, and offered background material on the Wise Men's Day — known in that country as "Reyes Magos."

Bishop Issenmann concluded by telling the youths, "We know your circumstances are difficult. But, never be discouraged . . . carry on as you have begun."

Naval Reservists Finish Course

They are: Robert R. Higgins, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Higgins of 402 S. Ogden-av; Donald O. White, 17, son of George White of 663 Derrer-rd; and Jerry T. Faught, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Faught of 208 S. Sandusky-st.

Counselling Session Set

Dr. Robert Browning, professor at the Methodist Theological School, Delaware, and authority in the area of family life counselling, will hold a two and one-half hour session at Livingston Methodist Church Sunday, Jan. 13, 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Browning was one of the leaders at the National Family Life Conference held last October in Chicago.

Home Hit By Fire

A smouldering cigarette in a bathroom waste basket was the suspected cause of a fire Friday in the home of Ben Ervin of 227 Haldy-av, firefighters reported. The blaze, which caused an estimated $1500 loss, damaged three rooms and suffocated the Ervin's pet canary.

Sunday Closing Discussion Dated

The "confusion of Sunday closing" will be discussed at the first meeting of the Jewish Center's Public Affairs program on Wednesday, Jan. 9, at 8:30 p.m., at the Center, 1125 College-av.

A panel of business and professional men representing Greater Columbus and the state government will discuss the issue.

Leading the group of panelists will be Archer E. Reilly, Jr., local attorney and Franklin County legislator.

Theodore R. Saker, first assistant to Ohio's attorney general, is another panel member. He will discuss enforcement and how the district attorney's office is interpreting the present law.

Representing the local business group will be Erwin J. Fanta, Columbus realtor and president of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

William D. Edwards, local attorney, who has defended in court many business firms which have been charged with Sunday opening, will also appear.

The meeting is open to the public, and the audience will be given an opportunity to participate in the discussion which will be moderated by Robert Shamansky, chairman of the Center's Public Affairs Club.

In subsequent meetings, the public will be invited to attend open meetings on subjects such as "The Speaker's Rule at Ohio State University," "Federal Aid to Private and Parochial Schools," "The Supreme Court Decision on Prayer" and "Medicare."

Robert Davis Jr. Spent Holidays In Antarctica

Robert D. Davis, Jr., construction mechanic third class, USN, son of Mrs. Louise Davis of 127 Central-av, is among those who greeted the New Year at the South Pole—or nearby—this year.

The servicemen stationed in Antarctica, remained indoors while the temperatures outside dropped to more than 25 below zero. Even in Antarctica's midsummer, snow and ice maintain their grip over the continent. Only in a few coastal or mountainous areas is bare ground ever sighted and Antarctica is covered by as much as two miles of ice in places.

The servicemen spent Christmas in much the same way as New Year's Day — with large dinners and individual observances.

Boy Scout Troop 79 Has Camp-Out

Twenty-seven boys and six men of Troop 79, Burgess Avenue EUB Church, attended a camp-out at Camp Lazarus the weekend of Jan. 4 and 5.

The Eagle Patrol had four members present; the Apache Patrol, four, the Flaming Arrow; Patrol, six; the Rattlesnake Patrol, five, and the Panther Patrol, six.

Several of the boys worked on second and first class cooking while other boys passed knife and ax tests.

The camp ended Saturday in order that the troop could assist with the Sabin on Sunday program of John Burroughs School, said Robert J. Schmidt, assistant scoutmaster.

Smut Movies Dirtying Theater Screens Here

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Smut merchants peddling miles and miles of filthy film to local theaters have got to be stopped—even if it takes an act of Congress to do it. That's the consensus of many of our socially-conscious citizens—and after seeing some of the films myself, I agree.

The nature and extent of these movies are adequate to pervert every youngster in this country, and Columbus is surely getting its Baker-dozen share.

These films have been termed by one reputable theater owner as movies that weren't "released . . . they escaped!" They depict carnal orgies, all-the-way nudity and employ every sex symbol in the book.

Most of the films (one may be showing right down the street from you now) are shot with a 16mm movie camera in motel rooms — usually on the West Coast. Generally, there is no sound track.

The technical quality of them is comparable to scrawlings on a washroom wall and any acting ability displayed by the leading characters is purely accidental.

Local law and civic leaders are, at this moment, striving to clamp down on the recent barrage of filthy movies bupt the statutes on the law books governing obscenity are nearly as skimpy as the costumes worn by these nude actress which said law is supposed to prohibit.

Daily newspapers are running "border-line - obscenity" in their theater pages to advertise the films. This brings some of the pictures contact right into the living room regardless of the fact that the advertising, in some cases, speaks louder that the film itself.

Opponents of these films are divided into three groups. (1) Lt. George Watts and the Columbus vice-squad, (2) Bernard Chupka, this city's prosecuting attorney, and (3) Victor Bowman, newly-elected chairman of the Columbus Movie Review Board which meets monthly.

They, and their departmental workers, are devoting many hours to fight the commercialized obscenity. Their primary target is the youth of this city.

A U. S. Senate subcommittee, describing obscene movies as "nauseating and depraved," compared them with narcotics. They claim it has the effect of "hooking" steady customers.

The Citizens for Decent Litterature, Inc. group of Cleveland reported that "once such an appetite is aroused, especially in the young, it demands more stimulating and exciting fare. Like dope addiction, smut has stages — the borderline, the obscene and pornographic and, finally, the depraved.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has termed pornography as "' . . . a major cause of six violence . . . creating criminals faster than we can build jails to house them."

Suggest Legislation

Columbus people want positive action immediately.

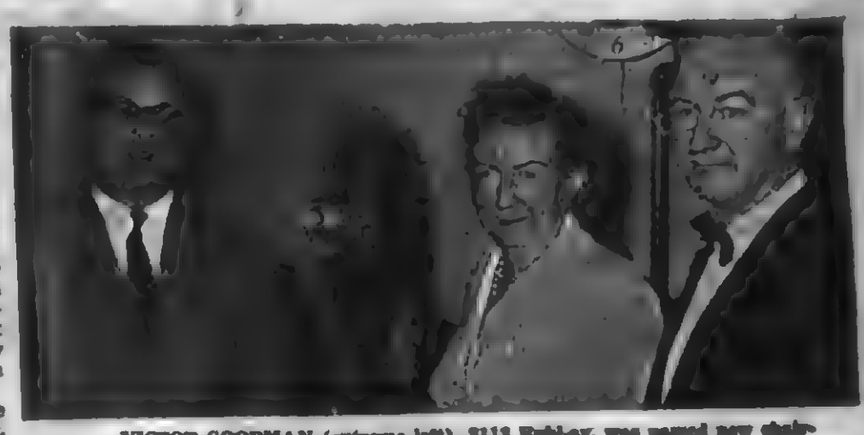
Robert Duncan, assistant prosecuting attorney, suggested last week that some legislation be introduced into the Ohio General Assembly in January to strengthen and "clarify" the obscenity laws.

Such action was tried in the 101st and 102nd assemblies, and legislators felt they have defined obscenity satisfactory, but it died in the Senate education committee headed by Senator C. A. Mosher.

Some possible solutions are in the works right now. Most practical of these, perhaps is a composition of ideas from Chapka and from Safety Director Al Giles.

Chupka proposed last Thursday, during a regular meting of the Movie Review Board, that all films coming into Columbus be "licensed." The prosecutor pointed out that a license couldn't be denied to certain films because of content since this entered into the realm of squelching certain freedoms of expression.

Giles Offers Suggestions



Giles brough up this theory that certain restrictions could be made of a film, however (not entirely on content) that would cause the refusal of a license.

As Giles sees it, a license could be refused a film if it didn't lead in with certain accepted items as the name of the film studio, a list of characters and other such items contained in legitimate releases.

"This," Giles pointed out, "would offer just one deterrent to the films. I'm sure we could come up with more restrictions like this that would hamper the showing of these movies here."

Another detering factor is the possibility of a city ordinance to prohibit films shown in Columbus movie houses made on acetate film. This type is highly flammable and isn't in use by noted movie makers. A recently confiscated movie actually caught fire while the Movie Review Board was witnessing it at a private showing.

Most authorities on the matter agree on one thing, though. It's basically a question of taste and morals. It's up to the schools, the churches and the parents of this community to establish our level.

Those attending were Bill Ramage, David Thurston, Jim Lucas, Louis Thompson, Bob Connely, Jack Spring, John O'Neal, Charlie Saunders, Craig Zimmerman, Ed Aufderheide, and leaders. Advisors were Joe Hutt and Larry Miller.

Tax Clinic Slated At Hilltop 'Y'

The Hilltop YMCA will offer an Income Tax Clinic for all interested persons. The activity will be held Wednesday, Jan. 23 and 30.

Instructor for the course will be Donovan Campbell, an internal revenue agent supervising in field audit.

Topic for the first week will be income. The second session will deal with deductions.

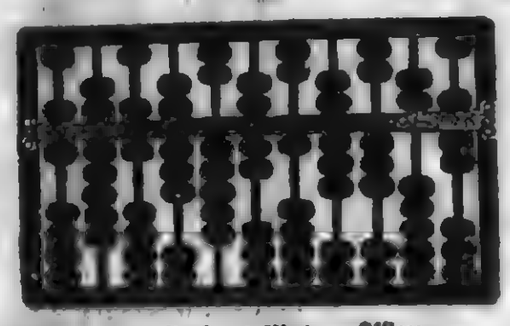
Following each topic presentation, a question and answer period will be conducted.

Sessions are scheduled from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Persons interested in the clinic are asked to call the Hilltop YMCA office at BR. 6-5306 before Jan. 18 to make reservations.

Local Kiwanians Help N. Franklin Landscape Work

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club has donated about $50 worth of landscaping materials to North Franklin Elementary School, to be used in the school's self-engineered, landscaping project.



Principal Edward Yarnell said the donation was presented the club's Agriculture Committee chairman, Don Best, on Jan. 2, at the school.

GETS SUSPENSION

A 14-day suspension was handed to the Pine Room, 1360 Harrisburg-pk, for the sale of intoxicating liquor to a minor on Oct. 13. The action, issued by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, went into effect Jan. 7.

FAME

Just a few facts and ideas picked up here and there—

Samuel Finley Breese Morse invented the magnetic telegraph and devised the Morse code. But he was also a painter and could have been famous for his oils.

Eli Whitney is known as the inventor of the cotton gin that revolutionized agriculture in the South. But he also devised interchangeable parts for U.S. Army rifles just before the Civil War.

Michelangelo, one of the two greatest intellectual and artistic giants of the Renaissance, is famous for his sculpture and Sistine Chapel paintings. He was also a poet of major stature.

Thomas Jefferson is remembered as author of the Declaration of Independence and as President. He was also a prolific letter writer and a competent architect and a fine violinist. He designed his own home and named it Monticello.

Two other men, Prescott and Dawes, rode with Paul Revere, but didn't have a Longfellow to write about them. Revere got the kudos.

Joshua Stoddard of Worcester, Mass., was a beekeeper to the end of his 88 years. But he invented many things, among them the American steam piano, better known as the calliope, whose sweet, nostalgic notes echoed for many a year among the hills of the Ohio River Valley. If you don't know about it, ask Grandpa.

It says here . . .

Noble Plan Helps Boys

There's only one sad thing about Christmas and the spirit of giving.

All too often we pack away our natural inclination to help others along with the tinsel and holly when the last strains of holiday carols are no more than pleasant memories.

The Big Brother Association does not ask for an assist from your hip pocket but only for the warmth of your heart.

The local facet of the national organiartion will observe its annual Big Brother Week, Jan. 6 to 13. There are 300 boys here in the Columbus area who need Big Brothers.

These are average, boy-next-door type youngsters who have been denied a very important part of their youth—the love, guidance and understanding of a father.

Many of these boys have never known the pat on the back for a job well done or that warming smile of pride that can only be exchanged between man and boy.

Last year, 415 Big Brothers served 627 Columbus area boys. In addition, 1,125 youngsters attended the association's summer camp, Camp Oty'Okwa, in the Hocking Hills.

The association sponsors a year-round schedule of activities (corn roasts, ball games, skating parties, etc.), so Big and Little Brothers can become better acquainted.

Big Brothers work with and under the supervision of a staff of well trained social workers. The Big Brother is a friend to a fatherless boy.

He does not support the boy financially but is asked to give something much more prized by his Little Brother — the interest and time of an adult male friend.

This year the association will select an "honorary Big Brother" for the first time in its 30-year history. The selection will be announced at a Jan. 9 banquet at the Fairgrounds Youth Center.

The Big Brother Association realizes that many men would like to be active members of the organization but are unable to find the time because of business and family responsibilities. There is a way they can help, too.

The Big Brothers also need 1,200 associate members who do not have Little Brothers but who

Men interested in becoming affiliated should contact W. E. Richardson, executive secretary, at the association's office at 137 E. State-st, or call CA. 8-5696.

Somewhere close to you, maybe right in your neighborhood, there is a boy who needs a Big Brother to help him along that increasingly rugged path to maturity. Won't you give him a hand?

You will find that special "Christmas feeling" isn't just reserved for Dec. 25, but can remain in your heart 365 days of the year.

Who touches a boy, by the master's plan,
Is shaping the course of the future man.
Father or laborer or teacher or priest;
Friend or stranger or saint or beast,
Is dealing with one who is living seed,
And may be MAN whom the world shall need.

Now Is Time To Test Ice Fishing Skills

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

The Central Ohio ice fishing season has been off and running for two weeks or more, according to Robert Strohm, 1530 Haft-dr, Reynoldsburg. The Ohio Division of Wildlife also has been reporting good ice fishing conditions in this area. Strohm collected 22 nice bluegills in a short time last weekend.

Strohm's favorite locations are farm ponds where the bluegills grow fat and sassy. Best fishing of the ice season is right now — success tapers off through January and February generally. As soon as the ice is safe is the best time to go, and the season began early this year.

"Who wants to fish on a block of ice?" I asked Strohm. "The same people who are avid fishermen in the spring and summer," was his answer. "Plus a few whose only angling activity is at this time of year." When the word is out that fish are hitting, the anglers will be out too.

If Strohm has an ice fishing secret, it's the use of a very light line — one, two or three-pound test monofiliament. "You are not fishing for any world records, and the strain put on your tackle is light," he claims.

The rest of the rig is geared to the line — small hook, no sinker or perhaps a very light one, a thimble-sized bobber, and a delicate wand-like rod. Good ice fishing baits are meal worms and mousies (insect larva sold at bait stores), although some fishermen are skilled enough to take fish through the ice on artificials. Most of us, however, rely on live bait, and up on Lake Erie and Sandusky Bay minnows and shiners are most popular.

There is good reason for the light tackle. Fish are tentative feeders at this season, and "bites" are not easily detected. With big equipment you might never get the feel of a bluegill nibbling at your bait. Also, they seem to scare readily and crude tackle can send them away.

As in all other kinds of fishing, you must locate the fish. Experienced anglers chop a lot of holes in the ice until they find a feeding school. Many will not fish a hole more than 10 or 15 minutes before moving on if there is no action. Around brush piles and treetops are good places to fish for bluegills — apparently they are the rabbits of the underwater world. Once a good location is found it will often produce on succeeding days. Also, ice fishermen crowd around a "hot spot" and the disturbance does not seem to bother the fish.

Your bait should be placed near the bottom, perhaps two to six inches above the bottom. To entice fish to feed in ice water you must make your bait attractive, and this is accomplished by motion. "Keep your bait moving," is the advice of Robert Strohm. "A lot of ice fishermen are unsuccessful because they put their bait in the water and leave it there while they concentrate on keeping warm. This is not the way to catch fish."

There are various theories as to why ice fishing success tapers off during the season. One idea is that water where the fish stay is warmest just after the surface freezes. But water temperatures do not vary much on the bottom — although a slight change may make the difference.

Another belief is that oxygen in the water declines while the ice is on. Underwater plants will manufacture oxygen if sunlight gets through, but snow cover may prevent this.

In any case, ice fishing will never be better than it is right now.

We Ask You . . 'Who Needs Winter?"

Winter is lousy. When you get too old to sled and too stiff to ski, what is left? And where is the man who can get up in the morning and shave with a song in his heart while it's still dark outside?

Beardsbear

Half the time the snow turns to slush and the other half it just lies there and gets dirty.

No wonder birds go south. Your car won't start because the battery dies, road salt eats up the paint job you put on last spring, and your local filling station didn't prevent fuel-line freeze-up.

You stand on the corner waiting for a bus until you're sure you're an icicle and when it finally comes, you get on only to discover that you forgot your wallet.

The kids all have runny noses and the wife won't take out the garbage because she's afraid she'll slip on the ice.

And keeping track of two galoshes, gloves, one muffler, a sweater and a top-coat at every coffee stop is enough to tax the mentality of an Einstein.

Winter is the pause between autumn and spring, two of the more sensible seasons. And summer, ah summer, with green grass and sunshine, is the queen of them all.

But winter does have its compensations. You can pay the Christmas bills, calculate your income tax, break your New Year's resolutions early, rearrange the furniture, take up the plumbing, clean the linoleum, lay rugs and walk around the house.

Articles Please

To the Editor:

It was with much interest and pleasure that I began reading Mr. John McPeek's articles.

His article "Fear Knowledge and You Block Truth" is fundamentally great. Why do some people want to set themselves up as keepers of their brother's morals? No Christian would.

Jesus would never have used force. People must be good because they understand how and why or it fails its purpose.

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" [illegible] — U.S.A.

Every day now we hear and read about "mental illness." The papers are full of it. Radio and TV are saturated with it.

The tragedy is that so much of the air handling of this topic is neither medically nor psychologically authentic. This constant exploitation of misery and frustration and even violent anti-social behavior is absolute poison to many who can get nothing but harm from such wallowing in fear and ignorance.

There have been a few legitimate professional public service presentations by qualified experts and all TV circuits are to be complimented on them. But a constant deluge of petty behaviorism by adult infants is a far cry from authentic case histories that are documented by qualified medical and psychiatric specialists.

There is one vitally important truth that merits vigorous support, and up to now it has been wholly neglected. That is that many individuals who are supposed to be mentally ill are not "sick in the head" at all. They are just ornery as a goat and in most such instances of deliberate contrary behavior, the statement above is a vile libel against the goat.

The finest serologists and neurologists are constantly seeking new truths about genuine pathological derangement along the proven lines of such research. Individuals who are genuinely ill always have histories that any qualified researchers can ferret out and in a most gratifying percentage of cases, get heartwarming results by proper institutional care and treatment. Recent research in chemo-therapy has opened up new vistas of hope and assurance for recovery in increasing numbers of non-violent or paranoid symptoms of mild degree.

One thing is for laymen and "family ignoramuses" to stop abuse of honest cases of mental aberrations. It is most un-Christian the way most people shun all such members of their own immediate family, so afflicted.

If there is an honest suspicion that some person has a "good thing going" by being deliberately obnoxious, then they should get immediate authentic counseling by a legal expert and then behave accordingly.

So many people are "difficult" solely to be important.

The trading stamps I received helped a lot at Christmas time. Have made a lot of friends through the column, too. Keep up the good work.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Order Restored To Citrus, Vegetable Market

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, lemons, grapes.

Other Foods — Fryers, pork cuts, ground beef, large eggs, dairy products.

Now that citrus fruits again are coming in from Florida we can expect prices to return to near normal. This does not mean that prices will go as low as they were prior to the freeze when a record crop was expected.

Mrs. Franks

On Dec. 27, the embargo was lifted by the Florida Citrus Commission bringing an end to the restriction on the shipment of fresh fruit imposed because of the recent freeze in Florida.

The Florida fruit will continue to be checked to insure that it is just as good as ever on the inside. Size restrictions, however, have been relaxed and we will likely be seeing smaller oranges, tangerines, tangelos and grapefruit on the market.

Prices paid for citrus fruits can be expected to be somewhat high until the market shelves are again stocked and then prices will drop.

Some of the vegetable crop is making a fast recovery while part of the Florida area escaped damage entirely. Many of the new plantings will be ready for market within 30 to 60 days. And supply sources other than Florida will be coming in. These factors add up to vegetable situations looking much improved and likely a return to a pattern of prices slightly above normal.

Prospective 'Big Brothers' Asked To Attend Banquet

The Big Brother Association of Columbus will highlight its observance of National Big Brother Week, Jan. 6-13, with a banquet, Jan. 9, at the Youth Center at the Ohio State Fairgrounds, beginning at 7 p.m.

The association's first "honorary Big Brother" will be announced. Executive Secretary W. E. Richardson stressed that the banquet is not restricted to present members of the association alone.

"WE HOPE THAT men who are interested in our program will attend so they might gain a better understanding of our work," Richardson said.

The banquet's guest speaker will be Harrison Sayre, of 264 N. Drexel-av. Sayre, a member of the Columbus Foundation and past president of the American Education Press (now Wesleyan Press) will speak on the background and history of the Big Brother organization from its beginnings 30 years ago and its progression to the present.

Richardson, who hopes to find Big Brothers for many of the 300 fatherless boys currently on the waiting list with the present membership drive, pointed out that Big Brothers were especially needed in the South and East sections of the city.

R. E. Armbrust Is Reassigned

Capt. Robert E. Armbrust has arrived at Osan AB, Korea, for assignment to the Air Force advisory group.

He is the son of Mrs. Margaret E. Armbrust of 930 Chambers-ct, and received his B. A. Degree from OSU.

Suburban News Editors On Ch. 34 Program Debut

Marcus T. Orr, managing editor of Hartley Newspapers, will be among those seen in the debut of a television program, "Suburban Viewpoint," at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 10, over WOSU-TV Channel 34.

Winston W. Hill, director of public affairs programming for the university television station will host the series to be aired on alternate Thursday nights. "Forecast for '63" is the title of the first program.

Hill explained that this pioneering series will focus attention on the communities satellite to Columbus, revealing the problems and potentials of the area.

A half hour in length, the first program will have as other editor participants:

Don Hollenback, The Booster and the Herald Booster; Monroe-Courtright, The Public Opinion, Westerville; Mrs. Eleanor Boardman, The Tri-Village News and the Upper Arlington News; Ron Coffman, The Grove City Record; Bill Hartman, The Times, Canal Winchester; Mrs. Patricia Murphy, The Little Weekly.

RAIDERS IN DOUBLE LOSS

Bucs 'Corral' West; Knights Take Pair

By BOB LYNCH

Central broke open a see-saw first quarter and shot ahead to a 20-17 lead early in the second quarter, a lead which they never relinquished, in fashioning their second straight City League victory by defeating visiting West, 56-47, Friday night.

Tom Fullove led the Pirates' conquest as he tallied 14 points, but the Cowboys' Jerry Carter copped scoring honors in the contest by netting 15.

However, it was to no avail, as the Cowboys were never able to quite catch the Pirates, who at one point pulled away to a 13-point margin.

THE COWBOYS started a comeback in the final quarter, as Rich Neely came off the bench to spark a rally which closed the lead to seven points. But the Cowboys never moved closer than that as the Pirates maintained their 11-point margin for the remainder of the game.

Jerry Carter (15 points) and Ron McDaniel (10) were the double-figure scorers for the visitors; while Tom Fullove (14 points) and Ray Revels (12 points) managed to hit double-digit scoring totals for the host Pirates.

BISHOP READY took two more steps toward a successful cage season over the weekend with a pair of victories—a 56-53 verdict over New Albany and a lopsided 70-42 decision over Delaware' St. Marys Saturday.

Jim Muir and Jay Kubin sparked the Silver Knight offense against the Eagles, the former garnering 17 points, and the latter 13 more.

Ready led all the way against New Albany but never held a comfortable margin as the Eagles battled them right down to the wire.

IT WAS A different story Saturday, however, as the Silver Knights enjoyed a 20-point halftime margin, increasing their lead to 28 points throughout most of the second half.

KUBIN WAS READY'S top marksman once again with 19 points while teammate Paul Eberts chipped in with 11 more markers.

HOLY FAMILY was unable to share Ready's success, dropping a 60-47 tilt to Jackson Township Saturday night and an 89-63 setback to Darby Township Friday.

Jackson appeared ready to make a rout of the game as it pulled away to a 22-6 margin at the first quarter break. But the Raiders rallied to pull within seven points at intermission.

That was as close as Family could come, however, as Jackson held onto a 13-point edge during most of the second half. Ralph Holman dropped in 13 markers to pace the losers.

THE RED RAIDERS got good scoring support against Darby Twp. with McKendry dropping in 15 points and Holman and Dick Getz complementing the total with 10 markers apiece.

Both yielded scoring honors to Darby's Jerry Brown, who netted the nets for 34 points. The winners were particularly hot at the foul line, canning 25 of 28 attempts.

In other area action, Aquinas held a four-point lead over Eastmoor after one quarter and then added two more points a period to its lead enroute to a 49-39 victory over City League opponent Eastmoor.

Pat Mental scored 16 points to pace the Terriers while teammate Tom Woodward hit for an additional 11 markers.

ALL AREA QUINTETS continue cage competition over the weekend. In the City League, Central (6-1) visits Walnut Ridge (1-7), West (4-5) entertains South (3-5) and Marion-Franklin (2-7) stops off at Aquinas (5-2) in Friday night encounters.

Also on tap for Friday night are Ohio Deaf's (2-5) visit to Ready (6-3) and Holy Family's (1-7) clash with Brookhaven (5-1) at Medina Jr. High.

All area teams, with the exception of West, see action again Saturday night with Linden (6-3) at Central, Aquinas at Watterson (7-1), Ready at DeSales (1-6) and Holy Family at Watkins Memorial (6-1).

Gladden Sets League For Jr. Basketball

Robert Edwards, president of the Optimist Club of Western Columbus, and A. M. Wilder, executive director of Gladden Community House, jointly announced this week that the Western Optimists will again sponsor a Junior Basketball League at Gladden this year.

Walt Donaugh will serve as chairman of the Optimist committee working with the league and Jim Clark, a member of the volunteer staff of Gladden, will serve as league coordinator.

All boys, who are at least 11 years of ages, but are not over 14 before January 1, are eligible. Tryouts were held last Saturday and will be held again this Saturday, Jan. 12, at 10 a.m. at Gladden. All boys registering will be placed on a team.

It is anticipated that there will be five teams and a sixth participating team from the West Side branch of Boys Club. Games will start on Saturday, Jan. 19, with Optimist members officiating and young adult volunteers from Gladden serving as coaches.

TOMORROW'S WORLD BOXING CHAMPION?

Rose (Bowl) Petals Falling Other Way

We guess the first symptoms of approaching senility come to the fore when somebody begins to start referring to his past as the "good 'ole days."

We caught ourselves using that musty expression as a post-game reflection on the Rose Bowl after the Vander-Kelens and Beathards had gone their separate ways and the only thing that filled the airways of the emptying arena was the California dusk, accepted items as the name of SOMEBODY IN THE room was nostalgically looking back to New Years Day past, "Remember when the Big Ten teams always won the Rose Bowl," he said sadly.

We could remember. But we left just as the concerted spirit of disappointment had worked itself into the suggestion that everybody write the University of Wisconsin letters suggesting its resignation from the Big Ten Conference.

Being a native Midwestern and certainly a Big Ten fan, we were a little disappointed ourselves, figuring that the Badgers would eventually pull out the victory (which they almost did).

BUT THE more we thought about it, the more we realized that the Badgers didn't really play that bad a game. After all, any team that can score 37 points against the nation's number one football power certainly isn't a slouch.

And even if the game didn't end the way we would have liked, it did contain nearly everything a fan could ask for in a football game except a little more defense and a little less whistle tooting.

Right from the toss of the coin, it was evident that this was to be a game that wasn't going to be like any other Rose Bowl game.

WE WERE CONVINCED that the head official must be an NBC vice-president after his impromptu plug for the network with the flip of the silver but his extra-curricular arm waving throughout the rest of the game betrayed his apparent desire for his own one-hour "special."

But we guess we weren't much better ourselves, spinning the dial from Sugar to Orange to Sugar earlier in the day until our overworked "Auld Lang Syne" of the previous evening finally overcame us and we caught ourselves waking up to Mel Allen's half-dozen references to the "granddaddy of them all."

We politely asked if anybody pulled a Tommy Lewis in the Sugar Bowl and how many people were arrested for trying to shake the President's hand at the Orange Bowl game.

WE GUESS NO matter how badly we felt about Wisconsin's inability at win at Pasadena in three tries, it was nothing to compare with the disappointment of Milt Bruhn, who must be saddled with some kind of a complex by this time.

After all Milt (1.) couldn't convince the officials, (2.) had a hard time getting his players on the field the second half and (3.) didn't even get in a good lick when an overenthusiastic Trojan tackler wanted to escort a Badger ballcarrier all the way to his seat on the bench before halftime.

Maybe it was only natural that Coast scribes should misquote coach McKay into adding injury to injury by saying that the Badgers would finish dead last in the Trojans' league alignment of six teams.

There's never been any love lost between the Pasadena crowd and their compadres in the Midwest especially since one writer quoted a Big Ten coach saying that his team's opponent in the bowl a few years back would have nailed down the cellar spot in the Western Conference.

It was the West Coast's day for "touche" and sweet revenge. The only problem is they're trying to make a habit out of it. We can remember the "good 'old days" when the Big Ten won them all but maybe that pendulum has begun to swing the other way.

We hope the reversal is short lived because those of us who like to crow about Big Ten supremacy are beginning to get a bit giddy from all those feathers in our stomachs.

Wrestling Wrapup

The area's high school wrestlers returned to the grappling arena last week after the two-week holiday layoff with East, Walnut Ridge, Bexley and Groveport pinning opponents for mat wins.

Franklin Heights was not listed on the winners' list for the first time since the wrestling season opened. The Falcons suffered their initial setback at the hands of visiting Cleveland East — like North, 33-6.

The Cleveland team, one of state's top schoolboy wrestling powers, outpointed F-H, running North's mark to 9-1 as compared with the Falcons newly-blemished 7-1 record.

Despite the fact that Aziz Dere (120) and captain John Riggs (127) suffered their first individual setbacks (the latter to '62 state runnerup Roger Anderson), undefeated Don Davis (112) and Dan Green (133) each won their 11th straight matches this season.

In other results, Bexley edged Pleasant View, 22-21, Walnut Ridge outpointed Central, 37-10, East downed Hilliard, 25-12 and Groveport overpowered Mifflin, 37-8.

Highlighting this week's mat card is Pleasant View's Invitational tourney Saturday, starting at 10 a.m. with final matches set to get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Eight teams will participate, according to P-V wrestling coach Bob Mowery. Besides host Pleasant View, Circleville, Franklin Heights, Grandview, Groveport, Grove City, University and West will compete for top honors.

Mowery suggested that a lot of the individual interest at the meet might center around Franklin Height's Aziz Dere and Pleasant View's John Holliday, both of whom will be seeking repeat wins in the tourney.

Holliday is the only returnee from last year's match in the 112-pound class while Dere, who was the 103-pound winner last year, has moved up to the 120 class this season.

Here are last week's individual results:

Bexley - Pleasant View

Walnut Ridge — Central

103—Walston (WR) pinned Loftus, 3:17; 112 — Lynn (WR) dec. Howard, 5-1; 120—Rife (WR) dec. Ivory, 5-4; 127 — Roberts (WR) dec. Whittaker, 5-2; 133—K. Pinkston (WR) pinned Parks, 2:36; 145—Brown (WR) dec. Frasure, 2-0; 154—Roop (WR) pinned Ash 2:42; 178—Hoke (C) pinned Ecklon, 1:52; heavyweight—Homer (C) pinned Ecklon, 2:41.

Men's Slo-Break Loop Planned

A new program will be starting Jan. 10 at Westmoor Junior High School gymnasium at 7 p.m. This will be a Slo-Break Basketball League for men 25 years and older. The games will be held each Thursday evening. Anyone interested should come to the gym tomorrow evening.

The Marathon Basketball League is a league that stresses team play instead of individual play. There will be no set teams, each man will play on a different team each week.

Total points will come from the team points and each man will receive five points for playing. This league will run at least eight weeks and a special award will be given to the men with greatest number of points.

Burgess Streak Snapped At 5 In Church Loop

After a vacation of two weeks, the boys are back at the game of basketball each Saturday afternoon at the Westmoor Junior High School gymnasium.

In last weekend's action, favored Burgess EUB was upset by the Junior Hi-Y "Council," 51-36. The "Council" was led to victory by Bill Holt and Curt Vollmuth who had 13 and 14 points respectively. Jack Husch, Burgess EUB, topped all scorers with 22 points.

THE SECOND game found West Park Methodist getting back into the win column with a 31-24 victory over Hillcrest Baptist. Terry Breckenridge led West Park with 14 markers, while John Sines garnered 12 for Hillcrest.

Hoge Memorial had little trouble subduing the Hilltop Church of God, 40-22. Leading Hoge were Jack Thomas and Jim Anderson with nine and eight points, respectively. Big gun for the Hilltop Church of God was Mike Asher with 16 of his team's 22 points.

In the nightcap, Glenwood Methodist toppled the Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs," 41-9. Bill McIntyre led Glenwood with 12 points. Rev. Jim Dunaway had his reserves in the game for at least two quarters to hold down the score, but even the reserves were clicking while the "Scrubs" had a hard time finding the range. Leading the "Scrubs" was Felix Hoover and Don Vollmuth with three points each.

THE WEEKEND schedule will be: Noon — West Park Methodist plays Hilltop Church of God; 12:45 — Glenwood Methodist takes on Junior Hi-Y "Council"; 1:30—Burgess EUB faces Hoge Memorial; 2:15—Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs" play Hillcrest Baptist.

City Leads Nation In Jr. Olympic Titles

The Capital City gained national attention last week in the sporting world as Junior Olympic Track and Field officials announced that Columbus was the leading city in the country, with the most national winners in the amateur program conducted here last summer.

The program, held at Ohio Stadium, was conducted by the Columbus Recreation Department and resulted in 17 girls and 13 boys winning a total of seven first places, seven second places, three third places, nine fourth places and six fifth places.

INDIVIDUALLY honored was Whitehall High school student Mike Short, of 4140 Rickenbacker-st, who placed first in the nation in the Senior Boys' discus throw — a toss of 142 feet and seven inches.

Short, an 18-year-old senior at Whitehall was presented his National AAU Junior Olympic award last week by N. J. Barack, superintendent of the Columbus Recreation Dept.

Among other local participants honored was Cheryl Gatterdam, of 565 S. Kellnerrd, who was a member of the Ohio Track Club 440-yard Relay Team which placed second in the competition with a time of 53.11.

Representing East High School were: Estelle Baskerville, 16, of 430 Eldridge-av, who finished first in the high jump (5'0"), first in the standing broad jump (9'1¾") and third in the 50-yard low hurdles with a time of 7.2 seconds; Chris Miller, 15, of 1645 Grenville-st, who finished first in the high jump (5'0"), third in the 50-yard low hurdles (7.2) and fourth in the 75-yard dash (8.7); Mary Session, 15, of 461 Hartley-st, who placed fourth in the high jump 4'5½"); Sue Neighbors, 16, of 483 Eldridge-av, who took second place in the standing broad jump with a 8'4" leap; Wanda Fuller, 15, of 1426 E. Fourth-av, who finished first as a member of the OTC 220-yard relay team (26.0) and second in the nation in the 75-yard dash (8.5).

From Roosevelt Junior High, Jim White, 15, of 741 Wilson-av, finished fifth in the 100-yard dash (10.5) and Ray Hupp, 12, of 517 Moull-st, finished second in the 50-yard free-style in the Jr. Olympic Swimming meet.

DRIVE IN DEDICATED

SUSIE GUTHRIE, daughter of William S. Guthrie, president of Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan, standing at her left, is shown snipping the ribbon at the firm's new customer drive-in facility, 48 E. Long-st. Other Buckeye Federal officials are shown participating in the event. The new facility covers 12,000 square feet, and has two teller windows. The parking lot accommodates 30 cars. Entrances and exits to the lot are located on E. Long and Elm-sts.

Holiday Inn Announces Expansion

Don Ward, innkeeper at Holiday Inn, 4601 W. Broad-st, has announced the extensive winter expansion program is nearly completed.

Forty new units in the east wing will be opened Wednesday, Jan. 16. Ward said all new Holiday Inn rooms are longer and wider than usual motel rooms. The 40 new units will give the inn a total of 144 rooms—making it the second largest motor motel in Columbus.

The innkeeper also noted that a patio will be opened in the spring for outdoor cocktails and dancing.

Frederick Johnson has been appointed assistant innkeeper. A native of Port Arthur, Tex., Johnson is a recent graduate of Michigan State University, majoring in hotel and restaurant management.

President Lincoln called for 300,000 vounteers Oct. 17, 1863, to serve three years in the Union Armies.

Police Report Pinpoints Need Of Enforcement

Police Chief George Schoeler has announced increased enforcement of laws concerning changing course without safety and speed on W. Broad-st, from Grubb to Davis, between the hours of 6 and 7 p.m.

Police are also trying to check stop sign violators and intoxicated drivers on W. Broad-st, from Wayne to Hague, between the hours of 4 p.m. and midnight.

A fatal accident occurred Dec. 17 at the corner of Sullivant and Dana. The pedestrian was entering the roadway without looking, police said.

Greco Show Has Dance Variety

When Jose Greco and company of Spanish dancers, singers and musicians perform in Vets Auditorium on Thursday, Jan. 17, they bring to concert goers a sampling of infinite variety of dances under the heading of Spanish terpsichore.

Greco explained, "Spanish dance is an all-inclusive term which people tend to associate with the fiery flamenco or gypsy dances. However, the Spanish dance consists of three separate categories — the flamenco, the classical, and the regional dances.

"Careful programming of the different genres is the keynote of a successful presentation,' he added.

In order to represent the exceedingly wide scope of the Spanish dance, Greco has chosen a program made up of samples from the entire range. There are dances of sadness, humor, satire and pantomime.

Oct. 17, 1777, Gen. Burgoyne surrendered his army of 5,000 British Redcoats to the American Colonies at Saratoga, N. Y. This was one of America's greatest victories.

Realtors Install Officers

First anniversary of the West Area Realty Association was held this week at two meetings.

Installation of new officers was held Tuesday. Approximately 30 brokers attended. Douglas Rife will serve as president of the group in 1963; William Saxton is the new treasurer, and George Deffet serves as secretary.

Brokers and sales personnel met Wednesday at a luncheon conference at Monaco's restaurant.

The WARA meets monthly to establish policies to be followed by its members. Secretary Deffet said the group will continue its monthly guest-lecturer series in 1963.

Vets Council Will Elect At Banquet

A banquet meeting of the congressionally chartered Veterans Council of Franklin County has been announced by President Leo Atha, at Reebs Restaurant, 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, January 9.

Election of officers for 1963 will follow the banquet.

The council is composed of delegates of the VFW, Amvets, DAV, Veterans of World War I, and the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

The council meets at the Veterans Building, 250 W. Broad-st, the first Wednesday of each month.

The purpose of this organization is to promote harmony among veterans' organizations and to coordinate purposes.

The banquet will be held in conjunction with Gold Card Club organization composed of handicapped veterans.

Local Folks Please Sabin Men Sunday

Call it good public relations or, maybe, civic pride by responsible citizens, but the backers of Sabin Type III polio vaccine call it "wonderful."

There's little doubt in the minds of medical men, who chewed fingernails until last Sunday in the fear that the Sabin would be ignored, that the final program was a success.

Official count shows 492,871 persons turned out to receive the serum. Even the most optimistic expectation for Sunday was 300,000.

The estimate will surely be exceeded when the final tally is completed at the end of this week following the "make up" doses.

Some 514,000 Franklin countians received Type I vaccine Sept. 30 and 504,000 took Type II on Nov. 4. Sunday's turnout was 66 per cent of the total population in the county.

Dr. Richard W. Fulton, president of the Academy of Medicine and Sabin drive chairman here, said persons may receive the vaccine at both the city and county health centers this week.

At the County Health offices in the Court House it will be offered Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

It will also be given at the City Health Building on Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Thursday evening from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday evening from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

HILLTOP CHURCH TO DEDICATE FELLOWSHIP HALL

HILLTOP CHURCH OF GOD will dedicate its newly-completed fellowship hall Sunday, Jan. 13, 10:30 a.m. First unit in the church's planned $160,000 expansion program, the building was designed by the architectural firm of Johnson, Bickhart and Associates of Anderson, Ind., and completed at a cost of $52,000. Dr. R. Eugene Sterner of the denomination's executive council will speak at the dedication.

Hilltop Luther League Plans Sunday Program

Hilltop Intermediate Luther League will meet at Hilltop Lutheran Church Sunday, Jan. 13, 6:30 p.m.

The topic, "Rules for Living the Christian Life," will be presented by Connie Grenell, and the service will be led by Hugh Williams.

Recreational activities will be led by Lynn Geahwiln and her committee.

Plans for an ice-skating party will also be discussed.

At this time we are living in a world full of tension. Fears of nuclear war are with us every day. In times past, men have made one of two choices . . . to rely on their own abilities . . . or to do what they can and place their lives in the hands of the Lord. The Bible tells us how men fared with the choices that they made. The strength of God is sufficient for all our needs, and men who humbled themselves and trusted in God always fared better. Let us judge our future by the past and rely on God for our needs.
ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY
EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH . . . THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

problem facing the city right now is to find ways and means of financing the tremendous construction job that must be done to keep city services abreast of its rapid growth in population. I am thinking of the rehabilitation and expansion of our water distribution system, the extension of sewer lines and new facilities for sewage treatment. This problem also includes the raising of city pay scales to a level high enough to attract the skilled and professional help we so sorely need.

SENSENBRENNER — The saving of downtown Columbus because it affects our whole tax duplicate—especially as related to mass transportation and economical parking. The city needs a 10-cent bus fare for students.

Q. — What do you see as the future for the water and sewer freeze?

WESTLAKE — I feel that the present policy of no new extensions outside city limits must be continued until the city can catch up with the needs within its own boundaries.

SENSENBRENNER — The main thing is the fact that there should be no water or sewer rights granted to any un-incorporated area. This does not preclude service to incorporated areas.

Q. — What can be done, if anything, to speed up the current sewer program — especially the new treatment plant project?

WESTLAKE — I feel that we are now doing everything possible to speed this program. Our sewer construction program for 1962 was the largest for any single year in the city's history. Over the next five years, we plan to spend more than $45-million for new sewers and sewage disposal facilities. We have hired outside engineers to speed preparation of plans. Last year we acquired the site for a second sewage treatment plant and we are now having detailed engineering plans prepared. Naturally, we can't do any building until these plans are completed, but we have tentatively set aside $2-million to start work on the plant this year.

SENSENBRENNER — A higher priority needs to be given to expediting the new sewage treatment plant near Shadeville and enlargement of the sewer system of the whole city.

Q. — If you are selected to serve as mayor of Columbus, what cabinet changes (if any) would you make?

WESTLAKE—I now have an able, hard-working and conscientious group of administrators in my cabinet. Why change?

SENSENBRENNER — There are some very fine men available and I would select, with the help of engineering and other professional societies, the very best qualified man that I could find.

Q. — What was the biggest disappointment to you during your administration?

WESTLAKE — I have had no major disappointments. Of course, there have been some minor ones, but none worth mentioning.

SENSENBRENNER—Losing the election. Also, the fact that some of the men in whom I had placed confidence did not fully live up to my expectations.

Q.— Concerning the City Charter, do you foresee any further changes in it? Why would such changes be advisable?

WESTLAKE—Yes, I think there will be some further changes in the City Charter, although I can't say when. I believe the group studying the city's salary schedules will recommend some changes in order to put city pay scales on a realistic basis and to give the city more flexibility in handling its personnel problems. Remember, the charter is nearly 50 years old and it obviously needs some changes to put it in step with the times.

SENSENBRENNER — Any charter requires review periodically. What changes are needed must await this review in the light of changing circumstances.

Q. — Do you feel that the city needs additional tax revenues from new sources? Also, what new avenues of economy would you explore?

WESTLAKE — I feel that the city does not now need to tap any new sources for additional tax revenues. I also feel that our expenditures now are pretty much at a rock-bottom level. Our tidy surpluses of the past couple of years are evidence.

SENSENBRENNER — At this time I see no need in raising the source of revenue. Better government at less cost is our goal and should be everyone's goal.

Q. — Can we expect any changes in either fire or police operations in Columbus?

There already have been many changes since I became mayor and there will be more. For example, just this past year we completed and occupied the new fire headquarters and training center on Greenlawn-av with a training tower that the city had needed for years. Naturally, there will be some changes to take advantage of the efficiencies these facilities offer. Also, during my administration, the police department has been brought up to its full authorized strength for the first time in years, and this year we are adding another 25 men. That boosts its authorized strength to 631 men — highest in history. We also plan to start construction this year of a new police training academy to match the fire department's new quarters. The academy will be built on the grounds of the police pistol range on McKinley-av.

SENSENBRENNER — We need more police and firemen. They're absolutely necessary in a growing city.

Q. — Is there any other statement you care to make?

WESTLAKE—Yes. I think the City of Columbus has a date with destiny. I think it is destined eventually to become the largest and most important city in Ohio. I think we who are responsible for the government of this fast-growing city must bear that thought in mind in our day-to-day planning for the city's future.

SENSENBRENNER — There are many fine civic and business groups which have made most helpful contributions in building our city and these are needed in the future. We need active citizen participation in the affairs of local government. Finally, I love this city and envision for it a tremendous future. The greatest honor I ever had was the one given me in 1954 and again in 1956 when I was elected mayor. My hope is that voters will again return me to this high office and I pledge my every effort in building Columbus into one of the greatest cities in America.

Spectator—

for the populace.

The mad craze for pleasure; sports becoming every year more exciting, more brutal, more immoral.

The building of great armaments when the real enemy was within — the decay of individual responsibility.

The oft-heard warning that "history repeats itself" has an ominous meaning in the light of the above.

From Bondage to Spiritual Faith.
From Spiritual Faith to Great Courage
From Courage to Liberty
From Liberty to Abundance
From Abundance to Selfishness
From Selfishness to Complacency
From Complacency to Apathy
From Apathy to Dependence
From Dependence Back Again to Bondage

In 14 years the U.S. will be 200 years old. This cycle is not inevitable.

Beginning of the Year Thoughts—

Take time to read, it is the fountain of wisdom.
Take time to be friendly, it is the road to happiness.
Take time to laugh, it is the music of the soul.
Take time to give, it is too short a day to be selfish.
Take time to work, it is the price of success.

SURVEYORS IN GEORGESVILLE AREA

ADJUSTING his equipment on Gardenaer-rd to help survey and map the Little and Big Darby Creek areas is Tim Lynch, 563 W. State-st, Columbus. Lynch works for Thomas Engineering Survey Co., 3903 Sullivant-av, which is surveying the area for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which will map it for the Scioto Conservancy District. The area will eventually be the site of the Lower Darby Reservoir, part of a gigantic flood control project for central Ohio, under the auspices of the SCD. Surveying flags and equipment had caused some anxiety to area residents who were unaware of the surveying task.

Junior Achievement Program Will Have Its 37th Birthday

National Junior Achievement program is preparing to celebrate its 37th anniversary next spring.

The program, which gives high school students an opportunity to experience ownership, management, and operation of a miniature business, was originated by Horace A. Moses, chairman of the Strathmore Paper Co. in 1926.

In 1942, a National Headquarters was established and regional offices were installed in Chicago, Cleveland, New York, Pittsburgh, and Middletown, O. By 1950 29 areas areas were in operation, and 10 years later 166 areas had been established with 4196 Junior Achievement companies and 68,825 members participating.

Junior Achievement was incorporated in Columbus in 1950 through the efforts of the Columbus Rotary Club. There were 22 companies with approximately 350 teenage members. The program is supported by contributions from some 150 local business and industrial concerns.

Last year there were 31 companies with 673 members. Each sponsoring business or industry provides advisers who are junior executives in the sponsoring company.

Junior Achievement is a non-profit national organization which develops and expands a spare-time program to give teenage youth experience in the overall aspects of business.

The objective of the organization is to give young people a preview of the business world so they may discover for themselves the type of work they like and for which they are best suited. They receive training and experience in all phases of American business operation.

The emphasis in the program is on "learning by doing," and students are able to study the relationship between those who manage, those who produce, and those who supply funds. Students learn why business is run as it is if it is to succeed.

Each student company sells stock to raise capital, buys materials, and makes a product which members sell — mostly door-to-door. At the end of a fiscal period — a school year — the companies close their books hoping to show a profit.

Individual awards in the form of college scholarships, trophies, and plaques are made each year at the "Future Unlimited" banquet held in May. More than 800 representatives of the sponsoring firms, advisers, board members, achievers, and parents attend the annual dinner.

Wilbur T. Collins presently serves as president of the Junior Achievement Board of Directors. Warren E. Parkinson is the executive director. The Junior Achievement Center is located at 214 N. High-st.

Schools which participate in the program are: North, East, Central, Eastmoor, Grandview, Holy Family, Watterson, Marion-Franklin, South, West, Linden-McKinley, Bishop Hartley, Upper Arlington, St. Charles, Gahanna, Walnut Ridge, Whetstone and Bishop Ready.

Black Panther Believed Roaming S. Solon Area

Farm homes in the South Solon area have taken on the look of the homesteaders of the Old West — shotguns and rifles are standing ready in the corner.

Cause of the armed vigilance is the suspicion that a black panther is roaming in the area.

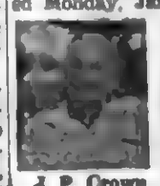
Max Allen, Prairie Pike-rd, South Solon, first saw the large black cat on New Years Day.

He spotted the animal — which leaves five inch wide foot tracks — about 5 p.m. He gave chase in a truck and shot about nine times before losing the race with the fleet footed cat.

Mack McDonald, also of Prairie Pike-rd, reports seeing the cat as does Allen's wife.

More than 40 people have combed the area in an armed search in the past few days including members of the sheriff's department and Dean Roberts of London who conducted a search from the air.

Unconfirmed rumors have filtered back to London that animals as large as pigs have been carried away and one farm wife reports a litter of kittens was destroyed in a much more violent manner than is normal in rural areas.



Tracks of the suspected beast have been spotted close to buildings and around the Allen farm house.

In another incident with what is believed to be the same black cat, a farmer turned his dogs loose in the woods near his farm after spotting the animal. The dogs came cowering back to the truck they had been transported in after a very short run in the woods.

Service for Carrol J. Edwards, 69, of 137 Martin-av, who died Thursday, Jan. 3, was held Monday in the Wylie S. Shroyer Funeral Home. Interment was in Sunset Cemetery.

He was a retired iron molder for the Kilgore Manufacturing Co.

He is survived by wife, Edith P.; two daughters, Mrs. Frances Lamp and Mrs. Maxine Green; two sons, Daniel D. Edwards and Robert C. Cox; stepmother, Mrs. Cora Edwards; three sisters, Mrs. Gay Hunter, Mrs. Mary Witt and Mrs. Letha Parker; five brothers, Dennis, Vada, Harvey, James and Charles; eight grandchildren.

The Philadelphia Athletics baseball club was purchased Oct. 17, 1954, by an eight-man syndicate and later moved to Kansas City.

DIED Bulletin Says Ohio Industry Did Well In '62

A recent edition of the Ohio Department of Industrial and Economic Development bulletin indicates the state's economic picture in 1962 was far from disastrous.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad reported earnings for the first 10 months of 1962 increased substantially from the corresponding period in 1961.

The company's net income for the 10-month period was $27,711,000, or $3.37 a share, compared with $21,964,000, or $2.67 a share. Gross revenues amounted to $283,727,000, compared with $258,117,000.

Babcock and Wilcox Company, Barberton, has received a multi-million dollar contract from the Baltimore Gas and Electric Company for a universal pressure steam boiler that will be used to generate 319,000 kilowatts of electricity.

The Victoreen Instrument Co. here reports earnings of $1,303,000 for the first nine months of 1962, compared with only $7,984 in the same 1961 period.

President and chairman of Victoreen, David H. Cogan, adds that sales for the latest nine months climbed from $13,417,000 to $16,609,000. Cogan pointed out that sales and earnings for the nine-month period were highest in the company's 30-year history.

The Goodyear Aircraft Corp. has won a $250,000 add-on contract for a study of correlation guidance system techniques. The study, in its fourth year, is sponsored by the Air Force System Command's Aeronautical System Division.

Five Ohio cities have been approved for Federal-Urban Planning Assistance grants totalling $60,857, according to the Ohio Department of Industrial and Economic Development bulletin.

Players Date Tryouts For Two Plays

Prairie Players have scheduled tryouts for their two productions, for Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 11, 13 and 14.

The two plays are a one-act to be presented Feb. 24, "Rise and Shine," and a children's play, to be presented in March.

Mrs. William Appleby will direct the children's play and Mrs. Allen Sanford, the one-act.

Participation in the productions is limited to members of the Prairie Players Guild, although memberships will be available at the tryouts.

Tryouts will be held at 419 Darbyhurst, at 8 p.m. for both plays.

For further information call Mrs. J. J. Lane, TR. 8-5449.

Next major production of the group will be "Picnic," Jan. 25, at Prairie-Norton School.

chairman of the Franklin County Democratic organization, announced the names of several Demo hopefuls for municipal posts, including that of Dr. Frederick Rose, 174 Cromwell-dr, for a judge post.

Democratic council candidates have been reported hot and heavy. At last count, ten names were on the slate and four of them listed as definite candidates.

The four include South Sider William P. Hoermle, Sr. the lone council Democrat. He plans a program including more annexation, urban renewal and a better safety program.

Hoermle said he was opposed to a possible water rate increase. He said water projects should be paid for from city income tax.

Also a sure candidate is Ronald Tuggle, 4689 Dundee-av, an official of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, who will propose an anti-strike breaking law.

Tuggle is a Linden-McKinley grad, is married and has four children.

Former City Councilman Russell M. Jones, 1757 Franklin-av, announced last week that he will run for a council post.

Jones was appointed to council in 1960 to fill a vacancy but was defeated in his 1961 bid for the seat. He said he would campaign on the issue of "carrying through to effective conclusions the many unfinished tasks which face Columbus."

Final candidate with hat already in ring is broker Morrie D. Portman, 80 S. Chesterfield, who is campaigning on more aggressive activity in urban renewal and improvement of downtown Columbus which, he says, "has been lagging badly."

Portman was former-Mayor Sensenbrenner's assistant from 1954 to 1958 and serving as Columbus' first finance director from 1958-59. He began the city's treasury program, the Capital Budget system and conducted the first performance cost analysis for operating city government here.

Other possible candidates announced by Democratic headquarters include:

- Attorney Roland Gilbert, 1737 Niagara.
- North American employe Carl Thompson, 2240 Ontario.
- Plumbing store owner James Bowman, 1365 Avon-dr.
- Dentist Daniel Specht, 2531 Summit.
- Attorney Joseph J. Murphy, 5397 Ivyhurst-dr and 1497 King-av.
- Local concessionaire Edwin P. Brinkman.

Board Sets Deadline On Bonds Sale Bids

Scioto-Darby School Board set Feb. 7 as the final date for accepting bids on the sale of $800,000 worth of bonds.

The bonds are a result of the November voter approval of the district's $800,000 school improvement bond issue.

Funds from the sale of the bonds are to be used to finance three expansion projects in the district.

Bids will be accepted up to noon and the board will convene at 8 that night to consider bids received.

In the combined reorganization-regular meeting Monday, the board also approved building plans for three additions to be made to Richwood and Hilliard elementaries and to the Hilliard Junior High.

The board picked Kellam and Foley, Inc., to do architectural work on the additions.

In other action, the board:

- Purchased a station wagon for use by the supervisor of buildings and grounds and for transporting handicapped children when necessary.
- Accepted the resignations of junior high social studies teacher, Claudeen Williams, and Avery Elementary first grade teacher, Gail O'Kane.
- Named David Pendergast, recent OSU graduate, to replace Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Ann Maziar to replace Mrs. O'Kane.

"It's better to give than receive. Besides, it's deductible."

'Twas A Night To Remember

Librarian Suggests Books On How To Amuse Children

The Hilltop Branch Library has many books of interest for youngsters, according to Mary Keyer, librarian.

One good source is "338 Ways to Amuse a Child" which describes hundreds of crafts, hobbies and creative ideas for the child from six to 12.

Practical play ideas for the pre-school youngster are given in such books as "What to Do With Your Pre-Schooler," "Home Play for the Pre-School Child," "Have Fun with Your Children," "Illustrated Games, Rhythms and Stunts for Children," "Playtime in the First 5 Years," and "Everyday Games for Children."

Game books are available. Some of the most useful are "Fun with Brand-new Games" "Games for Boys and Girls," "Games for Children," "Treasury of Games and Puzzles," and "More Fun for the Family."

For the child who is sick in bed, parents can find help in "Your Child Can be Happy in Bed," or "The Word Game Book,"

Richard Swain Is Reassigned

Airman Third Class Richard R. Swain is being reassigned to Grand Forks AFB, N.D., following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for medical service specialists at Gunter AFB, Ala.

Airman Swain was trained to assist in the care and treatment of patients in Air Force medical wards, dispensaries and clinics.

The airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Swain of 773 Josephine-av, is a graduate of West High School.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

By MRS. JAMES WHALEN
Ashgrove

Intermediate Troop 949 entertained the members of Brownie Troop 160 with a series of folk dances from England, Denmark and France, Dec. 19, at Lindbergh Elementary School where both troops hold their regular weekly meetings.

The Brownies joined the older girls in the performance of the "Shoemaker's Dance," and later were served punch, cookies and candy canes.

They also have "adopted" friendless and aged patients of the Columbus State Hospital and presented them with Christmas gifts.

The selections committee of Ohio Trefoil Council has sent recommendations for National and International events to the National Branch Office in Cleveland. The Regional Selections Committee will screen all applicants received from all councils in Region IV and will make recommendations to the National Selections Committee. Troop 294 — Sherry Boehringer — All States — California Camp Timbertarn; Troop 284—Kathleen Cocks—All States — Washington — Camp River Ranch; Troop 598 — Margaret Foughty — All States — Maryland — Camp Shadowbrook; Troop 488 — Linda Graffmiller — International Gatherings Aboard; Troop 154 — Gail Hornstad — Juliette Low Sessions at Our Chalet; Troop 161 — Gretchen Luidens — Experiment in International Living — Mexico; Troop 161 —Mary T. Needles — Language Translation Project; Troop 584 — Antoinette Warren — All States — Michigan Camp Tocanja.

The "Widening Circles" program for 1963 will enable older Girl Scout campers to get to know girls from other parts of Region IV, to learn different ways of camping, and to choose from a greater variety of program opportunities.

Nine camps will cooperate in offering 28 units during this third year of the "Widening Circles" project. Complete information and application blanks will be available at January Neighborhood meetings. Applications must be returned to the council office by Feb. 20 so they can be forwarded to the other Councils by Mar. 1.

Leaders

The Juliette Low program for the neighborhood will be coming up soon and the Program Fair being planned for Apr. 27 at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

A Better World for All... the Promise of the Future

COLUMBUS, OHIO — JANUARY 9-10, 1963

Vital Milestone Is Reached; Expressway Program Booms

$100,000,000 In Roads Now Used By Motorists

By Robert F. Mott
Executive Director
Development Committee For Greater Columbus

In keeping with the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the creation of Columbus, significant strides into the future were made in 1962. Perhaps the most significant was in the area of the expressway program, the largest public works undertaking in the history of the Greater Columbus area.

Ultimately to cost over $300 million, the system progressed to the stage that by November, 1962, the Columbus area motorists were using over $100 million worth of projects.

Reaching of this milestone resulted from completion of sufficient portions of the north and west parts of the Fort Hayes Interchange to permit the connection of the North Freeway with the North Leg of the Innerbelt, the West Leg of the Innerbelt, the Southwest Freeway, part of the South Leg of the Innerbelt, the Long-st Extension and the Third-st Viaduct.

In addition to the $100 million of projects opened to traffic, contracts were let in 1962 for the East Leg of the Innerbelt and the Outerbelt from the Southwest Freeway to U. S. Rt. 23 (S. High-st) bringing to a total of $34,464,000 the value of projects now under construction.

An early 1963 letting of the construction contract for the rest of the South Leg of the Innerbelt will add another $9,446,000 to the total under construction and could permit the completion of of the Innerbelt as well as the portion of the Outerbelt by the end of 1964.

Meanwhile, it is expected that consulting engineers will be hired shortly to prepare detailed construction plans for the West Freeway for which the alignment was established after a public hearing held in October.

Also, during the year engineering began, or was advanced, on other projects such as the extension of West North Broadway from Olentangy River-rd to Kenny-rd, the Morse-rd widening from the North Freeway to Cleveland-av, the Olentangy River-rd from Goodale to State Rt. 161, Seventeenth-av from the North Freeway to Port Columbus, the Frank-rd- Refugee-rd connector and Wilson-rd extension.

Buildings already completed include the Capital Beverage warehouse and office building; national offices of the U. S. Trotting Association; a data processing center for the City National Bank and Trust; an architecturally compatible Texaco Service Station; and a neighborhood shopping center.

Plans for a four and one-half acre park in the center of the project area have been completed and construction will be started in the spring.

The Market-Mohawk project (which is almost 100 percent cleared) has progressed to the point that a qualified redeveloper submitted a redevelopment plan and proposal to the city Jan. 1. This would allow construction to begin in early 1963.

A site for a new sewage treatment plant was purchased and engineers hired to prepare detailed construction plans for the plant. Construction on the large Stelzer-rd water main was completed relieving the water shortage on the east side of Columbus.

A water and sewer rate analysis was made in 1962 by consulting engineers. This study will be available in setting a course of action to provide the additional water and sewage facilities, both new and replacement, needed in the area.

Meanwhile, the Scioto Conservancy District completed and received approval of its Official Plan, which will provide not only for future water supply, but also flood control; anti-pollution, low stream flow augumentation; and recreation.

This program will be carried out in conjunction with agencies of the federal government, the Ohio Department of Highways and all local jurisdictions. The plan that evolves should help guide future developments so that "Columbus—1992" will be even more outstanding than the wonderful, fast-growing Columbus of 1962.

Col-Met Area Shows Huge Economic Surge In 1962

By JOHN J. MACKIN
Director of Research
Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce

A consistent pattern of population increases has been contributing to the economic growth of the Col-Met Area for a long time. Since the date of the first census of the population of Columbus, recorded in 1815, the Columbus growth has never taken a backward step.

As a matter of fact, Columbus has been growing at a faster rate than any other large city of the state of Ohio and faster than most other cities of comparable size in the nation.

Since the Census of 1960, up until Sept. 1, Col-Met is estimated to have grown by more than 57,000 persons, the city by more than 36,000 and the other areas of Franklin County outside the central city, by more than 20,000. This has brought the estimate, as of Sept. 1, to 740,196 for Col-Met, 507,843 for the city and 232,353 for all the areas outside the city of Columbus. As of January 1, 1963, these estimates will have risen to 746,118 for Col-Met; 512,883 for the city and 235,309 for the outside areas.

Business rose steadily during the first nine months of 1962. The increase was rapid during the first four months, then came the break in the stock market on May 28. During the following weeks, the effects were felt mildly on local business.

During the third quarter the upward swing was on again, but at a more modest rate. In the ensuing month of October, and in the light of the Cuban crisis, caution was again observed being applied temporarily by consumers and other important participants in the local economy.

In spite of these happenings, 1962 was another year of successes for Columbus businessmen. Department store sales, as reported in the Federal Reserve Bulletin, were, at the end of October, soaring higher than last year by 6 percent.

Since department store sales are only a part of the total for Franklin County, it is reasonable to expect that total sales for the year are going to be well above last year's $940,000,000 total.

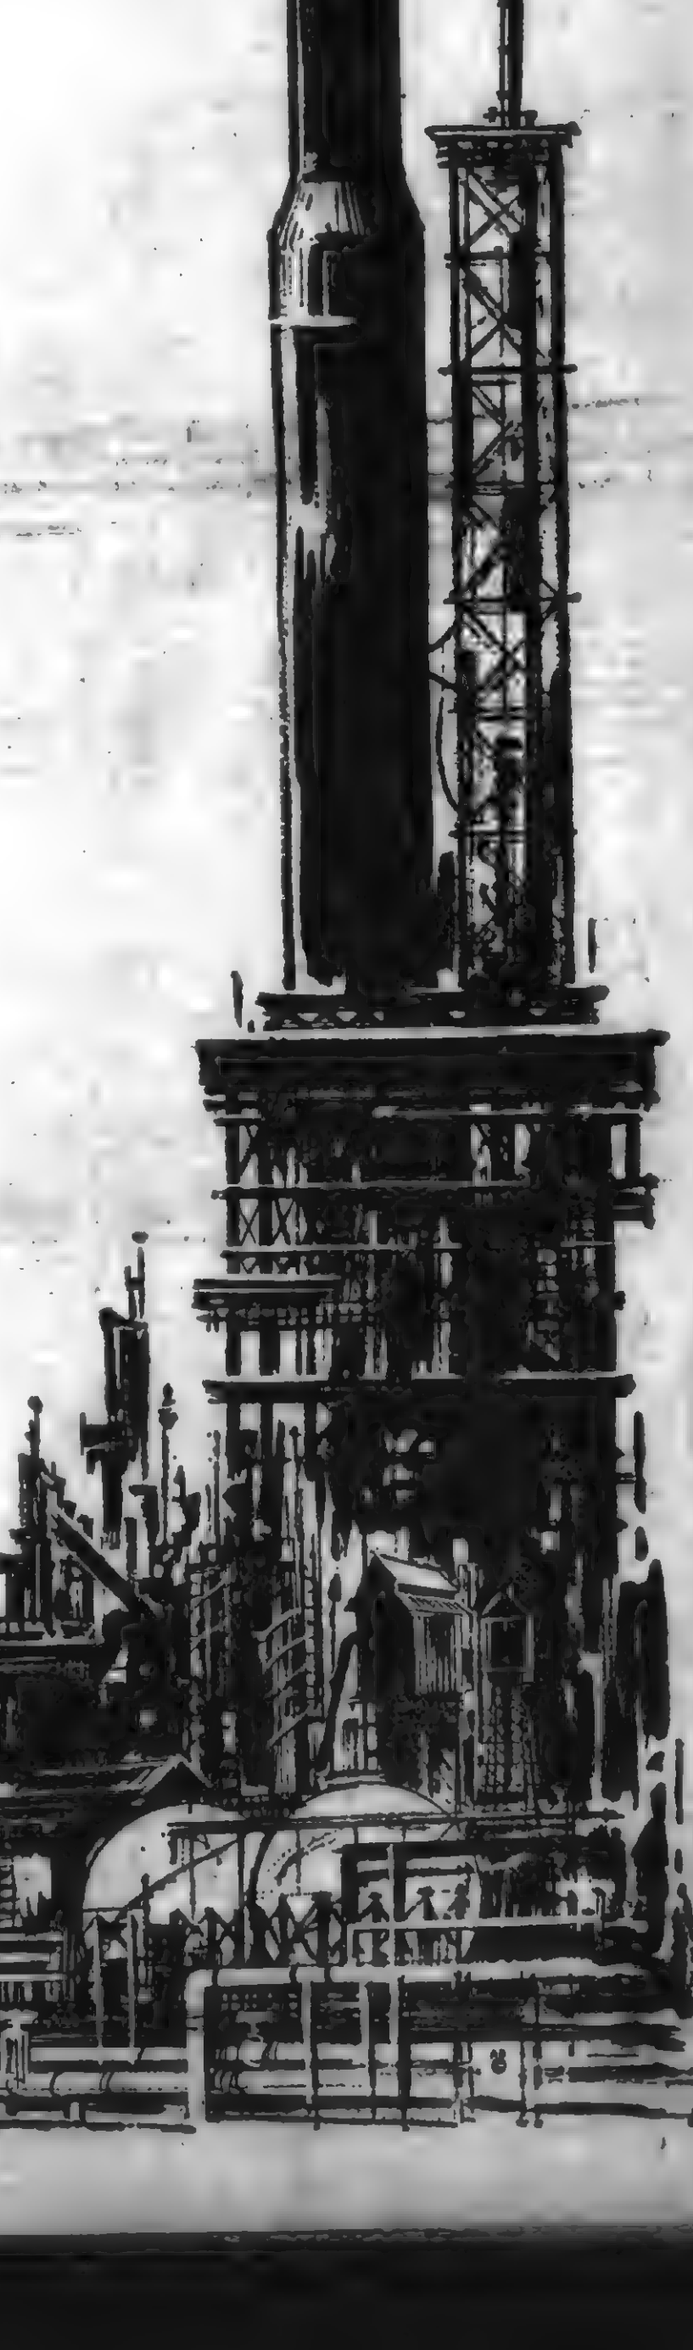
A high level of construction activity has prevailed throughout the year. So far, this has been our best year for construction since 1958. Through the first ten months of 1962, a total of 11,972 permits had been issued in Franklin County. This was 3.2 percent less than had been issued in the same period of 1961. However, on the other hand, valuations this year, through October, at $145,829,450, were 29.1 percent higher than last year.

Through November there were 21,106 real estate mortgages filed. This was 10.6 percent more than had been filed the year before. These mortgages filed this year carried a total valuation of $363,562,710, just 20.7 percent higher than those of last year.

On the other hand, 15,145 mortgages cancelled, 6.1 percent more than had been cancelled the year before. These had a total valuation of $195,584,960, 14.5 percent greater than the mortgages cancelled last year during the same period of time.

Many construction projects were planned or started which are worthy of note. A random selection from among them would require the mention of: three shopping centers, (east, northwest and in the central city); two Urban Renewal Projects; two large motor hotels in the downtown area; two large office buildings; several large suburban department stores, and further expansion of the facilities at and in connection with the Ohio State University.

City Climbs To Second In Ohio Population Race



Continued acceleration of growth in the Columbus Metropolitan Area is indicated by the record of the past year. In many respects, 1962 was the best business year ever for our community.

Building activity—manufacturing and non-manufacturing, new buildings, expansions and remodelings—showed impressive gains. In many cases all previous records were broken. This upward trend in our economy is consistent with the steady climb which marked the local business climate for many years.

Increasing population has, of course, played a role in the progress of our city. During 1962 Columbus jumped from third to second place in population among cities in the state. We have ranked first for several years in area, which reached a total of 96,227 square miles last year.

Looking ahead to 1963, we have every reason to expect the trend to continue. To help it along, The Columbus Chamber of Commerce has stepped up its program of promotion of the industrial and economic development, which should have considerable bearing on our business situation.

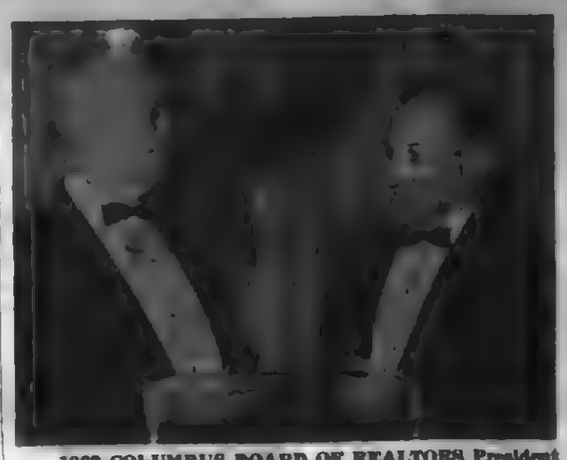
All in all, the year 1962 appears to have been a sturdy bridge from an economically healthy past to an even healthier future for the Columbus area.

Producers Livestock Ass'n Shows Marked Gain In '62

The year just concluded was one of the most successful in the history of Producers Livestock Association, according to the association's general manager, Gerald L. Hiller.

More than three million head of livestock were handled by the 24 branch markets of the cooperative and their subsidiary order buying company, he reports. Sale value of this livestock exceeded $150,000,000. Business totals in 1962 showed substantial gains over the previous year for the same markets.

Gerald L. Hiller



Totals naturally were larger in 1962, he noted, because of the July 1, 1962 merger of the Cincinnati Live Stock Producers Association with the Columbus-based organization, but gains were scored by nearly all markets above their 1961 totals.

Through the first 11 months, the branch markets sold more than 1,500,000 hogs, over 600,000 sheep and lambs, 334,000 cattle, and 75,000 veal calves. In addition, the order buying company handled approximately 320,000 head of stock. These totals include receipts at the six former Cincinnati markets for only the five months since the merger.

The manager reported that Ohio farmers apparently will be in the cattle feeding business on a big scale in 1963, as Producers markets sold more than 169,000 stocker and feeder cattle in the first 11 months, up 57,000 over the same period the previous year.

Loans made by Producers Live Stock Credit Association, a subsidiary, totaled more than $3,000,000 during 1962, a gain of more than half a million dollars over 1961. Repayments also show an increase.

All indications point to a reasonably good year for livestock farmers in 1963, Hiller indicated. Production may somewhat exceed that of 1962, but with a continued good demand for meat and intelligent marketing by farmers, reasonable profits should be realized.

Wheat stabilization program signup through Nov. 15 in U.S. showed 43,500 farms signed 370,156 acres to conserving uses. Participants will be eligible for price support at $1.82 per bushel, an 18c payment on normal production of acres harvested, plus diversion payments. In Ohio, 2,003 farms have agreed to divert 14,846 acres. Farmers have until Dec. 14 to sign agreements at their ASCS office.

Board Of Realtors' Membership Climbed To 1700 In 1962

The Columbus Board of Realtors is a trade association of long standing in Central Ohio. Organized in 1908, the board has been in constant operation since.

As a trade association, CBR provides the necessary services for members which makes their jobs easier in their every-day operation. Members feel more can be done collectively and more economically than can be done individually.

At the present time, the board is providing 52 different services for its members. The two most recent services offered are plat books for Columbus and Franklin County, and a special letter listing [illegible] services to be sent to individuals attempting to sell their own homes.

In 1962 the board added 76 new realtor members, 283 salesmen members and a new associate member. These additions bring the total membership to more than 1700—one of the largest trade associations in Central Ohio.

Also inaugurated during the past year was a Million Dollar Club which gives special recognition to salesmen members for outstanding performance.

Seed Growers School Set For Jan. 30-31

New research in seed production, conditioning, and merchandising will highlight talks at Ohio's annual Seed Growers School, scheduled for Jan. 30 - 31 at the Ohio Exposition Center in Columbus.

Speakers will include some of the country's outstanding authorities in the seed industry, according to Dr. Lewis C. Saboe, Ohio State University Extension agronomist.

Two symposia also are scheduled, Dr. Saboe reports, one on moving seed from the field to the consumer, the other on developing markets for certified seed.

Exhibits will show the latest in machinery, equipment, and supplies for the seed producer and processor.

Banquet speaker will be Cecil Robinson, Delaware County pork farmer, who will present an illustrated talk on life behind the Iron Curtain.

Economic Management Is Success Key At Grange

John O. Haaf

The Grange Mutual Casualty Co. was founded under the insurance laws of the State of Ohio Mar. 29, 1935, and began writing automobile business Apr. 29, 1935. Since organization, it has enjoyed steady growth and faithful service to its policyholders.

Due to economical management and careful reinsuring, the company has been in good financial standing since its founding. In the beginning, however, is was organized as an assessment mutual company; it was in 1944 that its surpluses and reserves were sufficient to allow it to become a non-assessable company.

In 1937 Grange added the accident policy; in 1942 the general liability, and in 1944 the hospital policy. The company became a multiple-line company in 1955, allowing it to write fire and extended coverage.

The first offices of the company were located on the sixth floor of the Southern Hotel. Expansion was soon necessary, and a move was made to 50 S. Third-st. Approximately eight years later a six-story building was purchased at the corner of Town and High Streets which was occupied for four years.

Again, it was necessary to find larger quarters, due to the increase in business. Grange purchased its present location at 671 S. High-st in 1949, and since that time, five additions have been made.

Now licensed in Ohio, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky and South Carolina, Grange Mutual Casualty opened a regional office in Orlando, Fla., in 1959. This office handles business transacted in Florida, South Carolina, Alabama and Georgia.

Presently being completed is a three-story building 90 by 80 feet at the Columbus address, and almost completed is a new building in Orlando, 128 by 75 feet.

Throughout this rapid expansion, the company was constantly broadening its coverage to policyholders and increasing the compensation to its agents. Through a corps of approximately 700 trained and well-qualified agents, the following forms of insurance protection are offered:

Auto property damage, auto comprehensive, fire and theft, auto collision and auto liability, comprehensive personal family liability, farmers comprehensive personal liability, general liability, garage, personal accident and hospitalization, fire and extended coverage, inland marine, and home owners and farm owners. Contracts are offered to give protection at a reasonable rate.

Total assets in 1935, $201,213, have now increased to $26,632,319. The surplus to policyholders has increased to $379,236. Approximately 350,000 policies are in force.

The officers and directors have always given an excellent accounting of the company's affairs to its policyholders.

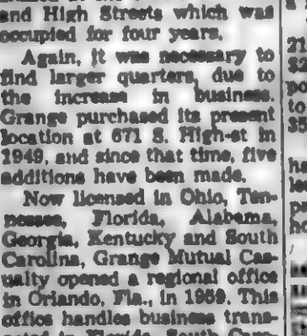
The officers, directors and [illegible] of Grange Mutual are naturally proud of the company. It will always be the company's aim to give policyholders the best possible service.

Dairy Prices May Drop During 1963

Many dairy farmers can expect a slightly lower income next year, predicts K. W. Kepner, Ohio State University Extension specialist in dairy marketing.

Prices which dairy farmers will receive the first quarter of 1963 will be substantially below those of a year earlier because of the lower price support level, Kepner says. For the rest of the year they should be about the same as in 1962.

"But these estimates assume the current dairy program will continue and there will be little change in the the international situation," the specialist explains "It is almost certain that new dairy legislation will be proposed to Congress in 1963."



The average price which farmers have received for their milk this year is about $4.10 a hundredweight, Kepner says, compared to $4.22 in 1961. Next year, the average price for manufacturing milk, with 3.8 per cent butterfat, is expected to be near the price support level of $3.11 a hundredweight.

While next year is expected to bring further decline in farm cash receipts from dairying, plus lower net farm income due to higher prices which farmers will have to pay for the things they buy, individual dairy farmers still may do fairly well next year. The real key to individual producer income, says Kepner, is the adaptation of efficiency and technology to his own operation.

Better Living Begins with Gas!

All over America versatile natural gas is helping people to a better, more lively life. ■ Already providing nearly a third of the total energy needs of the nation, gas is becoming an increasingly valuable fuel, tool, and chemical raw material in the fast-moving Space Age. ■ In modern homes gas provides the ultimate in comfort and convenience. In forward-looking industries gas performs more than 25,000 different manufacturing tasks with unmatched precision and efficiency. ■ People in Ohio have a head start in sharing all the good things that can be done with gas, because of the state's location in America's Original Natural Gasland. Here gas was discovered, operating techniques were perfected, and service is best — at rates that continue to be among the lowest in the country.

Golden Anniversary • Celebrated By GSA

The year 1962 was the Golden Anniversary of Girl Scouts of the United States of America. In 1912, Juliette Low started the first Girl Scout troop in this country with 12 members. In 1962, three and a half million girls and adults are members.

Girl Scouts planted acres of golden blossoms in recognition of their fiftieth birthday. They planted crocus, tulip, daffodil, and iris bulbs as well as Brownie Scout marigolds and Girl Scout roses. They planted as a means of expressing appreciation to schools and churches and other organizations which provide meeting places. They planted in parks and around their homes.

Girl Scouts performed a flag ceremony at the Youth Concerts of the Columbus Symphony in April. Later in the year, Senior Girl Scouts did the flag ceremony for the opening session of the Ohio School Board Association convention. Senior Girl Scouts also former a color guard in the Sesquicentennial Parade. Innumerable flag ceremonies have been performed by Girl Scouts in their own troop meetings, at PTA meetings, and at various community gatherings.

One of the highlights of 1962 among local Girl Scouts was the visit of 13 Girl Guides from France. The French girls came to this country under the Experiment in International Living with help from the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.

The Guides were here from July 20 to Sept. 12, each one staying with a hostess family which had a Senior Girl Scout daughter about the age of the French guest. Numerous opportunities for contacts with community groups and Girl Scout troops were arranged.

The Sabin on Sunday project gave Girl Scouts the opportunity to be of service in a large community program. Girl Scouts helped in the 118 Sabin centers on Sept. 20 and Nov. 4. They helped again at the third and final GCS Jan. 6.

Two concerns are felt by all adults who believe and work in the Girl Scout program. There are hundreds of girls between the ages of seven and 17 on waiting lists. The girls are waiting, but there is a shortage of qualified and interested adults to serve as leaders. Another concern is the challenge of finding adequate meeting places for troops.

In 1963, the Girl Scouts will move into Program Change, to become effective in September. There will be four age-level divisions in the Girl Scout program instead of the present three. The single biggest event being planned by the Ohio Trefoil Girl Scout Council in 1963 is the Program Fair, scheduled at Veterans Memorial Saturday, April 27.

PROGRESS MADE WITH PEOPLE

At Columbus Transit, we judge our progress by the accomplishments of our people. Our future is dependent on loyal employees intent on providing the best mass transportation service possible.

CTC is proud that in 1962, 14 new members were inducted in our 25 Year Club, which has 177 members.

CTC is proud that 81% of its 882 employees have worked for five years or more. Eleven men have worked for 40 years or more — and one has had 55 years of service!

CTC is proud to honor loyal, competent service with annual dinners like the one shown here. These men are not just the past and present, but a symbol of progress — and CTC's future in this fine community.

Headlines Show Our Buckeyes Did Very Well Last Year

A quick glance back over the headlines that appeared in Ohio's newspapers this past year seems to indicate that the Buckeye State has a great many personalities to be proud of.

First, a tip of the hat is due young Jack Nicklaus, former Ohio Stater, who has just about dethroned Arnie Palmer as the hottest golfer in the nation.

And another Jackie, Miss Jacquelyn Mayer of Sandusky, a personable and very lovely lass, captured Miss America honors in Atlantic City in September.

New Concord's John Glenn was very much in the news in 1962, with his history-making flight. Possibly slated for similar honors are two other Ohioans, Neil A. Armstrong and Lt. Comdr. James A. Lovell, Jr.

Armstrong, a native of Wapakoneta, is a former test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Often called the hot-bed of national football, Ohio was a natural to be selected as the site for the professional football Hall of Fame. Located at Canton, the Hall is scheduled to be completed next July. Dick McCann, former general manager of the Washington Redskins, is director of the shrine.

Incomes May Rise In 1963

Economic indicators are pointing to another new high in 1963. Pay scale hikes already in the contracts should give three million workers another $1 billion in salary increases.

Stockholders may expect dividend payments to gradually rise during 1963, but interest payments probably will level off. These offering services can expect a slight rise in rates and fees.

James R. Riley Receives National Success Award

James Ralph Riley, president of Suburban Motor Freight, King-av, was one of 10 recipients of the 1963 American Success Story Awards in New York last month. Sponsored by the Free Enterprise Awards Association, the national presentation was made to those who "rose from the ranks to own or head giant industries."

Upon receiving the award, Riley commented, "Success in America's democracy is assured if you give unselfish service to your customers and community. Help improve the area you serve and you will prosper in material and spiritual values."

* * * * * * *

When James Ralph Riley determined on a choice of a career, he set a course designed to lead to livestock farming and auctioneering. Instead his path led to the presidency of the Suburban Motor Freight.

In the public utility segment of the truck transportation industry, Suburban Motor Freight is a regular common carrier that daily and directly serves Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, West Virginia and Michigan, provides connecting carrier accommodations to 41 other states, Washington, D. C., and Canada.

From farm boy to motor freight executive, the success road trod by Ralph Riley covered a mere 35 miles—the distance from the Riley rural homestead in Licking County to Columbus.

It is a paradoxical truth that he wouldn't have trudged the path but for an outbreak of cholera among hogs Riley was raising for market. The disease nipped his livestock aspirations in the bud, left him heavily in debt and with no alternative but to seek a living for himself and wife away from the Riley farm.

The auctioneering skill Riley acquired in Chicago in 1920, following his husbandry studies at Ohio State University, came in handy, but this state of well-being was temporary during an era of shrinking incomes.

The time was 1924 when the motor freight industry was in its infancy. Riley began hauling milk from farms near Newark to Columbus and supplies to the farmers on the return trips.

In 1929 he established the first interstate truck line out of Columbus a 190-mile regular freight haul he called "Columbus - Detroit Motor Freight." The following year, his line and Suburban Transfer Lines were incorporated as Suburban Motor Freight. Riley was made its president in 1931. The company gradually grew into one of the 75 largest highway common carriers in the nation.

Now Suburban Motor Freight transports the nation's goods to and from nearly 5,000 cities and towns in mid-America. Five years ago Suburban purchased another pioneer truck line, Liberty Highway Co., Toledo, to enable Suburban to extend its regular service to important markets for which it was not previously certificated.

His interests are varied and numerous. He is a founder of the celebrated Columbus Boy choir, whose home is now in Princeton, N. J., and a founding member of the American Society of Traffic and Transportation. He helped to establish the Columbus Town Meeting of the Air, and has appeared on its television program, as well as on other radio and television programs in Ohio and elsewhere.

Riley has for many years been prominently identified with civic betterment projects and such public service organizations as the United Appeal and the Big Brothers Association. He has headed the Special Gifts Committee for the Cancer Fund and the Christmas Seal sale to combat tuberculosis. He is chairman of the YMCA's current campaign in support of World Service-Buildings for Brotherhood.

He is a trustee of Baldwin-Wallace College, Piney Woods Country Life School (Mississippi), and Columbus' new Riverside Methodist Hospital.

Riley holds directorships in the State Savings Co., the Corrugated Container Co., and is a member of Scioto Country Club and the Athletic Club of Columbus.

Through industry, government, education, art, church and charity, Ralph Riley has contributed much to the lives of many. A man of exceptional vigor and ability, he is an example to the people in each mode of transportation of an individual's independent enterprise for the good of all transportation. His is a devoted citizenship.

KNIGHTS OF THE ROAD—726 radio-controlled trucks of Suburban Motor Freight, Inc., 1100 King-av, now serves more than 5000 communities in the midwest. The company employs more than 1000 persons and its carriers travel in excess of nine million miles a year. Suburban Motor Freight grossed $10,612,949 in 1961.

Common Carriers' Goal Today: Excellent Service To Public

What is a highway regular common carrier?

For a moment think of the everyday things human beings need each day. Breakfast, lunch and dinner . . . food, clothing and shelter. This means baby foods, medicines and bread . . . toothpaste, tires and turbines. It means newsprint, books and schools.

To make use of these things requires incessant mobility. Without abundant transportation, America would be like a helpless giant, unable to move arms and legs or defend himself. The national economy is geared intimately with the development of something unique under the transportation sun—the highway regular common carrier.

The ability to pick up and deliver on schedule anything, anywhere, has made regular common carriage a still growing $3 billion public service industry.

Highway regular common carriers are available to all persons requiring freight transportation services. Every manufacturer and merchant in the U. S. depends upon the services of this industry. Regular common carriers are therefore recognized and regulated as public utilities, and their prime obligation is to serve the public's freight needs.

The importance of regular common carriers to life itself is most dramatically realized when some natural disaster—a hurricane, flood or other disturbance — cuts off the flow of commerce into a community, and leaves it feeding upon itself. Only the resumption of regular common carrier traffic brings life and safety back into the community. But the daily job is every bit as vital.

The merchant can raise or lower prices subject to competition and no one may be the loser. But not the regulated public carrier.

After long and painful trial and error, the U. S. discovered that it cannot grant to private, managerial decision — regardless of how wise it may be — the simple right to provide or deny the lifesaving services of transportation to any person, producer or community.

Hence, the Federal regulation of public carriers by Congress, with the Act to Regulate Commerce which created the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Transportation Act of 1920 first gave the commission the authority to prescribe specific rates on interstate commerce. Motor carriers of property were placed under the jurisdiction of the Act of 1935 and recognized as an integral part of the national transportation system.

In 1940 Congress enunciated the National Transportation Policy which aspires to these goals: independent transport agencies; just and reasonable common carrier rates open to all without favor or discrimination; development of the inherent advantages of each mode of transport; equality of regulation as between carriers; and sound economic conditions among the carriers.

In an earlier day, whole regions, states and cities, seaports and new territories were dependent upon a single form of inland transportation. The nation's commerce rolled by the isolated communities of the land — the communities not served by the lone inland transportation system. This day has gone . . . because highway common carriers reach wherever public necessity requires.

The essential carrier of today is the motor common carrier on the highways for he serves all shippers plus all other types of carriers.

And it is the highway regular common carrier who invest millions in terminals, who buy and operate trucks, and provide employment for millions of men and women.

Highway regular common carriers make huge and direct contributions to the economy. And, as to America's defense, Maj. Gen. Paul F. Yount, Chief of Transportation, U. S. Army, has said in part:

"The maintenance of an experienced and qualified motor carrier industry trained in the movement problem involved in the shipment of supplies is deemed essential to meet the needs of national defense."

No time for birthdays

It has been a short, busy 97 years.

Since January 2, 1866, Columbus has grown from a town into Ohio's largest city in area. It has been our privilege to contribute to this growth and to keep pace with it. One of these years, we're going to take time out for a birthday.

This swift expansion of consumer demand for banking services has been matched by an equally swift development of new banking tools.

The newest such benefit to our customers is electronic banking. Our computer system, the first in any Central Ohio bank, is now processing more than 1500 checks a minute with electronic accuracy.

Neighborhood banking convenience also is being extended. Five offices have been added during 1962; the new Westview Office on Georgesville Road will open next spring.

As we enter our 98th year, we expect 1963 to be the shortest, busiest yet. Stop in when any of our complete banking or trust services will be helpful to you. We'd like you to be one of the reasons we keep so busy.

Increase In Loan Limits Helped Modern Finance To A Prosperous Year

L. Kirts Osborne, Jr., president of Modern Finance Co., with executive offices at 75 E. Gay-st, announced assets of Modern are now over $13½ million. He also reported a total of 27,911 finance transactions in the amount of $20,554,701 for the fiscal year ending Oct. 31.

According to Osborne,

steady growth of Modern Finance Co. during the past year has been influenced by the new Ohio law allowing an increase in loan limits from $1000 to $2000.

Modern Finance is in an excellent position to employ additional investment capital, because of the company's growth and future expansion plans, Osborne said. Residents of Ohio only are offered five per cent three-year subordinated investment certificates in the amounts of $100 to $25,000.

Money invested by Jan. 15 will earn five per cent from Jan. 1.

Modern Finance offers an additional service, in association with its small loans, that of Modern budget accounts. These accounts enable people to finance product purchases and services from any merchant on a small monthly payment plan.

Officers and directors at Modern include L. Kirts Osborne, president; C. Bruce Osborne, executive vice president; Lloyd L. Osborne, vice president; Carl Tangeman, secretary and counsel; Gordon Y. Boyd, treasurer; and Frank D. Fults, assistant [illegible].

Under the management of the Osborne family, Modern has grown from three offices in 1942, to 28 offices in 19 Ohio cities. Branch offices are in Ashland, Barnesville, Bellefontaine, Coshocton, Defiance, Delaware, Franklin, Greenfield, Kenton, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lima, Mansfield, Marion, Marysville, Portsmouth, Springfield and Xenia. The firm also has four branch offices in Columbus.

Employment At Western Electric Reached New High Last Year

Employment at the Columbus works of the Western Electric Co. reached a new high during the fourth quarter of 1962 in its role of manufacturing telephone equipment for the Bell system.

The level attained was 4,800 employees for the Western Electric Co., and 200 employes for the Columbus branch laboratory of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, both at 6200 E. Broad-st.

Last quarter reports reveal an annual payroll of nearly $28 million and local purchases of $2½ million from over 300 suppliers. Nearly one-half of all purchases at the works, or $7 million, came from 930 firms within the state of Ohio.

The efforts of Western Electric's Columbus works are directed toward manufacturing equipment and apparatus which is installed in telephone exchanges.

Contributing to the growth of employment and high level of economic activity at the plant were research and development as well as expanded production on the Bell System's newest method of telephone communication, the electronic switching system. this system utilizes solid state components and computer devices, some of which operate in millionths of a second, to make telephone connections much faster than present methods. Production is currently underway for the first [illegible] offices in Succasunna, N.J.

Production continued on automatic number identification equipment, providing automatic identification of the subscriber's telephone number and billing information in making direct distance dialing calls.

[illegible] and improvements on No. 5 crossbar equipment, also functional in the nationwide dial network, added to production levels. Plug-in and add-on features for this type of equipment to reduce installation effort, save space, and permit telephone companies to expand capacity, supplemented production.

There were no on-the-job fatalities during the year and the company received the Award of Honor from the National Safety Council for the operation of over 3,000,000 man-hours without a single employe sustaining a disabling injury.

The first full year of a non-partisan course in practical politics, termed "democracy in action," was completed. Through the program employes and their spouses were given the opportunity to hear local political figures discuss the precinct level of government. At the request of the Franklin County Board of Elections, the company extended the use of the lobby as a polling place during the primary and general elections.

In the community, the company worked closely with the Motorist and Pedestrian Safety Organization in furthering highway safety practices; the American Red Cross Regional Blood Center frequently visited the plant to obtain blood donations; and, for the sixth year, the employes of Western Electric remained a "fair share" contributor to United Appeal.

The growth experienced during the year is indicative of the company's goal to provide better telephone service for the nation. As a citizen of the community Western Electric is pleased to have shared this growth with the public.

Egg prices the first half of 1963 are expected to average about one cent a dozen higher than during the first six months of 1962, predict Ohio State University Extension poultry specialists.

Columbus Building Activity Upped In 1962

In 1962 industrial and commercial expansion remained steady in some areas and in others dropped slightly. Ten new manufacturing businesses were established in 1962 as compared to 13 in 1961. Seventy-three new non-manufacturing businesses (wholesale, retail and service establishments) were established in 1962, compared with 101 in 1961.

Building activity rose sharply over 1961 in the manufacturing field while non-manufacturing surpassed all previous records. Eighty manufacturing firms invested $3,389,676 in new buildings and remodelings in 1962 while in 1961, 53 manufacturing firms invested $746,450. The greatest increase in construction was seen in the wholesale, retail and service area, with 643 firms investing a total of $45,407, 639, as compared with 597 investing $25,311,605 last year.

New industries included such products as sheet metal and plastic fabricating; electrical equipment; fire and burglar alarms; chemicals; and pre-cast concrete forms. New buildings, expansions and remodelings reached a peak, with no signs of seasonal slack: Lazarus construced a branch store at Broad-st and Georgesville-rd at a cost of $2 million; the School Employees Retirement System of Ohio has under construction a $6,100,000 motor hotel at 50 N. Third-st, Charles E. Merrill Books, Inc., added a $500,000 wing, doubling their previous 60,000 sq. ft. floor space; the Columbus Public School System spent in excess of $7 million on new schools and remodeling of existing facilities; Buckeye Federal Savings & Loan Co. is building a $100,000 drive-in bank at 43 E. Long-st.

Two additional discount department stores appeared in Columbus this year — Arlan's at Morse-rd and Cleveland-av, at a cost of $600,000; and Woolco's Graceland Store at $700,000; Chemical Abstracts announced its plans for a new building at Dodridge-st and the Olentangy River to be completed in phases, the first one due for completion in 1964 at a cost of $5 million.

An up-and-coming trend is seen in a number of small "growth industries" which have sprung up in the Columbus Area during recent months. Common among these businesses is their contribution and/or application of technical knowledge in the field of research and development for modern industry.

The local appearance of firms in these highly specialized areas is indicative of the resources Columbus has to offer new and expanding technological efforts.

Among the most recent of these industries are: Code Credit Reports, Inc., dealing in uniform commercial code reporting services; Henrik Engitects, Inc., specializing in technical writing and industrial design; Poly-Tronics Corp., experts in molding, fabrication and application of expandable polystyrene in the appliance packaging, recreation, marine and building industries; Solidstate Controls, Inc., manufacturers of electrical equipment and devices; and Choloid Chemicals, Inc., a chemical manufacturer.

Defense contracts awarded to Columbus firms in the first half of 1962 amounted to $20,158,138 for 86 defense contracts. In the first half of 1961 52 defense contracts were awarded amounting to $6,510,711.

Total investments of new industries and local business expansions amounted to $52,040,875 in 1962 as compared to $29,859,715 in 1961.

Home Mortgage Funds Will Be Ample

There seems to be plenty of money for home mortgages and prices seem fairly stable.

Some building experts predict 1.4 million homes to be built in 1963, but others report slow sales of older homes.

Easing of interest rates in some areas in 1962 seems unlikely to be reversed in 1963. One question at the end of December was how much, if any, new integration rules might affect sales and construction of new dwellings.

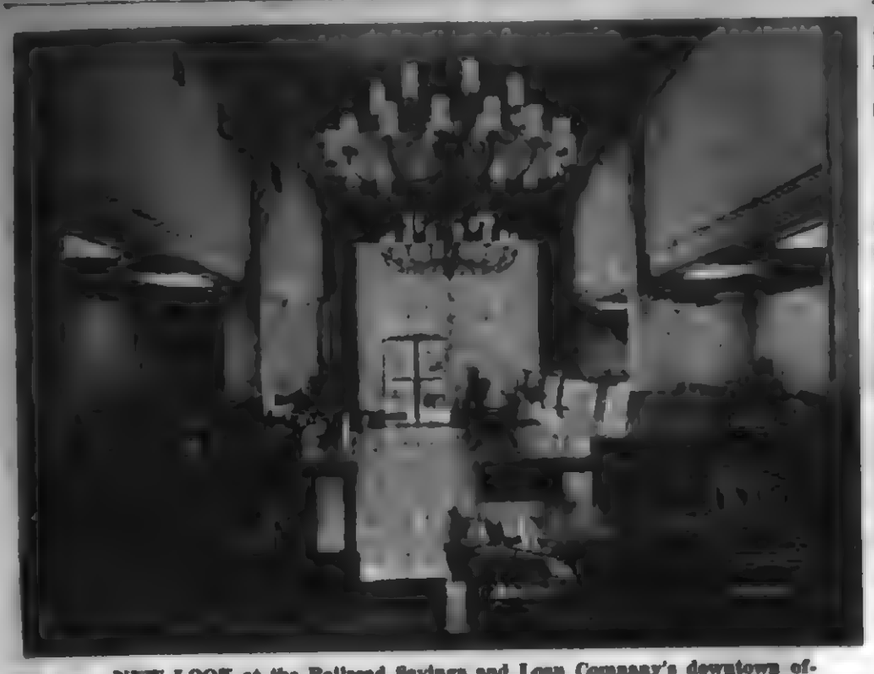
Over 28 acres of working area are housed in Western Electric's Columbus Works where 5,000 men and women share a dedication to the manufacture of the finest telephone communications systems. Equipment and apparatus made right here at Columbus help the Bell Telephone companies provide Bell System subscribers with good telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

MAKING COMMUNICATIONS PROGRESS ON EAST BROAD STREET

That's what 5,000 of your neighbors are busily doing every day at Western Electric's Columbus Works. The crossbar switches for telephone central offices, line concentrators, and other communications equipment they manufacture help Ohio Bell Telephone Company and the 20 other Bell Telephone companies bring America the reliable and versatile telephone services we all take for granted.



1962 was an especially good year: More than 28 million-dollars paid in wages or salaries. 7 million dollars' worth of supplies and equipment purchased by Western Electric from over 900 Ohio business firms. Many thousands of high-quality, precision-made communications products were turned out for the nationwide Bell System, with the design and development help of Bell Laboratories.

And this year should be even better. Yes, we're looking forward to 1963 here at Columbus!

RAILROAD SPARKLES!

Savings Firm Has 'That New Look'

One of Columbus' most recent downtown additions is the new look of the Railroad Savings and Loan Co. at 60 E. Broad-st. Founded in 1884, the Railroad is the oldest savings and loan company in Columbus.

Improvements involved expansion as well as refurbishing. The front entrance was extended toward the street, enlarging the vestibule and lobby. The old front was replaced with white granite trimmed in black marble. An impressive street clock complements the new exterior identity.

Inside, the eye is immediately caught by the three large two-tier chandeliers, which spill light into the high ceiling. The public lobby is done in marble, while all company offices and working spaces are carpeted. In fact, the entire five story interior has been remodeled. Strip fluorescent lighting illuminates the second, third, fourth and fifth floors. The ceilings have been lowered, and solid cherry room dividers are used throughout.

The new elevator connecting the floors has been moved to the front of the building, allowing the use of more space space for company offices.

The six teller windows are equipped with three NCR posting machines. The vault has been re-faced in stainless steel. There is also a new 16-compartment teller's locker.

Heating and cooling units have been boosted, and storage and maintenance facilities have been enlarged.

The overall cost of the face-lifting amounted to $300,000. The entire project took seven months to complete.

Each person in the U.S. paid about $228 in food handling costs last year. This applied not only to the food he ate at home, but also to whatever he bought at restaurants and cafeterias.

First Community Village Will Open In February

Opening day for the nation's newest and most exciting living center for older persons is fast approaching. Early in February pioneer residents of First Community Village are expected to move into the $5.6 million "community within a community" in the southwest corner of Upper Arlington, just off U.S. Rt. 33 at Waltham-rd.

As construction progresses towards an early summer completion date for the 496 accommodations, a steadily increasing number of persons will take the important step into what has been called, "a new way of life."

Some of the initial group of village residents have begun developing a program that will be an essential part of the village's concept of a "new way of life for older persons." The program is intended to offset the growing typical trend in society which deprives a community of the seasoned experience and judgment of those persons who helped its growth over the years.

All of this activity and considerably more is being planned by First Community's Minister-Director James W. Bidle but he has considerable help from the group of pioneer residents that have been meeting regularly at First Community Church, sponsor of the project, in anticipation of the day when the village will be their home.

As residents visit back and forth throughout the village they will be rewarded with refreshing variations that will make each major area in the village a new experience. Early American, Country French and complementing English and Italian motifs are tastefully blended in a contemporary manner that preserves the best of the traditional in settings of sturdy beauty, warmth and personality.

The individual residences in the cottage apartments offer a wide variety of interior stylings. From 12 basic interiors there are 48 possible variations.

Many other persons in the surrounding communities are also playing a vital part in the creation of this new living center for older persons. Most of them are members of First Community Church and through their participation on boards and committees of the church and village have been able to give this project far more talent and time than the sponsoring church could ever afford to hire. President of the village board is John V. Johnson.

Unemployment Reduced Here Last Year

The average rate of unemployment in Franklin, Union, Madison and Pickaway counties was reduced in 1962, according to Ralph E. Gabele, Columbus area manager, Ohio State Employment Service.

Non-agricultural job placements made by the OSES offices totaled 36,188 in 1962, representing a 19.2 per cent increase over 1961.

Placements in clerical, managerial, professional, technical and sales positions totaled 3,621 in 1962 — an increase of 59.5 per cent over 1961 figures.

Unemployment claims dropped 38.4 per cent below 1961 averages, Gabele said. The weekly number of persons drawing benefits in 1962 was listed at 4,358 compared to 7,076 in 1961.

Ohio Fuel To Expand Its Gas Facilities Here In '63

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. plans to invest $130,000 in the Columbus area in 1963 for pipeline additions and replacements and other facilities to help meet constantly growing demands for gas.

Elden H. Davis, central district manager for Ohio Fuel, said deliveries of natural gas to the company's 193,890 customers in Columbus and Franklin County in 1962 totaled more than 51½ billion cubic feet — a six percent increase over 1961 and 95 percent more gas than the company delivered in this area 10 years ago.

As an indication of the importance of gas to local industries, Davis noted that 8.8 billion cubic feet of gas delivered to the industries by Ohio Fuel in 1962 also is almost twice as great as the annual industrial requirements of 10 years ago.

Some of Ohio Fuel's largest industrial customers are located in Franklin County, Davis said. Large volumes of gas are needed in the glass, roller bearing, structural clay products and metal fabrication industries here.

Davis said gas is used to melt, anneal, shape, and bend various types of glassware, and in making glass fibers. In metal fabrication, gas provides heat for forging and shaping of metal. In structural clay products, gas is used to fire and cure many types of building bricks and tile.

The use of gas in Columbus and Franklin County homes has almost doubled in the last decade. Gas is used in homes for heating, cooling, cooking, clothes drying, water heating, dishwashing, incineration and refrigeration.

Ohio Fuel's ability to meet the growing needs for gas—in homes and in industry—is due to the company's long-range expansion and improvement program, Davis said.

Davis said Ohio Fuel customers in Columbus and Franklin County have these advantages:

1. Supply through six major transmission lines.

2. A re-built and enlarged medium pressure system that forms the "backbone" of gas distribution here.

3. More than 1,643 miles of pipelines in Franklin County alone to deliver gas to customers.

4. Nearby underground storage facilities which on cold winter days supply as much as 50 percent of the gas here. At the start of the current heating season Ohio Fuel's 10 underground storage areas contained 210 billion cubic feet of gas.

Gas that goes into storage areas is delivered to Ohio from the Southwest through cross-country pipelines. It is pumped into storage areas in summer and held until it is withdrawn in winter.

Davis said Ohio Fuel in 1962 spent $2,925,000 to install 98 miles of new pipelines and other facilities in Columbus and Franklin County.

TV 4 Begins 1963 With Change In 'Jamboree' Format

"Gonna Have a Big Time Tonight!" was the first song by the Lucky Pennies on the "new" Jamboree show on TV 4, Monday night, Jan. 7, at 7 p.m. The song fits the new format and style of the weeknight TV 4 feature.

Performing in country and western music, Dean Richards, the Lucky Pennies, and regular guest Bonnie Lou, all from the Saturday night Midwestern Hayride, are featured with TV 4 talent stalwart Clay Eager. Other Midwestern Hayride stars like Bobby Bobo and Zeke and Billy are to be frequent guests.

Since the premiere of Jamboree in September, it has garnered a large nightly audience for the "down-home" style country and western music that features old-time favorites as well as tunes high on the current best seller lists. Every night's show also includes a favorite hymn as a strong ingredient.

Any one who has watched the Midwestern Hayride will recognize the members of the Lucky Pennies group. Penny West, Dean's wife, is on the bass fiddle, Frankie Taylor handles the accordion, Wally Proctor strums the melody guitar, and versatile Monty Monohan plays the fiddle and trumpet plus a variety of other instruments.

Leader Dean Richards, besides adding guitar rhythm, is the lead voice in the group and emcee. Wally and Dean team up now and then for a banjo-pickin' session. Special feature of the "new" Jamboree is the appearance each Monday and Thursday night of pretty Bonnie Lou, current WLW star of the Midwestern Hayride and the Ruth Lyons' "50-50 Club." "Bill Bailey" gets an excellent presentation by Bonnie, Thursday, Jan. 10.

Complicated planning, long hours, and lots of music go into the entertainment that is seen on home screens. Because of the time burden that would result in doing the show "live" every night, production at TV 4 has been arranged so the Tuesday and Wednesday shows are done "live" and then, on those nights, three more 20-minute shows are video-taped for the remaining week nights.

This is an easier, more economical, and efficient method to present the best possible shows to viewers. It keeps the talent more rested and refreshed for livelier shows.

Economist Says No To '63 Recession

Geoffrey Browne, managing director of the Economist Intelligence Unit, the world's leading international research group, says 1963 may be the beginning of bigger and better things.

Taking a world-wide look, EIU predicts this year will see no recession

"Sophisticated techniques for combating recession, plus progress toward wider free trade, should form effective insurance against a major setback," Browne said.

Upward Trend In Home Building To Continue Thru '63

By JOHN E. SANDEFUR,
1962 President
Home Builders Association of Greater Columbus

The home building industry of greater Columbus has experienced a good year during 1962. The market for new houses and apartments retained its 1961 upward trend and continued to improve, especially during the summer and early fall.

The total number of units will show an appreciable increase over the 1961 volume and, in fact, will be near record setting in results.

The 1962 Parade of Homes, sponsored by the HBA of Greater Columbus, in the Gacellent attendance and could hanna area attracted an exeasily have been considered an indication of the areas continued and growing interest in new homes. The variety of models on display during the parade was also indicative of the wide range available throughout the central Ohio area.

Tri-level homes have sold well for the past few years, but sales during 1962 were stimulated by several bi-level or raised ranch models along with renewed interest in story and one half and full two-story houses.

Larger families and ever increasing lot prices have prodded the return of two story houses. Speculative builders, especially those building in large developments, have all added bi-level and two-story models during 1962.

Home building remained competitive and will continue to be so because each builder knows he must not only outmaneuver his competition, but also build houses that will motivate presently satisfied old home owners and apartment dwellers into become prospects for new house sales with their many advances and advantages.

The Columbus area has attracted attention due to its fortunate position of economic stability. This factor has and will continue to help the home building industry during 1963. Economic stability encourages population growth through both migration into the area and retention of young people.

Long term debt, such as a 20 or 25 year mortgage, is much more acceptable to all segments of the population when the economy is stable and growing steadily as it is in the greater Columbus area. Mortgage funds have also been available through conventional, FHA and VA sources and this factor can also be given credit for helping make 1962 an excellent new home year.

Columbus has many shelter craftsmen, yet the builder has the problem of scheduling the available trader and crafts due to the high demand on their services. The home building industry appears to enjoy a good builder, subcontractor, craft and material situation and hopes to continue in the present harmonious fashion.

The coming year appears to hold a continued increase in the demand for housing units. Apartment building, which has been at a very high level during 1962 may taper off by late 1963 unless occupancy take a sudden surge upward. The market for single family homes may equal 1962 provided unforseen circumstances do not adversely affect the market.

New families will continue to move into the area, the first echelon of war babies are starting to get married, the economy is good, mortgage money is available, a limited number of houses are on hand and others will be built—therefore, 1963 should be a good year for the housing industry.

The industry has always contributed substantially to the economics and business health of greater Columbus and will contiuue to do so throughout 1963 and beyond.

Announce Burger Chef Appointment

James K. Smith has been appointed Columbus area supervisor for the Burger Chef Systems, by Frank P. Thomas, president of the Indianapolis firm.

Smith has over 15 years of retail sales experience and has been manager of several Columbus area chain stores. He lives at 584 S. Ashburton-st with his wife and four children.

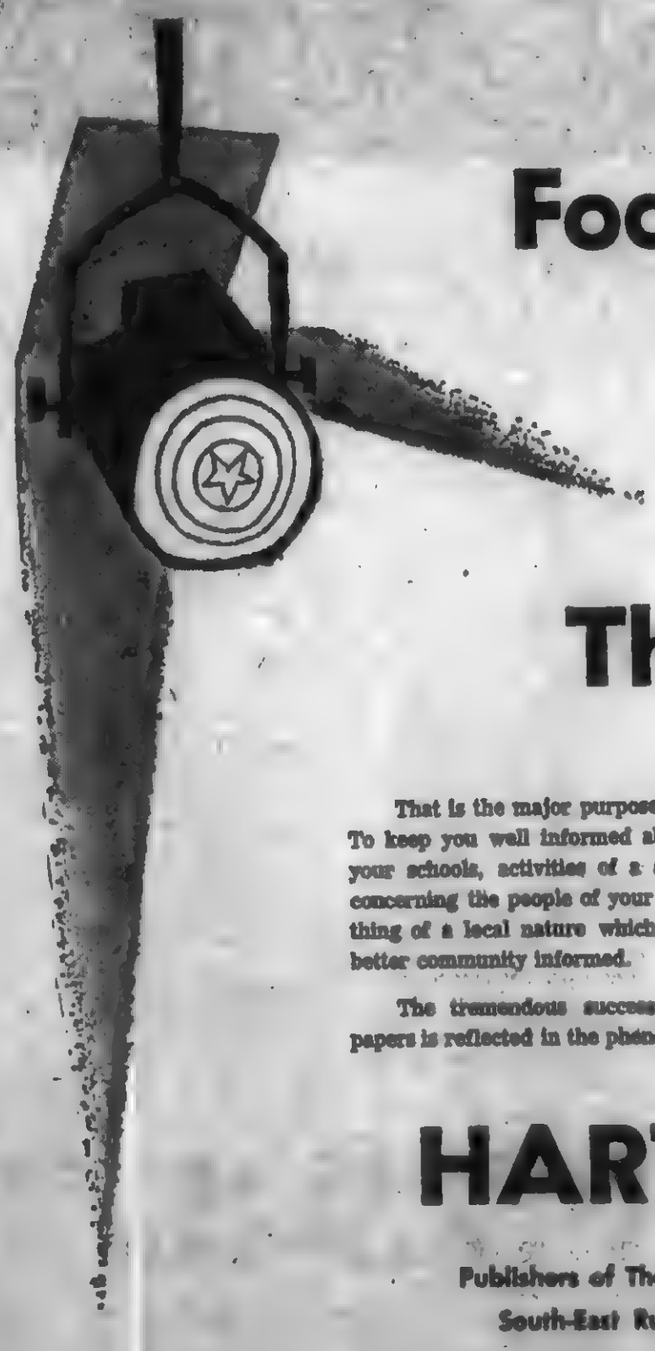
The three Burger Chef locations in Columbus, 3825 Indianola, 1449 Oakland-pk and 3517 Sullivant-av, are part of a national franchise chain which has more than 200 stores in 27 states.

Independents Report Gain

Telephone companies other than those affiliated with the Bell System report a rapid growth rate in 1962. However, the number of companies continued to decrease.

Harold R. Bollinger, president of the U.S. Independent Telephone Association, said the rate of growth of the independents was about 33 per cent ahead of the Bell System.

Bollinger said the primary reason was because independents serve suburban and rural area where population growth has been greatest in recent years.



Personal income per person of farm population (from all sources) was $1373 in 1961. This was about 60 per cent of that received by non-farm population. Incomes expected to increase this year and further increases likely in 1963. This expectation would reflect the continuing decline in the farm population and relative stability in aggregate net farm income.

Focusing attention upon The Community!

That is the major purpose of Hartley Newspapers. To keep you well informed about your local governments, your schools, activities of a social nature, feature stories concerning the people of your community . . . in fact everything of a local nature which serves to permit you to be better community informed.

The tremendous success enjoyed by Hartley Newspapers is reflected in the phenomenal increase in circulation. More than 74,000 homes in the Columbus area receive a Hartley publication each week. This means that some 250,000 persons are regular readers of our newspapers.

Little wonder that we stick out our chests and opine that "focusing attention upon the community" has been responsible to a great extent for our greatly increased circulation, which has more than tripled in a decade.

Fritsche Built 2000th Home In 1962

Ernest G. Fritsche

IN THE PAST 12 YEARS Ernest G. Fritsche and Co. has built more than 2,000 homes in Columbus and Franklin County. Most of them are located in exclusive Fritsche communities shown above.

Over the 12 years since its founding, Ernest G. Fritsche and Co. has built more than 2,000 homes in Columbus and Franklin County. Homes are currently being built and sold in Holly Hill, off Sullivant-av; Devonshire, about one mile east of Worthington on Rt. 161; Yorkshire, on Noe-Bixby-rd, between Main and Livingston in East Columbus, and in Greentree, Reynoldsburg.

Fritsche builds on a custom basis throughout the area, including residential, multi-family and single family residences.

The Fritsche organization, one of the largest residential builders in the area, is fully staffed to provide its own land planning, development, engineering, design, field supervision, maintenance and sales.

Fritsche homes are being built in price categories ranging from $12,000 to the "over $25,000 group."

When asked for background information on the growth and success of his organization, President Ernest G. Fritsche said, "We make every effort to build good and lasting value into every home, no matter what the price. We try to plan each community so that it will result in better living for the residents.

"Beyond that," Fritsche continued, "our $9.95 total cash down payment plan has proved a great boon to many of our buyers. By enabling them to buy and get into a new house," he said, "without laying out all their cash savings."

"One of the best proofs of this I have," Fritsche concluded, "is that about 40 per cent of our sales in the latest section of Holly Hill opened last fall came from referrals by residents in our earlier sections. Nearly all have used our $9.95 plan."

Production Costs Kept Net Farm Income From Rising In 1962; No Relief Seen

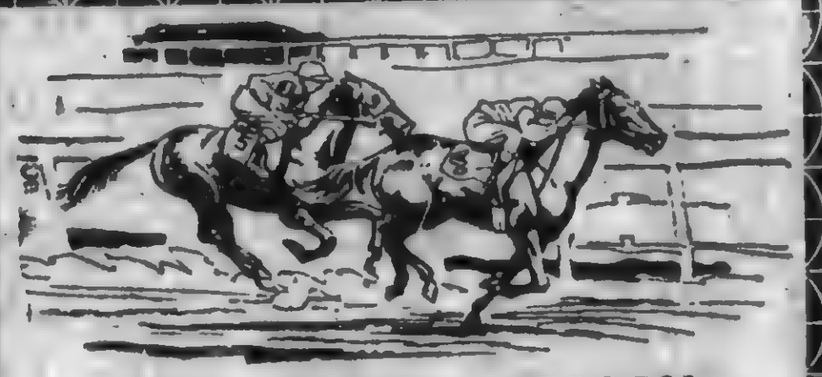
Net farm income in 1962 is little changed from 1961 and is expected to hold steady in 1963. While gross income has risen each year since 1959, production costs have kept pace, leaving the net stationary, but divided among fewer farmers.

Number of consumers has increased about 2 per [illegible] per year for the past 20 years, and farm output during the same period increased about 2.5 per cent annually. Per person consumption held practically constant. This build up of production above consumption results in an abundance of food for consumers, but tends to depress prices to producers.

Price supports for 1962 were little changed from 1961 rates. Wheat support increased slightly - soybeans, manufactured milk and butterfat all had slightly lower supports in 1962.

Farming costs in 1963 are expected to continue their upward trend of recent years. The rise will come chiefly from non-farm items used in production. Farm produced goods (feed etc.) will remain about the same. Prices received by farmers will likely sag slightly, especially on wheat and livestock. This means a slight worsening in the relative position of farmers.

A look at prices paid by farmers for production items show sharpest increases in wage rates, real estate taxes, motor vehicles and machinery, compared to the 1910-14 base period. Among the items purchased for living, building materials, auto and supplies and clothing had largest increases.



Land values are expected to continue their upward trend. In Ohio, the 1962 index was 308 per cent of 1910-14. Farm real estate debt increases at about the same rate as real estate values and stands at about 10 per cent of the value of real estate.

Total farm assets climb rapidly, and assets per farm even more sharply as size of farms increases and numbers decrease.

Livestock production responds to feed supply and to consumer demand. Meat consumption per capita has increased from 142 to 197 pounds per person over a 27 year period. Poultry more than doubled, beef increased 60 per cent — while pork showed little increase and veal and lamb each showed decrease.

Moderate producer response to improved prices for hogs during 1961 and early 1962 kept hog numbers within limits which maintained strong prices. Indications point to slightly lower hog prices the first half of 1963 as compared to a year earlier. Change in

Retailers Reach The $1 Billion Sales Mark

By F. D. Hale
Retail Merchants Assn.

The year 1962 has been a good one for the retail merchants of the Columbus Metropolitan Area.

It seems reasonable to predict that for the first time of record the retail sales volume of the area will be at or near the one billion dollar mark.

Estimates are based on figures gathered from the Fourth Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland and the Bureau of Business Research of Ohio State University. They show respectively gains of five per cent to date in department store volume and an 8.9 per cent "all type store" gain for the first 10 months of the year.

The year's record distribution of goods required the facilities of more than 5,000 retail outlets and gave employment to approximately 40,000 people.

Population increases, higher incomes and an estimated increase of more than 500,000 square feet of retail floor space, played leading roles in the results achieved. Too, alert stores used every means at their command to increase their share of the market, to cut costs and in every way possible to give more quality and quantity for the sales dollar.

The keen competition has worked to the advantage of the customer and to the desirability of the Columbus market as a place to shop.

The year has been marked by the rapid expansion of the retail industry, increasing interest of government in regulatory efforts in advertising and display, credit, labeling, etc., a widespread effort to regulate the sale of merchandise on Sunday, and a changing pattern of shoppers' habits and needs.

All have left their mark on the policies and practices of the stores, and all are of value in the shaping of plans to better serve the buying public.

Increased spending by government and business is anticipated and will still further bolster the economy of the city. Tax cuts, if voted in the new year, will add a real spark to all 1963 business.

The year will also see the addition of many new and expanding retail facilities, including some old names and some names new to the city. Plans are in the drawing board stage for many of these ventures, and each in turn, when opened to the public, will add to the drawing power of the Columbus market.

Completion of additional stretches of our expressway program, increase in the number of new commercial buildings, which offer employment to potential retail customers, in new hotels and apartments which offer living space near the heart of the city—all will be helpful to retail business and especially to those located in the Core area.

Of one thing we may be sure: Columbus merchants will meet the challenges of 1963 as aggressively as they know how, and this effort, coupled with the generally favorable business climate that exists at this time, will insure another good year of business for the merchant, and increased service and satisfaction for the customer.

"CUSTOMERS ARE FRIENDS, not just people who spend money," is the motto on which the Christian Book Store, 179 S. High-st, is operated. Here the proprietor, Mrs. Mildred Smith, displays one of the store's many inspirational books. According to Mrs. Smith, public interest in religious writings have increased immensely in the past several years.

'Personal Touch' Is Book Store Theme

By JERRY WOLFROM

From an obscure bookstore clerk to director of National Christian Book Sellers Association best describes the rapid success story of Mr. Mildred Smith, owner of the Christian Book Store, 179 S. High-st.

And for Mrs. Smith, who has made a fabulous success of her business despite no training or experience, the friends she has made in the store are more gratifying than any monetary considerations.

"We try for a personal touch," she says. "Our store is not merely a place to spend money—it's a place to make friends."

The thriving Christian Book Store had no church accounts or regular customers in 1953 when Mrs. Smith took over. Today the shop can boast of over 400 church accounts and an important list of professional leaders who drop in regularly.

"They ask for commentaries, and concordances — helps in understanding the Bible, and for inspirational writings" Mrs. Smith explained earnestly. She commented that more and more people are realizing a need for need for strength and wisdom.

The store is well stocked with religious books, records, greeting cards, sheet music, paintings, jewelry, art objects, and ceramic novelties. All merchandise is carefully hand-picked by the owner who makes regular buying trips to New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Miami, and Washington.

Mrs. Smith noted that religious gifts were quite popular as Christmas presents. "This has been a continuous trend since I've been here," she said. Christian records for children were perhaps the largest single item preferred by parents for their children, she commented.

Alone and frightened in a strange city when her husband, a young naval pilot, died soon after the family's transfer to Columbus, Mrs. Smith threw herself into the unknown enterprise in an effort to forget her grief.

Today she is listed among the top 10 booksellers in a three-state area.

EXPANSION AND CONSTRUCTION KEYNOTED

Long-Range Planning During '62 Highlighted Church Activity Here

By Dr. G. Weir Hartman, Executive Director Columbus Area Council of Churches

Keeping pace with the growth of Columbus in these expansive times, are the churches and their services to the community. Each year witnesses an expansion that could not possibly have been foreseen a decade ago. Not only have the churches been forced to expand rapidly, but have had to do emergency long-range planning at the same time.

New Congregations

One measure of growth is the number of new congregations and buildings that have come into being in 1962. Dozens of new plants are in the process of being constructed and enlarged. Six locations for new congregations were approved by the denominations through their survey and comity committee of the Columbus Area Council of Churches. Soon there will be congregations serving in those areas where none now exists.

No less than 84 new congregations have been established since 1945; the rate of expansion remains undiminished.

Another notable advance in Central Ohio is the development of Church-related housing for retired and senior citizens. Just a year ago, Bristol Village at Waverly was purchased by the Presbyterian Incorporation, Church Homes, Inc. of which Boulevard Presbyterian Church of Upper Arlington is a party. The project will provide for 365 family units.

This year also has seen the ground-breaking and partial construction of First Community Village, a project of First Community Church. The Village will provide housing for 450 families, the first of which will be ready for occupancy before the end of the year. The minister-director for the Village is Rev. James Bidle, and business manager is Robert Keller.

On Dec. 16, ground was broken for the Lutheran Senior City on Rt. 62 at Parkview-av. The city will provide 269 housing units, with some infirmary facilities at a cost of $2,650,000.00. Heading this project for the Lutheran Welfare League is the Rev. Arthur Rismiller, Geriatics Chaplain for the League.

Council Membership Grows

During 1862, eight congregations voted voluntarily to become members of the Council of Churches. Four of these are newly-organized congregations which have had their first opportunity to make application, and the other four are older congregations.

This brings the formal membership in the Council to 152 congregations in the metropolitan area, the largest number of churches ever to hold membership.

Beginning Jan. 1, there is a Department of Faith and Order in the structure of the Council of Churches.

Faith and Order is the Department that has for its concern, matters of theological questions. What is the nature of the church? What is the nature of man? Is he the child of God or is he the child of Satan? What is Christian Baptism? What is the nature of the Christian Ministry and Ordination?

These and many related theological questions are the concern of Faith and Order. This concern was first developed on the world level, where denominations met in world conclave to face their differences. It attempts reconciliation and mutual recognition in looking toward the greater unity of the church.

It has made such an impact on the world scene, that now local congregations are involving themselves in this kind of confrontation. Chairman of the new department is the Rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Columbus, Mr. Jonathan N. Mitchell. This department involving local congregations, will parallel the theological studies that are being carried on by the denominational families. Its end result will be greater rapprochement among the denominations and a greater pathway to church unity.

Chaplaincy Services

Chaplaincy services in hospitals and institutions continue to be a growing service and concern of the churches. The year 1962 was the second year of the full-time services of a Protestant Chaplain at Grant Hospital. A donation from a citizen who underwrote the program for a year initiated the service, and this year another citizen made a memorial gift which helped to continue the program.

Presently chaplains are serving the Juvenile Detention Center, Mercy Hospital, Benjamin Franklin Tuberculosis Hospital, Franklin County Home and Alum Crest Hospital, and the Court of Domestic Relations under the auspices of the cooperating churches.

Among the hopes for 1963 is that of instituting services in additional hospitals where no chaplains are now serving.

Strengthening Cooperation

Churches of the Columbus area made noteworthy advances during the year in their spirit and degree of cooperation. As indicated above, eight more churches came into membership in the Council, and advances were made in organizational matters and financial support. The spirit of cooperation is growing as well as the trend toward unity.

It is noteworthy that the current president of the Council of Churches is a layman. He is Henry C. Ruegg, trust officer in the Ohio National Bank, and a member of the Westgate EUB Church.

Ruegg's term of service is concurrent with that of an industrialist who is president of the National Council of Churches, Irwin J. Miller, of Columbus, Ind., a member of the Christian Church, Disciples. I might also add, that a laywoman heads the Ohio Council of Churches. She is Frances Kapitsky, of Strasburg, a member of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

For the first time, the Council of Churches designed and adopted an official emblem this year. It is a drawing of the city of Columbus, with a cross against the sky above the skyline, within a frame which is the outline of Franklin County, the normal community which the Council serves. Around the picture are two concentric circles within which is the name of the Council.

Throughout the years of its use, the symbol will identify the Council and its concern for the city and the metropolitan area which it serves.

Some insects have been brought into the United States purposely, then released in order to control harmful insects, say Ohio State University Extension entomologists.

Inheritance Taxes Hit New High

Inheritance taxes collected in Ohio this year amounted to $37,367,384.53 according to a tabulation of tax settlements filed with State Auditor James A. Rhodes by county auditors.

This is a new record for one year, Rhodes said, exceeding by more than three million dollars collections in 1961 totaling $24,200,234.

One-half of the tax goes to the municipality or township where it originated. The other half is paid into the state's general revenue fund after deducting the fees allowed the offices of the county auditor and the county treasurer. These fees amounted to $926,976 this year, leaving $12,756,433.99 as the state's share.

The inheritance and estate taxes collected in the largest six counties of the state amounted to more than $17.7 million, or almost two-thirds of the total state collections. Cuyahoga county led as usual with $6,468,437.32, followed by Hamilton with $3,264,704.84; Franklin, $2,148,363.19; Lucas $1,532,862.12; Montgomery, $1,185,863.99; Summit, $1,148,926.26.

Inheritance taxes collected in Franklin County in 1962 were $2,148,363 and in 1961, $1,317,334.

Three Major Expansion Steps Slated At Huntington

A list of progressive moves scheduled for 1963 has been announced by John E. Stevenson, chairman, and Clair E. Fultz, president, of the Huntington National Bank of Columbus.

The list includes:

Ground-breaking ceremonies for Huntington West, Columbus' newest multi-story office building to be constructed at Broad and Third-sts.

Opening of the bank's ninth office, on Georgesville-rd, south of W. Broad-st.

Addition of still more elements of the Huntington's electronic computer system, the first such "brain" to be operated in a central Ohio bank.

These steps, designed to further increase the Huntington's capacity to serve Columbus and central Ohio families and businesses, follow on the heels of a particularly busy year.

During 1962 Huntington opened a new office at 1531 W. Lane-av; extended its services to Grove City through a merger with the First National Bank of Grove City; built a new office in the Amos Shopping Center on Cleveland-av, and added offices in Canal Winchester and Groveport through the merger with the Peoples' Bank of Canal Winchester.

In 1962 the first units of the bank's Burroughs electronic computer system were installed in a special air-conditioned and sound-proofed room. The sorter-reader unit has been thoroughly "field-tested," operators have been trained, and the errorless "brain" is processing more than 1500 checks a minute.

"Our 97th year has been the busiest and most productive in history," said Stevenson and Fultz, "but we confidently expect 1963 will see still greater progress.

"The Huntington National Bank has one purpose, to provide helpful service to the families and businesses of Columbus and central Ohio. So long as the demand for these services increases, we will continue to expand to make them available."

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of Huntington National Bank's Westview office located on Georgesville-rd near W. Broad-st. This office represents the latest addition to Huntington's rapidly expanding operations.

Milk production was nearly 1 billion pounds greater than 1961. This increase has caused the CCC purchase of about 8 percent of the 1962 product as compared to 6.5 percent in 1961 and 3 percent in 1960. With lowered supports, prices for early 1963 may be below the same period in 1962, but after April 1 are expected to run about the same as 1962.

Bulk tank and super pool premiums are likely to continue to disappear, affecting producer income.

DOWN 13 PER CENT

School Drop-Out Rate Decreased Last Year

By Joseph L. Davis and Lyle H. Hamilton
Public Information Office
Columbus Public Schools

January

Columbus Public School teachers received an across-the-board salary hike, the first of two increases in 1962 made possible by the passage of a school tax levy in November, 1961. The starting salary of a bachelor's - degree teacher was boosted to $4400 and of a master's - degree teacher to $4700.

Frank S. Williams was elected president of the Board of Education and Paul R. Langdon, vice-president. Dr. Watson H. Walker began serving his freshman year on the board and Mrs. Ralph H. Davidson was appointed to fill the unexpired term of William R. Fornof, who resigned to assume new duties as a city councilman.

Another $5000 check — the ninth in the past nine years — was sent to Columbus Superintendent Harold H. Elbling by an anonymous donor. As in the past, the money was granted to 10 teachers selected by the school system for projects to improve education.

Columbus Public Schools continued their amazing growth pattern as enrollments hit 88,499, more than double the 1948 enrollment. The growth rate has made Columbus the second largest school system in Ohio and twice in recent years the second fastest growing system in the nation. Continued increases of 4,500 pupils or more are expected for the near future.

February

During a month-long Festival of Freedom, special attention was given to the development in every child of a better understanding of his rights and freedoms. Teachers encouraged students to engage in activities that made them think about and express themselves on the privileges of American citizenship.

The dropout rate in Columbus Public Schools was announced as being reduced from nearly 50 per cent to about 37 per cent, according to a study made by H. M. Williams, director of pupil personnel. Using the current fifth-grade class as a base, this means that 63 out of every 100 pupils can be expected to finish high school.

March

A district - wide emergency alerting system was initiated. The system makes use of the facilities of the Board of Education's FM radio station, WCBE. In case of an emergency, small monitors attached to FM radio sets in each school are energized by a signal from the WCBE transmitter.

April

The Board of Education lengthened the elementary school day by 30 minutes and thereby added the equivalent of 18 days to the school year. Increased time resulted from changing the elementary schedule to 8:45 to 11:45 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. The schedule had been 9 a.m. to noon and 1:15 to 3:15 p.m.

Effective Apr. 1, Board of Education granted salary increases to many civil service and unclassified personnel of the school system.

Contracts totalling $884,964 for the construction of Eastmoor Junior High School were awarded.

The Board of Education adopted a new science textbook series for grades three through six; two new music textbook series, one for kindergarten and the first grade and one for grades two to four; and a new history book for grade four. The new history text was "Columbus, the Buckeye Capital," by Miss Anamae Martin, a supervising principal of the Columbus Public Schools.

May

Contracts for the remodeling of East High School were awarded.

Contracts were awarded for the construction of Kenwood and Salem elementary schools. Total amount of all contracts for both buildings was $620,944.

June

Superintendent Harold H. Elbling was named as one of the 14 winners of the American Educators Medal awarded by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge in nationwide competition.

The Board of Education adopted eight textbooks for use in secondary schools. The adoptions included new texts for third - year Latin, third - and fourth-year German, eleventh-grade health education, modified English (grades seven to 11), seventh - grade modified geography, and ninth-grade modified general science.

Remodeling of North High School was started. Contracts for the summer work amounted to $323,000.

July

The budget of the Columbus Public Schools for 1963 totalled $40,049,810.88, an increase of just under $1 million over 1962. The slight increase was due to normal growth of enrollment. The net operating budget proposed for 1963 was $33,729,795, compared to $33,466,889.77 in 1962.

September

The Board of Education passed a resolution encouraging the instructional staff "to continue in every reasonable way to make such use of classroom, assembly room or other types of prayers as they in their own good judgment shall deem proper, fitting and appriate to the occasion."

Columbus Public School issued a teaching guide entitled "Americanism Versus Communism" for use in the senior high school Principles of Democracy course.

October

The personnel office of the Columbus Public Schools reported it held 4,025 interviews before recommending a record of 617 new teachers. The expanded staff of teaching per-

Local Taxes May Rise

There seems to be a better than even chance that some kind of a federal tax cut is due for the nation in 1963.

But state and local governments are under pressure to raise their taxes in order to support their public facilities.

Several economists say if local governments do not immediately raise taxes, they will turn to debt financing—meaning more taxes in the future.

Forty-seven counties produce two-thirds of the potatoes raised in the United States, says the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Boy Scout Council Served 131,391 Youths Last Year

By R. W. (Ree) Lutz
Central Ohio Council

In the nine-county area of Central Ohio Council over 25,000 boys were on rolls during 1962 in one of the three programs: Cub Scouting (ages 8-10); Boy Scouting (ages 11-13); and Exploring (ages 14-17). We have 131,391 boys in the council territory between ages 8-17.

The year ended with a total of 660 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts, Ships and Squadrons. This is a net increase of 70 units.

More than 7,500 men and women gave thousands upon thousands of hours as leaders, assistants, commissioners, den mothers and committeemen.

Four hundred two sponsors (churches, PTA's, lodges, schools, service clubs and similar organizations), use the scouting program as part of their total program in achieving their overall youth objectives. This is a net increase of 42 sponsors.

There were 9214 rank advancements during the year (Wolf, Bear, Lion, 2nd Class, 1st Class, Star, Life and Eagle) Over 6,700 merit badges were earned with a noticeable increase in the outdoor and physical fitness groups.

A record 2550 scouts plus leaders were in summer camp at Lazarus, the largest in the council's history in one season. Fifty-one Scouts, Explorers and leaders took the Council Philmont trek. One hundred sixty-four Scouts and leaders participate in wilderness canoe trips and almost 6000 Scouts and leaders took part in the district camporees throughout the area.

Assistance was given to town and city government and to such organizations and activities as Ohio State University, toys for tots, museums, united funds, blood banks, community chests, hospitals, Sabin on Sunday.

Seventy-three per cent of operating budget comes from the above sources. The balance must be raised through individual adult sustaining membership enrollments.

Highlights of 1962

Through the efforts of a dedicated group of scouters and with the help of a sympathetic public a camp capital development fund campaign for $750,000 was oversubscribed at the victory dinner in March of '62.

Camp development has already begun in Greenhills Reservation, south of Logan, and will be in operation in June. An additional 1000 Scouts can go camping during the eight-week summer period. This is a 40 per cent increase in boy opportunity.

"A Together Plan," to interest more institutions and clubs to provide greater opportunity for boys to belong to scouting, was held last fall. Again, people were interested, and over 60 institutions took it upon themselves to become sponsors and provide the scouting program to their boys and those of the community.

Lake Shore System Increased Number Of Buses By 17 Percent

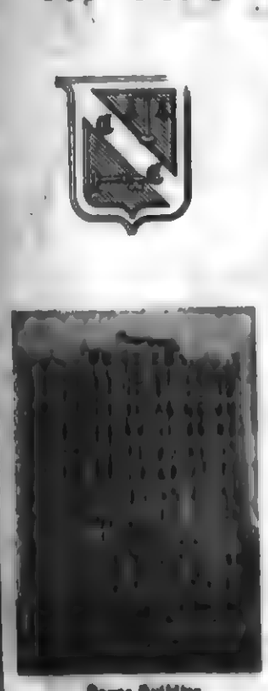
The Lake Shore System, a passenger bus carrier, with offices in Columbus, provides travel service to and from points in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Service includes frequent schedules to Circleville, Chillicothe, Lancaster, Logan, Athens, Pomeroy, Granville and Newark. Long distance schedules operate through Zanesville, Cambridge, Steubenville, Wheeling and Weirton, W. Va., to Pittsburgh. Connections are made in all the larger cities for transfer to points nationwide.

In line with a progressive modernization program, 17 per cent of the fleet of buses in regular and charter service were purchased in 1962. New General Motors and Flexible buses were added at a cost of nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

One of the services offered by Lake Shore System is its charter bus service which allows the chartering group exclusive right to the bus. The bus route and itinerary are also planned by those contracting for the bus.

Many organizations charter buses for inter-church visitations, sporting events, flower shows, ski trips, industrial plant tours, family reunions, choral group singing tours and a host of other reasons.



The Lake Shore System says its equipment is the finest, and the rates reasonable. Arrangements have been made to answer all inquiries regarding the service.

In addition to regular passenger and charter service, the system provides for package express service. Small packages of less than 100 pounds may be shipped to any community in the United States served by bus. Packages are carried on the regularly scheduled runs.

Officials at Lake Shore said the recent cancellation of the federal transportation tax makes traveling by bus more reasonable than ever.

A soil test, when properly done, can help eliminate most of the guesswork of soil fertility management on Ohio farms, according to Ohio State University Extension agronomists.

Q: How is it possible to buy a quality home for as little as $9.95 TOTAL CASH DOWN PAYMENT

A: With the Ernest G. Fritsche Plan, you agree to handle certain of the finishing-up tasks on your home. Your work, plus the cost of the few materials required, reduces the normal down payment to as little as $9.95, depending on price of the home you select.

Q: What if I'm not handy with tools . . . or don't have lots of free time?

A: There's no carpentry, plumbing or electrical work . . . only painting and planting. Most people finish in three weekends.

Q: Is this some kind of land contract, or is there a second mortgage?

A: Absolutely not! You get prompt title to both house and lot with a single mortgage based on standard financing and lowest possible monthly payments.

Q: What about closing costs or other expenses?

A: There are none! After your low down payment . . . as low as $9.95 . . . you have only your regular payment to make each month.

Q: How many people have used the $9.95 plan?

A: So far, more than 500 Ernest G. Fritsche homes have been purchased under the $9.95 Total Cash Down plan.

Q: Is this plan mainly for people who couldn't afford to buy a home with a regular down payment?

A: No! The purpose is to enable responsible families to have quality homes without waiting and without using so much of their savings for down payment.

Q: Are Fritsche homes really quality built?

A: Every Fritsche home is built by skilled craftsmen using the finest materials. Continuous on-the-job inspection assures a good job. The Fritsche Company Satisfaction Policy protects every Fritsche home buyer.

Q: What types of homes are available?

A: Included are ranch homes with and without basements, split-levels, bi-levels and two-story homes . . . some with as many as five bedrooms.

150,000 EMERGENCY CASES HANDLED

110,000 Patients Were Admitted To Columbus Hospitals Last Year

By Grant Dreese
Columbus Hospital Federation

Hospitals are an important segment of the economic life of the Metropolitan Columbus Area. More than 8,000 employes are on the monthly payroll of the 11 hospital members of The Columbus Hospital Federation, and operating costs were in excess of $32 million during 1962.

Approximately 110,000 patients were admitted to the general hospitals for an average stay of 7.9 days, and nearly 20,000 new citizens were born in Columbus hospitals. An estimated 150,000 emergency room cases were treated and 350,000 out-patient visits were recorded.

Special forms are used to provide an orderly transfer from the hospital to the nursing home or to the hospital from the nursing home when the physician determines that a transfer is advisable. Such transfers have increased from 210 in 1961 to 399 during the first 11 months of 1962. This program, developed under the leadership of the late Frances G. Hoffman of the federation staff, is expected to expand to additional hospitals of the city in the coming year.

St. Anthony Hospital completed new surgical and laboratory facilities, and added 28 beds in the new Frances Schervier Memorial wing. Mt. Carmel Hospital is currently modernizing and air conditioning its west wing patient facilities.

Grant Hospital placed its entire new facilities for 399 patients in full service during 1962. Mercy Hospital converted its small maternity section to services for medical and surgical patients.

Children's Hospital has improved its laboratory and out-patient facilities and continues to serve patients from 87 of the 88 counties in Ohio and patients from other states.

University Hospital serves as the medical center for the surrounding region, caring for more complicated cases transferred from various parts of the state, as well as providing hospital care for citizens of Franklin County.

Alum Crest Hospital at the Franklin County Home continues to serve the older citizens of Franklin County. Benjamin Franklin Tuberculosis Hospital has a reduced number of patients; and unfortunately, the voters of Franklin County defeated a levy for appropriations which would have made possible the conversion of part of the hospital for chronic care patients. Studies of the use of both Alum Crest and Benjamin Franklin Hospitals will be continued in 1963.

St. Ann's Hospital for Women continues to serve maternity and gynecological patients in the facilities which were modernized in 1960.

During October, 3000 beds were available in the accredited general hospitals of Franklin County and they were 81.7 per cent occupied during the entire month. In addition 330 beds were available for pulmonary disease patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital and 207 beds for geriatric patients were available at Alum Crest Hospital.

The excellent cooperation of physicians, prominent citizens, industries, labor, religious leaders, educators, insurance companies, and governmental agencies in achievement of this objective is an outstanding feature of progress in Columbus and Franklin County.

Expansion, New Facilities Highlight 1962 Progress At The Electric Company

The end of the year 1962 finds business activity holding at the record levels reached earlier in the year. Thus there has been a gradual increase in the economy of the nation as a whole, and the service area of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

One of the reasons for this increase and steady growth, according to the electric utilities, is the amount of electricity consumed per customer. Home building has remained steady throughout the year. Residential construction is running at slightly above 1.5 million units a year, well above a year ago.

Americans now have more electricity than the next five nations of the world combined. For example, we have three times as much as Russia. The average American home uses twice as much electricity for lighting alone as the typical Russian home uses for all purposes.

The electric company, whose budget and plans for construction are already scheduled for the next decade or more, welcomes the nation's growth and prosperity as a challenge. During the year just passed, the company continued its expansion of facilities with the installation of new distribution equipment, transmission lines, and the completion of the newest generating unit at its Conesville plant.

This latest addition at Conesville makes a total of more than a million kilowatts of electric power capacity for the Columbus and Southern Ohio area. Yet it is but one phase of the company's improvement and expansion program which has required expenditures of almost $200 million the past 10 years.

Last year the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. initiated a long-range study of the economy of Central and Southern Ohio and its probable growth over the next 25 years. The study is being conducted by Battelle Memorial Institute and will run another year. The results will provide guideposts for use by the company and by various communities of the region for stimulating economic and cultural growth in the area.

As company officials see the future, it is in a period of sound and steady growth and 1963 should be a firm year moving steadily toward future progress and prosperity for Central and Southern Ohio.

Official tabulation of enrollment hits 93,666, another new high for the Columbus Public Schools.

Ohio State Supreme Court held on Oct. 17 that boards of education can ban fraternities and sororities in high schools. The court dismissed appeals of lower court decisions which upheld the ban. The Supreme Court ruled 4 to 0 that a constitutional question was not involved.

November

Contracts totalling $1,104,000 were awarded for the construction of Buckeye Junior High School. The school is scheduled for occupancy in September, 1963.

Whetstone High School and Walnut - Ridge Junior - Senior High School were dedicated.

December

T. H. Mayer, principal of Eastmoor High School, was named first principal of Brookhaven High School. Gordon K. Harris, vice-principal at North High, was named to succeed Mayer at Eastmoor.

Woodcrest Elementary School was dedicated.

A new music textbook series for fifth and sixth grades was adopted by the Board of Education.

Superintendent Harold H. Eibling said Columbus Public Schools will not hire new cadet teachers starting next fall. At the present time, only 33 of the 3,237 Coumbus teachers are in the cadet program.

Annual soil erosion loss in the U.S. is estimated at three billion tons. This is equivalent to the top six inches from three million acres of land.

Did You Ever Hear The Warning Bell?

If you saw the televised showing of "The Warning Bell" over WLW-C on Monday evening you must agree that this new public service production by the Nationwide Insurance Company is one of the best yet.

It was my pleasure to witness a preview of this movie this past week and I must admit that now I have heard the "Warning Bell."

This film is available for showing to groups by merely contacting any Nationwide representative. It carries no commercials and is meant to merely show every individual how he fits into a picture of safety in his community and his home. The nice part is that it makes a point without spilling any blood. It strikes hard at the accident problem: [illegible] ness, indifference, and irresponsibility.

Just about time when winter comes up for a good slug of real cold weather the mail man arrives with my annual seed catalogue and thus provides one of my best evenings at home in front of an open fireplace.

And while the ground is a solid sheet of white is the most appropriate time to scan through all the colors of a seed catalogue.

What is prettier than a Blue Wonder Aster or a Mr. Sam Marigold, unless it is a Big Boy Tomato or Honey Cross Golden Corn or one of those luscious hybrid cantaloupes!

Oh well, a guy can dream can't he?

And this past week Frank Roberts of West Jefferson calls in to advise that a robin flew down to get some feed at his bird feeder last Thursday. Surely that bird must have gotten lost on his way south! We wish him well though and will welcome his whole clan!

YMCA Week Coming Up

Next week is National YMCA Week.

The Y has, for more than a century, extended a hand of help to thousands of young men who have grown up and become the most dedicated of YMCA supporters.

The YMCA has pioneered in developing many new programs for our youth and has added much to the functioning of the family as a Christian unit.

In this coming week take time to visit a branch of your YMCA and see the good work being carried on today. It is a time to be thankful for the dedicated service of so many men who give of their time to this fine character building organization.

Right Side, Sir!

Next time you have occasion to attach an identification card or tag to your dress or coat lapel why not place it on the right side instead of the left.

Take time to experiment. You will find that your eye rather automatically picks up an identification when the tag is on the right side and at the same time you can see the person bearing the tag. Try it.

Local Poets Active

Hartley Newspapers is receiving mail each day from readers submitting material for the big Cupid edition on Feb. 6-7.

Persons with a flare for writing creative prose, poetry, or other material appropriate for Valentine's Day are urged to send copy in before Jan. 25.

Material should be original, and contain 200 words or less. Hartley Newspapers reserves the right to print or reject any contributions.

Hilltop School Expansion Program Slated

CROSSSING CLAIMS MARINE'S LIFE

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP squadmen carry the body of Marine S/Sgt. Francis G. Seidel to the squad truck after he was killed Saturday when his car collided with a train at the New York Central crossing on Sullivant-av. The crossing does not have warning flashers or gates. (Also see the story and pictures on page 5.)

Hilltonia, Eakin Additions OKed; New Junior High Seen In Future

A purposeful plan to house the expanding school population on the Hilltop's southwest was put into effect by the Columbus School Board, Tuesday.

Approval was stamped on preliminary drawings for an additional four classrooms, and possibly six, on the north side of Hilltonia Junior High School, 2345 W. Mound-st.

And a Feb. 27 deadline for bids was set for expanding Eakin Elementary by at least eight rooms, and possibly 10.

Both projects, part of the 1963 building program, should be completed this year.

At the same time, the school board took a long, careful look at the rapid development of the area, and prophesied a new junior high would be built in two or three years across from Eakin Elementary, 3774 Eakin-rd.

The site is already owned by the board. Since the project wasn't included in the current, four-year building program, construction of the building would probably be delayed until at least 1964 or 1965.

School construction, keeping pace with the community's development, has been an accurate yardstick to measure the Hilltop's growth.

Until six years ago, all junior high students were housed in West Junior-Senior High School building. Hilltonia Junior High opened in 1956, and Westmoor Junior High, 3001 Valleyview-dr, was completed in 1958-59.

The two new buildings have never been able to completely absorb junior high students, and five classes of seventh graders are still studying at West Junior-Senior.

Construction of new elementaries, and additions to existing buildings have kept pace.

AT GLADDEN, THURSDAY

Service Director On Agenda

Ernest H. Stork will play swami to the West Side Neighborhood Council Thursday night, Jan. 17, during its second annual meeting.

Stork, this city's service director and main speaker for the evening, will discuss what plans, improvements and changes will be in store for the West Side during the coming year.

He will also be available for questions following his talk.

The meeting, which starts at 8 p.m., will be held at Gladden Community House, 183 Hawkes-av.

Walter Cunningham, retiring president, will chair the meeting which is open to all people who work, live, or own property in the near West Side area.

The meeting will be divided into three main sections. First, the chairman of the council committees will report and summarize the year's activities. These matters are concerned with health, traffic, welfare, recreation and membership. Committee chairmen for the year are appointed by the Executive Committee of the Council at their February meeting.

The second part will be an election of new officers and neighborhood representatives for the Executive Committee.

The Nominating Committee, chaired by Fred Staley, disclosed the following slate of nominations:

President, Stanley Dorin; vice-president, Fred Van Order; secretary, Mrs. Ruth Burke, Mrs. Bertha Bean; treasurer, Claud Jones, Ralph McGarry.

Community Council Votes For Renewed Sidewalk Effort

The adage, "If at first you don't succeed; try and try again," best describes the actions at Hilltop's Community Council. The council, turned down on three previous tries in four years, is once again attempting to secure sidewalks in the new Westgate Park area where a new recreation center will open in May.

The council voted unanimously to renew action on the sidewalks and is sending letters to Mayor W. Ralston Westlake, the Columbus Recreation Department and Division of Parks and Forests.

The council will point out in the letters the pressing need to extend existing sidewalks from the tennis courts along Westgate-av to Parkside-rd and from there to Sullivant-av.

Hilltop residents have complained that school children and adults must walk in the street or through mud during bad weather on Westgate-av. Council contends the situation creates a safety hazard on the well-traveled avenue. Traffic is expected to increase when the new center opens.

Council members are hoping their action will bring results from the city, said Pete Block, president.

Block and the executive committee at a meeting Thursday appointed the following chairmen for the coming year: Mrs. Charles L. Shaw, 47 Whitethorne-av, membership; Mrs. Overn Miller, 104 S. Wheatland-av, assistant membership; Charles Moore, 299 S. Hague-av, special events; Mrs. Eugene Evans, 146 Haldy-av, youth services; John Reese, 3128 Wicklow-rd, civic improvement; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rucker, 3257 Fisher-rd, program, and Mrs. Ginny Berger, 110 S. Westgate-av, public relations.

The council will hold its next meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 14 in the Hilltop YMCA. Mel Dodge of the Columbus Recreation Department will be guest speaker and report on progress to the new recreation center.

Meetings are open to all interested persons.

Improved, Enlarged Curriculum Ready For New Evening High School Term

Anyone interested in completing high school, or in continuing education, will find almost unlimited opportunities in the subjects offered at Evening High School.

The school is operated in the Central High School Building, 75 S. Washington-blvd. Most classes meet one period on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and a few meet for three periods on Monday or Wednesday evenings only.

Registrations will be received Thursday, Jan. 24, and Monday, Jan. 28, 5:45 to 9 p.m., at the school. The semester will begin Tuesday, Jan. 29.

A variety of courses in the fields of English, sciences, languages, social studies, mathematics and business, including accounting, are listed.

Two newest courses in the curriculum are creative writing and great literature.

The popular word study and rapid reading course is designed to step up reading ability and increase vocabulary, reading speed and understanding. It also improves spelling.

The program contains readings from eighth to 14th grade levels, and through it the rate of speed is increased, and comprehension skills and vocabulary are improved.

Those interested may call the Evening School at CA. 4-3243. G. B. Newton is principal.

West Teacher Named Cadet Principal

Charles Meyers, history and social studies teacher at West High School since 1957, is one of four Columbus teachers promoted to the post of cadet principal.

Approval of the appointment was made by the school board, Tuesday.

Meyers, a graduate of Central High School and of Capital University with both Master's and Bachelor of Arts degrees, taught first in Marion in 1951.

He also taught in Hillsboro and in Centerburg before joining the Columbus system as a teacher at Franklin Junior High in 1956.

As a cadet principal, Meyers will be assigned to the administration building for training as an administrator, and then will be assigned to a school.

Firm Agrees To Fill Ditch Near Homes

Hilltop residents living near Roys-cl will breathe easier come spring. Contractors have agreed to fill a ditch, 70 to 80 feet long, near the Friends Home.

Twenty Hilltop citizens petitioned City Council in early December to grade, seed and restore the ditch, which is considered hazardous to children playing in the area.

Edward Paas, 198 N. Powell-av, presented the complaint to the council concerning the ditch left open by contractors building six apartments near Roys-cl.

The matter das referred to Russell Leach, city attorney, by the council.

Bill Melvin, assistant city attorney, contacted building company officials who agreed to fill the ditch with rubble as soon as the weather turns better. The area will be covered with top soil and graded, according to Melvin.

The city vacated part of Roys-cl so the present series of apartments could be built.

Family Night Set On West Side

Family Night will be held again at the West Side's Gladden Community House, 183 Hawkes-av, Friday evening, Jan. 18. All children must be accompanied by parents. Membership cards will be checked at the door.

The movie, "Knute Rockne, All American," will be shown at the event.

Registration for the tap and ballet classes being held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. every Saturday is being taken at the community house.

Businessmen Urge 10-Point Hilltop Plan

A 10-point program for improvement of the Hilltop was outlined last Wednesday evening by Elmer J. Hegenberger, newly installed president of the Hilltop Business Association, when the group met at Lincoln Lodge for its annual party.

Hegenberger contends the following things can be put into action by following the motto "Keep busy as a bee in '63."

1. Better flow and control of traffic.
2. Improved supervision of our parks, and continuance of cooperation with the parks and forestry and recreation departments of the City of Columbus.
3. Better public transportation.
4. Improved street lighting in thoroughfares and in subdivisions.
5. Adequate police protection, to protect residents and businesses on the Hilltop.
6. Cooperation with school programs.
7. Improved water and sewerage systems, to eliminate the backing up of sewers and drains in basements.
8. Better public relations. Make Hilltop Business Association stand out by acts and advertising.
9. Continue to improve Christmas street decorations.
10. Increase membership by creating a desire to be a member of Hilltop Business Association.

"We would like for the people of the Hilltop to bring their suggestions and recommendations, including complaints, to any member of the association, so that they may feel we are interested in their welfare, and the betterment of our community," Hegenberger said. "We in turn benefit by their patronage, for which we are all striving."

A gift was presented to Nelson Greene, immediate past president, secretary of First Federal Savings and Loan Association. A life membership was presented to John Broden of the Ternstedt Division of General Motors.

Officers were installed by Judge Charles R. Petree.

Two new members, William F. Burns, manager of Columbus Finance Company, 3079 W. Broad-st, and Fred M. Fry, manager of Midas Muffler Company, 3263 W. Broad-st, were inducted by C. Carlton Hartley, master of ceremonies.

HILLTOP 'Y' MAY MAKE IDES EASIER

The Hilltop YMCA will offer an Income Tax Clinic open to the public. Instructor for this course will be Donovan Campbell, an Internal Revenue agent supervising in field audit.

The clinic will consist of two sessions on Jan. 23 and 30 from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Topic for the first week will deal with income and the second session is related to deductions. A question and answer period will follow each presentation.

Interested persons are urged to call the Hilltop "Y" at BR. 6-5306 to make reservations by Jan. 19. There will be no charge for this instruction.

OUR SAVIOUR CHURCH OPENS

FRONT DOORS of the new Our Saviour Lutheran Church, Damorest-rd at Briggs-rd, will swing wide to admit worshippers for the first time this Sunday. Services are planned at 8:15 and 10.45 a.m. Rev. Paul H. Buchholtz is pastor. Architect for the contemporary style building, first unit in a four-unit program, was Richard W. Mayer. (See entired building pictured on page 8.)

NURSING HOME HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

MURRAY HILL MANOR, 880 Greenlawn-av, non-sectarian nursing home was officially opened last Friday. Open house was held Sunday with some 3000 visitors touring the building. Built by Virginia Homes, Inc., the manor cost more than $500,000. It is affiliated with Mt. Carmel Hospital and is supervised by Robert W. Stuart. The one-story three-wing structure will accommodate 95 persons. Shown here is part of the manor's comfortable dining area.

Firestone Employes Surprised

That the value of the great American dollar is gradually declining can hardly be argued, but Robert Hadsell, manager of the Firestone store in the Great Western Shopping Center, will debate the purchasing power of our penny.

Last week the store, in a newspaper advertisement labeled "Look What a Penny Will Buy," offered the following services for a 1956 penny with a "D" mint mark:

Brake adjustment to manufacturer's specification and road test, cleaning, inspection, repacking and adjustment of front wheel bearings, brake fluid, check of front grease seals and wheel cylinders, inspection of brake linings and drums, and a safety check from bumper to bumper.

Employes at Firestone were flabbergasted when 30 customers produced the correct coins! The advertisement appeared in this newspaper.

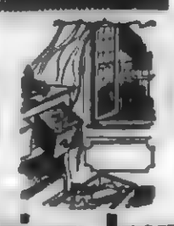
Ohio has more area used for horticultural specialties than any other state. It has 36.2 million square feet under glass. California places second with 30.7 million square feet.

Auto Skids 165 Feet; Then Hits Utility Fixture

A car hit a utility pole at Hague-av and El Paso-dr, disrupting electrical service to about six homes for more than an hour early last Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies charged the driver, William E. Whittington, 61, of 3562 Trabue-rd, with drunken driving and failing to maintain an assured clear distance ahead. He was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital for nose and left arm injuries.

Whittington's car ran 165 feet in the east ditch along Hague-av, tearing down 35 feet of wire fence, before hitting the pole, deputies said.



The crash impact blew a fuse at 2:27 a.m., a Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. spokesman said. Repairs were completed at 3:49 a.m.

The average American spends only about a fifth of his income from a 40-hour week for food.

Ohio Bar Association Names Moore For Executive Duties

William C. Moore, 392 Yarmouth-in, Lincoln Village, is the Ohio State Bar Association's new assistant secretary and public relations director.

William C. Moore

Moore, a newsman with the Associated Press here for the past four years, succeeds James I. Smith, III, who took a similar position in Pittsburgh.

Moore, 27, is a graduate of Ohio State University, receiving his BA degree in journalism in 1957 and his MA, specializing in public relations, in 1962.

His graduate thesis, "A Critical Analysis of Public Relations Practitioners in a Midwestern Metropolitan Area," (Columbus) was published in part in "Public Relations Journal."

In addition to his experience with the Associated Press, Moore was production manager for the Bureau of Public Information, Ohio Department of Highways, for a year, and a reporter for the old Ohio State Journal. His father, Clyde D. Moore, is a Hilltop resident and a columnist for the Columbus Dispatch.

Moore, who also is a first lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve, will have duties which include: editing the weekly Ohio Bar magazine and the monthly Ohio Lawyer, staff assistant to several association committees and editorial supervision of the weekly series "You and the Law."

City National Names Two Cashiers

City National Bank President John G. McCoy and Chairman Everett D. Reese have announced the election of two new assistant cashiers, Paul A. Barnett, 375 Weymouth-ln, and Joseph A. Fodey, Jr., 164 Oxley-rd.

J. A. FODEY

Fodley, who joined City National in 1957, attended Xavier and Ohio State Universities. He presently is treasurer of the Columbus Chapter of The American Institute of Banking. He will be working at City National's main office, 20 E. Broad-st.

Barnett, a graduate of Ohio State University and The American Institute of Banking School, joined City National in 1957. He will be an officer at the bank's Long-st office.

The announcement of new officers was made at the bank's annual stockholders' meeting held Jan. 8. In reviewing the bank's growth, McCoy told the stockholders 1962 was the bank's most successful year.

P. A. BARNETT

Resources, now over $197 million, increased 10% over a year ago, while net operating income was reported at $3.99 compared to $3.08 per share last year. Most spectacular growth was a 31% increase in loans. Deposits were reported over $179 million.

PERMIT GRANTED

A building permit has been granted to the Hilltop-Westgate Realty, Inc., 2997 W. Broad-st, for the construction of a six-room frame and brick dwelling and attached garage at 3434 Maple Shade-ct in Franklin Township. Cost estimated at $18,000.

OES District Slates Annual Meet Jan. 26

The 42nd annual meeting of the 17th District Association, Order of Eastern Star, will be held Saturday, Jan. 26 at the Youth Center, 17th-av.

The meeting will convene at 1:30 p.m. with the following officers presiding, Mrs. Ruth Kaltenbach, president, Burma Chapter; Mrs. Amanda Wassmuth, first vice-president, R. T. King Chapter; Mrs. Dorothy Wolford, second vice-president, Bexley Chapter.

Miss Frances Gurley, third vice-president, Minerva Chapter; Mrs. Alice DeForest, secretary, Light O'Day Chapter, and Mrs. Luella Wagner, treasurer, Worthington Chapter.

The 17th District is composed of 25 chapters in Franklin County with a membership of over 15,000.

Following the meeting dinner will be served at 5 p.m. Reservations should be made with chapter secretaries.

The evening session will convene at 7.

Mrs. Doris Carpenter, deputy grand matron of the 17th District, will introduce Mrs. Marguerite Hale, Hicksville, worthy grand matron, Grand Chapter of Ohio, who will preside over the school of instruction.

The ritualistic work will be exemplified by the worthy grand matron and other grand officers of the Grand Chapter of Ohio.

All members of the Order of Eastern Star are invited to attend the district meeting and the school of instruction.

Franklin Board Slates Meeting On New Budget

Franklin County's Child Welfare Board will hold a special meeting Friday, Feb. 1 to determine how to cut last year's expenditures by about $25,000 for the 1963 budget.

Among possible alternatives the board may consider, would be carrying over its 1962 deficit another year, sharply curtailing the organization's medical program and closing Franklin Village, said Charles Canton, executive secretary.

Canton said last week that the agency's income this year, including a $75,000 county general fund appropriation, will not match the amount the board spent last year under a curtailed program.

The agency, which ended up 1962 with $84,000 in unpaid obligations, will have about $1,436,000 to operate with.

This amount, coupled with the deficit, leaves the welfare board with $134,000 less than it spent in 1962.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

California Markets Something To See

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, grapes, California navel oranges.

Vegetables — Lettuce, carrots, potatoes, tomatoes, green peppers.

On my first day in Ohio after a glorious vacation in southern California, I feel much better qualified to tell you about the markets there than here at home. The vegetable displays everywhere we visited were beautiful but the fruits were truly spectacular.

Mrs. Franks

Perhaps the best of both fruits and vegetables were the ones we saw at famous Farmers' Market in Pasadena — larger navel oranges than we ever see here and stacks of many fruits that are specialties in our markets, such as persimmons, "sweet" winter pears, several varieties of tangelos and tangerines, many varieties of fresh dates and many avocados. How Californians do love avocados! They prepare them in dozens of ways, even eat them just as we would eat an apple. Prices on these high quality fruits are not low, even with the abundance; vegetables generally, are cheaper than in our markets.

Tourists appreciate California's dry, warm weather this winter far more than the producers. They badly need rain. However, a trip through the fertile Cochella Valley showed how lush vegetables grow under their modern irrigation system without rainfall. Beautiful lettuce, tomatoes and other vegetables will be coming our way all winter from these irrigated valleys.

Latest On The Florida Citrus Situation

Marketing specialists say that estimates are still being made to determine the exact extent of the freeze damage. Most of the Florida oranges now on the market are from the Indian River area which missed most of the freeze. Regulations have been relaxed to permit No. 2 grade oranges to be shipped out of Florida.

The Valencia orange crop is about ready for harvest and will start moving on the market near the end of January. U.S.D.A. inspectors report that two-thirds of the Valencia crop showed no apparent damage below one-half inch at the stem.

With additional supplies soon to appear on the market and store shelves replenished, orange prices likely will decrease and approach normal prices, but will not reach the exceptionally low prices you paid before the freeze. At present, California navel oranges may be a comparatively good buy, when both quality and price are considered.

As to be expected, there's a wide variance in the quality of oranges and you will be wise to shop very carefully. Look for oranges that are firm, heavy for their size and have a fine-textured skin for the variety.

As has been reported earlier, many of the oranges hit by the freeze have been diverted to juice. There is some indication that the juice supply may be large enough, coupled with the unusually large carry-over from last year, to have considerable effect in returning juice prices to near normal levels.

Extension Clubs Slate Area Meet

A Southwest area meeting of the Home Extension clubs will be held Tuesday, Jan. 22, 1 p.m., at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Rome.

Subject is "Getting a Professional Look in Dress Construction," and will be taught by Mrs. Bertha Everhart, county extension agent.

Meeting is open to members of Hilltop, Grove City, Galloway, Hilliard and New Rome clubs, and friends.

OSU MOTHERS

Group "A", Ohio State University Mothers Club, will hold a dessert luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, at Westgate Methodist Church, 345 S. Brinker-av.

Mrs. R. L. Clements will show slides on her trip to Alaska.

PLAY REVIEWS, TIPS ON 'BREEZE CHASERS' 'TUESDAY AT THE Y'

Pataky will highlight current Broadway productions, talk about what makes a play a hit, especially during a newspaper strike, and new productions which can be expected for spring.

During the morning hours Mrs. Thomas Sample will conduct a workshop for making "Breeze Chasers." Mrs. Sample will also give tips on making and trimming hats, making bridal veils, and answer questions on simple alterations.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring a 27-inch square of nylon net, matching thread and a needle, a piece of grosgrain ribbon at least 38 inches long, scissors, pins and sequins, bows, butterflies, flower petals, or other trimmings.

At noon, luncheon will be served by the class in gourmet and foreign cooking under the instruction of Mrs. Don Gephart.

Entire cost of the day-long program, including luncheon, is $1.

Supervised baby-sitting, with crafts, is available without charge. Mothers are requested to bring a sack lunch for their children. Milk will be furnished.

The program is arranged as a privilege of YWCA membership or a YMCA family membership. For further information call CA. 4-9121.

HOME LOANS
1962 was our forty-first year of service to this community. It was our pleasure to serve many families in many ways. During the past 12 months, we made loans totaling more than fifteen-and-a-half million dollars which helped hundreds of our neighbors to embark on a path toward home ownership. In 1963 we will continue to seek home loans in all parts of town. You will find that a home loan at First Federal offers many advantages including low closing costs; no penalty for an early loan pay-off; a new principal figured each month which automatically reduces the interest; a low interest rate which is guaranteed for the life of the loan. You will find our home loan counselors eager to assist you in every way possible. If you or any of your friends plan to buy or build, be sure to see First Federal first for a home loan.

Proceeds will go to the Franklin County Chapter, Multiple Sclerosis Society. Tickets may be purchased from members.

HAIR LOOK 'RATTY,' UNCOMBED? IT'S SUPPOSED TO, FELLOWS

If someone says your hair looks "ratty" and you're a member of the fairer sex, then smile. It's a compliment and, more important, if it's been a long time for you since the ivy halls of high school, no one can say you aren't keeping up with the times.

In a by-lined article, appearing in the South High "Optic," student writers Pauline McCoy and Sandra Hurley report that "ratting" or "teasing" hair is the most popular trend in forming femme hairstyles.

After the ratting process, local high school lasses are shaping their coiffures into styles bearing such names as "Flip," "Angel Wave" and "Date Setter."

The gals explain that ratting hair is done by holding the strands up from the scalp and brushing downward. It makes the hair fluffy and soft looking, they say, but, alas, it's off limits for guys.

Try it with a crew cut, men, and you'll just end up with sore fingers and your crew cut will probably look like the crew bailed out.

Now the hairdos.

The South High writers say that the "Flip" is for the gal who has short hair and is described as the "soft, angel style." It's "real cute" the female scribes penned and "gives that easy look."

They describe forming it thusly:

"The hair in front should be away from the forehead and brushed down over both ears. The ends of the hair should be fluffed up and a dainty bow could be pinned on one side.

Next, they write, for the girl who has medium short hair, "we have the 'Angel Wave'."

In this one, hair is combed down over the ears and a little curl or two combed down over the forehead. Bows can also be pinned on either side of this one. See?

"For the girl who has long hair, we have the 'Date Setter'," the article says. (This one, incidentally, was called the "Holly Look" during the holiday season but has been adapted so that it's appropriate at anytime—even Bastille Day.)

First, comb the hair into a page boy and then take part of the hair at the crown and fluff and secure with hair pins. Also, comb down a few airy bangs (air is sold in most neighborhood drug stores) and place two or three colorful bows between the crown and bangs.

For cynical men reading this, it might be pointed out that many of the fashion trends are set on the high school level. Don't be surprised if Mama comes home some evening with her hair ratted, or flipped, or teased or pouffed.

In which case your role will be to smile, compliment her and be careful not to get close to the hair spray shellac. Those face burns can really smart.

Con Amore CCL To Hear Educator

Marine Dies Because He Didn't Hear (or heed) Warning

CROSS OF FATE
Only warning of approaching tragedy

By ED CHURCHILL

How much can be saved by risking a tragedy?

Marine S/Sgt. Francis G. Seidel didn't save — he lost and died Saturday in a car-train collision at the New York Central Railroad crossing on Sullivant-av, just west of Georgesville-rd.

But, whether Sgt. Seidel was trying to save a few minutes of precious lifetime as he attempted to cross the tracks Saturday morning is not known — nor will it ever be.

What is known though is that the NYC Railroad has saved, at the very most, the $30,000 it would cost to erect flashers and gates at that fatal crossing.

At present, the intersection is unmarked, save for a white "X" which has written on it, "railroad crossing."

Such warnings no longer have the desired effect on motorists they once did, since there are many crossings marked the same way and the tracks have been abandoned for years.

Adding to the risk is the fact that the crossing lies in a dip in the road, so that cars approach it going down hill from either direction.

The minimum cost of erecting only flasher lights at the crossing, as estimated by Railroad Department Chief C. A. Hammon, Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, is $12,000 to $14,000.

That investment, according to Hammon, would give a 30-second warning of an approaching train, the minimum requirement of the PUCO.

Evidently, railroad officials haven't felt the need for installing flashers or gates, rather choosing to rely on a train whistle and hoping that drivers have the good sense to "stop, look and listen."

Maybe they are justified in their thinking, if that is what they believe, since Seidel is only the second fatality at the crossing in the last five years.

Witnesses said they heard the train's warning whistle.

However, Sgt. Seidel and a friend, Navy Corpsman Russell Seegar, obviously didn't.

Seegar said he crossed the track about 50 yards ahead of Seidel and was nearly hit by the train first because he didn't hear the approaching warning — the only signal of oncoming death.

Consolation for Seidel's death could possibly be found in the soldiers' legend "you never hear the one that gets you."

Or better yet, by seeing the NYC install a warning at that crossing (and many others suffering from the same need) —and seeing that all other railroad companies follow suit.

WRECKAGE OF THE DEATH VEHICLE
Passengers peered, aghast at the car, through the train's tinted glass windows.

A Letter To The Editor

Hilliard Group Grateful

To the Editor:

The members of the Hilliard Community Welfare Council wish to express their thanks to the many wonderful people who gave them an assist during the holiday season just gone by.

Without the aid of the many groups and/or individuals it would have been utterly impossible to have accomplished what we did.

There were baskets and toys for 25 needy families. Some were picked up, others were delivered where necessary.

We will not mention names of groups or individuals who helped, for fear of missing someone, however thank-you letters have been sent to each one.

There is still a need even though the rush is over, so you may be called on from time to time to lend assistance.

Mrs. Love has graciously consented to act as clothing chairman and will accept good clean used clothing at her home at 134 E. Columbia-st, Hilliard.

I would suggest a call first as both Mr. and Mrs. Love teach school.

I would like to emphasize that this clothing must be clean and usable so that it may be distributed for use immediately.

Kenneth Love, chairman
Judy Bush, vice chairman
Juanita Cline, sec.,treas.
Howard Liles, publicity.

Harry D. Kenton Jr., seaman apprentice, US Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Kenton of 1618 Humphrey-av, is serving on the attack aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk, which recently visited Hong Kong during its current tour of duty in the Western Pacific.

The Kitty Hawk is serving with the Seventh Fleet. The ship is scheduled to return to the United States early next spring. She has been in the Far East since September.

Kiwanians Install New Officers

West Jefferson and West Franklin Kiwanis clubs will install new officers this week.

West Jefferson Kiwanis members will hold their installation at the White Kitchen in West Jefferson at noon Tuesday, Jan. 22, and West Franklin at Holiday Inn at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 17.

New West Jefferson board of directors members are Francis Baker, Dick Merriman, Dan Kohl, Pete Loveless, Jack Snyder, Charles Dozier and Joe Lewis.

Saxbe Disappoints Sunday Sales Enforcement Backers

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Any preliminary groundwork laid by ex-Attorney General Mark McElroy in this state's Sunday sales law enforcement battle has seemingly been tossed to the winds with the recent change of administration.

As a result, there's plenty of evidence in the capital city of hard feelings between the Greater Columbus Sunday Association and newly-elected Attorney General William B. Saxbe.

The association, in essence, claims that Saxbe took "shocking and disappointing" action when he dismissed 11 corporation suits filed through "quo warranto" writs by McElroy shortly before he left office.

Actually, McElroy filed 12 suits but one, Arlan's, agreed to a change in their corporate policy and chose to close on Sunday voluntarily.

The other 11 were dismissed by Saxbe "five minutes after he came into office," Association Secretary Gene King claimed Tuesday, "and, without even consulting those concerned, including the church and labor groups depending on the attorney general's aid in this fight."

The association official further charged that Saxbe had agreed to a meeting Jan. 22 with Sunday Association officials, church, labor and retail merchant groups before taking any terminal action.

Saxbe, on the other hand, reported Tuesday that he hadn't "heard a word" from the association. He did concede that his first assistant, Jerry Donahue, had received a letter about the meeting.

When asked why he took such quick and direct action, Saxbe said, "I have no doubts that these people are violating the law but I don't think we should take over the powers of prosecution unless the legislature wants us to."

Saxbe said he had promised to dismiss the suits if he was elected, "and I just moved ahead with plans," he added. He also maintains that his basic reason for this is that he doesn't feel that the McElroy act was within the "role of the attorney general of any state."

As to the "role" of the attorney general, Ted Saker, first assistant to McElroy, former attorney general, defended the action of his administration by saying:

"We have used quo warranto on several occasions in highly divergent fields and, of course, we have followed the pattern of prior attorney generals and this type of suit has been filed in Ohio courts for the last 100 years or more.

"The Ohio constitution gives authority for this type of suit," Saker commented, "and authority is also given in an entire chapter in the Ohio Revised Code."

McElroy had issued quo warranto action (law suit against large corporations) Dec. 28 against Whitehall Discount City and Arlan's of Columbus, Econo-Fair of Cincinnati, Uncle Bill's of Cleveland, Shoppers' Fair of Dayton, Ontario's of Toledo and Miracle Mart of Akron.

He took similar action Jan. 8 against Giant Tiger of Cleveland, Ontario of Cincinnati, Mason's Discount Store of Toledo, Big City, Inc., of Columbus and Clarkin's of Akron.

Saxbe also criticized McElroy's office for its "timing" in issuing the legal action, feeling that it was "dropped" right into his lap when taking office.

"I feel that we were charged with our responsibilities until noon Monday," Saker said in reply.

Saxbe said he's still looking forward to the Jan. 22 meeting. "They can come to my office anytime," he said. The groups were to meet there at 10:30 a. m. but, according to King and the association, it's doubtful that the meeting will transpire.

"We have nothing to say to him now," King said. "We're extremely disappointed and feel that he's taken a swipe at not only the association but also at the church, labor and business factions.

"We thought we had an understanding with Saxbe," King continued. "If we can't count on him to file action against corporations, who do we count on? Nobody. This is the proper function of the attorney general's office."

If the meeting does go on as scheduled, Saxbe's office said it would "probably just be a general discussion of the problem and he (Saxbe) will set forth his views."

It was pointed out, also, that even though Saxbe asked the Supreme Court to dismiss the civil suits, the court still has to accept the proposal. In the past, the court has usually upheld action by the attorney general, however.

West Area Policemen Selling 'Ball' Tickets

Charles W. Beeler

Perry O. Eastep

Two West Columbus police officers are among those picked to sell tickets for the 31st annual Policeman's Ball to be held at Rollerland (Mound and 18th-sts) on Tuesday, Feb. 19, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

They are Patrolmen Charles W. Beeler, 133 Eldon-av, and Perry O. Eastep, 882 Wilson-dr.

Music will be provided by the popular Al Waslohn orchestra and vocalist Ellie Russell. Waslohn was formerly with Jimmy Dorsey.

The band is composed of local musicians.

Chief Scholer is the general chairman of the ball, and Captain Marty Winters is chairman of ticket sales. They explained that only a few officers will sell tickets this year to avoid duplicated solicitations.

Call police headquarters, 221-1166 for ticket delivery.

LUTHERANS TO WORSHIP IN NEW BUILDING THS SUNDAY

FIRST SERVICES in the newly-completed Our Saviour Lutheran Church, Demorest-rd at Briggs-rd, will be held Sunday, Jan. 20, 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. The building, first unit in the planned, four-unit building program, was constructed at a cost of $113,000, including building, land and furnishings. The long, low, one-story structure houses a sanctuary with a seating capacity of about 150, and Sunday School rooms that may be converted into a parish hall for meetings. The congregation, six years old in April, has been worshipping at West Franklin Elementary School.

Hilltop Luther League Plans 'Council' Program

Hilltop Intermediate Luther League will meet Sunday, Jan. 20, at the church at 6:30 p.m.

The topic, "Our Church Council," will be given by Dean Keplar. All church councilmen and their wives are invited.

Hugh Williams will lead the service.

A Radiant CLEAN LIFE

The housewife cleans her home until it shines with a radiance that gives contentment and joy to those who view it.

It pleases God to see our lives clean and wholesome. We all need help, to keep our lives clean.

David prayed to God for help in this matter. "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

Lean upon the Lord. Seek his help and he will not deny it. Attend church this Sunday and let your life be centered in the Lord.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

EDWARDS TO SPEAK

Reservations For 'Y' Dinner Going Quickly

Hilltop YMCA officials report that reservations for the 15th annual "Y" meeting to be held Tuesday, Jan. 29, 6:45 p.m. at the Westinghouse Corp., are running far ahead of expectations.

Guest speaker for this event will be Hilltopper John Edwards, catcher for the Cincinnati Reds and a former participant in the program of the Hilltop "Y".

The annual election of members to the Hilltop "Y" Board of Management and Advisory Council will take place as part of the program. The names of the following men will appear on the ballot to fill the positions for the coming three years:

John A. Brown, C. Carlton Hartley, James G. Henery, Jerry Spears, Sr., Charles C. Bridwell, James E. Foote, Nelson Greene, Jr., Victor G. Karl, Forest L. Rader, Melvin Senerius, M. E. Sensenbrenner, and Howard Wilson. All adult members of the Hilltop "Y" who attend the Annual Meeting will be eligible to vote.

Tickets are available from any member of the Board and Advisory Council, chiefs of the Indian Guide tribes, and at the "Y" office, 2879 Valleyview-dr.

The Westinghouse Corp. is located at 300 Phillipi-rd.

Central High Honors Pupils

Judge Robert M. Draper was the speaker at an assembly held at Central High School Jan. 16 honoring Student Court members, Student Council officers and citizens-of-the-month.

Nancy Armstrong, Student Court member, introduced Judge Draper. Court members Bonnie Deem and Mary Jane Lee introduced the citizens, and presented them with certificates.

Students honored were Karen Mills, Kenny Ash, Sharon Young, Bill Irwin, Susan Beach, Tom Kern, Margaret Lewis, Stella Kallianta; and Ralph Vincent.

Fr. Clark Association Formed At Bishop Ready High

The name of Fr. Dennis Clark, former pastor of Holy Family Church who established Holy Family High School, pioneer Catholic High on the West Side, will be perpetuated by the newly-formed Fr. Clark Association of Bishop Ready High.

Composed of fathers of students and men interested in the school, purpose of the group is to add financial support to the school, assist the athletic department, aid in the guidance of students and to cooperate with the faculty in many different ways.

The group will be governed by a board of directors consisting of nine men serving three-year terms. General meetings will be held three times a year, and work of the association will be carried on through committees.

Any father of a Ready student, or men interested in the school, is invited to join and may call the officers for information.

$50 Taken From MarketByBandit

A robber walked into the Community Market, 304 S. Highland-av, last Friday evening, ordered the manager to put "just the bills" into a paper sack and fled with about $50, police reported.

Walter Polk, 68, of 432 S. Highland-av, store manager, told police the thief held one hand in his jacket pocket as though concealing a gun. The robber ran south in Highland-av, police reported.

TO BUILD GARAGE

W. I. Vandermoon, 141-43 Hayden-av, has received a building permit to construct a three-car concrete block garage. Valuation is $800.

Coming Right Up—4,000 Double Orders Of Sperm Whale

It's A Lot Of Chow For One Man's Kits

By JANE ROBINSON

Question: Why did Roger Higgins at Groveport order a whale last week?

Answer: What would you do if you had thousands of kits to feed?

Question: You mean blubber is good for kits?

Answer: No, just the red-muscle meat, and then it has to be mixed in a formula.

The formula he goes by would give a pediatrician fits. Higgins starts out conventionally enough with a cereal resembling Pablum. But from there he departs far from the beaten path.

He tosses in a few barrels of chicken heads and entrails along with several hundred pounds of beef stomachs and lungs. (Are you still with me?)

Not yet satisfied with the mess he has concocted he adds a wheelbarrow or two each of liver, fresh fish and whale meat, presumably seasoning to taste.

Only then does the part-time chef view his gourmet item with pride. He has prepared the near-perfect recipe.

Recipe for what, though? To feed thousands of mink he raises year after year at the Big Walnut Mink Ranch on Groveport-rd.

Higgins, who owned a grocery store at the time, really started something back in 1945 when he bought about a dozen of the small members of the weasel family. His back-yard hobby soon began to grow.

The following year with his father Ralph and brother Robert as partners he moved the operation to its present site north of Groveport. Although Robert Higgins later sold his interest in the business, the older Higgins retained his partnership after retirement eight years ago.

The rancher who claims he likes the business "just as well as the day I started," says one must be careful what information he gives out about mink habits and personality.

"Some mink will always make a liar out of you," he laughed, referring to their individual quirks.

Some things appear fairly consistent about the business, however.

The adult mink which are kept in individual cages to protect their pelts except during supervised breeding in March, whelp in May.

The average litter of five "kits" (actually the number of cigarette-size offspring vary from one to 12) remain with their mother until the first part of July.

The youngsters are then placed two to a cage until September when they are considered grown-up. Though some terrific arguments occur occasionally between the cagemates, Higgins thinks they enjoy playing together and that their competitive nature leads them to eat more and grow faster than when alone.

In December when the mink have grown their winter coats in place of the worthless summer coat they are ready to be pelted and shipped to the New York City auction house.

In New York the skins are made ready for the monthly sales from January through June when buyers from all over the world bid on the lots.

Before the buyers sees them they have been dressed, graded according to clearness of color, size, fur density and other technicalities, and bundled into matching lots.

Only after the bidding is over and the receipts are in does the rancher know whether he's been working for fun or money all year.

Last year the 16 million skins sold over the world brought an average price of $18 per skin.

Higgins pointed out that during the past 15 years, while demand has increased more than 500 per cent, the average price has dropped from $26.

Mentioning that it takes about 80 skins to make up a are used for that purpose. Not full length coat, Higgins stated that relatively few skins too many husbands pick up a coat ranging from $3,000 to $25,000 as a token of their affection for their wives.

Instead, he said, the furs largely go into other garments such as stoles, boas, jackets and scarves.

Hats, muffs and collars for dresses, suits and cloth coats use many more.

And of course there is always the mink necktie, the mink seat belt and the mink-lined "potty" respectively for the man, woman and tot who have everything.

Asked whether a "do-it-yourself" project in growing a mink coat had any possibilities, Higgins was most discouraging.

With an initial purchase in March of five females and one male (the usual ratio of sexes) one could sit back and let nature take its course for about 20 months.

In theory it looked wonderful—a $10,000 coat for $75 and a little patience.

These calculations, according to Higgins, left out a few rather important items.

It seems it takes about 400 mink skins to get enough that would match reasonably well. He also claims, logically enough, that sheds, cages, straw, labor, coolers, walk-in freezers, food preparation machinery and especially whale meat aren't for free.

And he warned against anyone forgetting it costs at least $1,000 to have a furrier make up a coat.

The "letting-out" process in which each skin is cut into tiny one-eighth inch strips and resewn is a highly skilled, time-consuming process that is extremely well paid.

Oh well, maybe some of us could settle for this year's rage, the two-skin boa.

One project that Higgins has in mind, if he ever finds time, is to build a pen about 10 feet square and leave an entire litter in it until adulthood.

He has heard of such a cage which was equipped with swings, wheels and other gymnastic equipment.

"Those mink had more fun than a barrel of monkeys," said Higgins.

It's obvious that Higgins has a job that to him, though involving a lot of hard work, is also always interesting, challenging and sometimes just plain pleasure.

KID-GLOVE HANDLING isn't enough when Roger Higgins, Groveport, takes a couple of mink out of the cages to show them off. It takes extra heavy mitts to ward off the sharp teeth. "Never trust a mink," he warns, "You can make pets of them, but you never know what they will do next."

FOUR LITTLE MINK, ALL IN A ROW stand up to find out just what's going on. Instinctively active and curious animals, they entertain themselves on warmer days by dropping their straw bedding, piece by piece, through the floor of the cages. When the weather gets cold their owner has the job of giving more bedding to the extravagant characters.

Building Firm Employes Earn Diplomas

Ten members of Ernest G. Fritsche and Co., home building firm, 114 Ex-State-st were honored last week with diplomas after completing a 12-session course in mortgage financing.

The course was sponsored by the Dollar Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Fritsche employes receiving diplomas included Alan Clark, Charles Wesley, James Hutchison, John Hart, William Ortman, Richard Coffman, Richard Salisbury, Virgil Heskett, Sandra Elrod, and Herman Cooper.

BUILDERS PREDICT:

Subdivision Will Benefit Area Home Owners

Brookshire South, new $2.5 million West Side subdivision under construction, will mean benefits not only for new homeowners but also to present area residents, said Cecil D. Rose, Columbus builder.

The three builders developing the subdivision, Milton A. Armstrong, Joseph M. Briggs and Rose, are attempting to eliminate two of the area problems through the new home development.

They plan to take a request to the Columbus Transit Company asking for bus service and are installing storm sewers throughout the area, said Rose.

Residents living near the new subdivision, located on the south side of Briggs-rd between Harris and Parma-aves, have long been without bus service, according to builders. Annexation of the development was approved by the city council in May, 1962, and the builders now intend to talk with transit officials about extending a bus loop from Mound-st to Briggs-rd.

The builders, who operate as Rosedale Homes, Inc., contend the increased population and anexation of the area by the city entitles residents to bus service.

Installation of storm sewers throughout the area should relieve the flood condition on Briggs-rd, according to J. M. Briggs. Residents have complained that Briggs-rd floods with mud and water following storms because of poor drainage.

Streets will be laid out and city service made available before the first models are thrown open to the public about March 15.

Builders picked all but two street names for the development from a London, England street directory. The other two streets were named after former owner of the land, Claude Nicholas Briggs.

County commissioners approved annexation of the 67.5-acre tract to Columbus March 23, 1962 and city council accepted the land May, 1962. Annexation extended the boundaries of Columbus to within 500 feet of Clime-rd.

Plans call for a variety of three and four - bedroom homes on fully landscaped lots 65 to 80 feet wide and up to 120 feet deep in the three-year development-construction program. There are 259 lots in the subdivision.

Ranch and bi-level dwellings will be in a range of architecural designs and elevations and sell for $17,500 to $22,500.

The builders have completed more than 1000 homes in the Hilltop area. This will be their seventh development since organization of the company in 1954.

GETS PERMIT

Charles Balsiger, 5467 Scioto-Darby Creek-rd, was granted a building permit to construct a two-car frame garage in Brown Township at an estimated cost of $1,000.

...Soul Of America' Author To Speak Here Jan. 21

Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune, will speak at a luncheon meeting sponsored by Clintonville Women's Club Friday, Jan. 25, at the Ohio Union.

"Who Is Tampering With The Soul of America?", a speech given by Jones in Chicago, was printed in its entirety in Hartley Newspapers the last week in March.

Excerpts from the speech appeared in the March, 1962, issue of Reader's Digest, titled "America's Moral Crisis."

Jones is nationally known as an outspoken commentator on problems of the day.

Reservations for the noon luncheon meeting may be made with Mrs. Louis Karlsberger, 5500 Olentangy River-rd, Worthington, 451-4519, by Tuesday, Jan. 22.

No Place Like Home?? Fish Record Proves It

Here's a fisherman who added to his angling pleasure by keeping a record of his catches during 1962. He fished the Scioto River in Franklin County and its O'Shaughnessy Reservoir in Delaware County, so he didn't travel far for his sport. Yet, he caught 931 fish.

Arthur Hegedus, 2364 Dublin-Rd, Shawnee Hills, Dublin, gave his fishing data to Clarence Clark, fish management staff specialist for the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Crappies were most abundant in his creel. He caught 761, probably most of them in the reservoir. Hegedus took 88 largemouth bass, probably also from the reservoir, and 31 smallmouth bass, these from the shallowest portions of the river. He also listed 18 bullheads, 13 bluegills, 10 channel catfish, two walleyes, three quillbacks, three rock bass and two carp.

Hegedus' records show that May was his best month when he landed 471 fish. In September he caught 223, April-38, June-46, August-41, July-0 and October two. His success per hour of fishing was highest in May when he averaged 7.9 fish; September-five, April-4.2, August-2.9, October-2, June-0.9, and July-0.5.

Clark pointed out that while Hegedus added to his angling pleasure by keeping records, he also added something to fish management knowledge, especially on fishing success.

"This angler's record shows that by persistent effort fishermen can catch a lot of fish close to home," said Clark.

Hillcrest Paces Jr. Y League At Midseason

The Hilltop "Y" Junior Basketball League reached the halfway point Saturday. Each team in the league has completed seven of its 14 games.

In the first game Saturday, West Park Methodist outran the Hilltop Church of God, 41-27. Leading West Park was Terry Breckenridge with 13 points. Dick Brown chipped in with 11 points. High man for the Hilltop Church of God was Mike Rexer with 15 points.

THE SECOND GAME of the afternoon was a tight one with the Junior Hi-Y "Council" nosing out Glenwood Methodist, 36-34. The game started off like a runaway for Glenwood.

In the first six minutes the only points scored by the "Council" were seven foul shots. The half ended with Glenwood on top, 23-21. The game was tied twice during the second half as both teams worked for the better shots.

Top scorers for Glenwood were John Grashel and Ken Wells, both with 10 points. Leading the "Council" with over half of his team's points was Bob Leach with 19 points.

HOGE MEMORIAL jumped to a fast lead over Burgess EUB and led at the half, 21-5. Burgess began a good attack, closing the score to 32-27, but it was too late.

Hoge got two quick baskets and put the game on ice, finally winning, 40-30. Burgess scoring was led by Jack Husch with 16 points and Roger Nelson with 14 points. Jan Snedecor was top gun for Hoge with 15 points.

HILLCREST BAPTIST walloped the Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs" in the nightcap, 51-6. The "Scrubs" were outmanned as each man for Hillcrest had at least a five-inch height advantage. Mike George led Hillcrest with 10 points.

Saturday, Junior Hi-Y "Council" plays Hoge Memorial at 12 noon; the second game at 12:45 p.m. has Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs" playing West Park Methodist; the third game at 1:30 p.m. has Hilltop Church of God against Hillcrest Baptist; the last game at 2:15 p.m. has Burgess EUB taking on Glenwood Methodist.

HILLTOP'S JOHN EDWARDS—FROM SANDLOT TO MAJOR LEAGUES

FOURTEEN YEARS MIGHT not seem like a long period when stacked against a lifetime but 14 years in the life of a Cincinnati Redleg catcher Johnny Edwards, from 1949 to the present date, has meant the progression from his Hilltop softball team to the major leagues. Edwards, who will be the guest speaker of the Hilltop YMCA at its 15th annual meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 29, is pictured as a youthful receiver for the first Gra-Y Hilltop YMCA softball championship team (circle). The insert pictures the Redleg's "sophomore of the year" as he looks to major league opponents today. Many of Johnny's teammates on the Flaming Arrows also went on to advanced sporting heights. To mention a few—Dick Furry (second from left, back row) starred on the hardwood at Ohio State as a member of the Buckeyes' 1960 NCAA championship team; Bill Spratley (third left, back row) was a football and baseball standout at West High and finishes now at Hilltonia Jr. High, and Dave Randall (behind and to the lef of Edwards), who starred in baseball and basketball at West, is currently head basketball coach at Starling Jr. High. Also pictured is John's brother, Jim Edwards (first left, back row). The Hilltop '49 softballers, who gained their name, Flaming Arrows, from a popular breakfast cereal of the day, played softball all through the summer as compared to the Y's six-week program today. In Edwards' case, at least, the practice certainly paid off.

Troop Visits Scout Lodge On Camp-Out

Boy Scout Troop 18 of Glenwood Methodist Church recently enjoyed a three-day camp-out at Camp Jeffrey along the Scioto River near Twin Lakes. Sixteen Scouts and six Scouters enjoyed ice skating, sledding and animal tracking around the wintry country landscape of the Boy Scout Lodge provided by the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co.

Any boy interested in becoming a Scout, who is 11 years or older, should contact Earl Dye at BR. 9-0126 or R. F. Wilson, BR. 4-6109.

Suburban Loop Situation Remains At 'Status Quo'

The situation in the newly-organized Suburban League remained unchanged this week after the charter members — Pleasant View, Franklin Heights, Teays Valley and Hamilton Township — concluded their "constitution" meeting last week.

President Theodore Dagg announced that no new schools submitted applications for entry at the meeting but the business conducted revolved around the application of finishing touches to the league constitution.

DAGG ADMITTED that six schools had representatives at the meeting and that two additional schools have shown interest in the new circuit.

"We're trying to speed up work on the constitution," Dagg said. "We don't expect any further action from other schools until we set up league policy."

Dagg said the Suburban loop's constitution committee had just about finished the constitution and were halfway through the by-laws.

"THERE ARE IMPORTANT points such as financial breakdown, eligibility and admission prices to be settled before we have a solid base of league policy to present to the interested parties," Dagg concluded.

The league's next meeting has been set for Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at Pleasant View High School. All schools interested in the league should have a representative at the meeting.

U. S. farmers have assets of over $200 billion. That is equal to three-fourths of the value of the current assets of all the corporations in the United States.

Hilltonia Quintet Clouts Mohawk

Hilltonia Junior High evened its record in the Junior High South Section, as they defeated Mohawk last week, 62-37. The win made the Hawks' league standing 2-2, while they are 5-3 overall.

Coach Russ Friend had four lettermen returning from last year's squad, although he points out that only two of those are starters this year. He has five eighth graders on the team, and 11 ninth-graders.

Leading the scoring for the Hawks this year has been Jim Bell, who has totaled 85 points. Ginn (65) and Sickmeier (54) trail Bell in the scoring.

The Hawks played last night, and have another encounter tomorrow after school. They also have a reserve squad composed of seventh and eighth graders who did not make the varsity.

Smaller Cities Can Provide Elbow Room For Colleges

By 1964 the bumper baby crop of the postwar era will have become of age to enter our colleges and universities.

"The number of freshmen alone who will try to enter college in Ohio from 1963 to 1965 will increase 50 percent," said Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, president of the Ohio State University. The number during the years of 1960 to 1970 will increase from 39,335 to 75,102, or 91 percent, he also predicted.

It thus becomes obvious that the competition to get into the nation's 2,000 colleges and universities is taking on a keener edge every year.

Part of the needs will be met by the growing number of two-year community colleges and branch universities. The six state-supported universities maintain 28 branches in towns satellite to the home campuses. Admittedly, these branches may not provide all the "atmosphere" of a mere traditional college. But, for many students the live-at-home advantages and the opportunities for part-time employment outweigh the disadvantages. The students later are able to spend their final two years on the main campus.

The towns themselves benefit from the presence of the branches, which also offer adult education and community cultural activities.

The 104th Ohio General Assembly failed to provide money for college capital improvements. And, according to the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges, business firms are contributing only slightly more than half the needed gifts to maintain its 32 colleges.

The General Assembly did for the first time provide authority for the formation of local taxing districts which may set up independent community colleges or may build physical facilities within which such university branches may operate.

Especially interesting is a current effort of local individuals, associations and industry in Chillicothe. The community is in the midst of a lively $200,000 development fund designed to secure 80 acres for the location of permanent facilities for the Ohio University branch there. The branch opened in Chillicothe High School for night classes during World War II and has had a successful run since.

Dr. Vernon Alder, Ohio U. president recently told Chillicothe Rotarians that the branch, given this encouragement, could grow to some 3,000 or 4,000 students in a short time. He foresees a two-year college with faculty-in-residence that "may even become a four-year institution in time."

It appears, therefore, that communities such as Grove City, Reynoldsburg, Canal Winchester or Hilliard, may some day provide a good climate for two years of higher education or of a community college such as Westerville has in Otterbein.

Our largest campuses ultimately will reach a limit, and neighboring residential communities may be called on to help solve the space problem.

It's not too soon to think about it.

SAVINGS

In these hectic days of high prices and taxes, who can save a buck for the proverbial "rainy day"? But, remembering Benjamin Franklin's maxim about saving, many know it can be done and are doing it.

There are many modern ways of saving assets, not always in cash. Home investment and life insurance are examples. Trust funds and securities are attractive to some, but sound advice is needed there.

In rural southern Ohio half a century ago, farm and highway laborers earned $1 for a 10-hour day. A man with a team of horses or a span of ox received $2.50 and one meal for man and beasts.

Of course, prices were in proportion. The variety of consumer goods was limited and the quality usually poor. Frozen foods were unknown and perishables were not obtainable out of season.

One must save more dollars today to make it worthwhile because they have more of them. A man can save something unless he has had to endure too many of "the slings and arrows" after supporting himself and his family and sharing properly with others.

It says here . . .

The dollars you save work for you after you've worked for them.

Blue Skies? We Think So!

Bleak weather prevented Governor-elect James A. Rhodes' inauguration from being held outside of the State Capitol Monday, but to those who jammed into the rotunda and to thousands of others throughout the state it was a bright day for Ohio.

Just as we change from one season to the other, so are we shifting governors. What makes us look forward to a new season? Usually it's how we felt about the preceding one.

Will James A. Rhodes' administration be like going from winter to summer? Time will tell. Certainly, the people of Ohio are expecting this for it's in Governor-elect Rhodes—and his impressive new cabinet members—that they've placed their confidence for the next four years.

At this point we see a fine administration ahead.

Brevity Of Life Should Lead Us To Wisdom

"So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." Psalm 90:12

It was a great moment in the history of painting when men learned how to give the effect of the third dimension to what is essentially a two-dimensional medium — that is to say, when they learned the art of perspective. By means of perspective we are able to convey an impression of depth and distance to a landscape, and relative size and shape to objects in still-life pictures.

Rev. Everson

Some such discovery is necessary if we are to understand, to live, and to represent this human life of ours truly and accurately also. It was something of this nature which the psalmist was talking about when he prayed, "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." Wisdom is something very different from knowledge, the mere accumulation of information. The lust for knowledge may very easily crowd out wisdom. We may easily turn out to be among the best-informed but least-wise among the generations of men.

The psalmist put his finger on the consideration which ought to lead us to wisdom — the brevity of life. It is when we measure our little lives against the immensity of the ages that we see them in their true perspective. It is then that we realize how little time we actually have, and that we can only afford to spend it on the things that matter most. "The bird of time has but a little way to flutter, and the bird is on the wing."

"We live life forward and understand it backwards," wrote a very wise man in the 19th century, and if we would be wise unto salvation, we will give considerable time to surveying the past — our own past — and assessing its accomplishments. When we realize how much of the journey of life lies behind us, and how far we yet are from attaining its goal, we may with greater wisdom apply ourselves to that which remains to us of life. Only a fool in his folly will turn his back upon the past, as if it had nothing to teach us for the living of the future.

The best wisdom to which any human being can come is to know that he is a child of God, made in His image, made to think God's thoughts after Him. It well may be that before this decade is over, men may stand upon the surface of the moon, but we would be well-advised to acknowledge that this is not what he was made for. It is of much importance for us to be kind and loving parents and children, honest and trustworthy workmen and citizens, rejoicing in the humble joys and triumphs of ordinary life, being able to endure sickness and disappointment, to be able to comfort one another in bereavement, and to face each day with courage and hope. The wisdom of life is shown much more in its ordinary humdum routine, than in its spectacular exceptions.

We need this element of perspective to save us from a shallow optimism or a shallow pessimism about the future. Men who have no perspective are likely to vacillate between high hopes and deep despair about the human situation. But those with perspective know that the human race has been around for a long time: the probabilities are that it will last a long time yet. Not even its own devilish cunning will be able to bring about its destruction, until the purpose of God to create for Himself a faithful people shall have been accomplished.

Stomp Out Trading Stamps? Just Try!

"I didn't know women were so gullible," said Mrs. Clarence Hunter in a recent letter in which she lambasted trading stamps.

McPeek

Disregarding for a moment the evils of trading stamps, it is obvious that Mrs. Hunter has not been taking my earlier columns serious—columns in which I repeatedly focused on the gullibility of women. Needless to say, this lack of confidence brought heavy tears to my eyes.

But because I wholeheartedly agree with Mrs. Hunter's views on trading stamps, I shall cooperate and devote this column today to the "Stomp Out Trading Stamps" movement.

Mrs. Hunter went on in her letter to say that perhaps men are just as gullible as women (a questionable contention).

"A lady wants a new lamp," said Mrs. Hunter. "Her husband says, "We don't need it." But the lady replies, "What if I get it free?" The husband then agrees a new lamp is needed."

But is it free? said Mrs. Hunter. Someone has to pay for those stamps. And you can bet it won't be the storekeeper. He has to earn a profit. So the cost of the stamps will be absorbed by increasing prices on certain items. Result: the customer pays. Nobody gets anything for free. When will people learn this?, Mrs. Hunter puzzled

Then there is the nuisance angle, Mrs. Hunter continued. "For example, we shop at several different stores, each of which offers trading stamps. This has resulted in cluttering up our drawers with seven different kinds of stamps and accompanying books and catalogs. They are a complete pain in the neck."

Most everyone will agree with Mrs. Hunter.

Even most merchants complain about them. But they have been forced into issuing stamps because a competitor offers them and if they expect to retain their customers they have to do likewise.

Remember the recent gasoline station stamp wars in Columbus? Those wars were started by the station owners themselves in an effort to wipe out the parasitic stamps.

Many other grocers and merchants also have made efforts to get rid of trading stamps.

But alas, it seems stamps will stay with us until all people learn they can't get anything for nothing.

Hits Government's Processing Of Information

To The Editor:

The "generation" of news lies with the event, and not in the province of executive authority. The admission, on the part of Mr. Kennedy, of his having "generated" news becomes more serious after the facts are "in."

No authority vested in the President of the United States may be considered to have given him the right of decision concerning our access to a factual accounting and subsequent evaluation of the Cuban situation.

Our survival as a free nation depends upon our ability to properly weigh the circumstances in any vital area of national concern. Our Constitution expressly forbids the very action undertaken by Mr. Kennedy and his hirelings.

"Generated" news is as good as no news, and is in fact another way of describing propaganda. Propaganda concerning our national survival is unwarranted, and such an act is in violation of the fundamental precepts of freedom as we know it.

"Generated" news is the tool of tyranny, now or in the future, and should be shunned by our leaders as unworthy.

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

No successful man or woman, who has done better than average in life and is still "on the way up," ever pays in full the goodwill debts he owes to humanity.

Individuals with healthy ambitions learn early in their careers that taking care of their own "public relations" is a vitally important part of achievement.

Those who never pay goodwill debts, and think and strive only for acquisitive results, miss the bus tragically, no matter how successful they may appear to be. Success, without also finding the secret of happiness, is too often, a hollow sham. By failing to take care of the "put-out" as well as the "take-in" they are wide open to the charge of being ungrateful, and the ingrate is always the most miserable of humans.

The ideal of service rendered "out of the heart" as well as from skills and experience is the catalyst that makes decent people honestly successful.

There are a few words that are never overworked by those who have not the slightest desire to pay any goodwill debts. They are "thanks," "please," "excuse me" and "I'm sorry." No one ever completely forgets such recognition and appreciation honestly expressed.

Many top rated, successful people are beloved by many because success has gone to their hearts instead of to their heads. Too many who are ambitious and possess great talent, energy and tenacity of purpose, are still willing to "climb up on the necks and bruised hearts" of others.

One thing for sure — the most delightful persons are those who never lose the quiet and polite "common touch" in life. Obscure, unknown and unsung men and women have repeatedly been important in the rise to prominence and success of exceptional individuals.

Success built solely on the stand of "every man for himself and to hell with the hindmost," is false as plastic sleighbells, and never give off a real tinkle of joy and genuine happiness.

The practice of good manners, goodwill and good fellowship is the formula for success and happiness. The most important big shot is the man who knows how to take worthy and deserving people up the ladder with him. No one ever achieves real success and happiness without taking care of the humanities, as well as "taking care of his job."

Rabbit Pie Provides Mid-Winter Feast

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

It's the season for meetings of the Hot Stove League, and with few exceptions all the hunting and fishing going on nowadays takes place in barbershops, sporting goods store and conservation club meetings. Creature comforts are difficult to resist, as the wind blows and snow piles higher.

Rugged ice fishermen are out, mostly on weekends. This is a growing sport in this area, and each year a few more try it. But it's sedentary fishing, and can not take the place of a hike in the snow. Rabbit season is open through January, and this may be the excuse you've been looking for to get outdoors.

If a hunt on a cold winter's day does not tempt you from an easy chair, perhaps a rabbit pie will. All avid sportsmen take great pleasure in preparing fish and game for the table, and a rabbit provides the makings for a mid-winter feast. Here is one recipe you might try:

Cut rabbit into serving pieces. Soak in equal parts vinegar and water for 12 to 24 hours. Drain and wipe dry. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Sear quickly in frying pan. Add water to cover and simmer slowly in covered pot for one to one and one-half hours. Add two onions, two medium-sized carrots and two or three potatoes, all cut into pieces. Cook until vegetables are done. Thicken the stew with flour. Put in greased baking dish and cover top with pie crust. Return to oven and bake until dough is done, about 15 to 20 minutes. Ring the dinner bell.

It is a long time until next fall by any hunter's calendar, and unless you have some game in a freezer you will have to hunt, and hunt quickly, for your dinner. Snow will help you collect a rabbit or two. The white background makes them easy to see as they bound away from brushpiles or other hiding places. Also, rabbits seem to like to sit out in the snow. You can find more of them crouched down in some shelter more often than at other seasons.

The fact that rabbits are our No. 1 game animal has been known for many years. Since they are so common, I'm afraid that a lot of hunters do not prize them. A cock pheasant or some quail have more "trophy value." But when it comes to sport and table fare, Mr. Cottontail takes its rightful place high on the list. We are lucky to have the rabbit.

Now, that wind doesn't seem so cold after all, does it? If you brave the elements, you might very well find me out after a rabbit pie too.

KNIGHTS SPLIT PAIR

Cowboys Rip Rebs; Buc String At Four

By Bob Lynch and Kenny Ash

West overcame an eight-point first-quarter deficit to defeat the visiting South Bulldogs, 70-59, Friday night.

Down by a 12-4 margin with less than three minutes remaining in the opening period, the Cowboys suddenly got hot and evened the score at 14-14 at the first quarter break, with Steve Barnard tipping in the tying bucket.

Scoring the first two-pointer of the second quarter, the Cowboys moved ahead, were caught, but then pulled ahead to stay, lengthening their margin at one second-period point to 33-24.

The third quarter continued the scoring splurge, for the home squad, as they turned on the steam to forge ahead to a 15-point lead, 49-34, at the end of the third period.

Their largest lead of the night came at the opening of the fourth quarter, as they tallied a basket to make it 51-34.

Charlie Castle and Barnard led the scoring by pouring in 20 and 24 respectively. The win moved the Cowboys to 2-3 in the City League, and dropped South to an 0-3 record.

Central proved to be rough guests for its host, Walnut Ridge, Friday, as the Pirates crushed the Scots, 70-41.

The fast-breaking Pirates jumped off to a five-point lead in the first period, increasing the margin to 10 by halftime.

Walnut Ridge succeeded in scoring only 10 points to Centrals' 39 in the second half, as the Pirates raced away to their third straight City League win.

Central had two men in double figures. Ray Reveis dropped in 12 points and Tom Fullove took game scoring honors with 20.

First period play was very close as neither team had more than a four-point lead. Linden edged out in front 18-15.

The Pirates came back to take a seven-point lead at half time 39-32. Early in the second half the Bucs worked up to a 15-point lead but the Panthers broke this by intercepting passes and taking advantage of the Pirates' mistakes in the third period, cutting the Buc lead to two points, 53-65.

In the fourth period the Panthers went ahead, but Dave Roberts brought the Pirates back out on top by hitting from the foul line on a one and one. Mike Grady's lay-up and Gibson Hayes' goal followed as Central finished with a flourish.

Roberts was high point man for Central with 24 points. Tom Fullove was next, hitting 16 points.

Bishop Ready added Ohio Deaf to its win column Friday evening, 67-55, before running into a wild bunch of DeSales Stallions Saturday and dropping a 53-42 decision.

The Silver Knights had little trouble in disposing of the Spartan five, after increasing a three-point first-period margin to 11 points at intermission.

Jim Muir hit for 23 points to pace the Ready offense while teammates Paul Eberts and Hank Martensen chipped in with 15 and 11 respectively.

But it was a different story altogether the following evening as DeSales turned the tables on the Knights. The Stallions never were able to pull the game out of Ready's reach until the final minutes of play but the Knights had difficulty narrowing the margin to much less than six points.

Muir and Martensen each dropped in 12 points to pace Ready but it was DeSales' Kirk Sharrock that swept game honors. Sharrock, the hardest Stallion to corral all evening, finished with 25 points and was a tiger on the backboards.

Holy Family dropped a pair of hardwood battles over the weekend but the Red Raiders gave both cage opponents a run for their money.

A solid Brookhaven quintet socked Family Friday, 69-58, as Dick Getz and Dave Lee led the losers with 14 and 12 points respectively.

Once-beaten Watkins Memorial was the spoiler the following evening, handing the Raiders their ninth loss in 10 tries with a 79-61 setback.

The losers hit on 43 per cent of their shots and got good scoring support from Roger McKendry (19 points), Getz (15 points) and Lee (16 points)-but the Warriors fired at a hotter pace yet, converting 49 per cent of their goal attempts.

Aquinas continued along its successful cage path, downing Marion-Franklin, 78-61, and handing Watterson its second straight loss, 54-46, Saturday evening.

The Terriers had little trouble in defeating the Red Devils after accumulating a 15-point first-period lead. Pat Mentel and Mike Welling set the pace for the Irish with 20 and 18 points.

Watterson proved to be more formidable opponent as Aquinas had to scramble in the second half to down the Eagles. At intermission both teams were deadlocked, 21-21.

Mentel led all scorers with 19 points in this one, getting a 16 marker assist from the Terrier's Hartman. The twin wins jumped the Irish record to 7-2.

A check of weekend cage activity around the area finds Whetstone's Braves stopping off at Central (7-1) and Aquinas (7-2) journeying to North for City League encounters Friday night.

Ready (7-4) travels to Coshocton Sacred Heart while Holy Family (1-8) borrows the Silver Knight court, hosting Delaware St. Marys.

All area teams, with the exception of Central, continue action Saturday evening. Aquinas is at St. Charles (7-4), Watkins Memorial (8-1) is at Ready, West (5-5) is at Chillicothe and Holy Family is at St. Marys (4-8).

Wrestling Wrapup

Franklin Heights got back into the winner's circle in the high school wrestling arena Saturday by defending its crown in the Pleasant View Invitational Tourney.

The Falcon matmen piled up 105 points to top the host Panthers, who were runners-up with a score of [illegible] F-H took five of the 11 weight divisions matches.

AZIZ DERE, a 122-pounder from Franklin Heights, and Pleasant View's 114-pound John Holloway, the only two returnees to the tourney, retained their titles for the second straight year.

Other scores in the tournament were: University, 48; Circleville, 42; Groveport, 34; Grove City, 23; Grandview, 22, and West, 15.

Other results around the area last week saw Ready edge Mifflin, 24-20, Walnut Ridge wallop Springfield North, 47-0, Pleasant View pin Whitehall, 20-17, Bexley drop Upper Arlington, 23-14, West defeat Central, 36-11, and East outpoint University, 32-13.

AQUINAS VARSITY SWIMMING PERFORMERS

SPORTS

Buc Matmen Keep Plugging

Head Central wrestling coach, Roger Dumaree, is far from discouraged even though his Buc grapplers have failed to finish on top in four mat sessions this season.

Despite the Pirates' lack of success in the win column thus far this season, Dumaree does have some top performers in his 28-man squad.

CAPTAIN STAN Horner is once again showing the form that set him atop the City League in the heavyweight classification last season with a 4-0 mark this year.

William Hoke, competing in the 175-pound division, suffered his first defeat in four matches last week against West. Dumaree also pointed out that he was pleased with the progress of junior Paul Frasure and sophomore Bob Arnett.

Eastmoor 33, Central 16
Linden 38, Central 21
Walnut Ridge 37, Central 10
West 36, Central 11
Jan. 18 — at Pleasant View

According to Senator Harry F. Byrd, the Kennedy administration wants to spend $1,200,000 in the next six years on a study of "The Affectional Relationship of an Infant Monkey and His Mother."

Clowns, Goof-offs Lead Glenwood Loop

The Clowns and the Goof-offs are currently tied for first place in the Intermediate Girls Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center. Each team has a 1-0 record.

The Clowns, captained by Susie Hoffman, defeated the Hi-Fi's, 27-10 last week. Susie was the high scorer in the game with 10 points.

Following the two league leaders are: the Countdowns, 0-0; and the Silhouettes and Hi-Fi's, each with 0-1 marks.

Slow-Break Loop Open Tomorrow

The Hilltop YMCA will open a new basketball league for men 25 years old and up. The regular play will start tomorrow evening at 7 at the Westmoor Junior High School gymnasium on Valleyview-dr.

Participants are asked to arrive by 6:45 p.m. The evening will consist of three slow-break basketball games. Each game will last 24 minutes. There will be four six-minute quarters. All rules will be listed and passed out at the games tomorrow night.

Assn. Holds Dance

The St. Mary Magdalene Athletic Association will sponsor a Round and Square Dance Saturday from 9 p.m. till midnight in the Church Hall at 473 S. Roys-av.

Free refreshments will be served and donation will be $1.50 per person.

'Duke' Pennell Challenges Keglers In Pin Tourney

The "Out-Strike the Star Contest," sponsored by the Western Optimist Club, rolls into its second week of pin-spilling Saturday at Lincoln Village Lanes.

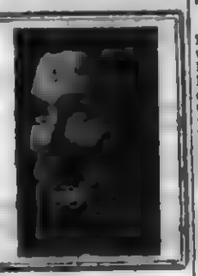
George "Duke" Pennell will be the prominent area bowler who will set the pace for challenging keglers this Saturday and Sunday when the lanes open for the contest between 2 and 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

IN PENNELL, bowling hopefuls will find sturdy competition. "Duke" gained his share of the local pin spotlight last Dec. 28 by rolling the first 300 game ever recorded at the W. Broad-st lanes.

Pennell, who lost the use of his left arm in an injury several years ago, is averaging 180 for the Care Heating and Cooling team this year.

Donation for competition in the tourney is 50 cents and the challenger is given five balls to try and "out-strike" the bowler of the week.

CAN YOU BEAT DUKE?



THAT'S THE question you can answer for yourself by trying to "outstrike the star" Saturday or Sunday in the Western Optimist Club tourney at Lincoln Village Lanes. George "Duke" Pennell will provide the competition for keglers hoping to pick up a trophy in the tourney.

Prizes will include trophies, certificates and a grand prize of $500 for a 300 game. If a challenger should happen to strike on all of his first five throws, he will be allowed to continue until he misses — or records a perfect game.

Proceeds for the tourney, which will continue for five more weekends, will be used to finance the Optimists' boys work in west Columbus and Franklin County.

October 29, 1900, the first names chosen for New York University's Hall of Fame included: George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Daniel Webster, Ulysses Grant, Benjamin Franklin, John Marshall and Thomas Jefferson.

Pro Woe—You Can't Tell The Players Without A Spotcard

"I'm not so naive to think that in any league of this kind, with so many players, that there may not be a few boys who would have some contact or association with people who might be considered tainted."

Such were the words of AFL Commissioner Joe Foss on the suggested infiltration of the pro football ranks by the forces of evil.

FOSS PROBABLY has taken the most sensible stand on the situation. This way boss-man Joe isn't dressing his boys in cherub's robes, which would look a little ridiculous, but on the other hand he isn't chancing any motor tuneup, gangland-style either.

Ever since the old-time White Sox had their hose dyed black after the baseball fix, people have been going Sherlock Holmes every time a whiff of scandal stinks up the sporting atmosphere.

Of course, basketball was hit twice and boxing has been saddled with shady implications for as long as we can remember. But the fuss that George Halas has stirred up can do little more as far as we can see than cause too many people to slap a "blanket condemnation" on the sport and start overworking that "one apple rotting the whole barrel" adage.

LIKE A CANCEROUS growth, the spy system spread from the Bears to the Lions with even "Golden Boy" Paul Horning's name linked with the undesirables.

It's getting to a point where you might expect the lineup vendors to start shouting, "You can't tell the players without a spotcard."

As far as personal associations go, it's hard enough for a high school coach to dictate rules of company-keeping to his boys, much less general managers shaking a finger at a 245-pound tackle and telling him not to run around with "Mac the Knife."

THE WHOLE THING boils down to one unsoluble point. As long as there are big-time athletic events and big-time gamblers with patrons willing to chance a buck, there's going to be the implication of a "fix."

There are those who believe that publicity on a scandal helps to keep the wolves at bay but we wonder if this type of psychology doesn't do more harm than good.

Our only suggestion to Pete Rozelle (NFL commissioner) and Foss, if the inquiry hurricane doesn't blow itself out soon, is to contact Sam Huff, Big Daddy Lipscomb and Joe Schmidt and set up shop in Eliot Ness' old "Untouchables" office.

SPEAKING OF "UNTOUCHABLES," Paul Brown got the word that no mortal man is indispensable even after 16 years in a move that probably wasn't quite as "shocking" as it seemed at first glance.

It wasn't a very well kept secret in Cleveland that too many people have been dissatisfied with the Brown operation for too long a time. Rumors of strained player relations were confirmed by reliable sources after the season and something had to give.

It's always been the accepted practice in athletic echelons to bring in new blood, coachwise, when success afield became too obviously elusive.

BUT WITH BROWN it was different, or so most people thought until last week. We only met Paul once, following him around six holes on a Mansfield golf course in our infancy as a sportswriter.

All we can remember about Brown was our amazement at how he could talk pro football and stay out of the rough all at the same time.

Perhaps the most shocking part of Brown's dismissal, at least to us, was the report of the small share of Brownie stock that Paul possessed upon release as head coach.

IT WILL SEEM rather strange not to see the little man in the dark overcoat and characteristic hat pacing up and down in front of the Brown's bench next season.

But it was the only way Brown could go. We don't feel he would have ever retired — at least not until he had rebuilt the dynasty that had made him and his Cleveland team a legend in pro football history books.

Maybe pro football had "outgrown" Paul Brown. This is often the case as pupil excels teacher. We were not unaccustomed to "second-guessing" the veteran mentor on [illegible] Sunday afternoon over the past few seasons.

But now that Brown has been given his cup of hemlock, we don't feel it's "sour grapes" at all in feeling that Paul's 16-year tenure has added a special touch to the professional football spectacular.

BITS OF WIT(T)—Columbus St. Mary has come up with a new look at the Rams' home games. Not only do the players warm up to the tune of "Sweet Georgia Brown" but there's also a new mechanical addition to the scorers' table that electronically informs fans when the one-and-one ruling goes into effect on four shots.

Whitehall wrestling coach, Vince Genino, has high hopes for his 122-pound entry in the Rams' mat corps this year. Genino looks for Al Rosenblum, captain, to follow in the footsteps of former Whitehall wrestling stars Mike Beery and Gary Joseph and gain some state-wide honors for the Rams.

If a federal tax cut is enacted, private after-tax incomes may rise at least $5 billion.

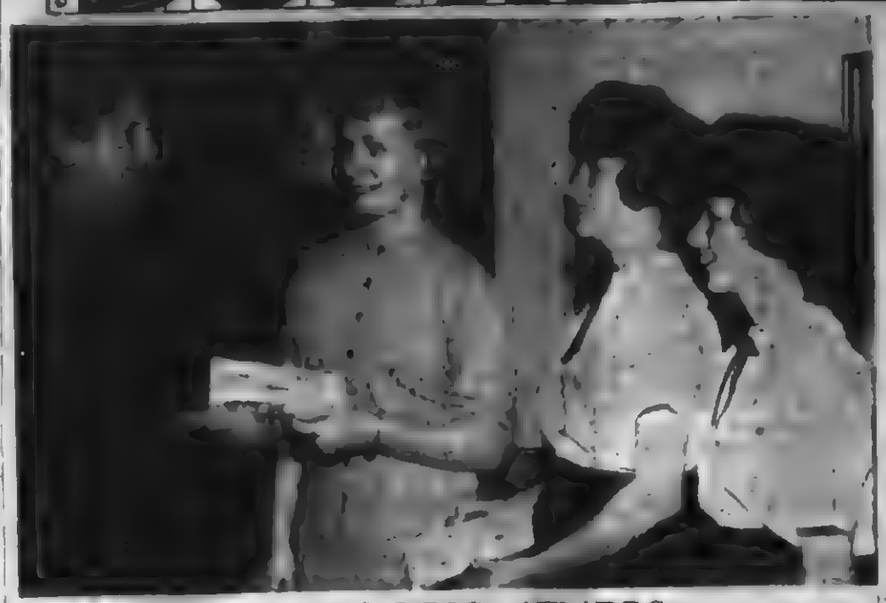
BUSINESS REVIEW

Capital Rug Cleaning Enters 75th Year

The Capital Rug Cleaning Co., 386 Zimpfer-st, will celebrate its 75th anniversary this year.

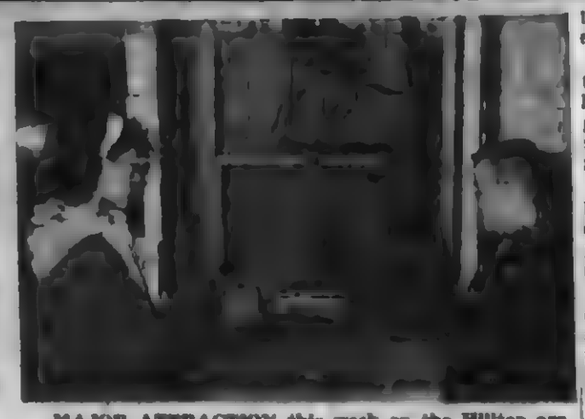
The firm was founded by Gustav Poenisch, grandfather of present owner, Richard O. Poenisch, in 1888. Since that time it has specialized in rug and furniture cleaning, remodeling and repairing rugs and pads, dyeing and wrapping rugs for storage.



Richard Poenisch

Capital also offers carpeting installation, and has portable equipment for in-the-home carpet cleaning.

Gustav Poenisch, a rug weaver in Germany, came to America in the late 1800's to establish the business. At the time there were only three rug cleaning establishments in Columbus.



In 1923 Gustav's three sons, Otto, Oscar and Fred, took over the company. Originally known as Gustav Poenisch Sons, the name was changed to Capital in the mid-1920's. Richard joined the organization in 1949 and assumed control in 1954. Since that time he has been assisted by his wife, Mary.

Today the firm offers county-wide pick up and delivery service, free estimates, unconditional guarantees on its work, and complete insurance coverage.

RECEIVE VESS AWARDS

BONUS CHECKS have been presented to representatives of St. Mary Magdalene School and Wing 58 of Nightingale Cottage by Vess Bottling Co., Columbus. The two organizations turned in the most bottle caps in the Vess bottle cap redemption plan in 1962. Shown here at the presentation are, left to right, Kaythryn Jones Lowe, president of the Vess firm, Mrs. William Kaiser, 4114 Winfield-rd, Wing 58 secretary, Terrie Ryan, 3068 Stephen-dr, and Theresa Dannaher, 586 Wiltshire-dr.

Graham Shoes' Monkey Contest Begins Today

Jim Graham, manager of Harry Graham Shoes, 2384 W. Broad-st has announced a "Name The Monkey" contest which begins today and ends Saturday, Feb. 9.

On display at the store are three female squirrel monkeys, one of which will be given to the contestant who suggests the most original names for the trio.

Graham said there is no age limit and people may enter as often as they wish. Contest judges will be announced next week, the manager said.

Contestants may use the entry blank in the Graham advertisement in this newspaper, or pick up blanks at the store.

Building Permits Granted In Area

Alray Corp., 3035 W. Broad-st, has received building permits for 53 frame dwellings. Valuation of the structures is $20,000 each.

Twenty-six are located on Bronwyn, 13 on Woodcroft E, nine on Hafton, two on Longfield, two on Nicholas and one on Nickolas.

TO BUILD DWELLING

Marlin Radbill, 1500 Zollinger-rd, has received a building permit to erect a one-story frame dwelling at 1013 Binns-blvd. Valuation is $17,000.

Traffic Commission Rules On Two Streets

Columbus Traffic Commission has made two recommendations affecting Hilltop residents.

First, that parking be removed from the east side of Binns-blvd from W. Broad-st south to the alley and second, no parking at any time on the north side of W. State-st from Glenwood-av to the first alley east.

The first recommendation came at the request of Ron Wilcox, an attorney of Smith, Clark and Holzapfel at 2977 W. Broad-st. City Traffic Engineer Jack Gallagher said this is just south of Binns-blvd where there is a vacant lot on the east side and a doctor's office and law offices on the west side. Investigation disclosed all-day parking on both sides of W. Broad-st.

The second change came from a complaint of Mrs. Jeffries of 1100 W. State-st, who stated motorists are parking too close to the corners so that only one lane can get through. Gallagher stated this is just to the rear of what was formerly the Glenwood Storage Station for Columbus Transit Company vehicles and that a check showed continuous parking on this 26-foot street.

Police Exam, Openings Announced By Scholer

Chief of Police George W. Scholer and the Municipal Civil Service Commission have announced an open competitive examination for police patrolmen.

"We have a number of openings," the Chief said, "to be filled by young men in our area. There are qualified individuals in and around Columbus who want to become a member of our department, but who have not taken the necessary steps," Scholer continued.

"We hope these men will contact the Civil Service Commission for an application and further information.

The following qualifications are listed by the Civil Service Commission.

Male, 5'9" to 6'4", 145 lbs. to 225 lbs., 21 to 31 years, United States Citizen, Franklin County resident after appointment, High School graduate (or equivalent), 20/30 vision without glasses, Good moral character, Excellent physical condition. Must pass a mental examination.

Starting salary is $412 per month. Automatic pay increases to $432 after six months, and to $453 after 18 months of service. Further salary increases to $475 and $498 per month follow.

All men who feel they can qualify may obtain an application from the Municipal Civil Service Commission, City Hall Annex, 67 N. Front-st from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Area Folks Attend Study Of Columbus

Richard Heer Oman, chairman of the Community Education Course for civic leaders, "Inside Greater Columbus," has announced the names of 81 men and women who successfully completed the course.

The following people attended six or more sessions of the course, which is designed to acquaint civic leaders with the problems and resources of Greater Columbus:

Paul A. Barnett, 375 Weymouth-ln; Kenneth H. Helmick, 144 Binns-blvd; Joseph A. Fody, Jr., 164 Oxley-rd; Mrs. Lovell W. Rohr, 291 S. Brinker-av; Mrs. Horton D. Ryan, 316 S. Chase-av, and Lee J. Grabill, 3478 Race-st.

The eight-week series, sponsored by United Community Council and nine other civic organizations, included sessions on urban change, governmental structure, educational developments, employment, health, welfare, leisure time activities and court, probation and delinquency.

TO BUILD DWELLING

William Graham, 408 S. Wrexham-av, has received a building permit to construct a one-story frame dwelling at 803 Wiltshire-rd. Valuation is $14,000. T. J. Bair, 3084 Maryav, is the contractor.

Turner Club Sets Pancake Supper Date

The annual Luther B. Turner Craft Club pancake and sausage supper will be held at West Gate Masonic Temple, 2925 W. Broad-st, Friday, Jan. 18.

Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., with all the pancakes and sausage guests can eat.

Tickets may be obtained by calling, Cran Williams, BR. 4-0765; Harry Courter, BR. 9-1208; Craft Club president, Tom Taylor, CA. 1-5025; Harold Groves, BR. 4-0597, any member or Club office.

No tickets will be sold at the door.

Cruiser To Visit Concrete Firm

Employes of Anderson Concrete Corp., 560 Harmon-av, will have the opportunity to receive free chest X-rays when the Tuberculosis Society's Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser pays a special visit to the plant from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 18.

Free chest X-rays spot contagious tuberculosis and other serious respiratory diseases. The society offers free X-ray services to any firm employing 40 or more people.

The cruiser last visited the company in 1961 when four employes were notified about conditions suggesting need for medical follow-up.

Farm Bureau Campaigns For 1963 Members

More than 3500 Ohio farmers began their jobs Jan. 14 as voluntary membership workers for the 1963 membership campaign of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

The farmers, membership captains and workers, will be active in all of Ohio's counties from Jan. 14 through 18.

Tobacco grown for seed should be planted at least half a mile from other tobacco varieties to avoid undesirable natural crossing.

News Boy First 'Cupid' Contributor

TOM PRICE

Tom Price, 805 Lawsdale av, was the first contributor to Hartley Newspapers' giant Cupid edition to be distributed Feb. 6-7.

A South Side Leader carrier boy for the past five years, Tom, 14, takes the attitude "the papers must be delivered."

Last June he suffered a broken ankle and enlisted the help of his sister to help distribute the Leader. Several weeks ago, when both he and his sister became ill, his mother, with the help of a South Side [illegible] (who is one of Tom's customers) delivered the papers.

Tom is active in Scout Troop 511 and enjoys writing as a hobby. The poem he contributed was written as a tribute to his customers.

Seeks Permit Transfer

Billy J. Rice of Grove City Turf Club, 3988 S. Broadway, Grove City, seeks to transfer a night club liquor permit to Grove City Turf Club, Inc., of the same address.

JC Committee Named To Pick Outstanding Man

Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce has named a six-man committee to select the man who will receive the Jaycee's Distinguished Service Award as the outstanding young man of the year.

The award will be presented Saturday, Jan. 26, in the Fort Hayes Hotel. Walter E. Bartlett, vice president and general manager of WLW-C, received the award last year.

Named to the selection committee were Richard A. Borel, Morris W. Butler, Rev. Roger B. Nichols, Clarence A. Pearce, Delmar G. Starkey and Donald R. Fenn.

HINTERLANDS SEEK RECOGNITION

Suburban Press Called New Communications Skyrocket

By JERRY WOLFROM
Business Editor

A year ago when two giant Los Angeles newspapers ceased operations, so-called experts in mass communications were quick to say, "I told you so — the newspaper business in America is anemic and swiftly becoming a secondary news vehicle."

Apparently these "experts" overlooked one item in making their rash generalizations —the suburban press, truly a modern mass communications skyrocket.

In the Los Angeles area where the two newspapers with a total circulation of more than a half-million collapsed, 27 suburban newspapers are thriving.

In the past 10 years, the number of dailies in the United States has shrunk from 1761 to 1731, but in the same period the number of suburban newspapers has increased by 2000!

Suburban papers are finding their popularity going higher each week. Residents of Suburbia are clamoring for more local news. They want to know who's who in local government; they are interested in tax levies and municipal issues; and they like to know what their neighbors are doing. Suburbanites ask that two-paragraph stories in large dailies be supplemented.

Separate Entities

The potential growth of the press in the suburbs is staggering. As decentralization continues at a record rate accompanied by super-highways, airports, offices, industrial plants, and shopping centers, suburbs are becoming more self-sufficient. As separate entities, each slowly is acquiring a separate identification.

These communities represent more growing pains, more news, more social, economic, and political problems than any other geographic area. There are decisions to be made and the suburban press, once merely a bulletin board, is rising to help explain and solve the problems.

Marketing Changed

Not to be overlooked is the changing marketing pattern. Food chains, especially, are becoming less and less identified with the central city. Marketing is becoming more selective because of new purchasing habits dictated by the exodus to the outlying areas.

The suburban press is an effective contact with this exploding market. This communications medium provides the information and leadership necessary to help suburbanites understand, appreciate and adjust to a different way of life.

"In booming communities, weeklies are becoming dailies, and weeklies are being established to fill the gaps left by metropolitan dailies," commented Turner Catledge, managing editor of the New York Times.

Professional Journalism

With the demise of the dailies comes an expanding pool of professional newsmen who are discovering the suburban press. One Ohio publisher recently reported a flood of job applications from men with 20 and 30 years' experience, all left jobless by folding newspapers in Cleveland, Detroit, and Pittsburgh.

With this influx of professional journalists suburban newspapers swiftly are adding quality and depth to their editorial format. For 13 million households there is no substitute for the suburban press.

It is estimated that by 1970 at least 70 per cent of our population will live in what is now the hinterlands.

With this in mind, it can correctly be assumed that today's suburban newspapers have hardly scratched the surface in this "new journalism."

Well - balanced editorials, civic boosterism, human interest features, personalized as well as "hard" news, and responsible coverage of "hot" controversies are only a few areas in which suburban newspapers will excel in the immediate future.

WEATHER SIGN An icicle is one sign that real winter cold has arrived. Another is when you notice it takes more heat to keep you comfortable inside the house.

To provide this extra warmth your gas furnace works longer and harder. During the winter months, and especially during severe cold, you will be using more natural gas to heat your home. Your gas bill will be higher.

To meet winter demands your gas company has developed a precisely engineered delivery system. That's why so many people in this area can enjoy the comfort and convenience of gas heat for their homes — no matter how cold the weather.

Give Generously . . To Help Prevent Crippling Diseases

Every dollar you give helps to protect human life through scientific research, helps to give dignity to lives shattered by polio, arthritis, certain birth defects.

Help speed the New March of Dimes on its way to solving two other great medical problems with the same skills that were brought to bear against polio and produced the Salk and Sabin vaccines . . . on its way to do the job that needs doing against birth defects and arthritis.

You gave, and your dimes made polio prevention possible. But what about those who already suffer from polio or from arthritis, birth defects?

Give . . . to help the thousands of polio victims still fighting disability. Give . . . to support research for causes and cures, study and treatment of arthritis, birth defects. Give generously!

West Sider Uses Norwegian Elkhounds To Track Black Panther In S. Solon Area

By ED CHURCHILL

Panther hunting may seem like an unusual sport around Columbus, but David Foughty, 739 Campbell-av and his brother Chuck of Westerville, think they have just the ticket for "cat catching."

The former Foughty is the proud owner of two Norwegian Elkhounds he purchased last year in Montana where they are used for hunting mountain lions and he seems confident his dogs can track down the black panther reported running loose in the South Solon area.

No one knows where the panther came from, but a circus camped in Lafayette for the winter has offered $1,000 reward for capture of the cat —alive.

A large search party is being organized in South Solon, but the Foughtys plan to go after the animal alone.

In fact they have already been out once (last Saturday) but had no luck.

They had planned to go out Wednesday night (Jan. 16) if there was any snow on the ground so the beast could be tracked.

The Elkhounds are very similar, in size and appearance, to Huskies, used in the Arctic countries as sled dogs.

The male, "Duke," is 18 months old, weighs about 60 pounds and is "very powerful," according to his master.

Lady, the "better half" of the pair, is a year old, and slightly smaller than Duke.

Foughty said he is expecting a litter of pups in about another month.

He believed the dogs were on the panther's track last Saturday, but couldn't catch up with him, so the Foughty brothers decided to try the hunt again at night.

As for the $1,000 reward—Foughty said he is interested in it, but placed the welfare of his brother, himself and the dogs above that of the cat.

Boss Night Feature Of JCC Week

"Bosses' Night" will be the feature attraction of the Prairie-Lincoln Jaycees' annual anniversary celebration Sunday, Jan. 20 through Saturday, Jan. 26.

The employer of each charter member of the club will be treated to a banquet Monday, Jan. 21 at Monaco's Restaurant.

Featured speaker at the dinner will be Chet Long, radio-TV newscaster.

Charles Dygert, club president, said that bosses were being honored for "supporting the aims for their Jaycee employes."

Prairie-Lincoln Jaycees organized in Jan., 1960 with 30 charter members.

One of the group's yearly projects is to give coffee to motorists on national holidays in an attempt to promote traffic safety.

Its current project is a survey of the Prairie Township area, "to learn the thinking of the residents about their community."

S-W Board Mulls Over Land Buys

South-Western City School Board again devoted the major part of its board meeting to discussion of land purchases Monday night.

Most of the attention centered around tracts near Harrisburg, South Franklin and Prairie-Lincoln Elementary Schools.

The board gave the green light to negotiations for land purchase in the Marsdale Addition, heard a proposal for an access road to the Harrisburg School and deferred action on an inquiry about purchase of land in the Prairie-Lincoln School area.

Contracts for purchase of about 18 acres in the South Franklin area were authorized and the board instructed President William A. Spangler and R. A. Jennings, clerk, to negotiate for the land.

Purchase of the land for the Marsdale Addition will bring holdings in the area to about 24 acres. The board estimated land in the area should cost about $1,800 an acre.

The board received offers for two other land "deals."

Louis McKinley, Harrisburg resident, offered to donate a 30-foot strip for a road near the school if the board would match his offer.

The board tabled it and the proposed sale by a Lincoln Village resident of land near Prairie-Lincoln School, pending further study.

Jack Kidwell, New Rome resident, was appointed to the Grove City Library trustee board.

GLENWOOD GLEANINGS

New Members Join Teen Club Ranks

The Glenwood Recreation Center Teen Club got off to a new start with several new members the first of this year.

The new members are Sharon Holbrock and Marie Jones. The club, ranging in ages from 13 to 18, is planning a pizza party Tuesday night, Jan. 15.

Later on this month the club plans a roller skating party. In months following the group will have parties, dancing, picnics and other fun.

South-Western All-District Band To Perform Feb. 10

Band auditions were held at Franklin Heights, Grove City, and Pleasant View recently. Auditions were held to select the most talented bandsmen from these schools to participate in the South-Western All-District Band.

There were 37 selected from Grove City, 20 from Franklin Heights and 16 from Pleasant View.

Practices are being held every Monday at the various high schools in preparation for a concert to be held Feb. 10 at 2:30 p.m. at Franklin Heights.

The three high school directors, James R. Kimmel from Franklin Heights, John Galiriel from Pleasant View, and James Johnson from Grove City, will conduct the concert.

Among the FH teaching staff is a man who spent 29 years in India doing missionary work. Dr. Wayne Wardwell, who lived and worked in India from 1930 to 1959, teaches industrial arts at FH.

Dr. Wardwell was graduated from Ohio State University with a BA, MA and PhD. He also holds a degree from the Lane Theology Seminary in Cincinnati.

After his graduation from the seminary, he volunteered for missionary work in India where he instructed carpentry, mechanics, weaving and other similar subjects to the uneducated.

Dr. Wardwell and his wife, who is a physician and who also worked in India, have four children and nine grandchildren.

Dr. Wardwell has been on the FH teaching staff for three years.

Betty Toney, a sophomore at FH, won national recognition in the AAU Olympics. She is a member of the Ohio Track Club's 220-yard relay team which won that division with a time of 25.0 seconds.

The sophomore class Parents Association's next meeting is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 28, at 8 p.m. in the FH auditorium.

KNIGHTS—LADIES COMBO STILL GOOD

New Movie Catalog Ready At Columbus Public Library

Columbus Public Library Film Department has more than 1300 sixteen-millimeter sound movies which are included in a new 124-page catalog Galvy Gordon, public relations director, announced.

Film users must visit the Film Department of the Columbus Public Library at 96 S Grant-av, to obtain a copy. A $1 fee defrays the cost of printing. Owners of film catalogs who sign a special borrower's agreement may reserve films by phone. Films are loaned only to adults.

Titles in the collection range from the 'ABC of Puppet-Making" to the "Zoo Baby Animals." Subject matter listings are from Adolescence to Zoology. Included are 63 travel films, 55 on general science, 73 on U.S. history and 55 on famous men and women.

Also available for loan are 14-part, film-tape-book courses in beginning French, German and Spanish. Patrons supply a blank recording tape and the library makes reproductions from a master tape. A 131-page student text is available with each course

Boilerman Heads For Sixth Fleet

Bobby J. Cole, boilerman third class, US Navy, brother of Mrs. Warley Keen of 2929 El Paso-dr, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Solely which is scheduled to deploy to the Mediterranean sea early this year to join the Sixth Fleet.

Several foreign ports will be visited while the ship is enroute to the Mediterranean.

Shultz Picked Design Head Of Highways

Ross E. Shultz, 4240 Dublin-rd, became head of the Ohio Department of Highways division of design and construction, Jan. 14.

Shultz, a 63-year-old highway department career engineer, was selected for the job last week, according to Pearl E. Masheter, new highways director.

With the department since 1929, the new division boss has been in the central office since 1951.

Shultz, who was born in Williams County, is a member of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, Franklin County Chapter. He is a graduate in civil engineering from Ohio Northern University.

Roundtable

The District Roundtable will be held Monday, Jan. 21 at Westgate Methodist Church. The main topic for the scoutmasters will be the winter camporee at Hoover Dam on Jan. 25, 26 and 27. The cub-leaders' section will discuss the coming jet car contest.

Briefing Dinner

Friday, Jan. 18 will be the date of the Briefing Dinner E.M.E., at the Harrison House, Ohio State Fairgrounds. The starting time is to be 6:30.

District Committee

All institutional representatives are urged to attend the Southeast District Committee meeting Monday, Jan. 21, at the Westinghouse offices on Phillipi-rd.

Camps Out

Troop 172, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, went on a campout Jan. 12 and 13. The troop attended Camp Lazarus, and slept at Dan Boone and Buffalo Bill cabins.

Also attending were: Special Patrol Leader Ronnie Nighbert; assistant Scoutmaster David Wright; assistant Scoutmaster Sherman Nighbert and Scoutmaster John [illegible].

Committee men attending were: Mr. Stern, Mr. Zulauf and Mr. Broome.

The Flaming Arrow Patrol of the troop also participated at West High School in the Sabin-On-Sunday program, Jan. 6.

James T. Holden

Holden Selected Deputy Director For Division 5

James T. Holden, 42, 4915 Taunton-wy., Lincoln Village, was named deputy director of Division 5, Ohio Department of Highways, last week.

Holden, a three-year village resident, will be in charge of highway work in Coshocton, Fairfield, Guernsey, Knox, Licking, Muskingum and Perry counties.

The new deputy director, a former Licking County engineer, currently is Ohio engineer for the National Corrugated Metal Pipe Association.

He is a member of the Scottish Rite, Aladdin Temple Shrine, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Columbus Engineering Club and state and national engineering associations.

Building Permits Granted In Area

Oxley Corp., 3035 M. Broad-st, has received 24 building permits for construction of dwellings in Prairie Township. Valuation is from $9,500 to $10,000 each. Twelve of the homes will be located on Fernhill-av and 12 on Oxley-rd.

Church of Christ in Christian Union, 245 Wilson-av, has received a permit to construct a parsonage at 2700 McComb-rd, Jackson Township. Valuation is $9,000. Virgil Hageman is the contractor.

Ohio State Bank To Establish Hilliard Office

The Ohio State Bank has announced plans to open a banking office in Hilliard. Scheduled to be opened before March 31, the office will be located in the Hilliard Shopping Center, 240 Rome-Hilliard-rd.

Bank officials said approval for the new establishment was received from the Ohio Superintendent of Banks and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. last year.

At the end of 1962 total resources at the Ohio State Bank exceeded $25 million. Directors of the bank include George W. Byers Jr., Don M. Casto Jr., Al C. Haft, W. C. Harrison, Frederick B. Hill, Frank W. Kelley, Dahlton R. Kincaid, A. P. Leibrand, Gordon S. Lemert, Wilbur L. Shull, A. W. Van Hise, and H. Taylor Zettler.

The downtown office of the Ohio State Bank is at 62 E. Broad-st. Other offices are at Town and Country Shopping Center, 4592 E. Main-st, and in Reynoldsburg.

Public Vs. Private Utility Service

We have long been advocates of private business handling all jobs pertaining to the welfare of the public insofar as is possible.

It was interesting to note that the development of Telstar seemed to be headed in the direction of government control. It is hoped that any benefits forthcoming will come via private business operation. It will be necessary if the utmost in accomplishment is to be realized and passed on to our people.

Back in 1920 the telephone companies started installing dial phones. Now the automatic phone system is spread from coast to coast and the company employs 2½ times as many people as back in 1920.

In this same time the post office has made so very few improvements in handling the mail that it stands out as the prime example to demonstrate the merits of the private system over that of the government operated program.

Today we are all paying another penny for the delivery of a letter. This price can and will go higher unless something is done to reduce actual costs of handling the mail. This can come about only through the use of greater mechanization of the system.

It would appear that this country needs a postal system as modern as the rest of the country. We have good men in the postal service. But they need the proper tools for their profession.

Good Selection

Announcement of the selection of Kline L. Roberts as president of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce with executive capacity, and that of Clyde McBee as assistant, foretells a fine program ahead for the C. of C. in our opinion.

We have long had a high regard for Mr. Roberts as a civic leader in this area and a gentleman who has demonstrated his abilities as well as his interest in service while a member of the Ohio Senate.

His knowledge of the needs of Columbus and the background of Mr. McBee with the Chamber of Commerce for many years will certainly provide a good team in this vitally important organization in our Central Ohio Area. We wish them well.

Five-Year Budget Reveals Big Projects For West Area

"ONE . . . TWO . . . THREE, PULL!" Firefighters at Engine House No. 6, W. Broad and Mill-sts, are shown pulling a hose down from the ancient hose drying tower. Seen left to right are Carl Sowers, Chet Fowler and Lt. Tod Taynor whose job it is to keep records on how long each hose is dried. This 60-year-old facility is only one reason why the city hopes to replace the outdated plant as part of the Five-Year Capital Improvement Program. (See story on this page and more pictures on page 16.)

A double deck Sandusky-st portion of the innerbelt system, expanded recreation facilities, police sub-stations and a rapidly expanding community. These were some of the subjects covered by Columbus Service Director Ernest Stork as he addressed the second annual report meeting of the West Side Neighborhood Council.

The session, held at the Gladden Community Center on Jan. 17, was opened with prayer by Rev. L. L. Young. The prayer was followed by reports from the health committee, the welfare committee, the traffic committee and the membership committee.

Walter Cunningham, outgoing president, urged the membership to become familiar with area representatives and to take advantage of their services in making suggestions and offering criticism.

Service Director Stork opened his remarks by telling of recommendations to "rehabilitate the esthetic value of the Scioto River — an important asset." He told of plans to insure unhampered high water run off by clearing the river channel, adding that this work had already started and will be followed with further improvement downstream. Stork estimated the cost of work on the lower part of the river at $675,000.

Stating that he had entered public service in 1915, the service director recalled the West Side flood in which several hundred persons lost their lives. To this he added, "Currently we are adding three more phases of flood protection as it affects the West Side."

Stork told the gathering of plans to raise the Dry Run levee equal to the height of the Pennsylvania Railroad embankment by placing a flood gate across McKinley-av and adding a new levee between the Scioto and U.S. Rt. 33 in the vicinity of Fisher-rd. He also told of the current cleaning of river revertments which were constructed in 1916.

Stork then covered the subject of a west freeway (from West Jefferson to the Spring-Sandusky Interchange), telling of plans being studied for the proposed project. He said that he is re-studying the Sandusky leg of the innerbelt system because of the anticipated

Doran Named To Head West Side Council

Stanley Doran, founder and manager of Pilot Dogs, Inc., was named the third president of the West Side Neighborhood Council by popular vote of the general membership Thursday, Jan. 17.

Doran stated that the council is his only outside activity because of the limited time he was allowed to be away from the training school.

Doran, his wife and two children reside at 619 W. Town-st in a home that adjoins the school in which dogs are trained as guides and companions for the blind. Doran founded the school at his par-

'WASTE OF MONEY'

Highway Department Book Frowned Upon By Administration

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Many eyebrows in the cut-expense-conscious new state administration are raised this week over some governmental spending done during the last reign of power.

Case in point is a 247-page paper back book entitled "Ohio Department of Highways Four-Year Report to the Governor," bearing the name of former Highway Director E. S. Preston and directed to Ex-Governor Michael V. DiSalle.

The booklet was attacked by both the present Highway Director P. E. Masheter and Governor James Rhodes' administrative assistant, Dean Jauchius.

Total cost of the project was reported at $8,732.35. The highway department was provided 5,000 copies.

"They were given pretty wide circulation," Masheter pointed out. "One went to each of the highway officials in the 50 states, a copy went to the Better Highways Information Corp. in Washington and all public sub-division, county, city and state officials received one. In addition, all public libraries were supplied with one and a number of copies went to the Ohio Contractors Association."

Still, Masheter said that some 240 of them were left over and are now stored in the highway office at 450 E. Town-st.

"This administration is opposed to it completely," Jauchius said. "It was obviously done in an effort to exhaust available surpluses in the Finance Department and put out for political purposes."

Jauchius also pointed out that it "duplicates a job done at private expense" which covers basically the same material.

Masheter said that his office is "still studying" the contents of the booklet to see if it "took credit" for work done by him while he was director of Design and Construction up until 1959. The book says that it covers 1959 to 1962.

The printing date listed on the back cover reads Dec. 31, 1962. It reached the offices of most press media throughout the state with a Jan. 8, 1963 postmark.

"It's certainly a waste of public money," said Masheter, who added that his department may have problems getting out any reports at all due to "the financial position we've been left in."

Masheter, who also termed the book a "propaganda report," said that he hadn't gone over one section of it — entitled "Looking Ahead To 1980" — to see if it agreed with the program he plans to pursue.

A statute in the Ohio Revised Code provides that each state department publish an annual report on its progress. Jauchius said that the Highway Department had published annual reports during the last four years and that this book represented an "unnecessary remark."

The professional-looking book contains a number of pictures and includes a 177-page "Appendix" listing every county in the state and the projects done by the previous administration in each.

Besides this, there are five "pull out" double-page maps in the back which depicts such items as "Scenic Highways" and "Correction of Accident-Prone Portions."

Ex-Highway Director Preston was vacationing in Puerto Rico this week and unavailable for comment on the project. Former Governor DiSalle could not be reached, either, at his Park Towers apartment address.

OHIO-AV PASTOR

Rev. Herbert, Noted EUB Minister, Dies

Service was held Sunday at the Oak Hill EUB Church for Rev. Glendon Herbert, 46, of 973 S. Ohio-av, minister of the Ohio Avenue EUB Church, who died early last Thursday in University Hospital.

The minister, who was widely known for his preaching ability, had been unable to return to his pulpit since undergoing major surgery in October.

He had previously served at Hilltonia and North Linden churches.

The minister, who gave his first sermon at the age of 14 in the Second EUB Church, Portsmouth, was licensed to preach in 1930.

When he was graduated from high school, his fellow classmates at Oak Hill, asked him to preach the baccalaureate service.

Later, while enrolled at Ohio University, he served six country churches — living in McArthur and commuting to classes in Athens. He was ordained in 1947.

He was a member of Tau Kappa, speech society, and in his collegiate days won first in oratory for colleges and universities in Ohio.

In addition to his degree from Ohio University, he held a degree from the seminary at Capital University.

Rev. Glendon Herbert

He had been active in various committees of his denomination and of the Columbus Area Council of Churches. He was former chairman of the department of Christian

Truck Smashes Through Pole

The tractor of a semi-trailer truck was completely demolished as the vehicle swerved to avoid a car and crashed through a steel utility pole on the northeast corner of W. Broad-st and Westmoor-av early Tuesday, policemen reported.

The driver, Ernest W. Johnson, 59, of Detroit, was treated for a bloody nose in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

He reported he hit the pole when a car southbound in Westmoor-av pulled out from a stop sign, Patrolman Earl Jackson said.

The car did not stop after the accident.

Johnson also lost his wallet in the wreckage. It contained $385.

Bronze Hero Medal Awarded To Cline

The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission of Pittsburgh announced Tuesday evening, Jan. 22, that the late William T. Cline had posthumously been awarded a bronze medal for heroism and his two boys would each receive $500 cash grants.

Cline, a Hilltop resident, died June 24, 1962, while attempting to rescue Mrs. Jennie Klopp, 78, of 2188 W. Mound-st from his burning car.

CLINE

Before the woman could get out of the car, it was hit from the rear by another auto. The crash welded the two vehicles together and they skidded 100 feet along the pavement igniting the gasoline in the tank of the Cline car, according to police.

Cline's wife, Martha, and son, Charles, escaped from the back of the car and the man's other son, William Jr. from the front seat.

Police said Cline tried again and again to save Mrs. Klopp, who sat in the burning car apparently stunned from the crash impact.

He finally collapsed, his own clothing on fire and died a day later from burns in the Mt. Carmel Hospital.

This was not Cline's first act of heroism, he received the Silver Star and four battle stars during World War II.

The Cline family received $1,300 in "flower funds" from friends and relatives who also painted their house in one day. Local 67, International Association of Firefighters, presented a heroism award posthumously to the widow and two boys in August.

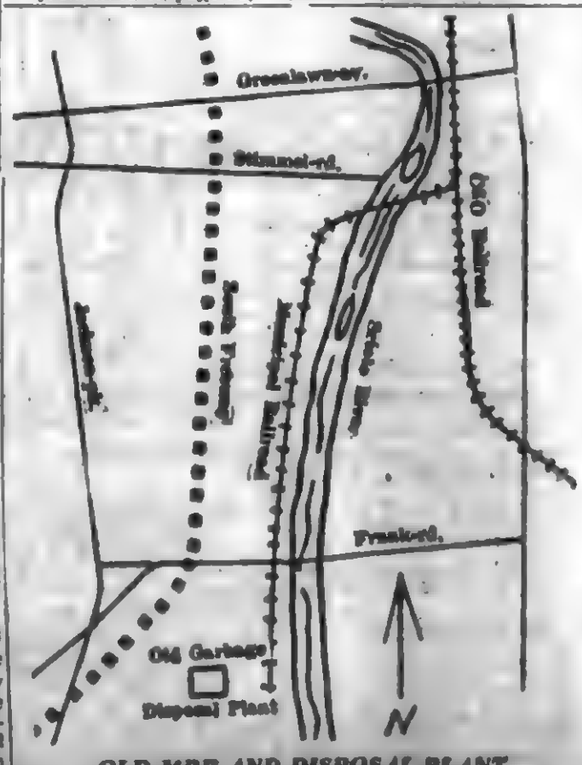
Expect Nearly 300 At YMCA Meeting At Westinghouse



Cincinnati Redlegs catcher John Edwards, a former member of the Hilltop YMCA, will be featured as the guest speaker at the 15th annual meeting of the organization, Tuesday, Jan. 29.

The meeting, scheduled at the Westinghouse Corp. auditorium, Phillippi-rd, at 6:45 p.m., will also include a presentation of the Hilltop "Y" Indian Guide dance team, the election of members to the board of management and the naming of an advisory council.

West High School principal David Randall has been named to serve as master of ceremonies.

Early in the week officials at the Hilltop branch of the YMCA predicted that nearly 300 persons would attend the get-together. Although estimates would not be official until the close of reservation on Friday, a spokesman for

OLD MRR AND DISPOSAL PLANT
Columbus' Only Railroad, In Center of Map

Municipal Railroad, Columbus' Only Venture Into World Of Iron Horse, About To Pass

By ED CHURCHILL

The day of the small-time railroad owner is over and the City of Columbus, being no more unaware of the trends of progress than any other, has decided to get out of the railroad business for good.

Nobody has been able to find out for sure when it was, but Service Director Ernest Stork, unofficial authority on Columbus, believes it was between 1900 and 1905 when the city built a stretch of railroad from just below Greenlawn-av to what was then the garbage reduction plant.

The reduction plant was located just south of the Men's Workhouse on Jackson-pk.

A bridge was built by the city just below Greenlawn-av for the railroad and the tracks joined the Hocking Valley RR (now the Chesapeake and Ohio) on the east side of the river.

A very original name was given to Columbus' contribution to the world of the iron horse — "The Municipal Railroad".

Columbus used the trains to haul garbage to the reduction plant and haul coal back to the city.

At the time the city boundaries only went as far south as Greenlawn.

But now the 60-year-old tracks will have to be torn up to make room for widening of the Scioto River and of Frank-rd.

Stork said the river will be widened, deepened and the levee will be raised four feet on the west side, thus taking the land which the tracks now occupy.

Whether or not all the track will be torn up, Stork was not sure, but that which Frank-rd crosses definitely will have to go since the city and county have lined up a joint project of widening the road to four lanes to make it part of the expressway system.

The MRR actually went out of service in the mid-30's when Columbus installed incinerators to get rid of garbage.

Recollections of the changeover, when householders had to wrap garbage in newspapers, brought some chuckles from Stork as he recounted the tale of the railroad.

Occasionally, since the 30's, the tracks have been used to haul coal into Columbus but was taken over by the Columbus Rendering Co. about 10 years ago and now it is the sole user.

The agreement made upon the sale of the MRR was that either party would have to give six months' notice of intent to abandon it and Stork said the rendering company has been told of the city's plans.

Now all that's left for the city's lone venture into the railroad business is a short wait until construction workers start tearing up its tracks and make way for progress.

According to the service director, going over or under the tracks would cost at least $500,000, and it "obviously isn't worth it."

Erb Is Promoted At Westinghouse

Charles E. Erb has been appointed general manager of Westinghouse Electric Corporation's major appliance division, it has been announced by Cris J. Witting, vice president and general manager of the company's consumer products groups.

Erb, formerly the major appliance division marketing manager, succeeds John W. Craig, who will become vice president and manager of special accounts in Pittsburgh.

Erb

Witting also announced that:

Wiese

George L. Wiese, former general manager of the company's East Springfield, Mass., plant, has been appointed operations manager of the major appliance division.

Brooks

Robert P. Brooks, former manager of the division's kitchen appliance department at Mansfield, will succeed Erb as marketing manager.

Erb, who has spent his business career in marketing and distribution, joined Westinghouse in 1953 as merchandise manager at Bloomfield, N.J. He later became division marketing manager and general manager of the large lamp department before being transferred to Columbus.

Wiese joined the company in 1951 and served as general manager of the East Springfield plant.

Brooks joined Westinghouse in 1939. He held positions in advertising and sales promotion in Pittsburgh, Springfield, Mass., and Washington. Two years ago he was named manager of the kitchen appliance department.

Firemen Rescue Man From House

Two New Rome volunteer firemen, Paul Troesch, 130 Lennox-av, and Charles Spring, 377 Lawrence-av, were commended by Department Chief Ruskin Richard for rescuing Gordon Monjar from his burning apartment at 5344 W. Broad-st, early Saturday morning.

Monjar was listed in fair condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital with first and second degree burns. Troesch was injured slightly and also taken to Mt. Carmel and released.

Army Accepting MEN In Nurse Corps!

Don't blab it all over the neighborhood, fellows, but the army is accepting applications from men in the nurse corps. This could be the biggest boon to enlistment since the USO shows.

The official announcement from Sgt. Gerald Huff, local Army recruiter, said that "For the first time in its 61-year history, the Army that the program provides financial assistance for 19 months to graduate nurses who have been accepted as full-time students in an accredited college which offers a course leading to a bachelor's or master's degree in nursing.

"Male and female grads of a school of nursing," Sgt. Huff said, "between the ages of 21 and 32 who are U.S. citizens and who physically and morally qualify will receive the full salary of a first or second lieutenant.

In case further inducement is needed, the sergant pointed out that selectees will also receive all privileges of officer personnel on active duty such as medical and dental care and 30 days' paid vacation annually.

Besides this, nurses in the program are not required to attend military meetings or wear uniforms while attending the college of their choice.

They are commissioned in the Nurse Corps, Army Reserve, as officers and assigned on active duty at their college.

Local male — and female registered nurses—can get more information from Sgt. Huff by contacting him at his office (Third and State-st) 221-6411, Ext. 160.

TO MAKE ADDITION

Pearl Green, 777 Doyle-st, has received a building permit to make an addition to a frame dwelling. Valuation is $1,700. J. E. Hill is the contractor.

'63 Officials Named By Jefferson Savings

C. J. Murray, president and chairman of the board of Jefferson Savings Association, has announced the re-election of William S. Culp and Russel E. Welch to the association's board of directors at the annual stockholders meeting.

Officers elected include, C. J. Murray, president and chairman of the board; Charles W. Dozer, vice-president and secretary; Culp, attorney and assistant secretary; Lio Jackson, assistant secretary; Jessie Kronk, assistant treasurer; and Lois Jean Graves, assistant treasurer.

Holdover directors include, Murray, J. L. Lewis, J. R. Murray, Dozer, and Charles A. Dozer.

Charles A. Dozer, managing officer, reported the remodeling program has been completed with complete modernization of the association's physical facilities. He also reported the latest National Cash Register machine accounting system has been installed.

The managing officer said another innovation was the completion of a new time-and temperature sign—the first in Madison County.

Kalanchoe Plants Now In Bloom At Conservatory

A distinct fleshy, moisture-holding characteristic of the leaves enables the cactus-like plants to store water and survive in the desert.

The Kalanchoes which are grown for house plants come from South Africa. The most common colors in the cluster-ed flowers are red, yellow and purple.

Also the following plants are in bloom at the conservatory: camelia, azalea, lantana, hibiscus, Christmas cactus, impatiens and shrimp plant.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 25, 26 and 27, will be the dates of the winter camporee at Hoover Dam.

It is expected that the attendance will be about 250 Scouts and Scouters.

The man in charge is Ralph Duncan, district camping chairman. He will be assisted by patrol dads from each troop.

The main program of the camporee is to be winter games and contests based on the basic skills of first and second class.

Saturday evening, the main event will be a campwide campfire.

The camporee will end early enough Sunday morning so all involved at the camp can arrive home in time to get to their church of their choice.

Tway Completes Final Oral Exam For Doctorate

Major Duane C. Tway, son of Mrs. Myrle W. Tway, 41 Elden-av, has successfully completed final oral examinations for a Ph.D. degree in history from the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) after 15 years of study and preparation.

Tway began studying for the degree at UCLA in 1948. When he was called into the Air Force in 1951, he had completed the course work but had yet to write his thesis. Since that time he has used his off-duty time to collect information and write the thesis, "The Influence of the Hudson Bay Company Upon Canada, 1870-1889." He will be awarded the degree in ceremonies later this month.

The major, who has been selected for an assignment as assistant air attache to France, is presently director of education for the Air Force Academy Preparatory School at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Treatment Given To 580 By Seal Program

More than 580 crippled children and adults received services in 1962 through the local Easter Seal organization, The Franklin County Society for Crippled Children.

Aids dispensed at the new Treatment Center, 565 South Monroe-av, include speech, occupational, physical therapies for pre-school children; two nursery school classes, rehabilitation aids; transportation, social service, summer camp and public education.

The program of the Society is direct service to the handicapped and to provide unmet rehabilitation needs in the community without duplicating the program of any other agency.

STUDENT SAFETY CONCERN OF SCHOOL OFFICIALS

THIS SCENE and its potential danger to Westmoor Junior High students is repeated each school day at dismissal time. Students leave the tunnel on Huron, not visible on the left, and move east on Steele-av. During January safety month, Westmoor officials point out the hazards, the need for sidewalks and, most important, the need for safety education in the home.

Annual Alton Celebration Feb. 1 And 2

The annual Alton Community Institute country-style celebration has been planned for Friday and Saturday, Feb. 1 and 2, according to Institute chairman, Don Schilling.

A program of music has been slated for both days and a baking contest for both the men and for the women are also billed.

Door prizes will be given each day and prizes will also be awarded for the baking contests, sewing contests, best produce and the winning cakes will be auctioned off by Frank Roby.

Alton Grange will serve a lunch Friday and Saturday and supper on Friday.

The event will be staged in the Alton Grange Hall.

"WHAT'S A TUBERCULIN TEST?"—First-graders at Blanc School hear school nurse Mrs. Dorothea Tripp, explain the Tuberculosis Society's school tuberculin testing program, to begin in the Hilltop area Feb. 1. Don't Force Yourself, But Visit 'Forcing House' Soon Planning to visit the Franklin Park Conservatory soon? Visit the growing or forcing house while you are there.

At the present time, they are forcing roses for the Flower and Garden Show to be held at Veterans Memorial this coming March.

Lantana is another plant being forced and there are are some in bloom at present.

These plants can be grown inside and out. If they are kept inside they should be kept in a south window. Outside Lantana is used for a low growing border plant and the spent blooms must be pinched off regularly.

There happens to be a weeping variety in bloom, also, in the conservatory.

WESTMOOR NAMES SAFETY COMMITTEE

WESTMOOR JUNIOR HIGH is cooperating in the safety program sponsored during January by the AAA, Columbus Schools and the Police Department. A safety slogan poster contest, with cash prizes awarded to the winners, and a safety essay contest are among the school activities. The items will be included in a scrapbook, to be judged by the sponsors, with the winning school receiving a large, rotating trophy to keep for the current year. From left are, Paula Baker, assistant student coordinator; Policewoman Jeanne Bray, coordinator of the city-wide program; Donna Jenks, Westmoor coordinator, and Pauline Toy, assistant student coordinator.

Area First Graders TO Receive TB Tests

Over 1600 first graders in Hilltop and West Side Columbus Public Schools will be offered free tuberculin tests during the month of February, the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County reported.

The test, approved by the Academy of Medicine, and local health departments, is the Mantoux needle-type test.

"It is the first year that the TB Society has offered these tests to every first grader in Columbus Public Schools," according to C. Edward Harrison, society case-detection director. And children in 106 elementaries will be tested by spring.

Hilltop and West Side schools, and their testing dates are:

Bellows, Avondale and Franklinton, Friday, Feb. 1; Chicago, Dana and Sullivant, Monday, Feb. 4; Georgian Heights, Eakin, Binns and Lindbergh, Tuesday, Feb. 5; Westgate, Burroughs and W. Mound, Wednesday, Feb. 6, and Valleyview, West Broad and Highland, Friday, Feb. 8.

The testing-program locates active tuberculosis and spots those who have TB germs in their bodies.

A positive reaction to the test does not necessarily mean that the student has active tuberculosis, but does mean that he has been in close contact with someone who does and that TB germs have entered his body.

Each positive reactor and his close family contacts are x-rayed to locate the active source of contagious TB.

TRAMPOLINE AND TUMBLING

The past week has been an eventful one for those interested in the trampoline and tumbling program. On Saturday, Jan. 19, a group of six boys was taken to Ohio State University to see a gymnastics meet. The boys were Jerry and Larry Nichols, Jim and Mike Fout, Leonard Scowden and Butch Miller.

On Friday, Jan. 18, one of the fine trampolinists from Ohio State's gymnastics team, Dan Jarret, came to Sunshine and put on a demonstration and also helped several individuals with stunts they were trying to learn.

BASKETBALL

Last week's basketball results in the Senior League were as follows:

Sullivant Gardens 47, Salvito and Co. 35; Gladden 47, Sunshine 32; Boys Club 65, Varsity Club 22.

The senior boy who was top scorer in the league games this past week was Charles Alston of the Sullivant Gardens team. Bob Valentine was selected as the Player of the Week in the senior league. Bob is 17 years old and is in the 12th grade at Central High School. His general floor play and scoring ability have labeled him as one of the top players in the league.

Last week's basketball results in the Intermediate League were as follows: Sullivant Gardens 34, Knickerbockers 29; Royals 47, Celtics 23; Bulldogs 37, Westside Wildcats 33.

Steve Kittel, a tenth grader at Central High School was selected as the outstanding player this week in the intermediate league. Steve's general play inspired his teammates to stage a late rally when down by many points, to close out the game only a few points short of victory.

BOXING

The Sunshine Boxers have spent a hard week preparing for the Golden Gloves which will be held in February. Anyone interested in boxing should contact Al George tomorrow.

Rev. Didier, Miss Worrel To Present The Programs 'Tuesday At The Y'

"The Importance of Feeling Inferior" will be the topic of the address given by Rev. Calvin W. Didier for "Tuesday at the Y" at the Hilltop YWCA Center, 2879 Valleyview-dr, the morning of Jan. 29.

Rev. Didier is the senior minister of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. Before coming to Columbus, and while he was pastor at La-Porte, Ind., he served as a joint county representative to the Indiana State Legislature. He is now chaplain to the House of Representatives, Ohio Legislature.

During the past summer, Miss Florence Worrell, executive director of the YWCA, attended the International Social Work Conference in Petropoulos, Brazil, and travelled extensively in South America.

On the afternoon of Jan. 29, she will show slides of her trip and share her impressions of the critical conditions there. Her topic will be "The Peace Corps in South America."

With the exception of six years, Miss Worrell has devoted her adult life to the YWCA.

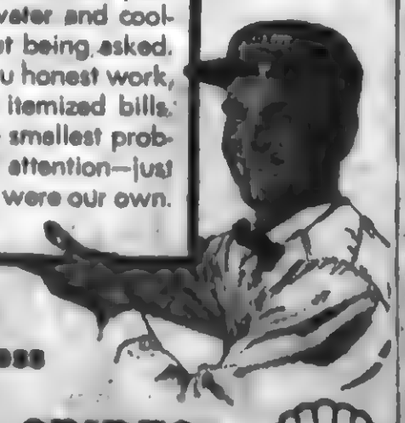
From 1950 to 1956 she was program director for international women visitors to the United States under the federal education program. In 1954 she was aked by the state department to manage the national observance of Human Rights Day.

Before coming to Columbus, she was national director of public affairs for the Y[illegible]

A customary gourmet luncheon will be served at noon prepared by the gourmet and foreign cooking class which meets on Tuesday mornings.

Total cost of the day's program is $1, including lunch[illegible]

Supervised baby-sitting, with crafts, will be available at no extra charge. Mothers are requested to bring a sack lunch for their children. Milk will be furnished.



This program is a privilege of YWCA membership or family membership in the Hilltop YMCA.

Deadline Draws Overload Of Mail On Tag Requests

Due to the large volume of mail requests for dog licenses received at the deadline, the public need not be concerned about the delay in receiving tags, said Fred C. Dunn, county auditor. Licenses will be sent out as soon as the mail can be processed.

No penalty will be attached to those who forwarded their applications prior to the Jan. 20 deadline, added Dunn.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Kraut-Frankfurter Week Brings Savings

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, grapefruit, winter pears, Emperor grapes.

Vegetables — Red potatoes, yams, carrots, white cabbage (old crop), celery, leaf lettuce.

Meats — Frankfurters, pork roasts, beef "specials," fryers.

One glance at the food ads this week will remind you that National Kraut and Frankfurter Week begins Jan. 24 — a time when retailers offer you the makings of some good meals at exceptionally low prices. Natural "go-withs" for pork and kraut are mashed potatoes and apples in some form to add tartness — and, note that both potatoes and apples are also on the list of good buys.

Mrs. Franks

As for other meats, market men say that slightly lower retail prices are likely on beef since marketings of fed cattle are on the increase. Recent price weakness at wholesale level on ribs and loins, combined with the seasonally good demand for roasts, make steak cuts likely prospects for retail specialing in the weeks ahead. However, for strict economy, ground beef and liver are probably your best bets.

Market reports also indicate that pork supplies have dropped from peak levels of late fall and are likely to decline a little more this month and next. Retail prices are are not expected to change much for several weeks, but you'll likely see fewer specials on fresh pork.

Broiler marketings from January through March are expected to be about 13 per cent above a year ago, so broilers will keep their low price tags whether they are featured by the store or not. Egg prices, which have been relatively strong during the past several months, moved a little higher as a result of the recent cold weather, which temporarily cut egg production. Even so, there's no better protein buy offered than eggs; the large sizes continue to be the best values by weight.

At produce counters, the weather still is playing a dominant role. The cold wave that hit fruit and vegetable areas on Jan. 14 — this time in Texas, Arizona and parts of California — did considerable damage to such crops as tomatoes, lettuce, peppers, green onions and leafy green vegetables. The navel orange crop and other fruits also suffered from the cold temperatures. Official estimates of damage are not available at this writing.

You will notice price advances on many western vegetables this week, including green cabbage. However, increases are expected to be only temporary, barring another weather upset.

Florida's vegetable crops are recovering rapidly, although supplies can't be called abundant. A few snap beans are in markets now — only cucumbers and corn seem to be in short supply.

Again this week a number of canned vegetables are being suggested as economical substitutes for the higher priced fresh items. Tomatoes, snap beans, corn, peas, lima beans and kidney beans are a few of the good values; we suggest you scan the grocery shelves for others. The heavy stocks of frozen green beans are resulting in good buys at the frozen food chests, while fresh beans are scarce.

Use Of Sporting Firearms Is Defended

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROB COCHRAN

The information in this column today is by no means exclusive or original. Indeed, I hope you read the same or similar material several times in the near future. The subject is this, the number of "anti-gun" articles and editorials that have appeared in national publications.

While these articles may reflect the best of intentions and honest conviction, the logic involved is somewhat difficult to understand. In most cases, the evidence presented in support—and even abolition—of privately-owned firearms is extremely ill-conceived and dangerous, to you individually and to our society.

This week the "pro-gun" argument is being stated at the fourth annual Seminar of Firearms and Ammunition Development, Alton, Ill. Lowell E. Krieg, vice-president and general manager, Winchester-Western Division, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., is making a speech entitled "The Private Ownership of Firearms in the United States."

Here are some of Krieg's points:

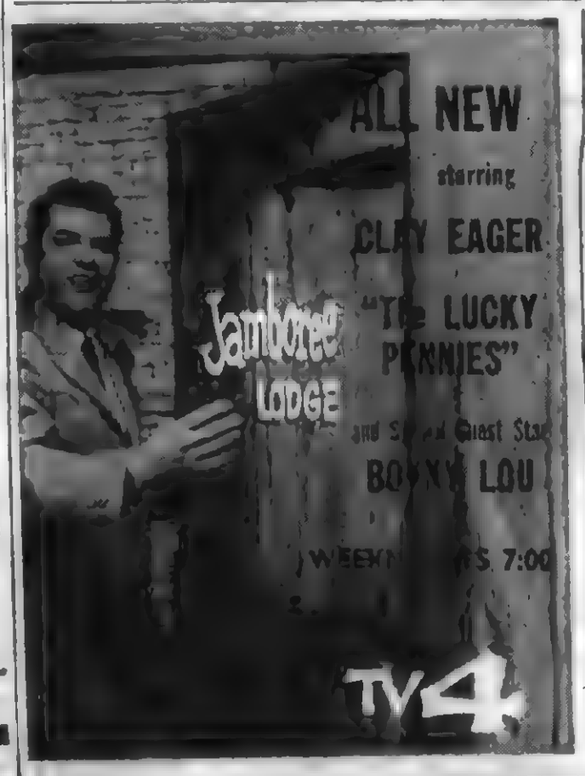
"No responsible person — in or out of the firearms industry, sportsman or not — wants firearms to be freely used by criminals or other maladjusted members of our society."

"By the same token, no responsible person should desire or attempt to limit the free use of sporting firearms by other responsible members of that same society.

"A gun never killed anyone, robbed a bank, threatened or molested a defenseless individual. It is an inanimate object that is as harmless as a lump of metal until the moment a human being provides the energy to give it action.

"It is nothing short of ridiculous to assume that the criminal intent on armed robbery will register his gun before he commits a crime.

"It is the criminal himself who provides the secret to the prevention of crime. Society is misleading itself when it trys to punish a knife, rope, gun or the proverbial 'blunt object.'



"There is only one way to restrict the use of firearms by criminals: make the penalty for the use of guns or any deadly weapon in the commission of a crime so severe that criminals will be afraid to use them. In other words, the deterrent penalty will far outweigh any possible criminal gain. The criminal is penalized and not the honest citizen.

"Education, proper supervision and preventive safeguards are the answers to safety problems concerning household objects that hold a potential danger for any member of the family.

"Sporting firearms — and there are literally tens of millions of them in the United States — hold a huge potential for recreation, pleasure, sport and applied skill. They hold a very small potential for danger relative to their use, numbers and in comparison to other sports."

The next quotation is not from Krieg's speech, but from the U.S. Bill of Rights, Article II: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Copies of the Krieg paper are available free on request: Winchester News Bureau, 460 Park-av, New York 22, N.Y.

Big Brothers Say 'Week' Was Best In History

More than 120 "brothers" and "several hundred" associated members volunteered during "Big Brother Week", Jan. 6-13 to make it the most successful week in the 30-year history of the organization, according to President, Herbert Wise.

"I am sure our active members will be able to follow-up in recruiting additional volunteers so we will have enough men to serve the 300 boys now on our waiting list," he added.

The report on the week's activities will be given at the annual meeting Thursday, Feb. 21 at the Desert Inn and the national conference to be held on the Ohio State University campus in May.

BidsOnAddition OpenNextMonth

South-Western City Board of Education will open bids for the addition to Pleasant View High School at a noon meeting Monday, Feb. 4. Contracts will be awarded at a meeting that evening.

The board will also hold a meeting Monday, Jan. 28 to receive bids on the three elementary schools to be built in the district. Robert Beatty of East Liverpool is the architect for the elementary buildings.

Park Federal Total Assets Hit $32 Million Mark In '62

Outstanding growth in assets, reserves, and members, along with major expansion of facilities, highlighted Park Federal Savings and Loan Association's 73rd year of continuous service in the Columbus area.

Total assets reached a new high of over $32 million as of Dec. 31. Reserves, keeping pace with the dynamic growth of the association, now stand at more than $1,900,000.

Carl F. Fergus, president and director of Park Federal, said the association has been making sound advancement in Greater Columbus ever since 1890.

Today, Park Federal serves 22,480 persons in the Columbus area.

Fergus said Park Federal has played an important part in community progress over the years. Since its founding in 1890, the association has provided more than $82 million to finance the building or purchase of homes in greater Columbus.

In 1962 the firm celebrated the opening of its new branch office for the West Side. Known as Park Federal West, the office is at 4770 W. Broad-st in Lincoln Village.

Manager there is Harry Hewson, a graduate of the school of Business Administration of Franklin University. Hewson was formerly with the city attorney's office in the department of land acquisition.

The new branch in Lincoln Village, which was made necessary to meet the requirements of increasing numbers of members, brings the number of Park Federal offices in the Columbus area to four. The association's main office is at 1885 Northwest-blvd, the downtown office at 20 E. Long-st, and the Worthington office at 777 High-st.

One hundred forty-six consecutive dividends have been distributed, and Fergus pointed out that in 1962 the largest total dividends for any 12 months in the association's history were paid.

Present officers in addition to President Fergus and including new officers elected at Park Federal's recent annual meeting are: Jacob C. Baas, vice-president and director; H. W. Brinker, vice-president and director.

Jack W. Chilcote, vice-president and secretary; John C. Fergus, attorney and director; Richard C. Addison, general counsel and director; T. F. Hambleton, treasurer; James D. MacAulay, assistant vice-president; Harry W. Hewson, manager of Park Federal West Alexander Gray, manager Home Improvement Department.

William F. Meyer, assistant treasurer; Gerald Knose, assistant treasurer, and Jerry Tilton, assistant treasurer.

County CD Officers In '63 Picked

Frederic D. Stanton, 2575 Charing-rd, was re-elected Chairman of the Columbus and Franklin County Civil Defense organization for 1963.

Re-elected vice - chairman was Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, Columbus Health Commissioner.

The Executive Committee is composed of Columbus Mayor, W. Ralston Westlake, City Service Director Ernest H. Stork, City Safety Director Albert G. Giles, County Commissioners William M. Micks, Glenn L. Myers, and Henry A. Koontz, Township Trustee representative Elmer F. Weber, Paul Gingher, Dr. David K. Heydinger, Rand P. Hollenback, Dr. William G. Myers, Stanton and Goodloe.

A representative of the Franklin County Mayor's Association is to be named.

Central '38 Grads Seek Classmates For Reunion

A committee of June 1938 graduates of Central High School is contacting members of that graduating class for a reunion to be held sometime in the near future.

Graduates of that class who have not been contacted, are asked to phone June Barry McLoughlin, BE. 5-9237; Ruth Catchpole Griffith, AX. 9-5474, or Sonnie Douridas Byrne, 268-6228.

Dianna Colombo December Bride Of Merle E. Snyder

Miss Dianna Lou Colombo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Colombo, 434 S. Powell-av, became the bride of Mr. Merle Edward Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Snyder of Blacklick, Dec. 29, 7:30 p.m. at Saint Paul's Evangelical Congregational church.

Rev. Wilbur Deck read the 7:30 p.m. wedding service.

The bride wore a gown of bridal satin, designed with a crescent neckline outlined in Venice lace and long tapered sleeves. Motifs of lace were repeated in the panel skirt front, and the controlled silhouette extended into a wide chapel train.

The bridal veil of imported silk illusion fell from a double coronet of pearl and crystal. She carried white roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Randall Adkins was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Judith Slaughter and Mrs. Paul Weiner of Indianapolis, Ind.

They wore identically fashioned gowns of emerald green peau taffeta, designed with bateau necklines, bracelet sleeves and high-rise silhouettes.

Fur pillbox hats and matching muffs, accented with red roses and camellia leaves, completed their ensembles.

Mr. Michael Dague of Outville was best man and ushers were Mr. Harold Utsinger of Gahanna and Mr. Jerry McIntosh of Blacklick.

A reception was held in the church basement, immediately following the wedding ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Rita Fredendall and Miss Charlotte Montgomery.

Hilltopper Is Wed In Newfoundland

St. Patrick's Church at St. John's, Newfoundland, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Murphy of St. John's and Hilltopper, Mr. Robert Bushdorf.

Fr. J. J. Murray officiated at the wedding service.

The new Mrs. Bushdorf is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murphy of St. John's, and Mr. Bushdorf's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bushdrof, 279 Derrer-rd.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Gerard Murphy, was attended by Miss Claire Molloy as maid of honor.

Mr. Harold Thompson served as best man.

Mr. Bushdorf was graduated from West High School, and is now serving with the Naval Air Corps as an airman electronics mate second class.

Following a 30-day leave, the couple will make their residence at Lakehurst, New Jersey, where Mr. Bushdorf will be assigned to a helicopter unit.

Barnett-Pannabecker Rites Read At Warren-av Church

Miss Charlene Barnett and Mr. John H. Pannabecker, Jr., were united in marriage following the Sunday morning worship service at Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, Dec. 16.

Rev. Harris B. Anthony read the double-ring wedding service.

The bride was given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Floyd E. Spencer, and is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth K. Spencer, 152 W. Lakeview-av.

The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pannabecker, 537 Ryan-av

A reception was held at the church parsonage, 675 S. Harris-av, at 2:30 in the afternoon.

NEIGHBORHOOD COUNCIL OFFICERS

Project–

future load of traffic and outlined the possibility of a double deck expressway on Sandusky-st that would connect Mound-st to the Goodale Expressway. He added, "The whole area must have a solid front for our plans."

The service director said West Freeway plans and engineering in 1963 and 1964 alone amount to $250,000. The city's portion of the cost would be taken from city income tax funds. Plans for 1965, according to Stork, call for the west freeway to expand from the innerbelt system to the west Columbus corporation line. This cost would be paid by $8,900,000 in federal funds, $500,000 in state funds and $600,000 in local voted taxes.

Service Director Stork told of other road and street improvement plans. He outlined the Wilson-rd extension from Broad-st to Sullivant-av, with completion planned by 1964. He added that federal aid in this project has been applied for and voted bonds are available for the local share of the project.

Other plans called for the widening of Grubb-st by moving the curbs back from Broad-st to Sullivant-av; expanding Sullivant-av to four lanes from Derrer-rd to Georgesville by 1967 at a cost of $350,000; the extension of Grandview-av from W. Broad-st to Dublin-rd at a cost of $10,000,000 by 1967; and running Valleyview-dr from Hague-av to a point west of Brinker-av by the end of this year. Stork added that this project is already 50 per cent completed.

Drains Have Priority

In addition to the current westward extension of the Big Run Trunk Sewer, the Columbus service director outlined four other sewer projects, all of which are to be completed this year. The plans included part three of the Scioto main trunk at a cost of $1,000,000, the Central-av underpass storm drain at a cost of $100,000, the Demorest-Kingsford area sanitary relief sewer at a cost of $100,000 and and the west branch upper Scioto main trunk extension and Hilliard connection at a cost of $400,000.

While discussing parks and recreation facilities the service director outlined some of the expenditures which the city is contemplating soon for the west area of Columbus. Projects included Big Run Park (formerly Clime Road) to receive $18,000 this year, $75,000 in 1964, $75,000 in 1965, $55,000 in 1966 and $95,000 in 1967.

Park Improvements Listed

Work to be completed on Westgate Park Lake this year will cost an estimated $4,550. Westgate playground money will be used to design a special section of the playground for children six years old or younger.

Two swimming pool projects have tentatively been planned, subject to future approval, according to Director Stork. A Westgate swimming pool project has been considered for 1966 and a pool for the Sunshine Recreation Center has been discussed for 1964, subject to public and council approval. Each of the pools would cost an estimated $200,000 in public voted bonds, authorized but not as yet issued.

A playing field and four baseball diamonds are in the construction stages for this year at McKinley Avenue Playground at a cost of $5,000 and expanded parking facilities and repairs at the Glenwood Recreation Center in 1964 should be completed at a cost of $45,000, according to Stork. Repairs to the Sunshine Recreation Center will cost an estimated $35,000 and construction of back stops, reconditioning and grading of land at Southview Park would cost an additional $35,000.

Civic Center Envisioned

In other remarks to the West Side Neighborhood Council, Service Director Stork told of his dreams to extend the Civic Center westward to the Sandusky Freeway. He said he hoped to see this become an assembly area for state, federal, city and county government buildings in the future.

Stork said he has recommended that leisure boating be provided in the downtown area of Columbus as far south as the Main Street weir. He added, "With the Scioto River between the confluence of Olentangy River and the weir, ornamentally lighted, the reach of this area should make an outstanding passive recreation area, while the area below the weir to Greenlawn Dam is made ready for power boating and fishing."

Stork said there are other services also under consideration for the west Columbus area. These would include police sub-stations and new fire houses. Stork recommended the replacement and enlargement of Fire Engine House No. 6 at W. Broad and Mill-sts.

On the subject of the old engine house Stork said, "This change may be made on the present site or nearby location." "We believe this 60-year-old facility has served well over the years and should be retired."

Stork recommended a police sub-station be located in a new area to serve the rapidly growing West Side. He said sites at either the neighborhood of Columbia and Sullivant-avs or near W. Broad-st and Wheatland-av seem most suitable.

The Columbus service director said overall improvements call for a local government radio station for use of the divisions of engineering, electricity, water, sanitation, sewers and other miscellaneous services. He said all of these services are now carried on police and fire radios or by radio phone.

Director Stork concluded his remarks by saying, "We have watched the Capital City grow from horse drawn services, through struggling years, to a teeming metropolitan area of 90-plus square miles. We predict a continuous growth in the years to come."

Financial Report Shows Expenses Of Local Library

Libraries are big business, and if you don't believe it, check the financial report for the Grove City Public Library during 1962.

Expenditures for the library amounted to $156,188.48 for the year. The new library addition, which cost $68,371.51 to build, was the largest amount spent in one lump sum.

It took $49,701.23 to pay library employes and $25,004.74 to buy books during the year.

Book circulation for Grove City's 10 branches amounted to 308,553 in 1962 in comparison to 155,930 during 1961. Library branches are located at Alton, East Franklin, Harrisburg, Prairie-Lincoln, Darbydale, Georgesville, North Franklin, Urbancrest, West Franklin and Prairie-Norton, the latest addition.

The library also furnishes classroom book collections in about 60 area schools.

Nov. 1, 1781, the first bank in the U.S. chartered by Congress was organized in Philadelphia. Known as the Bank of North America, it began business the following year with $400,000 capital, of which $250,000 was subscribed by the government.

Hall Ridge Club Plans Program

The Hall Ridge Club will kick off its 1963 program with a dance at the K of C Hall (Burgess and Broad-st) Saturday, Jan. 26, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The event is sponsored by the management of Hall Ridge—a family community club on the Hilltop—and is open to all members and guests.

Areas flooded in 1959 are indicated in light blue on a topographic map, including the Scioto River, Olentangy River and Alum Creek. The map, is officially called "Hydrologic Investigations Atlas HA-52."

An introduction states that greater floods are possible, but that the flood of Jan., 1959, on the Scioto was the greatest since 1913, and on Alum Creek the greatest since 1924. Heights on the Olentangy River were several feet lower than in 1913, due to protection afforded by Delaware Dam.

C. V. Longquist, chief of the Division of Water, said the maps can help local authorities prevent improper land development in floodway areas, restrict uses hazardous to health and welfare and encourage adequate channel clearance and maintenance.

The map is available for 75 cents from the Division of Water, 1562 W. First-av.

A great deal of interest was generated on this page last March when Hartley Newspapers published a speech, "Who Is Tampering With The Soul Of America?" by Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune.

Jones will speak in Columbus this Friday (Jan. 25) at noon in the Ohio Union. He is appearing at the invitation of the Clintonville Women's Club. Reservations already are closed.

Readers who have asked to hear more from Jones should enjoy this condensation of a talk he gave last October at the national gathering of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society. The speech, in part, was a rejoinder to a letter protesting Jones' part in the program. The letter, and Jones' speech (abridged) as published in Sigma Delta Chi's magazine "The Quill," follow:

by Jenkin Lloyd Jones

In the October issue of Sigma Delta Chi's magazine, The Quill, there appeared the following letter, and I quote it in its entirety:

"Why has Jenkin Lloyd Jones been invited to give the keynote speech at the Sigma Delta Chi convention? For laughs?

"Are we going to take a place alongside the American Society of Newspaper Editors in displaying the miserable state of the American press? Are we going to settle for cliches and stereotyped thinking?

"Why do we have to settle for a man who has become a hero by coming out against sin and for (legitimate) motherhood?

"As a member of Sigma Delta Chi, I protest the selection.

(Signed) Elwood W. Landis
Mt. Pleasant, Mich."

It's flattering to learn that I have become a hero, although the word apparently hasn't yet reached Oklahoma. But since your convention committee doubtless felt too embarrassed to withdraw their invitation at that late date, I suppose Brother Landis' letter might just as well serve as a text for my brief remarks.

Alas, it is true. Perhaps it is a symptom of creeping decrepitude, but as I have grown older I have grown increasingly intolerant of many forms of sin. And legitimate motherhood looks better all the time.

In short, you are looking upon a square John, a cube, a cornball, one who is plainly not with it. And I am d—— glad I'm not with it. Because it seems to me that the man in the communications business who has achieved a state of complete tolerance or complete cynicism is a zombie.

There is, of course, what might be called the police reporter syndrome. Many of us went through it in our callow youths. It is heady wine for any youngster to be on speaking terms with all the madames in town. It marks you as a man of the world and you hope people will forget that you only have to shave every other day.

Your girl might be impressed if you point out the local hoodlums and talk sneeringly and knowingly to the effect that every office holder has his price. You are a man above the thundering moralists. You are a commentator of vast sophistication and great tolerance. You look upon the strugglings of men from a high eminence and you observe the scene with a yawn or a curled lip. At least, that was me—once.

And then a few great truths gradually began to dawn. The more I thought about it the more I realized that the average madame is not particularly glamorous and her average employe is so stupid and so ungifted that she can't even qualify as a dancer in a burlesque. And if you are a burlesque buff you know how little talent it takes to qualify.

Most hoodlums are bums with over-inflated egos and a spastic understanding of the rights of others. The only truly interesting people in any penitentiary are that tiny minority with good minds who, due to a rare twist of fate or a twist of personality, have wound up on the wrong end of the chase. The majority of penitentiary inmates are sad individuals who due to laziness or congenital inadequacy will not or cannot compete with honest men.

As I grew older in the newspaper business I kept meeting what, in my immaturity I had denied existed, namely, pretty sincere politicians. And I met a lot of politicians who would have been more honest if the public, and, parenthetically, the press had been more inclined to cry out at sleazy practices and to praise dedicated public service.

In the hospital emergency rooms I came to be less cynical about doctors. In the jungles of Africa I learned not to sneer quite so readily at missionaries.

On a Navy aircraft carrier I used to watch the young pilots lying on their bunks staring silently at the overhead on the nights before the strikes. You knew they were wondering who wouldn't come back. Some of them didn't, including my roommate. As Brother Landis might point out, the boys suffered from stereotyped thinking. They were full of The Stars and Stripes Forever, and gung ho for victory, and all that jazz. They were also scared, but they laid their lives on the line. . .

My friend, Brother Landis, has warned you that I may say something against sin. I certainly shall. But first, let's see if we can get an intelligent definition of sin. Sin is not the violation of a man-made code, because men can make errors. The code in every dictatorship forbids a citizen from speaking out in an effort to correct his rulers. Few of us in this room would consider this a sin. Custom among peoples forbids the eating of animal flesh on Friday or the consumption of pork at any time or permitting the shadow of an untouchable to fall upon one's food.

Let us not confuse custom with sin. So-called moral codes are subject to widely-conflicting human interpretations. In Puritan New England it was a sin to wear a silver buckle, and among many Eskimo tribes you commit sin if you do not lend your wife to the stranger staying overnight. Let's forget these puzzlements.

I would like to define sin as that behavior which endangers human happiness and smothers that which is best in human beings.

The case of legitimate motherhood was made long before Moses brought the tablets down from Mt. Sinai. For primitive human beings discovered, quite pragmatically I'm sure, that those who produced children without assuming the responsibility for their support and their training endangered the convenience and the welfare of all who did assume that responsibility.

That is why I look with something less than enthusiasm upon a relief system that subsidizes illegitimacy. I am unmoved by the plea among the welfare staters that illegitimacy is not the child's fault. Of course it isn't the child's fault. The child must be cared for. But in our own self-protection we may soon find it necessary to remove the children from disorderly houses and stop the subsidies of these brood sows who call themselves mothers. . .

Let me make it plain that I am no admirer of the perpetual and professional angry young man. If you are going to stay righteously indignant all the time you are soon driven to misinterpreting people's motives in order to keep your anger at white heat. Before long you lose touch with reality altogether.

And we should avoid, as a plague, the "liberal" or "conservative" self-image. I am saddened when young reporters look upon themselves as liberals or conservatives, for this means that they have checked their brains. They will put on colored glasses of one hue or another in an attempt to make their image of the world conform to what they regard as their philosophies.

When old John Nance Garner used to retire to his capitol office with some of his cronies for a short snort he used to say as he tilted the bottle, "Let us strike a blow for freedom."

I can't think of a better motto for the modern American journalist. Freedom implies the right to do as we will, provided that in so doing we don't abridge the general welfare. True freedom is not the freedom to make a left turn from a right hand lane. This imposes an unnecessary peril. It threatens the freedom of movement of others by a needless and heedless act.

Similarly, freedom is not a license to commit murder or robbery or even libel, nor is it the freedom to live in idleness on the fruits of the work of other men. These manifestations of irresponsibility make life less secure or less happy for men of good intentions. We must find freedom somewhere in the middle zone between the approaching welfare state which crushes liberty with the plea that it is dedicated to the security of all, and the 19th Century laissez-faire state in which the powerful and the able rode rough-shod over the weak and the slow-witted.

To achieve sensible positions on these issues requires the exercise of brainpower. They will not be achieved by formula thinking. We will be sad communicators, indeed, if new ideas and the realization of changing conditions can only batter their way into our brains over the quivering bodies of our "liberal" or "conservative" preconceptions.

We will serve very little if we worship either the novel or the old. Our aim should simply be the promotion of those attitudes and institutions and behaviors which will lead to the greater effectiveness and, ultimately, to the greater happiness of the human animal.

If we are in the communications business for any other purpose we will be, not artisans, but mere mechanics and ye will miss all the fun.

Reader Takes Issue With McPeek, Letter

To The Editor:

In reference to reader Emma Johnson's letter praising John McPeek's article "Fear Knowledge and You Block Truth," I would agree that Jesus would never have used force — physical force, that is.

However, I believe that in giving us the Ten Commandments we are bound by force of conscience to obey them. He gave us no alternative.

In answer to the question "Are we obligated to obey the Commandments of God,?" Bishop Morrow explains in his book, "My Catholic Faith," the following: "God has imprinted the substance of the Ten Commandments in the human heart and mind, and they have therefore binding force. Even if they had never been revealed, we should still be obliged to keep them, for they are dedicated by reason, and taught by natural law."

I too, read John McPeek's article with much interest, but not with much pleasure. He readily admits that the book, "Tropic of Cancer," contains much obscene filth, but implies that reading one illuminating passage justifies wading through 50 pages of smut.

It would seem to me that a quote from "The Sermon on the Mount" which you published last year in your paper would apply here, i.e., "Do men gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? Even so, every good tree bears good fruit, but the bad tree bears bad fruit. A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit."

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

Show me any man or woman who is "having the time of his life," doing the best he can at something he would rather do than anything else in this world, and I will show you a sane, happy, oriented individual who has "found that magic and priceless something that puts colors in the rainbow instead of bunions on the soul."

Show me a man or woman who lives simply and wisely in matters of good health habits, sane and modest diet, and—above all else—ownership of some Faith greater than any self-possessed powers of mortal wisdom. I will show you men and women who are getting some "frosting on the cake."

They are young for their years and don't weigh too much, or suffer from hypertension or insomnia because because they are at peace with themselves and the world. They are "in the world" but not of it or seduced into folly by the hypocritical pretenses that pass for success and STATUS today.

If millions of otherwise fine people would just stop saying things that hurt other humans, what a sweet world it would be. Thousands of marriages every year are winding up in bitterness and violence (and in the divorce courts) solely because one or both marriage partners never learn how to take the vinegar out of his voice.

No wonder millions of people have ulcers and migraine headaches and "fluttery tickers" solely because they have never learned how to control their feelings. Such people are always being slighted, or insulted by someone who would be nobody if he didn't have money. Keeping up with the Joneses is the most insane mania that ever enslaved this yet-free land. Morbid self-consciousness has become almost a mass psychosis today for millions of people who are still "adult infants" in mental capacity or emotional maturity. There is a way out, work, faith, love, infinite patience, and finally, growing up!

Must Guard Morals

To The Editor:

Congratulations to you for the article your papers carried about the smut movies. I thought the article by John Auble, Jr., was very timely and well presented, and I know that you did a tremendous service to our community when you published this article for the public. I only hope that it lights a fire that will burn the obscene movies off the screen.

—Clark P. Pritchett, M.D.

Stamp Fan Speaks

In answer to John McPeek's article of last week concerning trading stamps:

Who is gullible, the man or the woman? Not all women, but a great many get comforts for the home with trading stamps that their penny-pinching husbands deny them and at the same time enjoy. In that way they needn't humiliate themselves or expose the fact they are married to such a stupid ox. Why put up with it?

Stamp Licker

'Article Is Service'

John McPeek stated in his article "Fear Knowledge and You Block Truth" that he hates "all who have the unmitigated gall to set themselves up as 'protectors' of their neighbors," and Emma Johnston reiterated his thoughts by saying "no Christian would set himself up as keeper of his brother's morals."

Mr. McPeek might just as well have said he hates all who have the unmitigated gall to tell us we must give our fair share to the United Appeal, or that it is our duty to fight polio, cancer, heart disease, etc., or that the standard of living of those living in slum areas must be raised, or that we must aid underdeveloped countries by giving them foreign aid.

I do not understand how one can be unconcerned about his neighbor's moral well-being and at the same time have an almost insatiable desire to alleviate all the physical and material ills in the world. History has proven that the material and physical well-being of man do not alone constitute the answer to peace of mind and heart.

To have genuine charity toward our fellow man we must consider his moral well-being.

Editors Perpetuate Work Of Astrologers

For shame!

What is it with my journalistic brethren who labor in the magazine vineyards?

In recent weeks they have launched a concerted attack (obviously inspired by some evil force) upon newspapers' starry-eyed astrologers — the official keyhole-peepers into the "House of Life."

McPeek

Tumbling almost one upon the other, they have been dashing off tongue-clucking exposes on the duplicity of America's newspapers in pandering to the public's desire to be hoodwinked.

Apparently basing their malicious accusations on facts in the encyclopedia which term astrology as "one of man's oldest superstitions, practiced only by quacks," they charge that it is a multi-million-dollar racket.

Righteous editors stoutly deny this vicious charge, contending that astrology columns are amusement features, not taken seriously by readers . . . at least not most readers.

I don't know about that! I for one am four-square behind the astrologers. Nobody who has been in business as many centuries as they have could be entirely disreputable . . . could they? After all they were going great way back in ancient Babylonia. By the Fourth Century B.C. they had become the darlings of the Greeks. And it wasn't much later that the Indians and Chinese got into the act with their own astrologers.

But there was a spell in the early days when it looked like the astrologers had had it. That was when many of the Babylonia priests went off on a liver kick. Inasmuch as liver contained life's blood, the priests naturally figured it also contained the answers to life's problems.

So they took to studying the contours and bumps on the livers of sacrificial animals to ascertain the will and intention of the gods.

But it was a messy task at best and within a few centuries lost favor with many finicky customers who strayed back to the more tidy stargazers. And any chance that hepatoscopy (official name of the liver prognosticating business) had for a comeback went down the slaughterhouse drain with the advent of packaged meats and today's high prices.

(A few years ago there was some talk that A&P was considering inserting fortune cookie-type messages in their packaged livers, but nothing came of it).

Unlike most astrology disciples who have one favorite swami, I enlist the aid of three. Why be one-third safe?

That way I can heed the astrologer whose advice is the most appealing.

For instance, take today. One of the local papers advises those born under the sign of Gemini (that's me) that "there is vast opportunity for romance today." Well, right off I can see this guy won't be of much help because it's been two days since my wife has spoken to me, and the last time we tried to balance our joint checking account she didn't speak to me for four days.

A Chicago paper's soothsayer cautions: "Avoid wishful thinking, don't jump at overtures from strange women." That obviously cancels out the first advice in total.

So I'm left with only the other local paper's oracle who warns: "What you want to convey today may not be easy, but this should not deter you."

Furthermore, it's too late to go get another out-of-town newspaper.

Where Shall I Look? Psalms Have Answer

Unto Thee Lift I Up Mine Eyes, O Thou That Dwellest In The Heavens: Psalms 123:1.

A few nights ago bells rang and whistles blew, to mark the end of 1962 and the beginning of 1963. The hour which ties two years together found more people engaged in merriment than any other single hour of the year.

Why must that be . . . ?

Rev. Payden

It is very evident that the world would like to forget something. It arranges loud parties, in the hope of drowning out the quiet whisper of an approaching eternity.

"Time flies on silent wings." That silence becomes oppressive for those who fear eternity. But, time waits for no man. We see it in the faces of friends whom we have not met for some time; they are older. We see it in every falling leaf and every drooping flower. We are reminded of it every time a merchant hands us a new calendar. Whenever the Bible refers to the passing of time, it speaks in solemn words. God wants us to think serious thoughts whenever the truth forces itself upon our attention, that "we spend our years as a tale that is told."

What kind of thoughts does God want us to think? On the basis of the first verse of Psalm 123 and with Annie Johnson Flint's beautiful poem as a guide, we ask, "Where shall I look at the turning of the year . . .?"

On that New Year's evening you and I wrote the last words of another chapter in our life's record. That midnight we placed the last period after the last sentence. When I take this last chapter and read it with Jesus looking over my shoulder, there are certain sentences I am ashamed of. I have made many mistakes in 1962; many good and noble deeds that I might have done to the Glory of God and to the welfare of my neighbor, still remain undone.

This last chapter records these sins of omission. Ugly blots are scattered all over the page. Some day the very last chapter in the book will still read the same.

An old man, lying on his death bed, summed up the situation when he told his pastor, "I am about to stand trial for eighty-five years of sinning." What shall I do . . . Where shall I look today?

We cannot look back. We can only ask God to cover the past with his mercy and forgiveness, in Christ. We come at the dawn of this year to receive the assurance of pardon for all that has been wrong in 1962.

The poet says:

I don't look back; God knows
the fruitless efforts,
The wasted hours, the sinning,
the regrets;
I leave them all with Him who
blots the record,
And mercifully forgives,
and then forgets.

Council Edges Hoge Quintet In Church Loop

Saturday's opener in the Hilltop YMCA Junior Basketball League developed in to a thriller between the Junior Hi-Y "Council" and Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church with the Council closing fast for a 37-34 win.

Hoge had trouble finding the range all afternoon, unable to cash in on their scoring opportunities. The Council had rebounding trouble, getting only one short at a time. The Council guards played an outstanding defensive game, stealing the ball time after time.

LEADING THE Council in scoring was Bob Leach with 15 points and Curt Vollmuth with 12. Top scorers for Hoge were Jan Snedecor and Jim Anderson with 10 each.

West Park won the second game from the Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs" by forfeit. The "Scrubs" could not field a team.

The third game saw Hillcrest Baptist experiencing a rough time beating the Hilltop Church of God, 33-23. The Church of God played their finest game of the year, behind only 15-12 at the half, but they couldn't find the range the last few minutes and Hillcrest moved ahead for the win.

Leading Hillcrest in scoring were Mike George and Jimmy Wilson with nine and eight points, respectively. Leading Hilltop was Billy Rexer with 11 points.

GLENWOOD METHODIST and Burgess EUB put on a fine shooting and fast-break exhibition as Glenwood outdistanced Burgess, 60-47. Glenwood won the game in the first half when they outscored Burgess 34-24. Burgess matched Glenwood point for point after intermission but it wasn't enough. Glenwood was led in scoring by Ken Wells with 17 points, Don Evans with 18, and John Grashel with 18. Top men for Burgess were Don Nelson and Jack Husch with 23 and 20 points, respectively.

Saturday's schedule is: 12 noon — Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs" vs. Junior Hi-Y "Council"; 12:45 p.m. — Hoge Memorial vs. West Park Methodist; 1:30 p.m. — Burgess EUB vs. Hilltop Church of God; 2:15 p.m. — Glenwood Methodist vs. Hillcrest Baptist.

RAIDERS DOWN DELAWARE

West Winner, 77-66; City Showdown Set

By BOB LYNCH and KENNY ASH

West jumped out to a quick 16-3 lead over host Chillicothe Friday night, and continued their lead throughout the game, as they downed the home squad, 77-66.

Sophomore Steve Barnard led the opening first-period spurt, as he contributed eight points to the Cowboy 24-point total. Although Barnard netted only two more points, Charlie Castle continued the Bronco offensive attack as he netted 22 points, to take game scoring honors.

THE COWBOYS lengthened their first period lead, and left the court at halftime sporting a 14-point spread, 44-30. The third and fourth periods were about the same, as Chillicothe was never able to diminish the Cowboy lead successfully.

Four West scorers hit double-digit totals — Castle had 22, Jerry Carter, 19, and Steve Barnard and Jim Hughes each collected 10.

The victory moved the Cowboys to 6-5 overall. They journey to Walnut Ridge Friday night in their sixth City League encounter.

CENTRAL, UNDEFEATED in City League play, added another victim to their list Friday as the Pirates stomped Whetstone, 69-56.

Dave Roberts proved to be the big star in the first period, collecting 11 points, while Central shot ahead to a 21-4 advantage.

Whetstone managed to trim the Pirates' lead to six points, 45-39, after intermission but by the end of the third period Central had again built up an 11-point lead.

Gibson Hayes popped in 14 points and 6'4" center Ray Revels added 16 markers. Tom Fullove pulled out on top for the Pirates as high point man, however, with 18 points.

THE GAME THAT has already been billed as the one that could decide who will wear the City League championship crown will be played at East Friday at 4 p.m. with the unbeaten Tigers and Pirates vieing for the undisputed league lead.

ONLY HOLY FAMILY was able to salvage a win out of six other cage contests played around the area over the weekend.

The Raiders led all the way in posting a 93-52 victory over Delaware St. Mary. The visitors had a game of it after trailing 21-9 at the end of the first period but they were never able to get within reach of the winners.

Ralph Holman and Dave Lee split the Family scoring honors with 16 points each while Dick Getz added 14 more markers.

IT WAS ANOTHER story Saturday, however, as St. Mary increased a four-point first-period lead to 30 points by halftime enroute to a 90-58 win over the Raiders.

Lee dropped in 18 points to pace Family's scoring with Roger McKendry contributing 14 additional markers.

READY STUMBLED twice over the weekend, losing a 91-89 scoring race to Coshocton Sacred Heart and a lopsided 77-31 decision to powerful Watkins Memorial.

The Knights, down by 20 points going into the final period against Sacred Heart, rallied strongly in the closing minutes but were unable to overcome the combined 61-point scoring punch of Coshocton's Alverson and Fritz.

Jay Kubin topped Ready scoring with 25 points while teammates Mike Horgan and Jim Muir chipped in with 13 points each.

WATKINS WARRIORS jumped off to a 17-5 first-quarter lead and showed the Knights nothing but their heels the rest of the way Saturday night. Kubin's 12 points were high for Ready.

Elsewhere around the area, Aquinas dropped a pair of court battles over the weekend.

North pulled away in the second half to top the Terriers, 75-60, Friday night and St. Charles avenged an earlier season loss to the Irish the following night with a 59-45 reversal.

Pat Mentel (22), Tom Hartmann (16) and Tom Woodward (14) topped scoring against the Polar Bears while Mentel's 14 markers was best against the Carolians.

FRIDAY'S CARD of cage activity shows Central (8-1) at East (9-1) in a 4 p.m. matinee which will give the City League's undisputed lead to the winner.

Other Friday games find Linden at Aquinas (7-4), West (6-5) at Walnut Ridge (1-10) and Coshocton Sacred Heart visiting Holy Family (3-10) at Ready.

Only area game Saturday evening sends Holy Family to New Lexington St. Aloysius.

WRESTLING WRAPUP

Falcon Matmen To Dayton; DeSales Hosts Tourney

East's quadrangular wrestling victory over Walnut Ridge, Eastmoor and Central highlighted mat action over the past week.

The Tigers took six of the individual matches to compile a winning total of 37 points as compared with the Scotties' runner-up score of 25. Eastmoor followed with 18 points while Central closed with 14 markers.

The grappling event of the weekend is set at DeSales Saturday as the Stallions host the first-ever Catholic mat tourney. Competing against the host team will be Hartley, Ready and Watterson.

Preliminaries are set for 1 p.m. with finals getting underway in the evening at 8 p.m.

Franklin Heights takes to the road for the weekend with a pair of wrestling dates in Dayton. The Falcon matmen will test Dayton Kettering Friday afternoon and Dayton Stebbins on Saturday.

[illegible] are matched and Worthington at Whitehall (4 p.m.) and Central at Grove-port. Both are Friday matches.

In other wrestling contests last week, Franklin Heights clobbered Arlington, 33-5. Bexley bested Hilliard, 21-6 and Worthington toppled East, 23-14.

OHSAA Studying State Champ Plan

Ever since a certain Southern eleven whose name we have since sworn never to so mention again beat out Ohio State's 1957 Big Ten champions in the final football polls, we have always scoffed at and refused to recognize national ratings as any accurate measurement of gridiron greatness.

Our biggest argument was that the ratings were no more than popularity polls that helped to promote one-sided routs and never really proved anything in the final reckoning.

THE BIGGEST LOOPHOLE in the "top ten" parade seemed to lie in the apparent disregard for the quality of opponents. It didn't matter "who" you played. You topped the ballots by accumulating the most points in the "How many did you beat" and "by how much" categories.

The same basic principles of selecting top teams are also applied to the high school level. But the present plan is no more foolproof among the school-boy set than it is on the collegiate scale.

However, Lee Strang, head football coach at Massillon High School and chairman of the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association's committee to select a plan for determining the Ohio football champion, is presently working on a new setup that could correct the situation—at least locally.

ASSISTING STRANG on the three-man committee are Bron Bucevich of Cincinnati Roger Bacon and Marv Moorehead of Upper Arlington.

The plan, which works on a point system, evaluates the quality of competition and provides for playoff games at the end of the season to determine the state champion.

As far as the point system goes, two points would be awarded for each win over an opponent. Ties provide one point and loses no points. Winning teams then receive two points each time the team they defeated wins a game and one point per opponent's victory if the two teams should tie.

THIS SYSTEM WILL encourage teams, hopeful of state ratings, to schedule tougher competition, e.g. teams that are capable of winning seasons.

Each team and/or local news media would keep a count of the individual point totals. The playoffs would take place at the close of the regular season with the top four teams in the state in each classification [illegible] each other.

Team one (highest point total) would play team four and team two would play team three, with the finalists battling for the undisputed state title.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for the playoffs a team would have to compete 80 per cent in or above its own class, with school enrollment determining the breakdown of classes (AA-1, AA-2 and A).

In case of point ties, the teams with the least average points scored per game against them would be selected for the playoffs. All point totals for the playoffs would be certified by the OHSAA who would also make all playoff and game arrangements.

We had a chat with Marv Moorhead last week in regard to committee's progress on the proposal.

THE "MAKE OR BREAK" decision, according to Moorhead, won't come until the first week in March. At that time the Ohio High School Athletic Association's board of directors will act on the proposal and either accept or reject the plan.

"You might say the proposal's in the 'incubation period' right now," Moorhead said. We're trying to anticipate the "bugs" in the plan. We know there's going to be problems but we don't feel they'll be insurmountable."

In reply to our question about public response, Marv admitted that he has been encouraged by the favorable acceptance the plan seems to have achieved locally.

"THE PLAYOFF GAMES seems to appeal to a lot of people. This type of thing has never been attempted in Ohio but there are many other states that have a similiar setup which has worked out very Cal 2 .. WI TAND WISDOM satisfactorily."

Moorhead felt that the plan, if accepted, would help correct some of the inconsistencies evident in the present rating setup and make a "better game for the kids."

But as Moorhead pointed out, there will be problems. Even though the pattern of post-season basketball tournament has been okayed by the secondary schools, we wonder if the post-season grid playoffs would be met with the same benevolent nod.

ALSO, IF ENOUGH teams became interested in setting their sights on statewide honors, the present league setups around the state could be disrupted as stronger teams would frown on their loop's "weak sisters" as mandatory opponents and consequently "poor point risks."

Wouldn't everybody want to go "independent" so they might be free to schedule top-flight competition?

Wouldn't every school be forced to play the same number of games?

Wouldn't the plan reduce the number of players participating in a game since the games would probably be closer and substitution consequently less likely?

OF COURSE, the plan, if able to gain wide interest, could go a long way in correcting league imbalance along the same lines.

There are good arguments on both sides of the fence, as there always are on proposals like this. But we do feel this is certainly a step in the right direction as far as the fair and sensible means of determining a state champion is concerned.

WISH WE COULD HAVE DEPT.—If we ever had three wishes, one of them would surely have been spent Sunday afternoon. After watching several golfing pros misread the roll on number 18 at Peeble Beach, we wish we could have prevented Jackie Nicklaus' three putts with a little tip. But despite our frantic screams at the old TV tube, Jack went the way of his predecessors on the final green, putting six feet past and then that sickening inch and a half to the right.

Drs. DeVol, Missionary Bros. To Speak At Westgate, Sullivant Friends Churches

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. DeVol, and his brother, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. DeVol, both on furlough from missionary fields, will speak in the community this weekend.

Dr. W. E. DeVol, who formerly practiced medicine on the Hilltop, and his wife, Frances, will speak at a missionary rally Sunday, Jan. 27, 2 p.m. at Westgate Friends Church, 3750 Sullivant-av.

The couple has been stationed in Central India, where he served as medical missionary and surgeon in charge of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends' Hospital in Chatarpur.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles DeVol, and his wife, Leora, on furlough from Formosa, will be speakers at the family night dinner and program planned Thursday, Jan. 24, 6 p.m. at Sullivant Avenue Friends Church, 1442 Sullivant-av.

Dr. W. E. DeVol will also speak at Sullivant Sunday evening at 7:30, and his wife will speak there Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Charles DeVol was named superintendent of the Taiwan (Formosa) Friends Mission in 1957, for two years served as chairman of the Taiwan Missionary Fellowship, and for five years, as professor of botany at the National Taiwan University.

Public is invited to the programs at both Westgate Friends and Sullivant Friends churches.

The brothers were both born in China where their parents were serving as missionary doctors. They spent their early years in China and learned the language there.

Dr. W. E. DeVol earned his MD degree at Western Reserve University, and then practiced medicine on the Hilltop before serving at the University Hospital of Nanking, China, from 1940 to 1942.

During World War II he had a country practice at Marengo, and then resumed missionary service in Central India. He and his wife, Frances Hodgen DeVol, RN, served in the Christian Hospital from 1949 to 1962.

He is a fellow of the American College of Suregons, and Fellow of the International College of Surgeons.

Dr. Charles DeVol received his college training at Marion (Ind.) College, and his Ph.D. degree in botany from Indiana University.

The couple first went to China as missionaries in 1926, and served four terms. Dr. DeVol was a prisoner in a Japanese interment camp during World War II, and when the Communists gained control in China, he returned to the states and taught at Marion College until he went to Formosa in 1957.

Youth Week Is Planned At Bellows

Annual youth week activities at Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene will be held Wednesday, Friday and Sunday evenings, Jan. 23, 25 and 27.

On Wednesday evening the service will include special music and brief talks by four high school pupils at 7:30.

The Friday evening program will be held at the Main Federal Bank Recreation Room, with a color science film from the Moody Science Series. Supervised games, fun and refreshments are planned.

Youth Week will close Sunday, 7:30 p.m. with the Luts Brothers Singing Trio, and with one of the young men presenting the Gospel message.

Retirement is a time to do the things you have always wanted to do: Travel, read, study, get a new job or start a business. One always needs to have responsibilities and to be interested in the world around him. That is living. One can not retire from life.

Kwa Ki Ya Girls Awarded Honor Beads At Ceremonial

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

NANCY TRUELOVE
BR. 9-7216

The Kwa Ki Ya Camp Fire group recently passed their Woodgatherers' rank at a ceremonial for the girls and their mothers at the home of Debbie Takos. The girls were awarded their honor beads.

Members of the group are Robyn Alspach, Kathy Baker, Carol Bishop, Kathy Hastings, Lee Lehman, Vicki Michaelis, Amy Moore, Nancy Northrup, Debbie Takos. Toni Moore and Mrs. Barbara Northrup are guardians.

A special council fire was held for the Tom Ki Wa Ya Junior High girls January 18 at the home of Mrs. Marilyn Snyder. The girls were awarded honor beads and received their certificates for passing Woodgatherer's rank.

Two new girls, Jeri Harrison and Kathy Ripley, were installed.

Other members are Kathy Amore, Vickie Boggs, Lorraine Brandt, Susan Fleming, Pam Sherlock, Debbie Sherlock, Jill Snyder, Becky Triplett and advisor, Mrs. Gerri Brandt.

Guests present were Mrs. Hazel Jenny, Junior High consultant, and sponsors Mrs. Delores Boggs and Mrs. Norma Fleming. Mrs. Joan Sherlock was recognized for six years' service to the group. The girls recently were graduated from the Lazarus charm course.

A new group of Bluebirds has been organized under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Holzapfel and Mrs. Barbara Simpson. The girls, third graders from West Franklin School, are Shayne Simpson, Jodie Weaver, Jackie Crider, Donna Steinmetz, Nancy Sepich, Claudia Sepich and Kathy Holzapfel.. They have chosen Little Bittee Bluebirds as their group name.

Connie Tingley reports the Matanda Junior High group toured the Columbus Police Department January 23. The various departments were covered and each girl was fingerprinted.

Marcia Armstrong and Kriss Stauch have made a collection of synthetic materials for the group's use. Other members are Alice Ehman, Betsy Lehman, Mary Beth Canfield, Joyce Lane, Mary Ann Von Ins, Debbie Randall, Annette Clark, Donna Ruffner, Diane Ruffner and guardian, Mrs. Betty Ehman.

Childhood PLEASURES

"Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right."

A mother only has to glance at her child to know if his play is pure, or if it is leading to mischief. Our Father in heaven can as easily look on our hearts and judge our ways. "A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things."

Seek the Lord in his house, so that your heart will be right with God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man. And of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Joanne Norman Joins Staff At Cut And Curl

W. T. Ross, manager of the Cut and Curl beauty shop in the Great Western Shopping Center, has announced Miss Joanne Norman has joined his staff as consulting hair stylist.

Miss Norman studied at the American School of Hair Design, New York, the Virginia Farrell School of Advanced Hair Styling, Detroit, and the Clairol Institute of Hair Coloring, Chicago.

MISS NORMAN

Ross said Miss Norman she is an expert in hair coloring and designing hair styles to suit the individual face. She is available for free consultation, the manager said.

Cut and Curl specializes in high fashion work at budget prices, Ross said. Hours at the shop are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturdays.

"Advance appointments are seldom necessary," Ross said.

TO ERECT DWELLING

Custom Built Homes, 2897 W. Broad-st, has received a building permit to construct a one-story brick dwelling at 121-23 N. Westmoor-av. Valuation is $18,000.

Rankin, Guthrie Re-Named

Allen R. Rankin, chairman of the board and secretary of Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Association, and C. C. Guthrie, president emeritus and a member of the board, were re-elected for three-year terms at the association's 68th annual meeting Jan. 16.

Continuing on the board are Novice G. Fawcett, president of Ohio State University; Judge Dana F. Reynolds, Harry M. Miller, president of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.; John W. Galbreath of John W. Galbreath and Co.; John W. Bricker, and William S. Guthrie, president.

Reporting on the past year's activities, Guthrie said 1962 was a most gratifying and exciting year because of Buckeye's ventures in new areas of customer service and employe relations, and public response and visible accomplishments.

Buckeye, during 1962, was responsible for about one-sixth of all savings and loan associations' mortgage loan activities in dollar volume recorded in Franklin County. New mortgage loans totaled more than $31 million.

STARKEY TO RETIRE

Roberts Named To City Chamber Post

Kline L. Roberts, Columbus attorney and civic leader, has been selected to become the new chief executive officer of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, effective July 1.

He will succeed Delmar G. Starkey, who has been the Chamber's general manager since 1937. Starkey recently announced his intention to retire.

Paul L. Jones, chairman of the Chamber's board of directors, said Roberts will be named president of the Chamber and will be the full-time head of its staff.

At the same time, Jones said, Clyde C. McBee, assistant general manager of the Chamber, will become vice-president and assistant to the chief executive officer. McBee has been associated with the Chamber since 1953 and has played a leading role in a number of civic enterprises here.

As it is now organized, the Chamber president has been the "citizen head" of the organization. When the changes are made on July 1, the citizen head will be known as the chairman of the board.

GOOD OL' ENGINE HOUSE NUMBER SIX HAS A HISTORY

STILL IN SERVICE after countless years, but slightly behind the times, Columbus Fire Department Engine House No. 6 has seen a grander day. Designed for the era of the horse drawn fire engine, the old building has witnessed the changing Columbus scene and the arrival of the big red fire truck and the best in modern fire fighting equipment. The tower shown in the left photo is used to dry the many yards of hoses, a process that is carried on at the station much the same today as it was a half century ago. Firemen hoist the hoses to the top of the tower where they will hang to dry for several days. In a modern station the hoses would be dried by a blower system in a tank in a fraction of the time. The center picture shows a room located in the tower, meant to store hay and grain for the horses which pulled the fire engines. Since the last horse left for greener pastures years ago, enterprising firemen have converted the storage loft into a recreation room. The only catch is that the room is too hard to heat, therefore too cold for use in the winter. The photo on the right shows the closed doors of the horse stalls. In an earlier time the doors were set on springs and flew open with great gusto when the alarm sounded. Alert firemen grabbed their steeds and hitched them to a fire engine which stood waiting in the room shown in the picture. Today the firefighters have turned the old engine room into a television lounge, and a kitchen occupies the place where the stalls once stood. The doors no longer fly open at the sound of the fire alarm and the horses have long since gone, but Ol' Engine House No. 6 still stands at West Broad and Mill Streets. (Need for modernization is discussed on Page 1.)

Here's Latest Honor For Ballenger

The Hilltop soldier who has received much publicity following his imprisonment by the Communists in Laos, was given another honor last Thursday in Fayetteville, N.C.

He was recognized during that city's first "Resolutions Day,"—an event for publicly honoring outstanding persons living in the area.

The honoree is Sgt. Orville R. Ballenger, who is now stationed at nearby Ft. Bragg, and who was released last August by Communist forces in Laos after 16 months of reported brutality and torture.

The sergeant is the son of Mrs. Lena Matthews, 371 N. Algonquin-av, on the Hilltop. He was captured in April, 1961, while serving as an advisor to the Royal Laotian forces.

American generosity is, I believe, characteristic of the American spirit — a golden thread which keeps on shining out in the lengthening skein of America's destiny.—British historian Arnold B. Toynbee

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

Two members of the Hilltop "Y" Indian Guide Longhouse were elected to serve as officers of the Franklin County Indian Guide Federation during the coming year.

Heading this group as chief will be Al Stephens who is currently chief of the Hilltop Longhouse. Bob Kerr, immediate past chief of the Hilltop Longhouse, will serve as sub-chief of the federation.

The Franklin County Federation consists of representatives of all longhouses who have the Indian guide program. Several of the outstanding events planned each year by this group include the annual workshop for all big braves, and the spring and fall campouts at Camp Alfred L. William.

The local longhouse election will be held at the next regular meeting Feb. 20 at 8:30 p.m. in the Hilltop "Y."

The Hilltop YMCA will conduct an income tax clinic, led by Donovan Campbell, beginning Wednesday, Jan. 23 at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

The weekly Friday night teenage dances are open to all members of the Hilltop YMCA. Members of the "Y" Staff serve as disc jockeys and supervisors at these dances from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The annual mint sale will begin February 15. There is an assortment of prizes. The activity allows youth members of the Hilltop YMCA to assist in spreading the "Y" program throughout the world through the World Service program. Competition will be set up in the various clubs for selecting the outstanding participating group.

The 15th annual meeting of the Hilltop YMCA will be held January 29 at 6:45 p.m. in the Westinghouse Corporation. John Edwards, catcher for the Cincinnati Redlegs, who was a former participant in the Hilltop "Y" program, will be the guest speaker.

Tickets for the banquet are available at $1.75 for adults and $1.50 for youths under 12. All youths, their parents and friends are invited to attend this meeting and find out what has been accomplished at the "Y" during the past year.

This week is designated as National YMCA Week. Various local churches will participate in this program and bulletins and inserts will be used on Sunday, January 27. Throughout the week, various spot announcements and special programs will appear on TV and radio.

If the program of the Hilltop YMCA is unfamiliar, one may stop in and look over the existing facilities and programs offered to all age groups.

The Gra-Y basketball games played last Wednesday at West Broad Street School resulted in the Westgate Wildcats beating the West Broad Colts 22 to 9 in the first game. Leading Westgate scorer was Charles Bergmann with eight points. Top man for West Broad was Bill Ackerman with four points.

The second game between the North Franklin Comets and the Valleyview Vikings was very close. The Comets lost in the final seconds 20-19. Leading Valleyview in scoring was Lonnie Lee and David McDaniel with 6 points each. Top scorer for North Franklin was Jim Kasler with 10 points.

$9.5 Million Frank Road Extension Project Viewed

A preliminary engineering report has been reviewed by the Columbus Traffic Commission on a South Side project that has been on "the drawing board" for over three decades.

Traffic Engineer John Gallagher produced a "Plan and Profile, Plan I, Plat 2" which he said was the consultant's recommended plan for the Frank-rd exension.

He explained that "basically it takes off from the Interstate Route 71 Interchange — to the west of the Scioto River — and goes past the quarries and Twin Lakes" a portion which is largely in the county.

At the Twin Lakes point, the extension is expected to become a four-lane divided expressway with full control of the access. There is also expected to be a clover-leaf (or interchange) at the Twin Lakes site for the aggregate companies in the area.

The next access point will be at High-st. Gallagher said there is provision for a sort of "diamond interchange" using the existing Frank Road as a west-bound "on" ramp and are installing an additional clover-leaf for west-bound traffic.

Then, it is to continue north of Fornof-ln, crossing over the narrowest portion of the railroad tracks and between the Buckeye Steel Casting Co.

Next major interchange, the engineers pointed out, would be at Groveport-rd, just across the railroad track. Another would be a diamond interchange at Lockbourne-rd.

Final interchange would be at the end of the project — at Alum Creek-dr and Refugee-rd. This portion would require another connection over to the presently - under-construction portion of U.S. Route 33.

Gallagher added that the cost of the extension would be $9,689,000 and would include some four and one-third miles.

Most of the commission members seemed to like the plan. Only comment was that they wanted it completed as soon as possible.

Thief Steals Purses From Five Women

West Side residents should remain on guard against a purse snatcher, said Sgt. Francis Smith of the Columbus robbery squad.

The thief is suspected of committing five robberies in two days in a six-block radius of the West Side.

The suspect stole purses from two women between 6 and 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 5 and grabbed three more from females at the same hour Jan. 7.

Beatrice Robbins, 117 Chicago-av, lost $13 on Jan. 5 to the thief at Hartford and W. State-sts and Violet Garrison, 94 Wisconsin-av, was robbed of $25 in front of 94 Wisconsin-av.

The purse snatcher took $7 on Jan. 7 from Mrs. Uda Gomez, 183 Dana-av, at State-st and Hawkes-av; $5 from Bertha Glover, 1082 Scott-av, at Rodgers-av and Scott-st, and $12 from Helen Echelbarger, 50 W. Park-st, at W. Park and Capital-sts.

Victims described the thief as a young white male, medium build and height.

Police cruisers have been concentrating patrol cars in the area of the thefts and ask that residents report any suspicious characters, said Smith.

Smith also requested that citizens refrain from carrying large sums of money while walking on the streets.

Police cruisers patroling the West Side have kept purse thefts to 13 during the past eight months.

Hilltop Man Is Assigned To Governors Island, N.Y.

Second Lieutant Robert M. Pagura, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Pagura, 121 N. Terrace-av was recently assigned as a subsistence officer in the First U. S. Army Quartermaster Section, Governors Island, N.Y.

A graduate of ROTC, he entered service last year at Ft. Lee, Va., where he completed a three-month course in the Army Quartermaster School.

Lt. Pagura was graduated from Aquinas High School in 1958, and from Ohio State University in 1962. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Clime Road Park Renamed; To Be Called Big Run Park

J. Richard Lawwill, superintendent of the Columbus Division of Parks and Forestry, has announced the renaming of Clime Road Park. Lawwill said the name "Big Run Park" has been chosen for the large new facility since it designated a geographical location rather than a street.

The park superintendent stated that a committee of three persons combed the area for a geographical designation and came up with the name "Big Run" since the stream runs through the park.

Lawwill said the name change may be confusing to local residents for a short time but he felt sure the transition would be accomplished without too much difficulty.

First Mass For Spanish-Speaking Residents Planned Next Sunday

For the first time in this area, Spanish-speaking residents will be able to attend a Roman Catholic mass conducted in their native tongue.

The first monthly mass and sermon for Cubans and all other Spanish-speaking residents of the Greater Columbus area will be offered at Holy Cross Church, Fifth and Rich-sts, on Sunday, Jan. 27, at noon.

The innovation was prompted by Columbus Bishop Clarence Issenmann who made the suggestion Jan. 6 in the K of C Hall during a party for Cuban refugees brought to this country through the Catholic Welfare Bureau.

Confessions in Spanish will be heard before the special mass, beginning at 11:30 a.m.

The services — to be held regularly on the last Sunday of each month — will be conducted on Jan. 27 by Fr. Robert O'Brien of St. Charles Seminary.

Other Spanish-speaking priests in the area will lend assistance during succeeding months, according to Joseph Gibboney, director of the Cuban Placement Program of the Welfare Bureau.

The move was termed a "necessity" by Bishop Issenmann who pointed out that Ohio ranked fifth in the number of Cuban refugees in this country.

City Registers Eighth Year Without Pedestrian Fatality

Grove City's Police Department is making room on the wall for its eighth straight pedestrian safety citation. The city became eligible for the citation when it finished 1962 without a pedestrian death.

The award is presented annually to perfect-record cities by the American Automobile Association (AAA).

Grove City ranks among leaders in the United States for pedestrian safety in cities its size, according to Charles D. Vibberts, Ohio AAA safety director.

Police officials will complete necessary paper work for the award soon, said Capt. R. E. Ruoff.

The Grove City Police Department, headed by Chief E. L. Evans, has been lauded in the past by citizens for their close supervision over children walking to school.

Officials of AAA check pedestrian deaths and injuries, accident records, legislation and enforcement, traffic engineering, traffic safety, school traffic safety, public information and education in judging a city pedestrian program.

BRENTLINGER

Brentlinger One Of 10 'Outstanding'

One of the 10 Outstanding Young Men of the Greater Columbus area, as named by the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce is Richard J. Brentlinger, 5473 River Forest-rd, Dublin.

He is an attorney with the Gingher and Christensen law firm and a former aide in the Franklin County Prosecutor's office, as well as a member of the Franklin County Board of Health, the Legal Aid Society, Franklin County Men's Republican Club and the Dublin Optimists.

Brentlinger, 33, is married and has two children.

He and the nine others will be honored at the annual Jaycee Distinguished Service Award Banquet, Saturday, Jan. 26 at the Fort Hayes Hotel.

One of the 10 will be named the "Outstanding Young Man."

Welfare Workers Handed Pay Raise; 193 Affected

County commissioners approved pay raises last Thursday for 193 County Welfare Department workers.

Cost will be about $18,100 for 1963, Welfare Director Richard H. Cassidy said.

Employes will receive hikes ranging from $10 to $50 a month on the anniversary date of their employment, he said.

The department had 12 other employes who will not be affected in 1963 because they were hired after Jan. 1.

The joint City-County Relief Committee approved the raises last month.

Commissioners also agreed to meet with the joint committee Jan. 24 to discuss the department's proposed budget which will be about $14 million—a $1.5 million increase, Cassidy said.

Board Completes Land Purchase

South-Western City Board of Education has purchased land in Lincoln Village South for erection of an elementary school.

Located at Stiles and Lombard-rds, the building will be a 14-room structure to house grades one through six. The land was sold by Columbus City Schools, the former owners.

Prairie Players' 'Picnic' Is This Weekend

The Prairie Players production of "Picnic" will be presented this weekend, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 25 and 26 at Prairie-Norton School.

The play starts at 8:30 p.m. and tickets are $1.25 each, at the door or from any member.

A pre-play dinner party also has been planned.

HAIR LOOK 'RATTY,' UNCOMBED? IT'S SUPPOSED TO, FELLOWS

If someone says your hair looks "ratty" and you're a member of the fairer sex, then smile. It's a compliment and, more important, if it's been a long time for you since the ivy halls of high school, no one can say you aren't keeping up with the times.

In a by-lined article, appearing in the South High "Optic," student writers Pauline McCoy and Sandra Hurley report that "ratting" or "teasing" hair is the most popular trend in forming femme hairstyles.

After the ratting process, local high school lasses are shaping their coiffures into styles bearing such names as "Flip," "Angel Wave" and "Date Setter."

The gals explain that ratting hair is done by holding the strands up from the scalp and brushing downward. It makes the hair fluffy and soft looking, they say, but, alas, it's off limits for guys.

Try it with a crew cut, men, and you'll just end up with sore fingers and your crew cut will probably look like the crew hailed out.

Now the hairdos.

The South High writers say that the "Flip" is for the gal who has short hair and is described as the "soft, angel style." It's "real cute" the female scribes penned and "gives that easy look."

They describe forming it thusly:

"The hair in front should be away from the forehead and brushed down over both ears. The ends of the hair should be fluffed up and a dainty bow could be pinned on one side.

Next, they write, for the girl who has medium short hair, "we have the 'Angel Wave'."

In this one, hair is combed down over the ears and a little curl or two combed down over the forehead. Bows can also be pinned on either side of this one. See?

"For the girl who has long hair, we have the 'Date Setter'," the article says. (This one, incidentally, was called the "Holly Look" during the holiday season but has been adapted so that it's appropriate at anytime—even Bastille Day.)

First, comb the hair into a page boy and then take part of the hair at the crown and fluff and secure with hair pins. Also, comb down a few airy bangs (air is sold in most neighborhood drug stores) and place two or three colorful bows between the crown and bangs.

For cynical men reading this, it might be pointed out that many of the fashion trends are set on the high school level. Don't be surprised if Mama comes home some evening with her hair ratted, or flipped, or teased or pouffed.

In which case your role will be to smile, compliment her and be careful not to get close to the hair spray shellac. Those face burns can really smart.

Superintendent Suspended By Mayor Westlake

Municipal Garage Supt. Frank Watts, 92 N. Ogden-av, was suspended Saturday by Mayor Westlake for "inefficient and improper office procedures."

The suspension is for 30 days and was caused by procedures in oil purchases.

The mayor also suspended Chief Clerk William Harlor for 15 days and Willard Williamson, senior store keeper, for five days.

Westlake said Harlor and Williamson's suspensions were for "complicity."

TRAINED

FRANK A. GROVE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Grove, Sr., of 303 Dakota-av, has completed basic training at Great Lakes, Ill. He will be assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Oriskany.

St. Pierre, Martinique, was destroyed May 8, 1902, by the volcanic eruption of 4,799-foot-high Mt. Pelee.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Hamimel

The January neighborhood meeting was held on Jan. 15 at the VFW Hall. There were 30 present, representing eight troops.

Opening was with a flag ceremony, closing with a friendship circle.

District advisor, Betty Hollenbaugh, showed a film entitled "You're It."

There will be a Father-Daughter get-together at Camp Ken-Jockety on March 10. It will be a family affair starting at about 5 p.m. with a hike or other activity—ending at 9 p.m. All girls should contact their leaders for details.

Cooking Classes Set At Glenwood

Glenwood Recreation Center cooking classes for girls between the ages of eight and 13 will begin Thursday, Jan. 24, at 4 p.m. Because of the limited size of the kitchen, the class will be held to 15.

A cooking class for boys from eight to 13 will begin Tuesday, Jan. 29, at 4 p.m.

Murray Is Ad Director

The appointment of Maurice S. Murray as director of advertising has been announced by Albee Homes, Inc.

With sales offices and model homes in 52 cities in 11 states, Murray will develop, prepare and direct national and local advertising campaigns.

Anticipating an annual advertising budget of close to $1 million, Murray's promotion plans for Albee Homes include newspaper and radio advertising, catalogs, brochures, direct mail campaigns, visual aids and point of purchase advertising.

Murray's experience in the field of advertising includes 15 years as advertising publicity director, publisher, account executive and publicist in both the housing and home furnishings fields.

If one must disagree, he should try not to become disagreeable.

Shrine Club Dates Dance For Tuesday

The annual "Sweetheart Dance" of the Northwest Shrine Club will be held Tuesday, Jan. 29, at the Kingswood Motel, Avery-rd and Rt. 33, according to club president M. A. Mock.

There will be a social hour, buffet dinner and dance during the evening. The cost is $6 per couple.

Reservations should be made with secretary Abe Kilbury, 22 S. High-st, Dublin, by Friday, Jan. 25.

Music will be provided by Milton Hall and his Harmello Quintette.

The social hour starts at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7:15 p.m.

Northwest Shriners are from the Dublin, Hilliard, Plain City, Powell and Marysville areas.

Members are asked to wear a fez.

JAYCEE CREED AUTHOR GETS AWARD

AUTHOR OF THE CREED used nationally by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, C. William Brownfield, is extended an honorary membership in the Hilliard Jaycee chapter by William Purdin, club president. Brownfield and his family moved to Hilliard (691 Bigelow-dr) about a month ago. The honorary membership award was made in conjunction with National Jaycee Week.

Trustees Eye Future, Buy Firehouse Land

With an alert eye to the future, the Prairie Township Trustees have made "an investment for the community" by purchasing five and one-half acres of land on Dubbard in New Rome.

Township Trustees Chairman Carl Hamilton said that a new firehouse may be constructed on the land possibly "within five years," depending on the pace of growth in the township and on the progress of the Big Run Sewer.

Right now, according to Hamilton, both equipment and the number of men in the volunteer squad are sufficient, but the firehouse on Maple-dr is housing four pieces of equipment in three stalls.

The township tried to buy the land directly behind the Maple-dr buildin, for extra parking space and expansion of the firehouse, but the owner wasn't willing to part with it.

There is a station in Galloway which could accommodate one more piece of equipment, but the transfer would not be "handy" since most of the volunteer firemen live in the New Rome area.

Trustee Hamilton believes there is good cause to believe the new station will be needed within the next five years, since land directly south and southeast of the proposed location (south of W. Broad-st and east of Norton-rd) has already been earmarked for a housing development.

There was some concern among residents that the newly purchased land was a dump, but Hamilton explained that only about "one-sixth of it was used for a dump and that was filled in well."

He said that plans for a new building would include a public meeting room, since most of the local schools "are already overcrowded with meetings."

Price of the five and one-half acre plot was $15,688.

It was purchased from township fire chief, Ruskin Richard.

The land was purchased because of the "reasonable price and the visible future need," said Hamilton.

The township also purchased a new dump truck last week from Rodenfel's Chevrolet for $4,756.13.

The snow plow and cinder spreader from the old truck will be installed on the new one, to be delivered by Feb. 18.

National Honor Society Sets Initiations During February

The National Honor Society plans to initiate new members at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 19.

Membership in the National Honor Society is deemed the highest scholastic honor obtainable.

To become eligible, one must have a 3.0 (B) scholastic average and must have superior ratings in citizenship, character and service. Ratings are determined by scores of at least six members of the faculty.

A tapping ceremony will be held a week prior to initiation during a school assembly. Until this time, new members are unknown to everyone except the principal, William F. Rodgers.

Juniors Take Test

The National Merit Qualifying Test is presently being given to 50,000 juniors throughout the United States who are interested in aid and grants for a college education. Students, who finish among the top 10,000 are qualified to take the National Merit Scholarship Test as seniors. Seniors who score in the top 5,000 are given full scholarships. This includes tuition, books, fees and board at any university or college the student wishes to attend. From the remaining, 2,000 commendations are given.

A representative from Otterbein College spoke Jan. 14, to juniors and seniors interested in attending Otterbein.

Micheal Kish spoke to the about 40 students concerning courses offered, entrance requirements, scholarship and financial aids, living conditions and social life.

Students interested will be guests of the college and stay in a dormitory.

Sweetheart Ball Set

A semi-formal dance is being sponsored by the junior class Saturday, Feb. 2 from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Each class has chosen two girls as representatives. From these the entire student body will elect one girl to reign over the dance as "Sweetheart."

Half Dozen Injured In Car Mishap

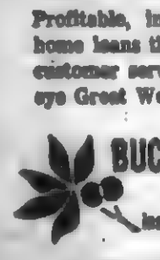
A Columbus tot suffered a fractured skull and a half dozen other persons were injured in a three-car chain collision Sunday afternoon at the intersection of S. High-st and Castle-rd.

Michael Dean, three, of 3688 Britton-av was being treated in Childrens' Hospital. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dean, a brother, Danny (five) and sister Cathy (six) were treated for lesser injuries and released.

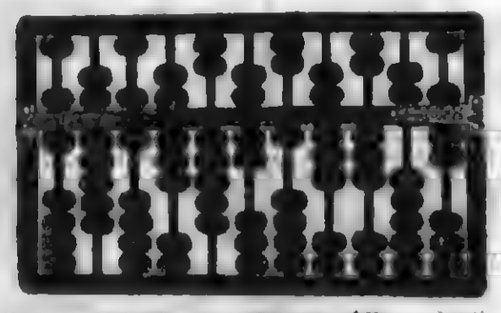
They were all passengers in a car driven by Dean's sister, Mrs. Linda Yoakum of 2501 S. High-st.

The Yoakum auto had stopped to allow a car driven by Larry Crabtree of 209 Betz-rd to make a left turn on Castle-rd when it was struck by the auto of Mrs. Beatrice Kitchen of Portsmouth. She was cited for failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Lena Kitchen and Mrs. Ellen Lawson, also of Portsmouth, suffered leg and back injuries and shock. Crabtree was uninjured. All three autos were extensively damaged.



Leroy Weigand On Committee For Brinkman



Leroy S. Weigand, 55 Haldy-av, is the secretary-treasurer of the Citizens Committee for Brinkman.

The organization hopes to promote the candidacy of Edwin Brinkman, 1497 King-av, for City Council in the May primary election.

Add Winter Enjoyment

Sub zero weather has its compensations and now that we've had a prolonged touch of "old time" winter we have to admit that it has some compensations.

It would be hard to find many youngsters who wouldn't agree that they enjoyed the news that school would be closed.

And what great joy comes to a boy who cuts a 10 inch thick hunk of ice out of his skating pond, thus assuring himself of a long skating period ahead.

You haven't witnessed real appreciation until you watch the birds gather around a freshly-filled feeder. Without this kind of weather you might not have had an opportunity to pay for their cheery songs.

Even a stalled car or one mired down along an icy curb brings out volunteer assistance and you say to yourself, "Gosh, people are human, aren't they?"

And what's more delightful than rosy cheeks and a pleasant smile from a halo of ear muffs on a pretty girl?

Yep! Winter has its compensations!

Coming Events

A most delightful thing happened to me Monday. I received a fine full color seed catalog and a nice letter from James Wilson out in Mountain View, Calif.

Mr. Wilson advised that a former Hilltopper and a long time reader of ours, Rex Grabill, president of Ferry-Morse Seed Co. had told him of my winter pastime of reading seed catalogs.

A big "Thank You" to Mr. Grabill and to Mr. Wilson.

As this is being written, the thermometer outside the kitchen door says 5 below. The night before it was 16 below.

But tonight I'm warm with thoughts of spring as I leaf through this beautiful book. I'm reading about "X-15" marigolds, atom tomatoes, Thumbelina zinnias and Golden Midget sweet corn.

Ferry-Morse seeds are not strangers in my life. I remember seeing them in HMCP Cox's Country Store at Cox's Landing, W. Va., back about the time I was a fourth grader in a one-room school. And they had "old time winters" then, too!

A Life Of Quiet Worth

Young people and those who are not so young lost a fine friend this past Saturday in the death of Rick Curtis, as he participated in Hilltop Y activities at Westmoor Jr. High School.

He was a leader and had a host of friends. These friends will miss him. His community will miss his leadership. Someone has said, "Rick led a life of quiet worth. He gave warmth and quality to every relationship."

Rites Held Tuesday For Rick Curtis

Funeral for Richard (Rick) Curtis, 16-year-old West High Junior, was held Tuesday at Hilltop Methodist Church. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Curtis, 142 S. Wayne-av.

A junior leader in the Hilltop YMCA's physical skills class, he died Saturday morning, after collapsing while instructing a youth in tumbling exercises at Westmoor Junior High School.

Curtis

Dr. Carl Tetrick, deputy coroner, said Rick had suffered a brain hemorrhage from an aneurysm, or weak spot, on a blood vessel in the brain. Aneurysm, present from birth, can burst under high blood pressure, Tetirick explained.

Saddened schoolmates at West Junior-Senior High, where Rick was respected and admired by students and teachers, mourned Rick's death in a memorial service conducted by Principal David Randall, Monday morning.

His sister, Janice, 12, is a seventh grade student at West. Rick, a reserve basketball

More Breaks Unlikely Says Gas Co.

"I think people can be assured that there is very little chance of trouble. All of our lines are in very usable condition, in so far as we know."

So spoke a representative of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., this week when questioned on the chance of another gas leak such as the one last Friday on W. Broad-st at Algonquin-av.

Several queries were received by Hartley Newspapers on the possibility of another break due to cold weather and the blasting to be done to clear the way for the Scioto Main Trunk sewer line.

The gas company official said he was not certain what caused the break Friday, and termed it "one of those things that just happens."

Columbus City Service Director Ernest Stork said aging of the lines and/or freezing and thawing, causing "give and take of the ground" could have caused it, but "it's hard to pin down and I don't know for sure what the reason is."

Routine checks are made to detect leaks and the age of the lines is known, according to the gas company, thereby indicating what areas may be potentially dangerous.

Concentration meters are used to check the amount of gas in manholes, to find leaks and "we dig down at certain points to check—and we do that very frequently," said the spokesman.

"We don't want to minimize the possibility that the same thing can happen again, but the possibility of a serious leak is small. We don't want to worry people with the thought of another break, because it may cause a "panic" situation whenever someone thinks he detects an odor of gas."

The gas company official warned that if a break should occur again, it should be reported to the company immediately, and people shouldn't "panic."

If the odor is strong, the persons in the area

A POWDER-KEG ATMOSPHERE existed for 10 hours at busy W. Broad-st and Algonquin Friday while workmen dug down to patch a leaking eight-inch gas main. Gas filled the sewers and forced evacuation of many homes and businesses for blocks around. Many autos were stalled by suffocating gas at this intersection.

IF IT'S A DANGEROUS job you're looking for, maybe you would want that of the two men pictured here, digging up the leaking gas main on W. Broad-st last Friday. Using the hammer is Jim Handley, 31, of 784 Wedgewood-dr, Apt. 4, and using the shovel is Edward Van Horn, 1459 Northmont-Blvd.

POLICE REPORTED that most people cooperated in evacuating the dangerous area of the gas main break last Friday. Obviously they weren't talking about these youngsters, standing on the corner of W. Broad-st and Algonquin-av, just 15 feet from the spot of the break in the line.

Campbell, VonIns Appointed To City Health, Fiscal Posts

Mayor Ralston Westlake has appointed two fellow Hilltoppers to important municipal boards.

Effective Friday, Feb. 1, Charles H. "Doc" Campbell will begin a four-year term on the Columbus Board of Health and Roy E. Von Ins will become a member of the city's Board of Sinking Fund Trustees.

Campbell, who lives at 91 S. Westmoor-av, succeeds Joseph S. Goodwin, 2909 Sullivant-av, member for eight years who asked not to be returned because of increased demands on his time by his pharmacy business. Campbell is secretary of the Central Ohio Academy of Pharmacy and also is executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association.

Von Ins, 51 S. Brinker-av, who is assistant vice-president of the City National Bank and Trust Co., succeeds another officer of his firm, Guy E. Coffman, in the advisory capacity to the city. The board is re-

Pedestrian Is Fatally Injured

Charles Franklin Payton, 80, of 89 Wisconsin-av, died Tuesday night at Mt. Carmel Hospital of injuries suffered when struck by a truck on W. Broad-st at Westgate-av, Tuesday afternoon.

Payton was walking, west of the crosswalk, from north to south on W. Broad-st, against a red traffic signal when struck, according to police. He suffered head and internal injuries.

The accident occurred at 3:16 p.m., and Payton died in Mt. Carmel at 10 p.m.

Driver of the truck, Michael Ben Lewis, 53, of 933 E. Rich-st, was not held.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by Wylie S. Shroyer Funeral Home, 1278 W. Broad-st.

HAS SHRINE POST

Richard E. Goudy of 150 Binns-blvd has been appointed second ceremonial master of the Aladdin Temple of the Shrine. He was appointed Jan. 25.

YMCA Rates Praise From Cincy Catcher

Training through the YMCA was lauded by John Edwards, catcher for the Cincinnati Redlegs, and a former Hilltop Y leader when he addressed the fiftenth annual meeting of the Hilltop YMCA held Tuesday evening in the Westinghouse Auditorium.

"The Y taught me leadership and teamwork", said Edwards.

He urged all young people to finish their education.

Elected to the Board of Management of the Hilltop Y were the following: John A. Brown, C. Carlton Hartley,

West Side Businessman Tosses Hat Into Mayor Ring

A West Side businessman became the third man to enter the race for the nomination for mayor in the May primary election.

John E. Bricker, 33, assistant vice-president of John Getreu and Son, Inc., hardware wholesalers at 670 Harmon-av, announced his candidacy Friday following a meeting in County Democrat Headquarters with chairman Jerry F. Ryan.

He will seek one of the two nominations in the non-partisan primary. His opponents are Mayor Westlake, a Republican, and M. E. Sensenbrenner, a Democrat and former mayor.

Bricker, who resides at 2001 E. Beaumont-rd, is married and has two sons and two daughters.

He attended Central High School and completed his education following his discharge from the Army. He attends Northview Presbyterian Church.

Dream To Aid Children With Exceptions Materializes

By BETTY DAFT

The modern, bright brick building on the corner of Souder and State-st is a dream-come-true for baffled educators and distraught parents . . . and a lifeline for the children most often misunderstood and neglected.

Here, children with exceptions find assistance and understanding, and an opportunity to build happy, well-adjusted and productive futures.

The rapid development of the Diocesan Child Guidance Center is matched only by the faith of its founder and director, Sr. Francois, SND.

Under her inspired leadership the center, opened in 1953 in third-floor quarters in the Diocesan office building, 246 E. Town-st, soon needed enlarged quarters, and moved to 1000 Bryden-rd. Finally, in the fall of 1961, it occupied the new, specially designed and equipped building across from Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Children of all ages, of all races and religions with exceptions ranging from speech and hearing defects, and emotional disturbance to an unusually high mentality, are helped here.

In their efforts to solve the increasingly complex problems of young people, from "Why Johnny can't read," to "Why Janky has lost contact with reality," parents and teachers are turning more and more to the center for help.

Sr. Francois and her expertly-trained staff study the uniqueness of each child's case through exhaustive physical and psychological testing, and recommend a course of training or treatment.

Children are treated on an out-patient plan. Very nominal fees are charged to those who can afford them, but none are refused because they cannot pay.

Careful, thorough physical examinations are given each child to determine his speech, hearing, and seeing capabilities. Psychological testing follows. Finally, after consultations with the child and his parents, a remedial program is planned.

Babies are also given exhaustive physical and psychological testings at the center before being placed for adoption.

Sr. Francois, her name synonymous with the Child Guidance Center to Columbus educators, is the bridge between troubled children and their parents, and the highly specialized services at the center.

Her personal interest in each child and his needs, mirrored in her cheerful, friendly, informal manner, is reassuring to all who seek her help.

Of the center, Sr. Francois says, "With our heads in the clouds and our feet on the ground, we have dreamed this dream." Her faith that the

Birthday Celebration At Buckeye Federal Planned

Friday, Feb. 1, marks the seventh birthday of Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Association's Great Western Shopping Center office, and a month-long celebration has been planned for all Buckeye customers.

Charles V. Sexton, Buckeye's Great Western office manager, announced that this Friday and Saturday's party-opening festivities would include free refreshments, prizes and gifts.

All visitors attending on these two days, noon to 8 p.m. Friday, and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, will be treated to one of Buckeye's "Lucky Seventh" birthday cupcakes, many of which will be "prize-winners," identified by their color.

Celebrators who receive these will win such prizes as $10 Buckeye savings accounts, Christopher Columbus Sesquicentennial statuettes, 18 karat gold-plated car keys or key chains, and handcrafted ceramic table-tile wall plaques.

For the balance of February Buckeye savers and home-financing applicants will be given the opportunity to receive any of the three prizes free.

Red Cross Seeking Volunteers

Interviews are available in the Office of Volunteers from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day, Monday through Friday at Red Cross headquarters at 995 E. Broad-st.

Interested persons may call the office at CL. 3-8511 for an appointment.

Many new volunteers are needed, at the Red Cross Columbus Regional Blood Center at 312 E. Broad-st; Particularly needed are motor service drivers to distribute blood to the 47 hospitals within Franklin County.

Other volunteer activities include registrars, receptionists, nurses' assistants, Gray Ladies and social welfare aides.

"There are few women who could not find a niche for themselves in this service," says Mrs. Jack N. Taylor, chairman of volunteers.

The great Greek painter, El Greco, was so named by the Spaniards, who were unable to pronounce his real name: Domenikos Theotokopoulos. El Greco means "The Greek."

dream would be matched with a million dollars and be materialized in the new Child Guidance Center never wavered.

"My hope," she continued, "is that we will be able to take care of all children with exceptions — the exceptionally bright children who will be brilliant leaders of tomorrow, the mentally retarded, the palsied, the deaf and the blind children.

"And," she said wonderingly, "just imagine — until this year we never charged. All our services were free to anyone who needed them. But it costs more to operate this building; our bills are so high.

"The best is so expensive and, of course," she added emphatically, "nothing but the best will do for our children."

There is surely no skimping on the quality of education in the center's staff. Ph.D. degrees and impressive records of training and practical experience are the rule.

Sr. Francois herself was a long time readying for her unique role at the center. Her career in the classroom covers many years of experience in academies of Notre Dame, from intermediate grades through high school levels.

She was, for a while, a member of the faculty of the University of Dayton, and supervisor of Notre Dame academies and high schools.

Her wealth of knowledge of children and their ways was gained through many years.

Her success she attributes to a deep reverence for the human personality and unshaken trust in God for guidance in caring for His children.

Before he became Secretary of Labor, W. Willard Wirtz served on both the library board and the liquor commission. Every time he opened a book, he said, he felt he had to open a bottle.

1963 Dog Census Scheduled For Franklin County Area

Beginning Feb. 1, county dog wardens and humane officers will commence their annual dog census to record the number of licensed dogs and dogs immunized against rabies for Columbus, Bexley, Grandview Heights, Upper Arlington, and all of Franklin Countp.

Thomas C. Justice of the Human Society, stated that all dogs found not wearing valid license tags will be required to be licensed and their owners must pay the $3 license fee plus a $1 penalty. Dogs at large not wearing a valid 1963 license will be picked up and impounded as stray dogs.

If dog owners refuse to license their pet, they will be subject to arrest and if convicted, may be fined as much as $25 and costs.

Boards of health of Columbus and Franklin County also require that all dogs three months of age or older be immunized against rabies every 12 months.

Big Brothers Lease Home For Offices

City officials and representatives of The Big Brothers Association of Columbus, Inc. signed a $1 a year lease Monday, January 21 for the Jacob Hare Orphans Home at 2104 Tuller-st.

The Big Brothers Association of Columbus leased the Hare Orphans Home from the trustees of the Jacob Hare Trust which is administered by Columbus City Council.

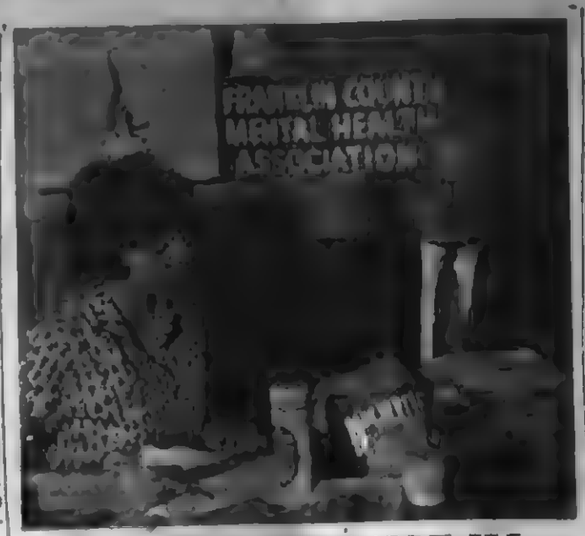
Mayor Ralston Westlake, Golda May Edmondson and Robert Southwick, along with Herbert Wise signed the lease agreement with the Association.

Association president Wise said "The Big Brothers Association, a United Appeal agency, will move its headquarters from 137 E. State-st to the new address about March 1 and expand association activities."

Editor Receives Award From Forestry Group

Rod Cochran

Rod Cochran, editor of the Ohio Conservation Bulletin, received a special award from the Ohio Forestry Association Jan. 25 in behalf of his publication.



Cochran, who lives in Darby Crest, Rt. 1 Galloway, was given the citation at the 60th annual Loggers Supper in the Southern Hotel.

The plaque was presented by Raymond S. Brown, state conservationist with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

Cochran is a regular contributor to the Hartley Newspaper editorial page. His column is entitled, "Inside On The Outdoors."

TO ERECT HOME

Paul E. Knapp, 3682 Hoover-rd, has received a building permit to construct a six-room, two-bath, frame and brick dwelling and attached garage at 2760 White-rd, Jackson Township. Valuation is $21,000.

TO HELP MENTALLY ILL

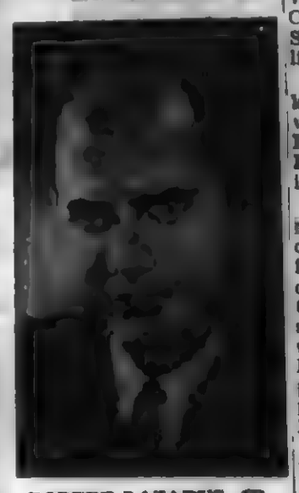
ROBERT LAZARUS, JR.

Jaycees Select East Sider 'Outstanding'



The Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce had the task of selecting the "best of the best" Saturday in its search for the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year".

From ten finalists, East Sider Robert Lazarus, Jr., vice-president and general manager of the basement store of the F&R Lazarus Co. was awarded the honor.

In presenting the award to Lazarus, Walter E. Bartlett, vice-president and general manager of WLW-C and the recipient of the honor last year, said, "Columbus is a far better place for all of us to live, because it counts Mr. Lazarus as one of its residents."

Lazarus, who is 35 and lives at 2094 Parkhill-dr, is a member of the board of trustees of the United Community Council, was treasurer for 1961, has served on the advisory committee, and was chairman of the affiliation committee.

He is president of the Columbus Urban League and has been active with the Children's Mental Health Center, the Planned Parenthood Association and Jewish Family Service. He is on the Board

Boys' State Sponsorship Announced

Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion will again send 10 boys from this area to the 26th annual Buckeye Boys' State to be held at Ohio University June 13 through June 22, according to Chet Wagner, 634 Joyful-st, chairman of the project.

Co-sponsoring the boys will be the Hilltop Kiwanis, Hilltop Lions, the 13 Club, the Hilltop Business Men's Association, the Civitan Club of West Columbus, the Optimist Club of West Columbus, West Side Kiwanis and West Franklin Kiwanis.

The young men will be selected early in April. They will be 11th graders from Franklin Heights, West, Pleasantview and Holy Family high schools.

Students must be recommended by high school principals and a history or political science teacher. Other qualifications include: better than average grades, leadership ability, and sportsmanship qualities. Participants in Boys' State must also be competitive, personable and have proven interest in civics, public speaking or debate.

Boys' State is a school of municipal, county and state government. All offices are filled by election or appointmen. Campaigning of the Nationalist and Federalist parties follow the same principles of politics found in the real-life arena.

Water Projects Get Federal Aid

Three local flood control projects were included in the appropriation of $40 million earmarked for Ohio rivers and harbors projects.

The local issues are: Big Darby Creek reservoir, $226,000; Deer Creek reservoir, $216,000 and Paint Creek reservoir, $150,000.

Columbus flood control projects were not included although they have been okayed by the U. S. Engineers Corps and Congress, making them eligible for funds.

Ice Cream Sweet Treat For Valentines Day

Ice cream is an outstanding food to serve at any hour or for any season. It's a flavorful and refreshing food that everyone enjoys.

For something new in ice cream enjoyment, plan to serve Raspberry-Ice Cream Valentine.

The delicate, pink-tinted meringue heart shell, filled with vanilla ice cream and topped with a tasty raspberry sauce is a taste and eye-appealing dessert for memorable occasions.

Children as well as adults will be flattered by such an elegant and pleasing dessert or refreshment item.

Versatile ice cream is just as suitable for elaborate parties as it is for everyday snacks and desserts. Made from nutritious milk, it offers important food nutrients along with good eating pleasure. It is wise to always have a ready supply of this wholesome dairy product in your freezer.

RASPBERRY-ICE CREAM VALENTINE

Meringue Shell

4 egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
Red food coloring

Sauce

1 package frozen red raspberries in sugar sirup, defrosted (1 lb.)
4 teaspoons cornstarch

Filling

1 quart vanilla ice cream

Make meringue shell. Beat egg whites, cream of tartar, salt, and vanilla until mixture holds soft peaks. Gradually beat in sugar, one tablespoonful at a time, and continue beating until very stiff and glossy. Add food coloring as needed to tint the desired shade of pink.

Draw an eight or nine-inch heart on heavy brown paper. Place on baking sheet. Spread mixture onto heart mounding meringue up around outer edge of heart. Bake in very slow oven, 275 degrees, until dry and lightly browned. Turn off heat and allow shell to cool in oven. Cool thoroughly before filling with ice cream.

Make sauce. Reserve one cup drained berries to fold into thickened sauce. Mix juice and cornstarch until free of lumps. Add remaining one-half of berries. Cook, stirring constantly, until clear and thickened. Fold in remaining berries. Chill.

Drizzle over ice cream in meringue shell. Makes six or eight servings.

Evans-Wasto Nuptials Read At St. Agnes

MRS. EDGAR A. WASTO

St. Agnes Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ann Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Edward Evans of 637 S. Terrace-av, and Mr. Edgar A. Wasto of Coshocton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Gustave Wasto.

The bridal gown of white satin was designed with a lace brocade bodice and skirt. Her veil was caught to a cap of pearls and sequins, and she carried white carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Jo Evans served as maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Susan T. Evans, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Sue Turner were bridesmaids. Annie Huth of Fostoria, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

Attendants wore gowns of red organza and velvet, and carried white fur muffs with red carnations.

Mr. Anthony Corrova served as best man, and ushers were Mr. Lester Ruth and Mr. James Zablocki.

Hostesses for the reception, held at St. Agnes Social Hall, were Miss Carol Heffley and Miss Sherry Allen.

The new Mrs. Wasto was graduated from Rosary High School and is employed by the Army Defense Supply Center.

Mr. Wasto was graduated from Moosehart in Illinois, and is stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

The couple is at home at 644 S. Hague-av.

MONKEY, ANYBODY?

Boys and girls! How would you like a real live monkey for your very own? Think up the best names for our three girl monkeys and you will win a monkey all your own. Come down to the shoe store and see our three lively squirrel monkeys from South America. They are exact duplicates of Able and Baker, the two, year old squirrel monkeys sent up in the first space capsule by the United States.

Pick up a contest coupon and fill in three girl's names so we can name our monkeys. Watch for a coupon in next week's Record. The three best names on one coupon, in the opinion of the four judges will be awarded a monkey which is on display at the Western Shopping Center Pet Shop.

The judges are: Mr. C. C. Hartley of the Hilltop Record, Mr. Jerry Wolfe of Frische's Drive-In, Jim, the Pet Shop Man and Jeanie of TV Kindergarten.

Oh yes, we also do an expert job of fitting good shoes on your children . . . and that's no monkey business.

should leave until official checks can be made.

Persons in the area of the W. Broad-st break were commended by the company for their behavior in general, in the face of the danger.

One Hartley Newspaper reporter, however, told of seeing a man, within three blocks of the leak, casually smoking a cigarette.

Police reported also that behavior was "generally good, although some incidents were noted." Businesses in the area were closed as work carried on into the night to repair the damaged line.

Unlucky? Jinxed? Not So!!

Tempers flared to match the escaping gas long before the leak was discovered at the intersection of W. Broad-st and Algonquin-av last Friday.

Each unlucky motorist in the center lane who was stopped by the traffic light found, to his irritation, his engine had stalled.

Observers watched with growing amazement as the "jinxed spot" claimed more than a score of autos, including the elite — an ambulance, a '62 Cadillac and a brand new Thunderbird.

Final victim was a fire engine, its driver, striving to keep the engine running despite the smothering gas from the manhole. Result was an explosion that lifted the vehicle into the air.

And each "unlucky" motorist who had stalled over the gas leak, read the cause in the newspapers and counted the day among his luckiest.

Dr. Jimmy Hull Will Address Local Kiwanians

Dr. James R. Hull, former All-American basketball star at Ohio State University, will address the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at noon Thursday, Jan. 31 at Monaco's Restaurant.

His talk will relate to the current Kiwanis CQ (Citizenship Quotient) program.

The orthodontist and popular toastmaster was graduated from Greenfield-McClain High School and OSU.

Hilltop Water Tank To Be Fixed Today

The break in the 16-inch overflow pipe in the million-gallon water storage tank in Westgate Park will be repaired and the tank refilled sometime today, according to City Water Superintendent Frank H. Wright.

The break was apparently caused by ice and was discovered Monday.

Homes in the Hilltop area from Central-av west, which includes some 40 to 50,000 residences, will hardly notice the 10 pound water pressure decrease, said Wright.

He explained that another million-gallon water pressure tank of lower elevation will service the area until the Westgate tank is put back in service.

Doctor's Office Robbed

The office of Dr. Hal Taylor, 52, a veterinarian, located at 3286 W. Broad-st, was broken into last weekend.

Thieves got $10, two typewriters, a tape recorder and a record player.

Taylor resides at 204 Oxley-rd.

player and a substitute on the West varsity squad, had played in Friday's reserve game and for about three minutes in the varsity game scored two points for the varsity.

Fred Heischman, West High coach, said Rick showed no ill effects from the game, and Cary Sixt, physical director at the Hilltop YMCA, said he appeared normal Saturday morning.

He was not actively participating in tumbling at the time of his collapse. Sixt called the emergency squad and the boy was rushed to Mt. Carmel Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Vice-president and former president of the Hilltop YMCA Junior Leader's Club, Rick was also a member of Hilltop Methodist Church.

Surviving, in addition to his parents and sister, are maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hutchinson of Gallia, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Esther Curtis of Parkersburg, W. Va.

Burial was at Green Lawn Cemetery, by Williams and McNabb Funeral Home.

Named to the Y Advisory Board were: Charles C. Bridwell, James E. Foote, Nelson Greene, Jr., Forest L. Rader, Melvin M. Senerius and Howard F. Wilson.

Numerous awards were made to leaders in the local group.

A tribute was extended to the memory of Ricky Curtis, Y leader, who died last Saturday.

Detectives Still Checking West Side Robbery Leads

Detectives working on a West Side supermarket kidnap-robbery are continuing to check out all possible leads, but said there are a number of facets of the case that need clarification.

Raymond A. Miller, manager of the Super Duper Market, 3631 Sullivant-av, told police Friday he was accosted by two men in the parking lot west of the store about 1:15 p.m.

Miller was returning to the store from a W. Broad-st bank with two bags containing $5,400 in cash.

He was forced to lie face-down on the back seat of his car as the robbers drove for about an hour and a half. Ultimately Miller was left bound and gagged behind a barn on Rt. 42, a mile north of Delaware. He said the robbers fled on foot with the money.

Detectives theorize a third man was involved in the robbery. They said he probably followed the Miller car to the Rt. 42 location and picked up his accomplices there.

Miller was unable to give a definite description of the robbers because they forced his hat over his eyes.

Family Of 7 Seeks Home After Fire

A family of seven is searching for shelter for the next three weeks after fire turned them out of their home at 981 Whitethorne-av, last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson and Mark, six months; Rick, two; Sheri, four; Tommy, seven, and Jerry, 10, are presently living with friends, the Harold Condons of 855 Wedgewood-dr, Westgate Manor.

The family was dislodged from the Whitethorne-av address when heat from electric range burners ignited kitchen cabinets just above the range, firemen reported.

The burners had been turned on to help heat the house. Mrs. Wilson explained the furnace was not supplying enough heat and the burners were turned on in the night.

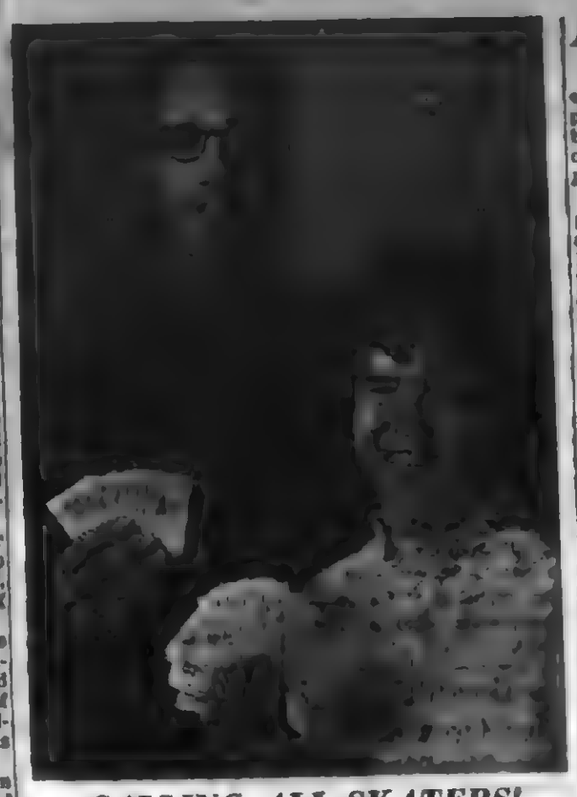
About 7 a.m., she awoke, smelled smoke and discovered flames. She, the children and an elderly housekeeper escaped. Wilson was working at the time, Mrs. Wilson said.

Firemen confined the blaze to the kitchen but smoke caused damage in the two-story dwelling.

Holy Family Dance Dated

Holy Name Society of Holy Family Church, and the Parent Teachers Association of Holy Family School will sponsor a valentines dance Friday, Feb. 15, with round and square dancing from 9 until 1 a.m. in the school auditorium.

Music will be by R. Dillow. Refreshments and food will be available at the dance.



The school is located one block south of Broad-st on Grubb-st.

Realtors Ask Zoning Change At Clime And Demorest-rds

Franklin County's Rural Zoning Commission received an application for a hearing on rezoning of the northeast corner at Clime and Demorest-rds this week.

George Schaaf Realtors are asking 58 acres be rezoned at the northwest corner of the intersection for the building of twin singles, apartments and a shopping center. No date has been set for the hearing which will be held in the Franklin Twp. firehouse, 4100 Sullivant-av.

County Commissioners continued the hearing on rezoning of 10 acres of land located across from the Wee Bonnie Golf Course on Demorest-rd. The hearing was continued because the man who requested change, Edward A. Tonti, 3009 Sullivant-av, was out of town. Tonti wants to change the property from a residential area to apartment and twin single classification.

Five other applications were also received this week for hearings on zoning changes.

Trotters Have Lead In Glenwood Boys' League

The Trotters are in first place with three wins and no loses in the Junior Boys' Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center. The Trotters, paced by the rebounding and 12 points of forward Steve Evans, trumped over the Lakers, 27-24. Albert Young tallied 11 points for the winners and Kenny Shaw tipped in 16 for the losers.

Charles Gomer and Robert Shaw netted 14 and eight points, respectively, to lead the second place Trojans over the Celtics, 29-12. Fred Smith hit seven for the losers.

The third place Celtics stopped the Warriors in a close game, 38-31. Going into the fourth period the Warriors were leading, but suddenly the Celtics caught fire and scored 10 straight points while holding the opponents scoreless. James Marcum led the winners with 14 and Ernie Thornton hit 16 for the losers.

Countdowns Now Leading In Intermediate Girls' Loop

The Countdowns, with a 2-0 record, are currently leading the Intermediate Girls' Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center. They are followed by the Goof-Offs (1-1), Silhouettes (1-1), Clowns (1-2) and the Hi-Fi's (0-2).

Yvonne Cummings, with 18 points, led the Silhouettes to a 36-16 victory over the Clowns. The Clown's high scorer was Susie Hoffman.

The Clowns were also defeat by the Countdowns, 37-0. Cheryl Holt scored 15 points for the Countdowns.

Captain Susie Hoffman's 10 points helped the Clowns defeat the Hi-Fi's by a 27-10 score.

Coach Shooters Pace Field In Rifle Loop Match

Brian Mefferd of Coach Junior Rifle Club fired a high score of 380 to lead in Match 5 of the Buckeye Junior Rifle League, Jan. 27.

Coming in for second place was John McCoy of Coach. Janet Hanley of Coach fired 360 for third. In fourth place was Carol Deland of Ft. Hayes Junior Club firing 359 and Earl Downey of Ft. Hayes placed fifth with 358.

DENNIS McCANN of Coach kept up his lead with a score of 342 to lead all subjunior shooters. In second place was Jim Downey of Ft. Hayes with 339; third place, Chuck Caton of Troop 220, firing 323; Steve Davies of Coach placed fourth with 322 and in fifth place was Keith Wideman of Troop 200, firing 310.

The Coach five-man team again took top team honors with a total of 1,804. The Ft. Hayes team was in second place with 1,701. In third place was Troop 200, firing 1,575.

The Worthington Junior team moved up to fourth place with 1,539. Olentangy Junior team totaled 1,507 for fifth place and Nationwide with a four-man team scored ETC.

The Coach Club individual scores were:

Brian Mefferd, 380; John McCoy, 369; Janet Hanley, 360; Mike Bland, 350, and Bill Morrow, 345.

There will be members of the above team traveling to Akron for the Zeppelin Junior match on Sunday, Feb. 3. The next scheduled Buckeye Junior Rifle League Match is Feb. 10 at the Olentangy Rifle Range.

Ronald Sopha On Destroyer

Ronald O. Sopha, radarman seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mrs. Dorothy M. Sopha of 773 Darrer-rd, is serving aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Kenneth D. Bailey, part of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The destroyer crewmembers recently hosted 30 orphans from a school in Naples, Italy, for a day-long tour of the ship.

sponsible for the payment of principal and interest on city bonds and for the investment of funds set aside for such payments.

Coffman, a retired vice-president of City National and a member of the board since 1955, became ineligible for the sinking fund board when he moved out of the city recently to 2401 McCutcheon-rd.

Von Ins has been with City National for nearly 15 years and is now in charge of the bank's new operations center in Thurber Village.

Speaking of the Campbell appointment, Mayor Westlake in a letter to COAP President Walter Stewart said: ". . . for this position business administrative ability is more important than in any other profession, and Charlie has both.

"He has been my valued friend for 40 years and I know he will serve on this important body with the same distinction that has marked all of his past activities."

School Adopts New Creed; Plaque Hangs In Front Hall

New Creed Adopted

Franklin Heights High School has adopted a new school creed. The creed has been cast in a bronze plaque and will be placed in the school's front hall.

It reads:

"We the students and faculty of Franklin Heights High School, in order to develop loyalty, compassion and understanding for ourselves and our community, do hereby accept this creed:

We shall:

Be always faithful to God, our school, our community, and our country.

Be ever striving for wisdom, understanding, and dignity for ourselves and our fellow man.

Be always truthful and treat our fellow students and teachers with honor and respect.

Promote good citizenship and strive to set good examples for those who follow in our footsteps.

Guide our actions with honesty, sincerity and integrity."

School Hosts Seminar

The school is hosting a literature and world affairs seminar, open to any interested junior or senior at a cost of $10. The literature seminar will be held Monday evenings at 7:30 starting Feb. 4. The world affairs seminar is slated on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 starting Feb. 5. Registration is open for both seminars which will be conducted by Ohio State University professors.

Field Trip Slated

The F-H home economics II class visited Ohio State Hilltop and Mount Carmel nurseries Tuesday, Jan. 29. The trip is one phase of the students' child study course.

Many groans and sighs of relief were audible in the halls Friday, Jan. 25, as students completed semester exams.

Because no school was held on Thursday, all two-day exams were crammed into one, probably to the glee of teachers and dismay of students.

Junior Rifle Club Has Openings For New Boys

The Marine Corps Junior Rifle Club of Franklin County will hold an open house from 7 to 9 p.m. for prospective members Monday, Feb. 4 in the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, 240 N. Sandusky-st.

All boys between the ages of 14 to 18 in Franklin County who are interested in a supervised shooting program with the .22 caliber rifle are invited.

The National Rifle Association chartered Junior Rifle Club is a year old and presently has 15 members. The club meets twice monthly on the first and third Monday nights at the Marine Training Center.

Further information may be obtained by calling the club leader, First Sergeant Robert Burnett, CA. 8-1501.

DUBLINITE MEETS THE GLENNS

JOHN A. GUY, JR., Dublin, recently had the pleasure of meeting the parents of astronaut John Glenn Jr. at a plumbing convention in Columbus. Glenn Sr. was a plumber for 14 years and was assisted by his wife. Guy is the owner of Central Ohio Plumbing and Heating in Dublin. The Glenns left a warm impression by telling of their experiences since their son became a celebrity," he said. They added they haven't had much chance to see him since he became an astronaut and realize he is not just their son now, but "belongs to the world."

Camp Fire Girls Drive To Aid Mental Health Patients

Six thousand Columbus Camp Fire Girls finalized plans this week for an all-out drive to collect books, records, cosmetics and sewing materials for patients of the Columbus State Hospital, according to Mrs. Connie Catiliar, Camp Fire Girls' project officer.

The project, labeled the "Friendship Walk," will run through the month of February and will have Camp Fire Girls, Bluebirds through Horizon clubs, participating as gathering hosts. All materials will be delivered to the hospital on Feb. 28, the last day of the drive.

"The theme this year," stated Mrs. Catiliar, is "Share Your Wealth with Mental Health, the Camp Fire Way."

Interested donors may call the Camp Fire Girls Office at HI. 3-9713 or the Franklin County Mental Health Association, CA. 8-4344 for pickup.

EDITOR JENKIN LLOYD JONES
"America . . . is 'bugging' the rest of the world"

SPEAKS AT OSU

Jenkin Jones Wins Columbus

By MARCUS ORR

The editor from Tulsa came to town last Friday.

For about 45 minutes, Jenkin Lloyd Jones, in an address at the Ohio Union, talked about things that concern people most — politics, war, education, music, morals and traditions, among others.

Women in his audience (there were more than 300) forgot to compare hats. Guest ministers attentatively took notes for future sermons. It was that kind of speech . . . made of the same solid stuff that has endeared Jones' writings to people throughout the nation this year.

It was not hard for the Clintonville Women's Club to fill the hall. People here remembered the astute editor's "Who Is Tampering With The Soul Of America," a speech which was reprinted in Hartley Newspapers and Readers Digest last spring. In recent weeks another piece, "In Defense of The Cube," was printed. The people came to hear more.

Jones, admittedly awed by his sudden prominence, said he is simply saying the things he believes in.

"They've taken our traditions out of the child's early educational development," he said during a press interview. "The result of this could be seen when some of our young soldiers were captured in Korea. Under the pressure of commie interrogators they couldn't give reasons why they are glad to be Americans."

Quizzed after his talk, Jones had this to say about current "Spirit of '76" controversy over the teaching of a course on communism in the schools: "If you teach only communistic theory and not its practice— you are wrong. The selection of teachers for such courses is not an easy task," he said, "but the student should have opportunity to learn about all forms of government."

"The collegian," he continued, drawing on his own background, "may be bright or even brilliant, but he's still too young to have a sense of history. This sometimes is reflected in the student press," and he added, "the student newspapers, however, are a very specialized type of journalism."

Taking up other issues of our day, Jones pointed out that "the desire of Americans to stand in individual dignity . . . is 'bugging' the rest of the world."

"But, self determination is in itself not an answer to man's inhumanity to man," he stated, citing recent incidents in the Congo.

Editor Jones, who has toured most of the countries of the world, observed that governments are effective as great distributors of wealth but not as producers of wealth.

Ending on an optimistic note, Jones declared that the "greatest sin is cynicism and despair" . . . and , "there are things of the spirit that confound the science of war."

Movie Industry Still Has Time To Scrub Up

If and when the motion picture industry dies, an appropriate epitaph for its grave marker would be "This is the only stone we've left unturned."

Perhaps it's too inconceivable to imagine a world without motion pictures. "The dream world of a darkened theater can never be replaced," you may think.

So did people think about vaudeville.

The saddest thing about the movie industry, though, is that it seems hell-bent on destroying itself. It's heading at high speed down a dusty, dirty road and there is bound to be a point of no return.

Already this theory is being spotted by members of the industry itself. Most outspoken recently has been Helen Hayes — the first lady in anybody's theater — who reported in an Associated Press article that the industry is 'in an era of terrible trouble.'

Clarifying her statement, Miss Hayes pointed out that Hollywood has "lost touch with public taste" and went on to say that "if Hollywood is still in the Tennessee Williams era, the rest of the country isn't."

History shows that "losing touch with the public tastes" isn't a particularly new thing for the motion picture industry. It's happened before. Most critical of these periods was in the Early Thirties. Remember? James Cagney was slapping girls. Mae West was slapping guys and sex and violence reached a then all-time high on the "silver screen."

The public raised protest — strong, verbal protest. Leaders in the industry at the time were saying "Sex and filth has no place in public view" — or words to that effect.

And, an about-face was made. Led by a child—Shirley Temple — motion pictures emerged from the slime of bad taste and, once again, the boom was on.

Times may have changed but the public still seems to desire the same wholesome type of motion pictures. What other explanation can be offered for the success of Walt Disney releases of family entertainment?

Today's sex and violence — a larger dose of the former — makes movies of the Thirties as tame as a PTA meeting. Sure, it provided a definite boost to box office sales following a near-KO punch by television, but the public is growing weary now.

Let's not overlook the fact that movies like "Gorgo," "King Kong" and the rash of science fiction thrillers heightened box office sales.

So did the late Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield.

Now, it appears, a new approach needs to be taken. Just what that is, of course, is a perplexing problem that will require serious consideration by the men making the decisions on motion pictures.

Much of the decision, we feel, will be (and, should be) based on opinions being gathered and formed by such groups as the Citizens for Decent Literature and Motion Pictures and, perhaps even local groups as the Columbus Movie Review Board.

The industry has run the spectrum from the violent to the spectacular to the filthy and neither is now able to click in today's theaters. Hollywood has, certainly, left few stones unturned in its search to please the public. And, in the process, has turned many stomachs.

Cherries Add Sparkle To February Meals

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, small grapefruit, Emperor grapes, canned juices.

Vegetables — Potatoes, carrots, yams, Romaine, canned corn, tomato products.

Protein Foods — Beef "specials", Boston butts, sausage, fryers, large eggs, dairy products.

Red tart cherries are on the plentiful foods list for February — a bright note when you remember the many holidays coming up that call for cherry pies and desserts.

Stocks of canned red tart cherries are about 60 percent larger than last year and frozen cherries holding about the same as a year ago.

Mrs. Franks

For the main dish, the man behind the meat counter says beef supplies for February will increase and will be greater than a year ago. Pork supplies for the month will be ample. Of course we must keep in mind that old man winter is still with us, and movement of livestock can be slowed down by lots of snow and extremely cold weather. However, when this happens, it usually means only temporary shorter supplies with fewer featured cuts offered. Fryers and turkeys will continue to be good buys — large eggs are a better buy than the smaller ones.

As for fresh vegetables, it appears you need not worry too much about deleted supplies . . . on the basis of "what to eat" anyway. This has been an unusual year with a number of damaging cold waves hitting practically every growing area in the country at one time or another during December and January.

Economy-minded shoppers will keep potatoes and carrots on the list. Prices on both white and sweet potatoes are low and expected to remain so, with the exception of Idaho bakers. Idaho holdings are 21 percent smaller than in January 1962. New red potatoes are on the increase, priced only slightly higher than the old crop.

Canned corn may add a sunny note to your February meals. It's now in record supply and all styles of pack are economically priced. You'll find bargains in tomato products too — all good to help supply that needed Vitamin C. For a note of spring (not at bargain prices) there is more hothouse rhubarb in the market.

From the fruit bin, apples will probably lead as the best fruit value this month due to weather and supply conditions of other fruit. Regular storage apples are holding good quality and "Controlled Storage" apples will appear in limited quantity. Grapefruits likely will be the best citrus buy — the small ones show best quality at the present time.

What about the price of orange juice? At this writing, it's hard to predict, for much depends upon the Valencia crop — the best orange for juice. In Florida, harvest is under way but juice yield still uncertain, and the California Valencias were badly damaged by the last cold wave. So,

"I'm careful of the words I say,
I keep them soft and sweet;
I never know from day to day
Which ones I'll have to eat."

FUN WITH LIMERICKS

No writer would say his limericks are poetry. They are just another way of trying to say something amusing to himself and, he hopes, to others. Here's what we mean:

There once was a lad from Nan[illegible]
Who put out to sea in a bucket,
And he never came back
To his little old shack
When he heard a nor'easter had tuck it.

There once was a man from Altoona
Who lived on crackers and tuna,
But one time a host
Served him chicken on toast
And now he goes for it seonah.

The form of a limerick need not necessarily be interesting to a reader. Properly, all he looks for is an amusing, nonsensical idea wrapped into a small, disposable package. But it will appear to a reader with a second look that the writer must have more in mind.

Technically, a limerick has a very rigid form as to rhyme and meter or beat. Unless this form is used, you may have a little, foolish verse, but you don't have a limerick.

People must always give most of their time, thought, and effort to their burdens and their problems. Sometimes they wonder if their strength is equal to their tasks. Tension builds up. Reading a limerick or some other foolish verse could be one way to relieve it.

It says here . . .
Fun is where you find it.

'Nerves' Troubling You? Religion Offers Cure

One of the most common phrases today is—"Take it easy."

Our doctors advise us to do so. When people greet each other in the street they part company with the phrase — "Take it easy."

Rabbi Zellzer

It is, however, most difficult these days of turmoil, of tension and anxiety to take it easy. No matter who we are or what we do, we find too many demands that are made upon us. Some of us drive ourselves to exhaustion. Others use drugs or drinks to keep themselves relaxed. Then they become artificially so relaxed, that they are too tired to do anything. The net result is that our hearts and our nervous systems are adversely affected either from physical exhaustion or from stimulants.

We go to the doctor. "Nerves" is the verdict. "Nothing wrong physically" we are told. "Go home and rest" is the advice.

Religion offers another cure. God created the world in six days, we are told, and He rested on the seventh day. The Sabbath for the Jews or the Sunday for the Christians, if properly observed, was designed long, long ago to provide man the opportunity to take a break (not a coffee break) in the tension of the week's drudgery and endeavors.

Through prayer, public and private; through study of the Bible and religious literature; through discussions by the family of subjects other than those which take one's time during the week, one can provide for himself the break in the tension of the week's drudgery and endeavors.

We must do something to take our minds off the worries and the anxieties of the week. We must re-create our spiritual being. Yes, church and synagogues, the Sabbath, the Bible are some of the "pills" which the Great Doctor ordered a long, long time ago. Why not try to dissociate ourselves from the tension of the work-a-day living? Many undiagnosed ailments would disappear.

We are told time and again — "God is our strength." Why not try leaning on Him. Let us not wait for death, trouble, sickness. Let us lean on Him in time of joy, health and serenity. Then life would not drain us so fast of strength and stability.

If only we would learn this truth before it is too late. Life is an ambush. We do not know when the attack may come. Let us learn to utilize the life giving strength that can come from our religious traditions and the sources of strength they provide for us and our loved ones.

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

The hour of truth for this once proud, solvent country is much nearer than millions of semi-conscious saps realize. For 30 years the Populists have succeeded in seducing a majority of our adult citizens into the insane belief that "something for nothing" and "everything for free" is possible if they vote right.

The tragedy is that millions have not been voting right. They have been voting left, and from year to year the dollar goes down and the national debt goes up. The country is now on the toboggan of national bankruptcy of the Federal Government and eventual repudiation of the national debt.

The New Deal has become a New Delirium, and the New Frontier is rapidly degenerating into a jungle of double-talk and buckpassing.

One thing only will stop this madness and restore the integrity of our currency and the responsibility of government at all levels. The turn to the right is gaining momentum and added voices every day, all over the country. Joe Doakes, presently a "monkey on a string" for politicians of both parties, is finally getting wised up to the bitter truth that he, himself, will be the first to be destroyed by this Populist madness.

Unless this crazy spending is stopped by 1964, every tangible equity will be destroyed, with the exception of unencumbered land. Social security will be a sham and most of the worthy "common good" projects that have been established out of the experience of nearly 200 years under the thesis of liberty under law, will go down the drain.

And what a tragedy it is to see that legitimate labor and all it has gained in more than half a century of honest struggle, now committing "goodwill suicide" because of radical mis-leadership. Examples are the dock strike, and the newspaper strikes in New York and Cleveland.

The real cause of this growing turn to the right is the destructive labor monopoly in huge industries.

The country has got to get back to God and WORK in 1964.

Adventure Treat Coming Feb. 2, 3

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By BOB COCHRAN

Veterans Memorial Hall is the location, Feb. 2 and 3 are the dates, and another Wally Taber outdoor adventure show is the attraction. The Franklin County Allied Conservation Clubs is again sponsoring an exciting and educational color film showing that will appeal to both adults and youngsters.

If this sounds like a publicity blurb, you are right. For after hearing Earl Schaeffer's enthusiastic plans for keeping local clubs organized again, you can not help but give this worthwhile group a boost. We did it last year this time, and we're glad to do it again. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. A 25-cent discount is allowed on tickets bought in advance at any leading sporting goods store.

The program this year will not feature Taber, but one of his experienced associates, Ebb Warren. Two films will be narrated by Warren — "Pacific Paradise" and "New Zealand Safari." On Saturday the program begins at 8 p.m., and the Sunday showing is a matinee starting at 2:30 p.m.

Ebb Warren resides in Michigan four months a year. The rest of the time he's traveling to remote places of the earth shooting film of hunting and fishing trips, and then showing it. He seems to have the sportsman's ideal job.

Let him tell you about the films to be seen here: "I can show you what must be the greatest fly fishing in the world from a New Zealand lake — 8 to 12 pounders are common. New Zealand's trout fishing is fabulous and much of its brood stock was developed from Michigan trout.

"Game is so thick the government employs hunters to keep the herds in check. There are no restrictions on foreign hunters and you can shoot what you wish. New Zealand has six species of deer, chamois, boar and elk. All of these are imported and there are no natural predators. Hunting is the only way to control them.

"Hawaii will surprise you. Even people who have been there find it hard to believe the island has pheasant hunting just as good as South Dakota, and boasts many other species of game. There's a lot more to Hawaii than just the beaches and hotels."

Asked what about the Taber program that appeals so much to sportsmen, Warren responded: "It gives people a chance to put themselves in our boots for an evening. They may never get a chance to actually go to New Zealand but they can escape there for an evening and see some spectacular fishing and scenery."

Warren doesn't believe that the world is so small that he will ever run out of places to film. His greatest ambition is to hunt Kashmir, a beautiful mountainous state claimed by both India and Pakistan.

Don't forget, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 2 and 3 — the Franklin County clubs will appreciate it. See you there.

'Corngrowers, Lend Me Your Ears!'

Who would have guessed that corn has an ear for music?

Apparently nobody — at least not until farmer George E. Smith of Normal, Ill., shucked traditional corn growing methods and piped music into his fields.

McPeek

Smith, obviously a man attuned to progress, mounted loudspeakers on poles in his cornfields and from mid-May until mid-October harvest he piped music from a record player in his barn to the tassel-dancing cornstalks.

Night and day he kept the music turning and the corn grew tall. The tempers of some of his less musically inclined neighbors also grew tall, but any concern Smith may have had to retain a good-neighbor policy went up the silo when one of his hybrids (perhaps excited by Beethoven's "Eroica," as a wag in the New Yorker said) produced three times as many bushels of corn per acre as did the musically uncultivated hybrids in neighboring fields.

Despite the fact that University of Illinois agriculture experts stated "there is no known genetic, biological or psychological reason to believe that sounds can affect plants," agronomist Smith hopes to continue his experiments.

Assuming music does stimulate corn growth, the problem would seem to be to determine which music is the most efficient. Inasmuch as there are many hybrids and varities of corn, it also would seem plausible that different forms of music would bring various reactions from each type of corn.

From this non-scientific corner, it appears only logical that popcorn may best be stimulated by recordings of the Boston Pops Orchestra; sweet corn by the mellifluous sighings of Doris Day or Dinah Shore; roasting corn by the torrid lamentations of Lena Horne or Abby Lane; and hog corn by the rock-and-rollings of Chubby Checkers or the jazzings of Fats Domino.

Perhaps if more farmers were to pitch in, the answers could be found sooner. An ideal testing ground would be around Groveport and Canal Winchester, one of the richest corn producing areas in Franklin County. For more than 100 years, Groveport and Canal Winchester farmers have vied to see who could grow more corn per acre.

Not only is it possible that those areas could gain new honors, it could become known as the hibridelity, eareophonic music center of Ohio.

And all in the name of science!

Burgess EUB Arranges Ten-Day Crusade Series

Rev. Harold Lyman

Rev. Lon Woodrum

A spiritual life crusade, with emphasis on the Christian family, will open Wednesday, Jan. 30 at Burgess Avenue EUB Church, and will close Sunday, Feb. 10.

Services will be conducted nightly except Saturday at 7:30.

Rev. Lon Woodrum, poet, locturer, evangelist and auther, as well as an ordained minister of the EUB Church, will be guest speaker.

Rev. Woodrum has traveled widely in the field of evangelism, and has preached for more than 20 denominations in the United States and Canada. He will speak each evening and both Sunday mornings.

Rev. Harold Lyman of Union City, Pa., will be the song evangelist. Rev. Lyman was tenor soloist with "Souls' Harbor Tabernacle" for a year and a half, and has since made numerous radio appearances and gospel telecasts.

Rev. Woodrum will be guest on the program of the Hilltop Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday, Feb. 7. He and Rev. Lyman will both appear on the program of the Columbus South Group, EUB ministers' luncheon, Tuesday, Feb. 5.

The public is invited to all services. Rev. Irvin H. Lane is pastor of the Burgess Avenue Church.

Foreign Pupil To Speak

Jonathan Jung Hui Lu, graduate student in the College of Geography, Ohio State University, will speak at a covered dish dinner of the Intermediate MYF of Westgate Methodist Church, Sunday, Feb. 3, 5:30 p.m.

Lu, a native of China, now calls Tausin his home, but has been studying in the United States for seven years.

He lives with his Japanese wife and baby at 2133 Peasley.

Gospel Sing Set Saturday

Columbus Gospel Singing Association will present a program at Franklin Heights High School auditorium, 1516 W. Mound-st, Friday, Feb. 9, 7:30 p.m.

Rebels Quartet from Tampa, and the Gospel Harmony Boys from Huntington, will be featured. Everyone is invited.

The group presented a program of gospel singing at Franklin Heights Jan. 19. The auditorium was filled with 1,600 people.

Christian Endeavor Week Plan Made At St. Paul's

Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church, 24 S. Warren-av, has planned a schedule of events during Christian Endeavor - Youth Week.

Sunday, Jan. 27 has been designated as denominational day, and Sunday, Feb. 3, Christian Endeavor Day.

A film on "Skid Row," will be shown Feb. 3, 7 p.m. with young people in charge of the meeting.

Entries in Christian Endeavor's citizenship awards program must be made by Feb. 4.

All groups with the majority of its members under 25 are eligible to compete for the Albert H. Diebold awards, totaling $1,050, plus two grants towards trips to the International Christian Convention at Washington, D.C., July 2 to 6.

Entries must be sent to the Citizenship Director, International Society of Christian Endeavor, 1221 E. Broad-st.

A feature of the celebration is the display of Christian Endeavor outdoor advertising posters in the United States and Canada.

First Christian Endeavor Society was organized by the late Dr. Francis E. Clark in the Williston Congregational Church, Portland, Me., Feb. 2, 1881.

From the original group with 58 members, the idea spread around the world to its present scope.

Headquarters of the international society is located at 1221 E. Broad-st. The world's Christian Endeavor Union brings together the International Society and approximately 50 national unions. There are now more than 3,000,000 Christian Endeavors throughout the world, in more than 80 denominations.

There is a reward at the top of . . .
THE CLIMB

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
Even when you know the proper way to climb with skis and the way up becomes easier, it still exerts you. However, the way is made even less of an effort when you think of the rewarding ride down.
The reward of an eternal life with God is easier still because it is a gift.
"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."
Attend church . . . learn more of this wonderful gift.

Wrestling Wrapup

Area matmen grappled their way through another week of wrestling activity but success proved difficult to attain for most squads.

East piled up the most impressive victory with a 26-9 decision over a tough Bexley team. It was the Tigers 10th win in 11 tries this season.

Highlight of the match was a battle of the unbeatens which saw East's Jack Hamler decision the Lions' Rick Mauger in the 165-pound division.

WORTHINGTON copped the last five divisional matches to remain unbeaten with a 24-9 verdict over Whitehall while Walnut Ridge and the Ohio Blind School battled to an 18-18 standoff.

Watterson compiled a total of 103 points Saturday to win the first-ever Catholic High Tourney at DeSales. Hartley's Hawks finished in the runner-up spot with 97 points while DeSales and Ready followed with 55 and 41 points, respectively.

The Eagles' Doug Chapin, a 145-pounder, was named as the tourney's most outstanding wrestler.

ELSEWHERE AROUND the area, Franklin Heights ran into trouble in Dayton, dropping a 24-17 decision to Kettering Friday. The hosts copped the final two matches to gain their winning margin.

Checking around the area for wrestling action this week, we find Whitehall hosting state power East Lake North Friday at 7:30 with another match set for Tuesday at 4 p.m. at University.

Grove City faces once-beaten Pleasant View Monday at 4:30 p.m. in the Panthers' den. F-H's Falcons have two meets scheduled — Saturday against unbeaten Worthington and Tuesday at Hilliard.

Central's scheduled meet last Friday at Groveport was canceled due to poor weather conditions.

Presently the keynoter as far as wrestling activity goes is Worthington's Invitational on Saturday. Participating with the host Cardinals will be Franklin Heights, the defending champ, Whitehall, Circleville, Arlington, Martins Ferry, Toledo Devilbiss and Sandusky.

Preliminary matches are set to get underway at 12:30 p.m. with finals beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Tigers Bop Central; West Corrals Scots

By Kenny Ash and Bob Lynch

A sell-out crowd,11,000-strong, packed the East High auditorium Friday afternoon to watch East's 75-54 victory over Central's Pirates in a battle between the City League's two unbeaten title contenders.

The tall Tigers got off to 9-0, 17-2 and 22-3 leads before the Pirates knew what happened. Tom Fullove and Dave Roberts started hitting to keep Central in the race, far behind but still running and intermission break found Central trailing 26-43.

ED WALLER, high point man for East, sank 19 points for the Tigers, but he was followed close by teammate Ken Fowlkes who had 18 markers. East dominated the boards by pulling in most of the rebounds, which largely contributed to its victory.

East, fourth-ranked in the state poll, now stands 6-0, the the Pirates dropping to second place with a 5-1 record. Tom Fullove was high point man for the Pirates with 22 points, and teammate Dave Roberts finished with 18.

WEST SHOT OUT to a wide 25-10 first quarter margin over host Walnut Ridge Friday night in fashioning their third City League victory, 81-58.

Leading all through the game, the Cowboys had little trouble defeating the Scots, who are winless in City League encounters.

JOHN McQUAID led the home squad's scoring with 14 points, followed by Ron Dawson, who had 13, and Jim Pyles, just one behind.

The Cowboys are now 3-3 in City League play. They host Whetstone Friday night, day night.

HOL FAMILY, running into frigid shooting from the field, dropped a 91-42 decision to New Lexington St. Aloysius Saturday night.

The Raiders, hitting only 24 per cent of their shots, fell behind 23-4 at the close of the first period and were never able to recover as St. Als coasted the rest of the way.

Bright spot for Family was Dave Lee's 15 point performance.

ELSEWHERE AROUND the area, Aquinas suffered a 43-39 setback to City League competitor Linden Friday night.

The Terriers battled back to cut the Panther's lead to one point at intermission but Linden managed to stay one step ahead of the Irish the rest of the way.

Pat Mantel led all scorers with 16 markers, with a 12-point assist from teammate Tom Woodward.

A CHECK OF weekend cage schedule finds Aquinas (7-5) at Central (8-2), Whetstone at West (7-5), Holy Family (2-11) at Ohio Deaf and Darby Township at Ready (7-6).

Three more games dot the Saturday evening docket with Aquinas entertaining Watterson (11-2), Central traveling to Portsmouth and DeSales visiting Ready.

Poor weather conditions forced the postponement of one game last weekend—Holy Family's scheduled clash with Coshocton Sacred Heart.

TURNING THE CORNER — Central's Tom Fullove (15) gets the running room he needs as teammate Gibson Hayes (23) picks East's Bob Calloway (21), enabling Fullove to drive in for a shot at the Pirate basket in the Friday game against the Tigers. Fullove collected 22 points against the East defenses but it wasn't enough to prevent Central's 75-54 loss to the state-ranked Tigers.

Cavaliers Pace Seniors In Glenwood Cage Loop

The Cavaliers defeated the Royals, 49 to 46, for their 4th straight victory last week.

Steve Maxwell led the winners with 18 points, and Roger Nelson popped in 11 for the losers.

IN OTHER games, the Commodores stopped the Zephyrs, 45-40. High scorers for the winners were Skip Sanford and Mike Scheel with 12 and 13 points, respectively. Bill Marshall hit 20 for the losers.

The Knights playing without their star forward, Bill Karn, were stopped easily by the Untouchables, 54-30, with the aid of 15 points by Bradley and the rebounding of Lawrence Stewart. Carl Ruzicka dropped in 15 points for the losers.

The Royals paced by Dan Downing's 19 points inflicted the first defeat upon the Trojans, 45-43. Dave Welsheimer hit 23 for the losers.

THE PRESTONS stopped the Eliminators, 40-28 and ran their record to 3 wins and 1 loss. They completely dominated the game and held the Eliminators scoreless the first period. Larry Smith and Denny Moyer hit 12 and 10 points respectively for the winners. Ray Lohn pushed in 16 for the losers.

In the Intermediate League, the Whizzers, coached by Charles Carney, share the loop lead with the Squires, both sporting a 2 and 0 record.

The Whizzers stopped the Playboys in league play, 47-31. Dan Dent and Pete Krull led the winners with 16 and 12 points, respectively. John Moreland's domination of the boards was a leading factor in the Whizzers win.

IN ANOTHER game the Squires, coached by Bill Pfillerman, squeezed by the Spartans, 32-31. The game was close all the way but Henry Buthehers' shot in the last few seconds saved the game for the Squires. Billy Pfillerman led the winners with eight points. Phil Caldwell hit 10 for the losers.

In other action, the Whizzers stopped the Aces, 51-28. John Moreland was high for the winners with 20 points. Jim Anderson had six for the Aces.

The Aces, paced by Jim Anderson's 10 points overcame the Imperials in the last period to win 42-36. Jim Beesler and Bill Gill each had 10 points for the losers.

Hillcrest Edges Glenwood To Maintain Y Cage Lead

In the opener Saturday in the Hilltop Y Jr. Basketball League, the Jr. Hi-Y "Council" had little trouble in beating the Jr. Hi-Y "Scrubs" 45-13, with the second team playing most of the game.

Leading the Council was Gene Gordon with nine points and Bob Colgrove with eight. Top man was the Scrubs was Ron Bland with six points.

HOGE MEMORIAL moved back into league contention with a 41-28 victory over West Park Methodist. The game was close and the lead changed hands many times, until the last few minutes when Hoge pulled away for the victory.

Leading Hoge were Jack Thomas with 13 points, Jim Anderson with 12, and Jan Snedecor with 10. Top men for West Park were Dick Brown and Terry Breckenridge with 13 and 11 points respectively.

BURGESS EUB returned to the win column with a 49-28 victory over the Hilltop Church of God. The first half was a well played defensive game with EUB leading at the half 13-6. Burgess took over the second half and increased their lead.

Top men for Burgess were Jack Husch with 27 points and Roger Nelson with 13. Bill Rexer led Hilltop Church of God scoring with 17.

THE FINAL game was a real battle between Hillcrest Baptist and Glenwood Methodist. Hillcrest finally emerged victorious, 38-34. Glenwood had a chance to tie the game but missed a shot with 11 seconds to go. Leading Hillcrest was Mike Beegre with 13 points. Top scorers for Glenwood were John Grashel and John Postle with 11 points each.

Saturday schedule: 12—Jr. Hi-Y "Council" vs Hilltop Church of God; 12:45—Hoge Memorial vs Jr. Hi-Y Scrubs; 1:30—West Park Methodist vs Glenwood Methodist and 2:15—Hillcrest Baptist vs Burgess EUB.

Cold? Try Hot Stove Diet Of Encyclopedia, Trades, Tax Deduction

Our desk has been swamped during the past few weeks with continued advertising requests, urging our investment in a particular set of sports encyclopedias.

"In writing any type of sports material you'll find these volumes as indispensable as your typewriter . . . facts that never seem to be at hand when you need them in a hurry . . . if you're simply tired of thumbing through unwieldy files" . . . etc., etc., etc.

THAT'S THE trouble with people nowadays," we heard ourselves telling a colleague. Nobody figures anything out for themselves anymore. They look it up in a book."

Given an unlimited amount of paper, pencils and time, it was the contention of an old fourth-grade teacher that ANYTHING could be solved. With the mercury outside frozen at -11 degrees, we figured we had the time.

Let's see now. Trades are often used as a barometer for figuring out the results of the approaching pennant races. There've been 81 players traded since the end of the '62 season.

WHY NOT USE that as a basis for being the first in the neighborhood for scientifically and statistically figuring out the final lineup of teams in the '63 pennant races?

(A) Total up all the batting averages of the players departing from a club and those of players arriving. (B) Subtract to see if the team gained or lost batting punch in the trade. (C) Total wins and losses of departing and arriving pitchers.

(D) Figure how many wins or losses a team had acquired by comparing pitching records. Eg. Pitcher X is acquired by team Y. Pitcher X won nine and lost six; pitcher A is traded away with a 6-20 mark. Therefore, team Y is better by 17 games since X won three more than he lost and A lost 14 more games than he won.

(E) FIGURING pitching and hitting as virtually equal in determining success afield, we arrived at these final AL and NL standings, strictly on the basis of trade improvements (or vice versa):

HOWEVER, TWO hours, two-thousand figures and 20 shortened pencils later, we realized we didn't have the statistics on; (1) how many players collected their BA and W-L records in the minors; (2) how many players were selected on the basis of their fielding or 'long ball' potential and (3) how many of the players would spend 99 per cent of the season riding the bench.

But where can we get information like that we wondered? "With over 2500 fact-filled pages at your fingertips you'll have no problems in comparing won-lost records . . . noting the past performances . . . etc.

Our application for the encyclopedias is currently in the hands of the postal department. Besides, who ever heard of the Yankees finishing in seventh place?

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of baseball (the thought of sunshine and 80 degree temperatures is so warming these day,) here's some good news for all you income tax evaders out there!

Entertaining business associates at a baseball game continues to qualify as a proper deduction so better stockpile those diamond ducats.

The provisions of Section 274 of the 1962 Revenue Act (applicable to the national pastime) reads, "Deductibility of cost of baseball tickets, used for purposes directly related to business, follows the same standards as used in the past."

BASEBALL TICKETS may be deducted as (1) entertainment expense, (2) business gifts, not exceeding $25 per individual per year and (3) recreational expenses for employes.

Helping to improve the strains of "take the office staff out to the ballgame" are two additional tips that 'treatment of the season tickets as a series of separate items is advantageous to the purchaser' and 'receipt as proof of payment is not required.'

What these two statements mean in simple language is that you would spread the wealth around and don't worry about crawling around under the grandstand for that ticket stub Miss Jones so thoughtlessly discarded.

You must admit that it warms the heart to see our nation's two most popular pastimes — baseball and income tax finagling—working so unselfishly together.

Magicians To Gather Feb. 1-2

Magicians from all over the United States are expected to be in Columbus Feb. 1 and 2 for a two-day convention. This year's meeting marks the 32nd consecutive year the city has hosted the event.

Don Tanner, a Hilltop resident for many years, is permanent director of the convention.

Called by many, "the busiest active magician in the midwest," Tanner is employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. He also edits two magic trade papers and is associated with the Grant Magic Studio, 2776 W. Broad-st.

The professional and semi-professional magicians who visit the city will participate in a series of lectures, shows and displays sponsored by the Columbus Magic Club.

The magicians will present a show Saturday night, Feb. 2, at the Masonic Temple, Fourth and Gay-sts. Tickets may be purchased at any Masonic Lodge.

Displays at the Neil House, during the convention, are also open to the public.

William Allen White was known as the "Sage of Emporia."

Camp Fire Notes

By NANCY TRUELOVE

The Gay Bluebirds attended the Captain Kangaroo show on Jan. 19. They were accompanied by Mrs. Martha Kreager, leader, Mrs. Jean Woodell and Mrs. Penny Drummond.

Members of this group are Stephanie D'Andrea, Melody Drummond, Carol Kunze, Jo-Anne Hamm, Susan Kreager, Cindy Watkins, Georgia West, Sue Ann McKinley and Nita Woodell.

On Jan. 19, the Wa Ka Wee Ki Camp Fire Girls took a hike to Westgate Park. Each girl had to pack her own lunch to pass a requirement for trail-seekers rank. The girls played games and went ice skating.

Those attending were Renee Bonaventure, Beverly Barklow, Michelle Fitzer, Linda Fabyan, Bonita Fee, Christy Hill, Jane Mayer, Susan Lowry, Mary Truelove, Sonya Tatman, Kitty Stilwell, Candy Hauser and guardians Mrs. Ruth Hill and Mrs. Connie Fee.

Joyce Lane reports the Matanda Junior High group is having a special record and slumber party in honor of Alice Ehman's birthday. Members of the Matanda group are Marcia Armstrong, Mary Ann Von Ins, Mary Beth Canfield, Diane Ruffner, Donna Ruffner, Alice Ehman, Annette Clark, Kriss Stauch, Connie Tingley, Joyce Lane and Debby Randall.

Special guests invited include Judy Spring, Connie Freshman, Pam Latham, Debbie Hostetter, Barbara Baker, Debbie Collins, Debby Bonnell, Betsy Lehman and Carol Reece. Guardians are Mrs. Donald Ehman and Mrs. Roy Von Ins.

The O Ki May and the Kani Wa Ta Chi Camp Fire groups recently visited the Westside Manor Rest Home. Later, Mrs. Don McVey held a party for them at her home.

O Ki May members are Barbara Biggers, Peggy Jaynes, Cindy Norris, Cathie Partridge, Cindy Smith, Brenda Tingley, Kathy Watts, Kathy Wire, Elinda Wood and Mrs. Phyllis Jaynes and Mrs. Dolores Smith, guardians.

They presented a play for the Kani Wa Ta Chi group at this party.

Members of the Kani Wa Ta Chi group are Joellen Brown, Dona Dominey, Debbie Gease, Michele Gibson, Donna McVay, Christy Morgan, Carol Price, Debbie Schaaf, Jenny Search and Marcelle Taggart.

They led the girls in a game of symbols and refreshments were served.

February 2, the Kani Wa Ta Chi girls and their mothers will have a ceremonial and party at the home of Mrs. Donald Gibson. The girls will receive honor beads and money bag charms.

Firemen Read Monthly Paper For 'Hottest News In Town'

By LEE STILLWELL

"The Hottest News In Town" is an appropriate motto for The Columbus Fire Department News published by Local 67, International Association of Firefighters.

Under the guidance of Lt. Frank Grashel, editor, and Lt. Charles Smith, assistant editor, the paper is celebrating its seventh anniversary.

The idea of starting a local paper for firefighters originated during World War II. Fire officials published a monthly paper to send to department personnel serving in the armed forces.

The paper was discontinued at the end of the war.

Firemen pressed for their own paper once again in January 1956 and Grashel volunteered to edit the publication for "only a year." The lieutenant has remained as editor since then.

Grashel takes pride in the paper's record of having never missed an edition.

Local 67 picks up the "tab" for paper expenses and postage is paid through donations from subscribers. Grashel said the postage fund has never been empty during the paper's existence.

The Fire News is distributed throughout Columbus on the first of the month to department personnel and mailed to over 400 persons. The publication is mailed to retired Columbus firemen, city and state officials, local news media and firefighters serving in the armed forces.

One paper is sent monthly to a fire chief in Cholon, South Viet-Nam.

The fire chief spent some time with the Columbus Fire Department under an exchange program.

The paper's nine members, working on their own time, strive to publish an informative paper.

"Our goals are to bring Columbus firefighters closer together," said Grashel.

Promotions, deaths, and news about local firemen are considered "the hottest news in town" by the staff.

"The importance of this information can be shown through the firemen's card system. Each fireman donates $3 to a fireman's widow following his death. The money is taken from the pay checks of retired men living out of Columbus. These individuals would not know why the money was taken unless the death was listed in our paper," said the editor.

Staff members of the paper, in addition to Grashel and Smith, are Ray Beougher, art and cartoons; John Meifi, sports; Bob Throckmorton, reporter.

Dan Bonso, Bill Bruce and Frank Reeves are responsible for printing the paper.

Marian Grashel, wife of the editor, has handled the typing and stencilling for the paper the past seven years.

Allied bombers attacked the German-occupied Italian city of Genoa Oct. 30, 1943.

LT. FRANK GRASHEL, editor of the Columbus Fire Department News, gives instructions to his "dog-watch editor," Rusty. A "dog-watch editor" handles the news when the editorial staff is gone for the day. Rusty, who has filled this slot on the News since the paper was started, has no trouble with the job since he lives in the newspaper office, located in Fire House 12, 2200 Sullivant-av. The News was started seven years ago by Grashel and Capt. Ralph Burton, now a fire department battalion chief.

Public To Be Polled On Swimming Pool

SENIOR CITIZENS RECREATION CENTER and Housing, located on the 600 block of Sullivant-av, just north of Sunshine Recreation Center, is a $2,257,000 project sponsored by both the Columbus Recreation Department and the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority. In the foreground is the recreation center which includes an auditorium, craft rooms and other facilities. In the background is the 11-story apartment building which will be called Sunshine Terrace. It contains 188 units for the housing of elderly persons. Occupancy date has been set for early March.

Location At Sunshine Center Considered For Pool In '64

Do the people of the lower West Side want the city to build a swimming pool at Sunshine Recreation Center?

That's the topic of a questionnaire to be sent to every West Side civic, service, PTA, church and business group during the next few days.

The following statement will be sent out under the signature of the Sunshine Center Advisory Council:

"The Capital Improvements Program for the Columbus Recreation Department shows $200,000 in public-voted money that is recommended for an outdoor swimming pool to be constructed at Sunshine Recreation Center in 1964.

"The public recreation survey and long-range plan by W. C. Batchelor reports the need for a swimming pool in this area of town, however, the Recreation Department has never "forced" a recreation facility on any community that does not want the facility. Therefore, we are asking you to make a survey of your organization as to its wishes."

The statement concludes with a request to reply promptly in writing to the advisory council's pool survey chairman, George Weber, of Weber's Snack Bar, 780 W. Town-st.

The proposed public pool at Sunshine Park would be built from the $3,178,000 Parks and Recreation Improvements Bond Issue Fund authorized by voters in 1960.

Recreation Superintendent Nick Barack said the pool probably would be located in the northeast corner of the 12-acre park, at 677 Sullivant-av.

Other facilities now in use at Sunshine include the center which has a gym, auditorium with stage, and nursery.

Big Changes Authorized At Burroughs, West High

A major remodeling program at West High School and improvements on a smaller scale at John Burroughs Elementary were approved by the Columbus School board, Monday.

Both projects will be completed in time for school next fall.

The science facilities at West will receive most attention, with renovation of rooms, reconditioning of lab tables, improvement of plumbing and new lighting in the physics, science and biology rooms leading the list.

Relighting of the instrumental music room, a new floor and improved acoustics, and expansion of the vocal music rooms are also planned.

Major improvements to the industrial arts department will include relocating the drafting room to the first floor, so the entire department would be located in one suite of rooms. A new electricity-electronics lab will also be added.

Planned improvements in the radio, drama, speech rooms will bring the facilities up to standards in new schools.

Minor improvements are planned in the home economics department and to locker and shower rooms. The old gym will receive improved lighting and will be redecorated.

A general remodeling of the main office will centralize all functions, guidance, counseling, attendance and testing.

A substantial amount of new equipment will also be purchased for the kitchen.

Improved lighting, floor refinishing, decoration, acoustical treatment and improved office area are included on the program for John Burroughs Elementary.

A special purpose room will also be provided through redecoration, and depressions in the playground will be smoothed out through filling, grading and better drainage.

Four Fatals Reported In West Area

Four traffic fatalities were reported by Columbus City Police in the West area during the month of January — an unusually high tally.

The first occurred at the railroad crossing near Sullivant and Georgesville-rd on Jan. 12.

Two passengers of a motor vehicle were killed at the corner of Eakin and Clarendon on Jan. 16.

A pedestrian was killed at the corner of W. Broad-st and Westgate on Jan. 29.

Police Chief George Scholer has announced increased enforcement of laws concerning changing lanes without safety and speed from 3 to 7 p.m. on Broad-st, from Mill to Jones.

He has asked cruisermen to crack down on motorists who change course without safety and speed from 7 to 10 a.m. on Broad, from Eldon to Roys.

Need Information For Directory

A directory is being planned listing all the area and neighborhood councils and civic associations in Columbus and Franklin County.

Persons knowing of any organization relating to the goals of community betterment, civic improvements, or other phases of community services are urged to call Mr. Robert Harrison, director, Information services, United Community Council, CA. 8-5696.

Senior Recreation Center To Open In Early March

The $2,257,000 housing and Senior Citizens Recreation Center, located on 600 block of Sullivant-av, just north of Supnshine Recreation Center, is scheduled to be occupied by the first or second week in March, according to Melvin Dodge of the Columbus Recreation Department.

There are two buildings on the 3.71 acre site.

The recreation center has 2,500 square feet of floor space. In it, the citizens of the center will have access to such facilities as, an auditorium with a stage and seating capacity for 450, a kitchen, dining room, lobby, three craft rooms, music room and a library.

In the basement is a card room, billiard room, woodcraft room and a dark room for camera buffs.

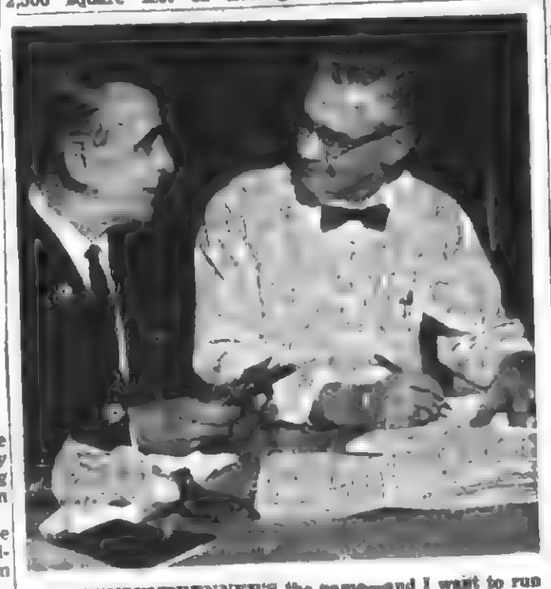
Outside are patios and two grills.

Also in the building is office space and a first aid room.

The other building, which is 11 stories-high, will be named Sunshine Terrace. It will be run by the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority. The building is rectangular in structure and will house residents of the center. There are 188 units, including 65 efficiency apartments, 81 one-bed units and 42 two-bed units.

According to Maurice Hoffman of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority, there are 506 applications already on file.

He stated that 62 is the minimum age for acceptance of a married couple while 65 is the minimum age of single inhabitants. These age limits are set by the Public Housing Authority and state law.



The screening process of applicants is based on a scoring system of housing needs based on present living conditions.

Hoffman noted that the center is required by law to house elderly persons who have been displaced by urban renewal and expressway projects. Of the 506 applications on file, these persons will get preference.

The building has 18 apartments to a floor with the exception of the first floor which has eight. The rest of the first floor will be used for management and maintenance.

According to recreation authorities, the Senior Citizen's Recreation Center now located at 280 E. Broad-st, will move to the new center, two or three days prior to its opening.

For transportation to the new center, interested persons can pick up circulars at the E. Broad-st address. Both the W. Mound-st. and the Sullivant-av buses come withing walking distance of the new center.

"SENSENBRENNER'S the name—and I want to run for mayor." This was the scene at 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Franklin County Court House Annex as M. E. "Jack" Sensenbrenner filed as candidate for mayor of Columbus. Thus began a renewal of the 1959 race for mayor between Sensenbrenner and W. Ralston Westlake, both Hilltoppers. Westlake filed Tuesday morning, a day before the deadline. Seen here accepting Sensenbrenner's petition of 5,000 signatures, and the filing fee, is Harold Holtzworth, 851 Montrose-av, clerk of the Board of Elections.

Dems Have Most At Post For May Race

Franklin County political candidates have made it a dead heat for the filing deadline as various races throughout the city take on partmutual appearances for the May primary.

Final filing time was 4 p.m. Wednesday. Heaviest filings have come from the Democratic camp while Republicans are relying heavily on incumbents.

In the face of mayor incumbent W. Ralston Westlake has received the Republican endorsement for another term. He will be opposed by former Columbus Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, a Democrat, who served two years of an unexpired term, as mayor, and was re-elected to a full term from 1956 to 1960.

A West Side businessman is the third candidate to enter the race for mayor. He's John E. Bricker, 33, assistant vice-president of John Getreu and Son, Inc. He will seek one of the two nominations in the non-partisan primary.

Besides the mayor race,

New Traffic Controls Will Open Left Turns At Broad And Central

Sixteen months ago the City Traffic Commission promised the Hilltop Business Association that a new traffic system would be set up at the W.

(See Picture on Page 3)

Broad-st - Central-av intersection.

A specially designed traffic control finally arrived three days ago and soon will be ready for use.

According to City Traffic Engineer Jack Gallagher the new control will permit timed left turns for eastbound Broad-st motorists wishing to turn north on Central-av. This will be a boon to truckers who usually make their turns at narrow Guilford or Hayden-avs.

The northbound left turns at Central are now banned and will remain this way only during rush hours, probably from 7 to 9 a.m. and 3:30 to 6 p.m., Gallagher said.

To notify motorists when the banned periods are in force, two illuminated signs, that can be electrically blanked out, will be erected at approaches to the intersection.

"The process sounds simple," Gallagher said, "but, we had to design the system and place it on open bidding. It was fairly expensive."

Committee Plans Special Meeting On Village Codes

Valleyview's Council appointed a committee to meet with a representative of the Anderson Co. of Cincinnati at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to discuss the proposed revision of village codes at a Monday meeting, said Mayor Harry Holroyd.

E. A. Thiel, D. W. Umberger, P. T. Read and solicitor Gale King were appointed by council to meet with the representative.

The Anderson Co. specializes in the revision and writing of new village codes, added Mayor Holroyd.

Results of the meeting will be presented to the council at their meeting slated for Monday, Mar. 4.

Gladden Community House To Review Year's Projects

Gladden Community House, 183 Hawkes-av, announces its open house annual meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 11, at 8 p.m.

Installation of the officers of the board, executive committee members and new board members will be conducted by Justice John M. Matthias.

New staff and board members will be introduced; recognition awards will be presented to volunteer staff members; the annual report will be read by Executive Director Al Wilder; and the group will be addressed by the board president.

Speaker for the evening will be Thomas Applegate.

All interested persons are invited. The meeting is scheduled to end at 9:30 p.m.

GIRLS SCOUTING FOR COOKIE EATERS

Grotto Plans More Dances

Monarch Ralph C. Ruoff, 1589 Garling-av, and master of ceremonies John C. Woodworth, 853 Josephine-av, announce the monthly dances sponsored by Achbar Grotto, MOVPER (commonly known as the playground of Blue Lodge Masonry) will resume Feb. 9.

This round and square dance, at Haubrich National Guard Armory, 4094 Sullivant-av, features dancing of all kinds to the music of the Snow Brothers Combo from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

The Feb. 9 dance is a "Sweetheart Dance" to celebrate Valentine's Day with special prizes for some of the "swethearts" present.

These dances are open to the public.

Refreshments will be available and donations of $1.25 each will be accepted at the door to help defray the cost.

The Prophets of Achbar Grotto responsible for the dances: Chairman George W. DeLong, 626 Roth-av, Duane M. Baker, 700 Raleigh-dr; Louis M. Enyart, 300 Danhurst-av and Mr. Woodworth, are assisted by Prophets from all sections of Franklin County.

Area Bands To Play At Festival

West, Grove City and West Jefferson high schools are among the 18 participating schools in the fourth annual Stage Band Festival Feb. 9 at Whitehall-Yearling High School.

The festival, sponsored by Coyle Music Centers, will include concerts by each of the participating bands, a concert by a selected all-star student band, and a concert by a teacher band made up of area band directors and featuring Buddy Baker of Indiana University.

Baker, who is an instructor in the school of music at Indiana, is well known in this field having been a member of the Stan Kenton band and a member of the faculty of the National Stage Band Camps for three years.

There is no admission charge and all interested students, teachers and parents are invited to attend the event which starts at 9 a.m.

State School Lists Uses Of Donations

Columbus State School, 1601 W. Broad-st, has a number of projects which organizations or individuals might be interested in financing.

Funds can be used for dentures, glasses, corrective shoes and orthopedic devices or research.

Checks may be made out to the Columbus State School Special Gift Fund with the specific use noted on the lower edge of the check.

Wheel chairs are also needed at the school. Chairs meeting the school's needs cost $80 and organizations wishing to assist the school in making wheel chair purchases are asked to call the school for further information.

Carnegie Picks Harrison For Area Sponsor

Ken Harrison, 3200 Medina-av, has been appointed associate sponsor of Dale Carnegie courses in Central Ohio.

Harrison has been associated with Carnegie courses since 1957 as an instructor. He is a member of the staff leadership and sales training associates, Cleveland.

Tuesday night classes are scheduled to begin Feb. 26 in the Neil House. Wednesday night classes will get under way early in March.

Hocus Pocus, Fish Bones Choked Us As Magicians Took Over Columbus

By JOHN AUBLE JR.

Keeping with the time honored tradition of the world of magic, this story was not written. It was produced, conjured prestidigitated.

The bunny-pullers were in town last week, carrying on their 32nd annual Magi-Fest in the Neil House, and nothing was sacred with the slight-of-hand artists.

Even the chamber maids, busy going from room to room, were halted on occasion—to have eggs or silk handkerchiefs pulled from their ears.

Even this story came close to being written from memory since a local magician, Gus Neussle, snatched this reporter's notes, tore them into little pieces and then produced them intact once agan.

Neussle, 71, is one of the old-time convention highlights. He's an Ohio State physics professor, retired, and now devotes most of his time entertaining with hocus pocus. He was the 1962 Columbus Magic Award winner for the best magical effect.

This was the story with most of those attending. Magic, it seems, started out as a part-time hobby and later developed into a full-time venture.

What do magicians do when surrounded by other magicians? Perhaps "Satan," a Philadelphia resident, summed it up best. He explained "they come to see what the other fellows have and then try to steal it."

Columbus resident Donald Tanner was chairman of this year's convention and produced a talent-filled "Headliner Show" at the Masonic Temple Auditorium Saturday night.

One of the high spots of the convention was the magical mastery of Everett Duncan, 135 E. Main-st, Hilliard. Duncan, former Youngstowner, has become one of the better-known wand wavers in the Columbus area and continued to delight the crowd this year.

But magic is no longer a male profession. The gals are invading the industry fast as Pittsburgh's Sue Schmitt will testify. She's a 17-year old who goes under the stage name of "Su-Jay—Maid of Magic" and she certainly was.

She's the daughter of the immediate past international president and has a 12-year-old brother, Dave, who's taking the magic trail, too.

Candy and Alexis Krumm are two other examples. Alexis, 18, a student at Ohio Wesleyan, helps her Dad, Robert, while Candy (12) is working into the act with the finesse of a seasoned veteran. The Krumms are Virginia residents.

Let's not overlook the fact that feminine Dell-O-Dell, now deceased, ranked among the greatst magicians in the world, the gals pointed out.

The female foolers admitted they were seeking new material for their acts, as are the men. Acually, they commented practically all the "new" tricks are just improvements of old-time classics.

The linking rings, card tricks and producing devices remain the same even though these talented people develop tricks that take on a new appearance.

Appearing to be the "newest of the new" was a man named Karrell Fox, a Detroit resident, who performed with three others Saturday afternoon at what's called "close-up magic."

The other magicians sit around a table while Fox performs right under their noses. The experts watched open-mouthed.

Next year's convention, according to Tanner, has been scheduled for Jan. 31 and Feb. 1. That is, of course, unless someone found a way last week to make the Neil House disappear.

Central Y Swimmers Journey To Tiffin

The Central Y varsity boys swimming teams will hit the road for Tiffin Saturday for a triple dual meet with the Tiffin YMCA clubs.

The Central Y Juniors (14 and under) are undefeated in four meets this season while the Preps (12 and under) and Midgets (10 and under) each stand at 2-2.

People have too much to live on and not enough to live for. It isn't that God is rejected, but rather that there is no room for Him in our life. This has come about because of the increasing concern with material things . . . Hazen G. Werner, resident bishop of the Methodist Church of Ohio.

TV Discussion For Corn Growers Set

A thirty-minute television discussion of a topic of major interest to every corn farmer - farm management - will be presented on station WBS-TV February 9 at 1:30 p.m.

The special program is the second in a series of farm seminars designed to acquaint corn growers with the latest efficient practices being followed by successful growers, and recommended by agricultural authorities.

The main discussion will center on how proper farm management is the key to increased income.

The harvested crop is only one of the farmer's resources. Along with seed, he must also consider his soil, labor, equipment and capital investment; and all of these must be coordinated throughout the year so that a profitable operation is the result.

Showing how this can be most efficiently achieved will be the aim of the panel program.

The participants will take management out of its stereotyped picture as "just bookkeeping" and translate it into a vital and essential procedure.

Lincoln Books Available

Books about Abraham Lincoln, whose 150th birthday is Feb. 12, are available at the Hilltop Library, according to Mary Elizabeth Keyes, of the library staff.

Post-author Carl Sandburg has made a life-time study of the Civil War president.

"Abraham Lincoln: The Prairie Years" is a condensation of the two volumes of "The Prairie Years" and the four volumes of "The War Years."

Another Lincoln scholar, James Randall, has written "Mr. Lincoln," which was published in 1957 and is an abridgement of the author's comprehensive four-volume "Lincoln, the President."

A one-volume biography is "Abraham Lincoln," by Benjamin Thomas, based on 35 years of research. It covers the entire span of Lincoln's life.

"The Lincoln Nobody Knows," by Richard Current, published recently, tries to separate fact from myth about Lincoln and brings new information on many questions.

Pictorial biographies are also available, such as "Lincoln: A Picture of His Life."

Other books which give a description of of the times in Lincoln's day are, Stanley Kimmel's "Mr. Lincoln's Washington," and "Washington in Lincoln's Time," by Noah Brooks.

Library Offers Key To Success

People who read more achieve more, according to recent studies. Self-help books are available at the Hilltop Branch Library to offer practical help on a wide range of subjects and problems, according to Mary Elizabeth Keyes, librarian.

"The library has a well-stocked section on success, self-improvement, human relations, personality development, happiness, problem solving, creative thinking, and other self-help topics," Miss Keyes said.

Techniques for selling yourself and your ideas, and making people like you are outlined in such recent books as "The Art and Skill of Getting Along With People," "The Road to Successful Living" and "How to Use Tact and Skill in Handling People."

Volumes cover such topics as how to acquire poise, develop self-assurance, make good connections, improve your writing and conversation, and achieve successful relationships with other people.

Books on success, requested frequently, are also plentiful. Some of the most popular titles are "You Are Better Than You Think," "How I Raised Myself from Failure to Success," "Success Through a Positive Mental Attitude," "How to Win Success Before 40," "How to Live and Work Successfully in Business" and "Successful Leadership in Business."

W. MOUND ICE SLICK NETS UNSUSPECTING MOTORISTS

ALL THE THRILLS of the finish of a roller coaster ride were provided for motorists in the westernmost blocks of W. Mound-st for about 12 hours Saturday night and Sunday. Things went well until the the cars, heading west, entered an ice slick caused by the runoff from a clogged storm sewer at Salisbury-rd. These pictures were taken Sunday morning by Harley Groom as cars by the dozens continued to skid into the ditch. Luckily there were no collisions. Groom said he called the police and street maintenance departments Saturday night but nothing was done until he called the mayor after noon Sunday. A man answering for the street department Sunday morning said: "Sorry . . . don't think we can get anybody out. The Finance Dep't. is raising such a rumpus about overtime." Tuesday again six accidents occurred and Wednesday morning a policeman in his private car was struck twice.

DR. HULL

'We've Depersonalized, Dehumanized Everyone'

The need for just being human was stressed by Dr. James Hull, noted orthodonist, when he addressed the Hilltop Kiwanis Club last Thursday.

Highlights of Dr. Hull's address follow:

"The most abused and distorted word in the King's English is psychology. The movies, television, radio and the slick magazines have recently become drugstore psychologists to the extent that we have been given the greatest collection of intellectual garbage ever inflicted on the American public.

"We are confronted with many weasel words, such as 'human relations.' The library shelves are bulging with books on human relations. They present a panacea for human ills, but human relations is not a method, a program, or a technique. Why worry about relations until we learn what it means to be human?

"Whether we like it or not, we are going to have to work and live with both sinners and saints.

"Every time we criticize others for what they think, feel, and say and do, we become our own agents of destruction.

"We make most of our own trouble by what we say and do. The moralists and the slick magazines advise us to count to 10 when we become upset. I suggest that the next time you have an emotional barrage that you count to a thousand and wait 30 days.

"The two greatest words in the King's English are 'know thyself.'

"If you do not think that moral, ethical and spiritual values are important to this industrial society, let me remind you that 19 previous civilizations went by the board because men forgot what it meant to be human.

"In this society we have depersonalized and dehumanized everyone, including ourselves. Something happens to the human spirit when we become obsessed with possessions."

Former West Sider Killed In Jet Crash

Capt. Joseph William Smith, 46, formerly of 117 Dakota-av, was pilot of the propjet airliner which crashed at Kansas City Municipal Airport.

He was a 1935 graduate of Central High School and a former flight instructor at Port Columbus.

From 1936 to 1942 Smith was a student, then instructor, with Miller Flying Service.

Lee Miller, former owner of the school, now in charge of transport aircraft for North American Aviation, said Smith had no relatives living here.

Smith is survived by his wife and two sons in Dallas, Tex.

Southview Park Expansion Work Set For Summer

Work is slated this summer for 22 additional baseball and softball fields and two football fields at Southview Park, 300-400 Greenlawn-av, according to Nick Barack of the City Recreation Division. The announcement was made Feb. 2

The project will take two years to complete, Barack added.

The expansion is made possible by the leveling of the last of buildings used for veterans housing there, Barack said.

The Division of Parks and Forestry plans to develop an area immediately west of the Scioto River for recreation, including picnicking.

Barack said the additional area provides space for a fieldhouse which may be constructed later.

Southview Park will eventually house 20 softball and eight baseball fields and five football fields, the recreation director said.

NEW CONTROLS TO SIMPLIFY TURNS HERE

TRAFFIC KINKS at this busy intersection, Central-av and W. Broad-st, soon may be eased by new signals. The "no left turn" sign (in circle) will come down and a new control will permit timed left hand turns for vehicles going east on Broad. Truckers, in particular, now find the going rough when they try to go from the Hilltop to Grandview. Because they are not permitted to turn left at Central, they must thread through narrow streets nearby. (Ben story on page one).

160 YEARS AGO . . .

Labor-Saving Appliances Popular With Homemakers

Manufacturers were attempting to make housekeeping chores — particularly in the kitchen — less arduous for mother even in the early 19th century.

The Ohio State Museum here has opened a kitchenware exhibit from collections of the Ohio Historical Society to show the extent of the labor-saving attempts.

The 'wares, modern appliances of their era, were designed to take the drudgery out of corn shelling, ironing clothes, pitting cherries, stuffing sausages, and the three-time daily cooking chores.

Today, many of the items turned out in that "iron era" linger on in the home, forming decorator pieces, the coffee grinders turned into lamps or flower holders, and the trivets gracing walls.

The modern-day housewife has a variety of pressing irons, and there was no shortage of varieties in 1825 either.

The hand pressing irons of that day vary from one that is self-contained in that it was heated by alcohol carried in a small reservoir, and those heated on the cook stove. The irons were changed as they cooled.

Fluting irons, odd creations much like scrub boards, were used to crimp milady's collars and cuffs. Others look much like old style clothes' wringers.

All items were manufactured to be utilized either on wood, coal or gas-fired stoves, and include waffle irons, kettles, ladles and other wrought iron wares.

Also in the appliance category are apple parers and corers, cornshellers, an early style pencil sharpener, and cherry stoners.

The exhibit is on the first floor of the Ohio State Museum, High-st at 15th-av. Museum hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, and 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays and holidays. Admission is free.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Food Marketing Costs Remaining Stable

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, bananas, small grapefruit, canned apple sauce.

Vegetables — Cabbage, potatoes, yams, carrots, onions, frozen lima beans.

For the first time in more than 10 years, food shoppers can't complain about "rising marketing costs." The cost of getting food from the farmer to you did not increase during 1962, according to U.S. Department of Agricultural economists.

Mrs. Franks

The retail cost and the farm value of foods in a typical market basket did, however, rise slightly, the economists report.

Last year the estimated retail cost of the market basket foods was $1,064 compared with $1,060 in 1961. The farm value of these foods increased from $404 to $408. But note, that the farm-retail spread (the much-complained-about marketing costs) stood at $656 for the past two years.

The market basket — used by U.S.D.A.'s Economic Research Service to compare food costs — contain the average annual quantities of farm food products purchased per wage-earner or clerical working family in 1952.

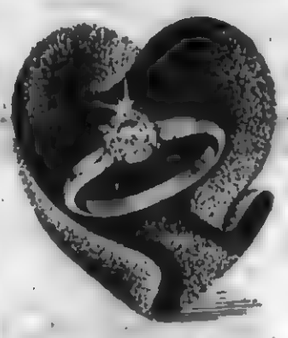
Canned And Frozen Vegetables Can Lower Your Food Bill

Families have always used more processed vegetables during January, February and March than other months of the year. This winter, in view of the current prices and quality of some fresh vegetables you may want to consider even greater usage of frozen vegetables.

Supplies of canned vegetables into mid-1963 are expected to be substantially larger than a year ago and for the recent 10-year average. In many areas during 1961-62, vegetable growers had bumper crops. Some items which you'll likely see featured due to large supplies include: corn, snap beans and tomato products.

Higher prices on citrus juices have resulted in accelerated shipping of tomato juice. Catsup, chili sauce and tomato paste are also in heavy supply. You're wise to carefully compare the costs of the 12-ounce vs. the 14-ounce bottles of catsup before buying in quantity — there's a much larger pack of the 12-ounce size, making it the size likely to be a bargain.

Total supplies of frozen vegetables are expected to be slightly smaller this year than last, but many major items are still in heavy supply. Corn, peas, lima beans and French fries are likely to be especially good buys from the frozen food chest. You might watch frozen asparagus too; while stocks are down from last year, new packaging will begin in about three months.



Shop the food ads before you shop the store.

'Belle' Style' To Be New Spring Rage

These two coiffures show two different and distinctive lines in the romantic "Belle" hair fashions designed for spring and summer.

The "Easy Elegance" coiffure is designed in the "down" line, especially for the free and easy look in many spring couture collections, as well as for the long and fluid lines for evening.

It has the understated quality of simple elegance with lovelocks curved at the temples, and a graceful swing of waves hugging the head, framing the face.

A regal sweep of rising wave curls at the crown and overthrown waves and lovelocks at the sides distinguish the "Magic Belle" coiffure for the "up" line of new hair fashions to give harmony with rising waist lines and Empire influences in clothing.

Both require professional hair shaping and permanent waving to give the hair its ease of care and soft lustre, as well as its convertibility from the "down" line into an "up" line.

The new coiffures will be featured during National Beauty Salon Week, Feb. 10-16.

Special Beauty Tribute Set For Feb. 10-16

A special salute to the beauty of women in the United States will be made Feb. 10 through 16 during National Beauty Salon Week.

The week has been so-named in order that richly deserved honors can be given well-groomed American women who have been called, "the most precious and inspiring assets in the nation."

As one female beauty expert described NBSW, "This is the time for all of us to recognize the great strides made by the beauty profession which brings the finest beauty care to American women."

The slogan for this year's program is, "There's Magic For You in a New Hairdo."

Cosmetologists from coast to coast will conduct special programs to highlight the "beauty magic" their special services bring to community and individual welfare throughout the year.

As part of the program, in more than 1,300 cities, experts will provide beauty care to persons confined to hospitals. This service has been lauded by members of the medical profession for the beneficial results it has had on the morale of patients.

Other public services to be rendered by cosmetologists are personal appearances at fashion shows, hair style displays, and lectures and demonstrations before women's groups.

Hair Dressers Guild To Meet Feb. 9-11

More than 1900 members of the Hairdressers Guild of Ohio will convene at the Neil House for the 35th annual state convention Feb. 9, 10 and 11. The three-day event will feature guest artists, Justin Morgan of New York, Hollywood and Daytona Beach, the Sandusky stylist who created Miss America's "crown coiffure."

Convention highlight will be the master hairstylists contest to be held the last day. The event will be open to the public for a small admission charge.

The guild will launch a new, asymetrical swirl coiffure, "Pirouette," which will be interpreted by guest and platform artists.

Residents actively participating in the convention include Ada Chamblin, 924 Sullivant-av, convention director; Louis Failla, 2831 E. Main - st, sergeant - at - arms; Nancy Hasson, 3007 Winchester-pk, platform artists, Adeline Gianvito, 899 Rodgers-av, and Helen Kelley, 452 Wicklow-rd, dance co-chairmen; and Pauline Penniston, 211 Brinker-av, convention lessons.

Everyone is welcome.

'Well Done' Is Rule For Cooking Pork

Your food market is apt to "special" pork at this time of year. These specials can perk up family meals and your food budget.

When you serve pork, be sure that it is as safe as it is tasty and nutritious, says Mrs. Pauline Hall, extension nutritionist, Ohio State University. That means you must always cook pork thoroughly.

Eating raw or partially cooked pork may result in a serious disease — trichinosis, caused by tiny worms or parasites called trichinae. Even clean, healthy swine can harbor the worm at any time of the year.

Few people die of trichinosis but it is a serious, unpleasant disease. The symptoms vary so greatly that diagnosis is difficult.

The disease is easy to prevent. All that's necessary is to be certain that all pork is cooked thoroughly before eating.

To test for doneness when broiling or frying chops or other thin cuts, cut into the meat near the bone. Pinkness indicates that the pork has not been cooked enough for safety.

Use a meat thermometer for roasts. Pork must be cooked to 137 degrees fahrenheit to kill trichinae. But internal roasting temperature recommended for fresh pork is 185 degrees and 165 to 170 degrees for cured pork cuts.

Floridians' Hearts Were Back Home On Hilltop

Auld acquaintance is far from forgotten by Hilltoppers transplanted to the sunny South.

Thirty-nine members of Camp Chase Post American Legion and its auxiliary gathered Jan. 26 at Punta Gorda, for the first of what will be annual parties. Some drove more than 100 miles for the nostalgic visit with old friends.

The name "Camp Chase Floridians" was chosen, and Esther Weidner was elected secretary. Ernest Brown will be chairman of the affair next year.

Present were, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Fiscus, Mr. and Mrs. William Kinnen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Swain, all of Fort Myers; Mr. and Mrs. Norman May, Hialeah.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Steward, Port Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Chambers, Dover; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Millikin, Lakeland; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long, Largo; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laezenbee, Pinellas Park; Mrs. Kathleen Lortz, Indian Rocks Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weidner, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hooven and Mr. and Mrs. Harold McClure, all of Bradenton.

Henry Jones, spending the winter in Florida; Miss Coleen Chevurent and Miss Mary Halsema, visiting the McClures, and Mrs. Rhea Sells from San Jose, Calif., visiting her sister, Harriet Brown.

"CAMP CHASE FLORIDIANS," 39 strong, gathered at Punta Gorda, Fla., last week for their first annual party. Members of Camp Chase Post and Auxiliary attending the affair included, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Swain, Roger Myers, Vernon Fiscus, Mr. and Mrs. Weidner, Mr. and Mrs. Millikin, Mr. and Mrs. May, Henry Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Leazenbee, Andrew Smyth and Alma Long.

VERSE VEXES VAGABOND LOVER

HAIG MENENDIAN, 1782 E. Main-st, always thought writing flowery poetry was a cinch until he decided to create his own Valentine. Haig's fiance, Loretta Gasparian, lives in Asbury Park, N.J., and the courtship has been a long-distance affair. He is shown here trying to find the words for his home-made Valentine. Haig and Loretta plan a spring wedding unless the lovely lass changes her mind after receiving the make-shift verse.

My Valentine

By Jeanine Conrad
35 Clarendon-av

Ten years ago, on Feb. 14th,
I received a Valentine.
That I shall always love forever,
And it will always be mine.

The colors on the face of it,
Were carefully put together.
And it never, never fades,
No matter what the weather.
The love I've found in the Valentine,
Can never be replaced.
And the oh, so graceful lines
It has, could never be replaced.

For every year it alters,
And takes a change in form.
And as I hold it close to me,
It feels so nice and warm.

It gives me so much happiness,
As I look at it each day.
For I love my Valentine,
In every single way.

If I never get another,
This Valentine will always give me joy.
For ten years ago today,
My Valentine was a darling baby boy.
—Dedicated to my son, Peter.

My Valentine

By Alice Vargo
2345 W. Broad-st

"Will you be my Valentine?"
This is a saying, old, but true.
It sends greetings from me to you.
It says something old and new.

It means so very much to me when
I say it every day.
It shows how much I love you
In each and every way.

And as the years progress,
Our love will never sway.
I hope you feel this way
On each and every Valentine's Day.

Cupids & Hearts

By Susann Castorina, 9
146 Elden-av

St. Valentine's Day is a time
For mushy stuff and love.
For cupids and hearts and cards and things
When everyone's in love.

Everyone loves everyone,
Everyone's cheerful and gay.
All hearts are carefree and happy
Upon this joyful day.

Candy hearts are passed around
With words like "I love you."
Everyone's a sweetheart,
And no one is ever blue.

St. Valentine's Day is a time
For mushy stuff and love,
For cupid and hearts and cards and things
When everyone's in love.

I Remember

By Mrs. Rick Thompson
167 N. Central-av

I remember St. Valentine, oh so well,
Many more years than I care to tell.
But as my thoughts return to yesteryear,
There are many occasions that I hold dear.
Candy hearts read to me, one by one,
For others, it seemed to be oodles of fun.
Then grade school came next,
And the big red box by the teacher's desk.
Oh, it was elated glee,
When the passer brought mine to me—
After grade school, I must confess,
Mr. Valentine showed up much less.
A Secret Valentine stuck in my door,
Was bound to be from one I'd adore.
Maybe I'd get a few in the mail,
A certain one never would fail.
Then St. Valentine, with his dart,
Pierced my lonely, waiting heart.
Then what would appear,
But a box of candy year after year.
Oh yes, he's lived very, very long,
And left in my heart, a beautiful song.

You

By Winsom Arues
236 Midland-av

I think of you, my Valentine,
When the sun comes gently o'er the hill.
To kiss the sky with color [illegible]
Then paints a picture, a poet's dream.

I think of you, my Valentine,
When a nightingale sings a lovely air.
That fills my heart with highest mirth,
My sorrows vanish away from earth.

I think of you, my Valentine,
When the moonlight meets the night.
When dance the stars across the sky,
And graceful swallows begin to sigh.

Darling

By Beatrice Smith
[illegible]

My Dearest, darling Valentine,
My heart I send to thee.
Please treat it always tenderly,
And never give it back to me.

Even tho you're so far away,
My love for you will shine.
And guide you safely back to me,
My dearest, darling Valentine.

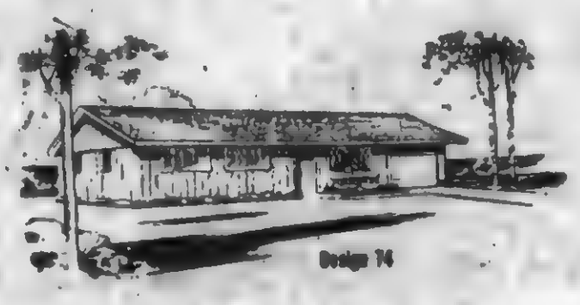
Infinite

By Delores M. Black
687 Glenmoor-dr

You think I have no Valentine;
Look again, my dear.
I have a love that's most divine.
A love that's most sincere.

My lover made this world so fair,
Then shaped me from the dust.
In return He asked for prayer,
My soul to Him entrust.

His love is such He gave his life,
His mother's woeful loss.
From that great journey of baleful strife,
Up Calvary to the Cross.



What greater love can man afford,
He's yours as well as mine.
May prayer be my only sword,
Yes, God's my Valentine.

West Senior Wins Honors In Junior Miss Pageant

Sunya Graham

West High senior, Sunya Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Graham, 3252 Stephen-dr, S., was second runner-up in the America's Junior Miss pageant held Feb. 2 at Whetstone Recreation Center.

Contestants were scored on scholastic achievement, mental alertness, creative and performing arts, poise, appearance and youth fitness.

Sunya's talent presentation was original choreography of "I Feel Pretty," from "West Side Story." Ron Morgan, West High student, made her set.

She has a 3.8 scholastic average, is a member of Weskets, National Honor Society, Players Club and Village Little Theater, and is active with Westgate Methodist Church youth groups.

Bean Dinner Jubilee OK'd By Council

Recent request of the City Parks Commission to establish a policy against permitting carnival - type affairs in Columbus parks, will not affect the two West Columbus festivals this year.

City Council had already approved plans for the Hilltop Bean Dinner, to be held at Westgate Park this summer, and Monday night granted the use of Sunshine Recreation Center for the West Side Jubilee, slated in early June.

The Parks Commission had objected to use of parks for this purpose, claiming that heavy equipment and machinery damaged the grounds.

Paul Bailey Back In States

Marine Private First Class Paul W. Bailey, son of Mrs. Cynthia Gohring of 2227 W. Broad-st returned to Southern California in December with other members of the Fifth Marine Expeditionary Brigade after serving with the United States quarantine forces in the Caribbean.

The brigade members were among 18,000 Marines and Navymen embarked in more than 20 amphibious ships on the West Coast for the quarantine.

Passing through the Panama Canal, the ships went on station and remained in the Caribbean until Dec. 2. They arrived in California ports on Dec. 16.

'Teacher Coloring Book' Tribute Penned By Pupil At Central High School

An original tribute, "Teachers' Coloring Book," was written by Martha Long honoring Central High teachers for teachers' recognition day, Jan. 31.

Central's Future Teachers of America chapter designated the day, and FTA members presented all the teachers with carnations during home room period.

Teachers' Coloring Book

Let me color a picture of our teachers for you.

Let's color their hands. They are working hands that do plenty of writing, from writing on the blackboard and on our papers to marking our grade cards. They are the hands that help mold our characters and our future lives. They are alert and ready to help in time of need. Color them busy.

Now let's color our teachers' eyes. They are the eyes that watch us as we listen and learn. They are bright and eager and anxious that we might succeed. They follow us through our years in high school and silently encourage us.

Color them warm and happy and hopeful.

The lips — we must not forget the lips. They do an enormous amount of work. They patiently repeat our lessons to us. Over and over they repeat so that we may learn and remember. They tell us of our assignments and how to do them. Sometimes they speak to each of us personally so that we may make our necessary improvements.

They tell us the importance of education and how we, as students, must attain knowledge. From them we learn how to cope with the problems of every day, adult living.

Color them bright and warm and smiling. Most of all color them beaming when we prove ourselves worthy on graduation day.

Behind every good student is a good teacher. Central is blessed with a most outstanding faculty. FTA salutes them on this teachers' recognition day.

Forty classrooms and office posts were staffed by club members the third period.

Special posts were held by Sharon Young, principal's office; Rita Johnson and Sharon Hall, vice-principals' office; Gail Steele and Gloria Miller, counseling center; Mary Vannatta and Jean Demorest, attendance office, and Marybelle McGee, library.

The day closed with a tea and program honoring teachers. Taking part in the program, "School Days," were Tom Webb, Karen Mills, Robert Brown, Ted McGlaughlin, Martha Long, Theil Geddes and Rose Marie Vaughn.

Pouring at the tea tables were former FTA advisors, Miss Phyllis Hull, Miss Elizabeth Moore, Miss Elizabeth Sprague and present advisors and officers, Mrs. Janet Metea, Mrs. Martha Scott, Diana Boyd and Kathryn Robinson.

Officers of the FTA Club are: Tom Webb, president; Dan Shaw, vice-president; Effie Sakellariou, secretary; Diana Boyd, corresponding secretary; Nancy Armstrong, treasurer; Cheryl McIntire, librarian, and Patricia Crum, historian.

School To Get Flasher System

City Traffic Engineer John L. Gallagher has announced that a flasher system will be installed at Valley View, 2989 Valleyview-dr, by mid-March.

He said the purpose of the unit is to show the motorists when the 20-mile-per-hour speed limit is in effect.

'. . . NOW, TAKE THREE PACES NORTH'

THE MESSAGE ON this car's window — etched in the 'snow' — took on aspects of a treasure hunt. The message is "INSIDE" and an arrow points the way. It doesn't take much imagination to start drawing your own conclusions. Hartly Newspaper Staffer John Auble, Jr., snapped it with a telephoto lens and reported that he was uncertain, also, as to its actual meaning. A notice for ticketing policemen? A memo to his wife? Who knows. Just chalk it up to another mystery of winter.

Car License Registrars Announced

The registrar of the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Dave Mainwaring, has announced deputy registrars who will sell 1963 auto license plates.

Ohio's blue and white plates go on sale Mar. 1 and must be displayed after Apr. 1.

Police Sergeant Found Dead In Parked Cruiser

Police Sergeant Charles D. (Red) Lewis, of 4477 Zellerd, was found Jan. 31 slumped over in the front seat of his unmarked police car in a lot behind 759 W. Broad-st.

He had apparently taken his own life by shooting himself in the head with his .38 caliber service revolver.

Police Chief George Scholer theorized a chronic heart ailment caused the officer to end his life.

Service was held Saturday in the Schoedinger State Street Chapel.

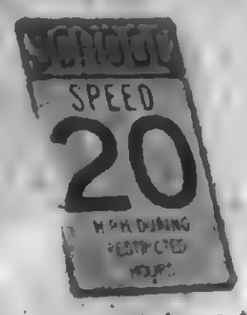
Survivors include his wife, Martha; son, Charles D., Jr.

Interment was in Sunset Cemetery.

WAS ON USS SOLEY

Bobby J. Cole, boilerman third class, USN, ward of Mr. and Mrs. Warley Keen 2929 El Paso-dr, was serving aboard the destroyer USS Soley while she was part of the United States quarantine forces in the Caribbean.

Let's See Now . . . Thirty Days Hath September And It's Now 8:24½ a.m., and . . . Oh, Boy!



By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A calender and a stop watch would be helpful and, if you're a traffic engineer that's all the better—when it comes to traveling through school zones marked with the traditional sign saying "During Restricted Hours Only."

Actualy, City Traffic Engineer Jack Gallagher even had some trouble interpreting a portion of the state law regarding those "restricted hours."

The law reads: "20 miles per hour when passing a school building or the grounds thereof during school recess and while children are going to or leaving school during the opening or closing hours when appropriate signs giving notice of the existence of a school are erected."

In case you're not a Philadelphia lawyer, this passage—when interpreted—plainly indicates that there are times when you can ignore that 20-mile per hour limit in school zones and still be within the law.

It's deciding when those times occur that might cause you an executive-sized headache.

For example, that word recess is about as dated now as high-buttoned shoes, Gallagher theorized. "The changing times have created this defect," he pointed out.

"Back when the law was put on the books," Gallagher continued, "recess time meant that children would be playing near the street area. All Columbus schools have chain-link fences and playground areas back from the road. Recess now is confined to these 'safe' areas."

So much for recess. The "restricted hours," when school opens and closes are not actually hours at all. They're 20-minute periods according to Gallagher. That is, you must observe the 20 mph limit 20 minutes before school opens in the morning and 20 minutes after it lets out at night.

This wouldn't be so bad except for the fact that the Columbus School Board doesn't start school until the odd time of 8:45 a.m. This means that (taking 20 minutes from 8:45) you'll be expected to slow down beginning at 8:25 a.m.

School lets out at 3:30 p.m. and the 20-mph limit is in effect until 3:50 p.m. See?

Now then, you can forget the 20 mph signs if a couple of classes are walking from the school on, say, a nature hike around the neighborhood. Even though there are children in and near the street, they're not there during "restricted hours."

"The best rule of thumb," added Gallagher, "is to slow up whenever you see traffic patrol boys on duty."

But, maybe it would be a better rule—if not a thousand times simpler—just to let up on that gas pedal around schools all the time. This saves finger-nail biting, too.

Robbers On Rampage At Broad and Wayne

Two robberies, occurring around the corner from each other two days apart, were the talk of the Hilltop this week.

Most spectacular was at Thrift Finance Co., 2403 W. Broad-st at Wayne-av, which was robbed of an undetermined amount of cash Monday evening, police disclosed.

The two unmasked bandits, described as "white, male and around 30 years of age," were armed with revolvers.

According to the manager, Wilbur Hessler, 52, of 2036 W. Mound-st, the robbers entered by a side door five minutes before closing time.

"Both were armed with what appeared to be snub-nosed .38's, one of which was chrome plated," he said.

Upon entering, the men waved a clerk toward the manager's office. Hessler was busy with a customer at the time.

The men coerced another clerk to give them cash and then returned to the manager's office, demanding that he give them more money.

The bandits ordered the five employes and one customer into a restroom. They also took one of the women clerk's pocketbook and emptied its contents on the floor. One of the men took money from the wallet.

"We were in the restroom from 12 to 15 minutes," Hessler stated. "After we heard them leave, we had to kick out a panel in the door to get out."

Carry-Out Is Hit

Saturday evening, three men robbed Albert J. Kingry, 62, of 742 Mohawk-st, as he was closing his store, the Hyland Carry-Out, 7 S. Wayne-av, police reported. The robbery netted $30.

Moments after the carry-out robbery, police saw a car speeding at W. Broad-st and Oakley-av. When they chased the vehicle, three men jumped from the car and ran, leaving a revolver and $30 in the auto.

One man was captured immediately and a second suspect was apprehended a short time later at W. Broad-st and Richardson-av. The third suspect was arrested at the same intersection about an hour later.

Police then went to an apartment in the 2300 block of W. Broad-st and picked up a fourth man and a woman who were reportedly associates of the first three.

Tuesday, police charged three men with the holdup of the carry-out.

Two of the men lived in the Hilltop area, one on S. Terrace-av and the other in the 2300 block of W. Broad-st.

One of the Hilltop men was also charged with assault with a deadly weapon and assault to rob in an attempt to rob the Big Nickel Tavern, 2480 Sullivant-av, on Feb. 2.

The third man was from Cincinnati.

Ed Grumman Listed As 'Fair' By Mt. Carmel

Ed Grumman, 17, of 2668 Dibblee-av, was listed in fair condition by Mt. Carmel Hospital Tuesday.

He suffered fractures of both legs when hit by a car early Saturday as he walked in the street in front of 193 N. Hague-av.

Police said a car driven by Dennis L. Mayse, 24, of 1534 E. Livingston-av, struck Grumman as Mayse attempted to pass another car.

Police cited Grumman for walking in the roadway.

Firemen Overcome By Fumes

The new training academy at the $900,000 Fire Center, 240 Greenlawn-av, was temporarily evacuated after a fire captain and a firefighter became ill from carbon monoxide, it was revealed Monday.

Fire Prevention Chief Elmer J. Brophy ordered the building evacuated.

Capt. Coy Alston, 53, of 401 Hildreth-av, and Firefighter William Baxter, 39, of 723 S. Powhatan-av, were given oxygen late Sunday night by an emergency squad. They suffered only headaches and dizziness, acording to Senior Assistant Chief Saar Zaayer.

Zaayer said a faulty vent pipe connection in the building's boiler room was temporarily repaired, and the academy was back in use Monday.

Alston and Baxter are part of the 24-hour assignment of men to the academy. Zaayer said they must be there to man a foam trailer used in training but on call for major fires.

Zaayer added permanent repairs on the faulty pipe will be made next.

Joseph Ruvio On Landing Ship

Joseph W. Ruvio, chief Hellerman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruvio of 432 Yarmouth-ln, is serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Fort Snelling, which is engaged in a two-month amphibious exercise in the Caribbean.

The exercise, dubbed Phibulex 1-63, involves five ships with more than 3,600 Navymen and Marines embarked. The purpose of the exercise is to train the men in amphibious strike force tactics.

Annual 'Y' Meeting Elects New Leaders

More than 250 persons were on hand for the 15th annual meeting of the Hilltop YMCA at the Westinghouse plant Jan. 29.

John Edwards, Cincinnati Redlegs catcher, the featured speaker of the meet, told the gathering of his earlier experiences as a "Y" member and how this had affected his career as a major league baseball player. Edwards is a former member of the Hilltop YMCA.

The following were elected to serve on the board of management for the next three years: John A. Brown, C. Carlton Hartley, James G. Henery, Victor G. Karl, M. E. Sensenbrenner and Jerry Spears, Sr.

Those elected to serve on the advisory council were: Charles C. Bridwell, James E. Foote, Nelson Greene, Jr., Forest L. Rader, Melvin M. Senerius and Howard F. Wilson.

Awards for the 1962 membership roundup were presented by Ray Anderson, assistant big boss of the recent campaign. Recipients of the trophies for top leaders went to Melvin Senerius, top ranch foreman; Richard Muir, top wrangler, and Mrs. Dean Baker, top cowboy.

The newly established "Quota Buster" awards were presented to big boss of the roundup, M. E. Sensenbrenner; C. Carlton Hartley, Ray Pendell, Mrs. Joshua O'Neal, Miss Carol Hudson, C. H. Campbell, A. M. Pemberton and Nelson Greene, Jr.

A leadership recognition ceremony was conducted by Victor Karl during which those men who have given many hours of volunteer service to the Hilltop YMCA were recognized. This list included Lafe Dodds and John Drury, Senior Hi-Y advisors; Cliff Everett, Phil Sprecher, Phil Pool, John Reed, Bill Hoffmire and Gary Link as Junior Hi-Y leaders, and Al Stephens, chief of the Hilltop Longhouse.

Master of ceremonies for this event was David P. Randall, principal of West High School. General chairman of this year's meeting was John A. Brown who was assisted by Ray Anderson.

'. . . NOW, TAKE THREE PACES NORTH'

THE MESSAGE ON this car's window — etched in the snow — took on aspects of a treasure-hunt. The message is "INSIDE" and an arrow points the way. It doesn't take much imagination to start drawing your own conclusions. Hartly Newspaper Staffer John Auble, Jr., snapped it with a telephoto lens and reported that he was uncertain, also, as to its actual meaning. A notice for ticket-ing policemen? A memo to his wife? Who knows. Just chalk it up to another mystery of winter.

Car License Registrars Announced

The registrar of the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Dave Mainwaring, has announced deputy registrars who will sell 1963 auto license plates.

Ohio's blue and white plates go on sale Mar 1 and must be displayed after Apr. 1.

Police Sergeant Found Dead In Parked Cruiser

Police Sergeant Charles D. (Red) Lewis, of 4477 Zellar-rd, was found Jan. 31 slumped over in the front seat of his unmarked police car in a lot behind 759 W. Broad-st.

He had apparently taken his own life by shooting himself in the head with his .38 caliber service revolver.

Police Chief George Scholer theorized a chronic heart ailment caused the officer to end his life.

Service was held Saturday in the Schoedinger State Street Chapel.

Survivors include his wife, Martha; son, Charles D., Jr.

Interment was in Sunset Cemetery.

WAS ON USS SOLEY

Bobby J. Cole, boilerman third class, USN, ward of Mr. and Mrs. Warley Keen 2929 El Paso-dr, was serving aboard the destroyer USS Soley while she was part of the United States quarantine forces in the Caribbean.

Let's See Now . . . Thirty Days Hath September And It's Now 8:24½ a.m., and . . . Oh, Boy!

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A calendar and a stop watch would be helpful and, if you're a traffic engineer that's all the better— when it comes to traveling through school zones marked with the traditional sign saying "During Restricted Hours Only."

Actualy, City Traffic Engineer Jack Gallagher even had some trouble interpreting a portion of the state law regarding those "restricted hours."

The law reads: "20 miles per hour when passing a school building or the grounds thereof during school recess and while children are going to or leaving school during the opening or closing hours when appropriate signs giving notice of the existence of a school are erected."

In case you're not a Philadelphia lawyer, this passage —when interpreted—plainly indicates that there are times when you can ignore that 20-mile per hour limit in school zones and still be within the law.

It's deciding when those times occur that might cause you an executive-sized headache.

For example, that word recess is about as dated now as high-buttoned shoes, Gallagher theorized. "The changing times have created this defect," he pointed out.

"Back when the law was put on the books," Gallagher continued, "recess time meant that children would be playing near the street area. All Columbus schools have chain-link fences and playground areas back from the road. Recess now is confined to these 'safe' areas."

So much for recess. The "restricted hours," when school opens and closes are not actually hours at all. They're 20-minute periods according to Gallagher. That is, you must observe the 20 mph limit 20 minutes before school opens in the morning and 20 minutes after it lets out at night.

This wouldn't be so bad except for the fact that the Columbus School Board doesn't start school until the odd time of 8:45 a.m. This means that (taking 20 minutes from 8:45) you'll be expected to slow down beginning at 8:25 a.m.

School lets out at 3:30 p.m. and the 20-mph limit is in effect until 3:50 p.m.

Now then, you can forget the 20 mph signs if a couple of classes are walking from the school on, say, a nature hike around the neighborhood. Even though there are children in and near the street, they're not there during "restricted hours."

"The best rule of thumb," added Gallagher, "is to slow up whenever you see traffic patrol boys on duty."

But, maybe it would be a better rule—if not a thousand times simpler—just to let up on that gas pedal around schools all the time. This saves finger-nail biting, too.

Robbers On Rampage At Broad and Wayne

Two robberies, occurring around the corner from each other two days apart, were the talk of the Hilltop this week.

Most spectacular was at Thrift Finance Co., 2408 W. Broad-st at Wayne-av, which was robbed of an undetermined amount of cash Monday evening, police disclosed.

The two unmasked bandits, described as "white, male and around 30 years of age," were armed with revolvers.

According to the manager, Wilbur Hessler, 52, of 2036 W. Mound-st, the robbers entered by a side door five minutes before closing time.

"Both were armed with what appeared to be snub-nosed .38's, one of which was chrome plated," he said.

Upon entering, the men waved a clerk toward the manager's office. Hessler was busy with a customer at the time.

The men coerced another clerk to give them cash and then returned to the manager's office, demanding that he give them more money.

The bandits ordered the five employes and one customer into a restroom. They also took one of the women clerk's pocketbook and emptied its contents on the floor. One of the men took money from the wallet.

"We were in the restroom from 12 to 15 minutes," Hessler stated. "After we heard them leave, we had to kick out a panel in the door to get out."

Carry-Out Is Hit

Saturday evening, three men robbed Albert J. Kingry, 62, of 742 Mohawk-st, as he was closing his store, the Hyland Carry-Out, 7 S. Wayne-av, police reported. The robbery netted $30.

Moments after the carry-out robbery, police saw a car speeding at W. Broad-st and Oakley-av. When they chased the vehicle, three men jumped from the car and ran, leaving a revolver and $30 in the auto.

One man was captured immediately and a second suspect was apprehended a short time later at W. Broad-st and Richardson-av. The third suspect was arrested at the same intersection about an hour later.

Police then went to an apartment in the 2300 block of W. Broad-st and picked up a fourth man and a woman who were reportedly associates of the first three.

Tuesday, police charged three men with the holdup of the carry-out.

Two of the men lived in the Hilltop area, one on S. Terrace-av and the other in the 2300 block of W. Broad-st.

One of the Hilltop men was also charged with assault with a deadly weapon and assault to rob in an attempt to rob the Big Nickel Tavern, 2480 Sullivant-av, on Feb. 2.

The third man was from Cincinnati.

Charles Krull

Marine Private First Class Charles M. Krull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krull of 500 N. Harris-av, was promoted to the present rank, while serving at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

Promotion is made on the basis of leadership abilities, proficiency, and military behavior.

Ed Grumman Listed As 'Fair' By Mt. Carmel

Ed Grumman, 17, of 2688 Dibblee-av, was listed in fair condition by Mt. Carmel Hospital Tuesday.

He suffered fractures of both legs when hit by a car early Saturday as he walked in the street in front of 193 N. Hague-av.

Police said a car driven by Dennis L. Mayes, 24, of 1534 E. Livingston-av, struck Grumman as Mayes attempted to pass another car.

Police cited Grumman for walking in the roadway.

TO ERECT DWELLING

Garfield Properties, Inc., 144 E. State-st, has received a building permit to build a two-story frame dwelling at 3751-53 Driggs-rd. Valuation $17,000.

Firemen Overcome By Fumes

The new training academy at the $900,000 Fire Center, 240 Greenlawn-av, was temporarily evacuated after a fire captain and a firefighter became ill from carbon monoxide, it was revealed Monday.

Fire Prevention Chief Elmer J. Brophy ordered the building evacuated.

Capt. Coy Alston, 53, of 401 Hildreth-av, and Firefighter William Baxter, 39, of 723 S. Powhatan-av, were given oxygen late Sunday night by an emergency squad. They suffered only headaches and dizziness, acording to Senior Assistant Chief Sam Zaayer.

Zaayer said a faulty vent pipe connection in the building's boiler room was temporarily repaired, and the academy was back in use Monday.

Alston and Baxter are part of the 24-hour assignment of men to the academy. Zaayer said they must be there to man a foam trailer used in training but on call for major fires.

Zaayer added permanent repairs on the faulty pipe will be made soon.

Annual 'Y' Meeting Elects New Leaders

More than 250 persons were on hand for the 15th annual meeting of the Hilltop YMCA at the Westinghouse plant Jan. 29.

John Edwards, Cincinnati Redlegs catcher, the featured speaker of the meet, told the gathering of his earlier experiences as a "Y" member and how this had affected his career as a major league baseball player. Edwards is a former member of the Hilltop YMCA.

The following were elected to serve on the board of management for the next three years: John A. Brown, C. Carlton Hartley, James G. Henery, Victor G. Karl, M. E. Sensenbrenner and Jerry Spears, Sr.

Those elected to serve on the advisory council were: Charles C. Bridwell, James E. Foote, Nelson Greene, Jr., Forest E. Rader, Melvin M. Senerius and Howard F. Wilson.

Awards for the 1962 membership roundup were presented by Ray Anderson, assistant big boss of the recent campaign. Recipients of the trophies for top leaders went to Melvin Senerius, top ranch foreman; Richard Muir, top wrangler, and Mrs. Dean Baker, top cowboy.

The newly established "Quota Buster" awards were presented to big boss of the roundup, M. E. Sensenbrenner; C. Carlton Hartley, Ray Pendell, Mrs. Joshua O'Neal, Miss Carol Hudson, C. H. Campbell, A. M. Pemberton and Nelson Greene, Jr.

A leadership recognition ceremony was conducted by Victor Karl during which those men who have given many hours of volunteer service to the Hilltop YMCA were recognized. This list included Lafe Dodds and John Drury, Senior Hi-Y advisors; Cliff Everett, Phil Specher, Phil Pool, John Reed, Bill Hoffmire and Gary Link as Junior Hi-Y leaders, and Al Stephens, chief of the Hilltop Longhouse.

Master of ceremonies for this event was David P. Randall, principal of West High School. General chairman of this year's meeting was John A. Brown who was assisted by Ray Anderson.

Scouts Build Strong Nation

As the Boy Scouts of America marks its 53rd anniversary during Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, it is timely to look into the "Fit For Tomorrow" program which was launched last fall as a continuing activity.

The President's Council On Youth Physical Fitness reported last year that about half of this nation's young people would probably fail a simple physical test. The council asked that youth be given more opportunities to develop the kind of fitness they need.

Dr. W. W. Bauer, health education director of the American Medical Association, feels that the Boy Scouts, "have been working quietly and effectively toward youth fitness a long time before the present interest in fitness started."

A scout's promise to "keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight" — one of the aims of scouting — is said to be a good definition of personal fitness.

Cub Scouts learn the "why" of fitness activities when they work on feats of skill and health achievements. They learn to get along with others in their den and pack program features. All-around fitness is developed through inter-troop Boy Scout events such as camporees where boys compete against and visit with others.

Personal fitness is one of the six basic Explorer experience areas. The fitness emphasis comes into play through canoe trips, mountaineering, water sports and swimming meets. Bowling, golf, tennis and other sports that last a lifetime are natural Explorer unit activities.

The 19,557 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Central Ohio Council keep an active interest in this project. They are doing their part in "building a stronger America" through building strong men. We believe they will succeed.

Another Way To Share . . .

It is worthy to note the effort again being extended by the six thousand Camp Fire Girls of Greater Columbus in behalf of the patients of the Columbus State Hospital.

In making life more meaningful for patients, the Camp Fire Girls in their community services project for February, called the "Friendship Walk," will be collecting books, records, sewing materials and cosmetics.

It is our hope that residents of this county will respond and "share their wealth with mental health, the Camp Fire way" by contributing those items they may have around the house gathering dust. Donors are asked to call the Camp Fire Girls office at HI. 3-9713 or the Franklin County Mental Health Association at CA. 8-4344 for pick-up service.

The Door Of The Sheepfold Offers Salvation

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. And a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him; for they know not the voice of strangers.

Elder Fry

"This parable spake Jesus unto them, but they understood not what things they were which He spake unto them. Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheepfold. All that ever came before Me who testified not of Me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door; by Me if any man enter in he shall be saved, and shall go in and out and find pasture." John 10:1-9.

The rugged beauty of the Highlands of Scotland have a special attraction for me. The endless stone fences winding their way over the hills to disappear beyond the horizon lend a sense of mystery to this fascinating scene.

One day my attention was drawn to sheep grazing quietly in the valley. Above them on the hillside were small enclosures which my traveling companion informed me were sheepfolds. With interest I noted these enclosures had no gate or door.

My thoughts turned to the parable of the Good Shepherd as told by Jesus. "I am the door of the sheepfold . . . I am the Good Shepherd . . . the shepherd giveth his life for the sheep." This parable immediately became more beautiful and meaningful. At night all of the sheep of the flocks are gathered into the fold, and the shepherd lies down across the opening of the sheepfold. No sheep can pass out, or any wild beast enter without the knowledge of the shepherd. Truly the shepherd is the door of the sheepfold.

I noted further there was no roof over the enclosure to protect the sheep from the elements. So it is with us in life. To be within the fold of the Good Shepherd does not protect one from all of the difficult experiences of life, but as He permits the lilies to grow in the fields, and notes the sparrow's fall, so He knows of our trials and sufferings and stands near when we call. One develops strength of character as he overcomes temptations and the storms of trial and difficulty.

Christians believe the Good Shepherd lives, and whatever He has done for people in the past He can do today. "I am the Good Shepherd" is spoken in the present tense. He is still the Good Shepherd, in 1963.

Today as you go about your tasks, and meet the problems and perplexities which are common to all men, may the confidence and assurance of faith come to you as they are expressed in the 23rd Psalm. There are words to live by:

"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

Frosting On The Cake

By
"UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

It is way past time for someone who is interested in the truth to get up on his "hind legs" and sound off, but good, about the present day idiocy of "putting everyone on the shelf" at age 45 to 50. If there ever was a cockeyed phobia now poisoning the minds of supposedly smart top management of business, it is the idea that no one is a capable or "safe employe" after age 50.

Look at the record of men like Henry Ford and the Wright Brothers who just got started after 40. I travel constantly in my professional work and meet many amazing men and women at age 75 and older who are still very much on the job and doing far better work than any green man or woman can possibly do — all because they have been on the job long enough to know what they are about.

Everytime some so-called executive throws out a good set of brains or skills, just because of age, it costs money. Any personnel director who refuses to hire anyone for a new job at any age over 35 is just plumb crazy. Old and experienced experts still working up to age 85 on important, high-rated, skilled responsibilities, are still a far better investment than many youngsters, no matter how many diplomas they have.

To many young women are strictly husband hunting, and too many young men are scheming out a way to "meet and marry the boss' daughter," as the late and great Prof. Rogers said many years ago.

Any company that does careless hiring has no one to blame except its own personnel executives. Men and women who are in good health and whose records over the years are clean are most often the "better bargains."

Our Complacency Is Shattered Again

Just as our Defense Department's propaganda about the "relatively insignificant devastation" America would suffer in event of a nuclear war, plus the tremendous boost in national morale that came when we called Khrushchev's bluff on Cuba, had begun to lull me into complacency (I had even begun to think in terms of a possible normal future for my children), what happens?

Mao Tse-tung stokes up the flames in his great Red dragon.

McPeek

Like many people, until recently I hadn't paid much more attention to Mao's fumings than had the Russians. I was much more concerned about the long-range threat of Red China's mushrooming population.

I had figured that Mao's earlier rantings were designed to goad Russia into a nuclear war with America that would have left the Western world, including the Soviet Union, a helpless prey for eventual Chinese domination and provide the necessary additional lands to absorb the rapidly proliferating Chinese.

But the Russians made it clear, or so it seemed to me, that they weren't about to be duped into paving the bloody way for a world-wide chain of Chinese laundries.

Even Anastas Mikoyan, No. 1 trouble-shooter for Khrushchev, a few years ago tried to tell us this, I believe, when he confided that he saw Russia's future linked much closer to America, rather than with China.

But since the Cuba episode and subsequent softening of Russia's attitude, Mao's blasts of anger and challenge to Moscow's leadership of world communism have taken on the frenzied urgency of an old man who thinks he may not live long enough to see his cherished nightmare materialize.

Who among us doesn't shudder when the undisputed leader of more than an estimated 700 million fanatical followers spits out views such as:

"History has not witnessed a single example of peaceful transition from capitalism to socialism. Those who no longer distinguish between just and unjust wars have lapsed into the position of bourgeois pacifism. A war would inevitably end in the destruction of imperialism and the victory of socialism."

Earlier he was quoted, I forgot the exact words, as saying that he believed a few million Chinese lives would be a small price to pay for a communist victory.

And, as if that isn't terrifying enough, our government now tells us that Red China will develop atomic bombs within "a year or two," which probably means our government is trying to soften us for the shock that will come when the Chinese explode a test A-bomb within the very near future.

What worries me is what may happen when a man who not only is not appalled by war, but is downright anxious to create one, will do when he gets his claws on a couple of A-bombs.

It would be nice if someone could figure out how to shut China's big Red Mao—permanently.

Letters to the Editor on topics of public interest are always welcome. They should be written or typed legibly on one side of the paper only, and limited to 350 words. Says Motion Pictures Adequately Policed

To The Editor:

The recent article in the columns of your newspapers entitled "Smut Movies Dirtying Theater Screens Here" was, I felt, shocking.

The article left the strong inference that all motion picture theaters are guilty of the offense described by the writer. Quotations taken out of context carried implications never intended by the persons quoted. Indeed, the reference to 16 mm. film eliminated, in practically all cases, the commercial motion picture theater. Another inaccuracy — the reference to acetate film — also eliminates all motion picture theaters. There is documented evidence from the Eastman Kodak Company to the effect that no flammable acetate film has been produced since 1945.

The author of the article quite properly may express his outrage at obscene motion pictures. The smoker movie, just like printed smut, is indefensible. Obscenity is a clearly-defined violation of law in Ohio. Convictions are a matter of record. To allege or leave the clear impression, however, that "local" theaters are "peddling miles and miles of smut" is, it seems to me, an irresponsible statement. All but a tiny fraction of the people involved in the production, distribution and exhibition of motion pictures are hard-working, dedicated people. The Columbus Movie Review Board, which was implemented by an ordinance of the City Council, has done a creditable job in investigating complaints. In cases of law violation they have acted effectively.

It is entirely possible that the author has seen or has known of a motion picture that offended him personally. This is inescapable since no two people that read a book or attend a movie are likely to have the same opinion. But, as you know, the First and 14th Amendments of the Constitution are designed to protect all media of the public press not only because opinions differ but in order to produce such differences.

Finally, the suggestion in the article that youth is the primary target is not in accordance with the facts when you consider that theater owners of their own volition bar the admission of juveniles and adolescent youths when the film content is adult in nature.

The publication of the article was particularly amazing in view of your reputation for accurate reporting and in the light of your long-standing opposition to censorship. We know that you share our view that governmental dictation of the content of movies is not proper and will never be successful. However, the inaccurate inferences left by this article cannot help but be of assistance to those who would impose their personal taste upon all people.

In closing let me repeat that the duly constituted authority, the Columbus Movie Review Board and the courts are doing an adequate job in protecting the public against the unlawful showing of obscene movies. The cooperation of all phases of the industry is forthcoming in legitimate endeavors along this line. Let's have no censorship except censorship at the box office. This is the American way of the right of selection.

TWO BIRTHDAYS

In February we remember the birthdays of our two greatest Americans. The one was father of our country, the other its savior.

George Washington sacrificed the ease and comfort of his plantation home at Mount Vernon to lead the ragged farmers, tradesmen and mechanics of the Continental Army against the disciplined ranks of the British. After hard-won victory he went home, but again yielded to the call of his countrymen and became our first President.

Abraham Lincoln was truly a man of the people, not an aristocrat as was Washington. He was the poor man's poor man, but had acquired enough for comfort by the time the people chose him for the White House.

Washington's problem was to build and launch a government fit to serve a nation destined to grow into what we have now, although none in his time could foresee entirely all of its greatness. As architect of military victory, he had to change hats to direct his able and dedicated helpers in building the structure of peace.

Lincoln's task was to preserve the national unity threatened by honest but misguided men who believed in state sovereignty over national. At first slavery was a secondary issue, with emancipation an incidental but inevitable result of Union victory.

Neither Washington nor Lincoln was a sophisticated intellectual. We could even say, perhaps, that neither was a genius in our sense of the word. But both knew and did their work, each in his time and place. Without them, would we have become the people we are today? Something to think about.

It says here . . .

When we need a man, he always appears.

Objects To 'Testing'

What sweetness exists in this world seems the development of innate springs of humanity, largely the province of the very young.

How much this quality of sweetness is damaged by injections of vitriol at the hands of the bitterly mature, is another matter.

The scope of the "testing" craze has now spread to the point of encroachment upon the time of student and teacher alike. The practice of entrusting the test material to the student leader is a twist in the direction of a junior spy system, a devious way of side-stepping the issue regarding responsibility for carrying on an unpopular program.

The currently illuminating discussions, regarding the controversial psychological "testing" practices in many of our schools, should be expanded to include those tests handed out in classes purporting to be English, French, or other classes, organized for the purpose of instruction.

Now that "comic-books" have been enlisted in the campaign to indoctrinate our younger generation in the benefits to be discovered in socialism, it seems only a matter of training for service is required of our children.

The relationship between parent and child is undergoing a shameful battering, it is about time we realize the truth of the warning voiced by J. Edgar Hoover: "Communist Target, Youth."

Time To Rewrite Law

The general public has been so busy chasing the almighty dollar, working night and day, and often both husband and wife work two or more jobs a day, so they demanded that merchants stay open an extra day each week (The Sabbath). If they believe the Word of God, they should be in the House of God on that day and not in a grocery store, drug store, hardware store, carry out, etc.

I agree with the harassed city and county officials (the present law, due to the above conditions is not only un-workable but can not honestly be enforced impartially. It must be completely rewritten by the Legislature and the bugs taken out of it by bringing it up to date with 1963 conditions.

Here are some musts: They should specify that if a merchant now observes some other day as the sabbath, he must close on what he now generally accepts as the sabbath. If he carries items prohibited by the new law (for sale on Sunday) he must close on the sabbath, no matter what day he considers it to fall on.

The new law must be positive in language and nothing left to the imagination of those interpreting it. They have shown by the mess they made of interpreting the old law, that they can't be trusted to an honest interpretation of any law. Let's demand that they re-write the present law in its entirety now!

Cites Volunteer Aid

The patients and staff of Columbus State Hospital wish to express appreciation for the part played by many friends in relation to our Christmas Party and Gift program. The Volunteer Service Council of Columbus State Hospital received wholehearted support in providing for patients, many of the experiences traditionally associated with Christ-

Special thanks go to the Franklin County Mental Health Association which undertook this project in your county. The chairman of the Christmas Committee was Mrs. Robert J. Nekervis, 4306 Lawnview dr. Many other groups and individuals also gave support and personal effort.

Not only did groups of patients benefit by this concern on the part of citizens, but many received individual attention. All of this contributes to earlier recovery and return to normal life for many now hospitalized.

This expression of goodwill at Christmas, and in many ways throughout the year, is of lasting value.

'Little Miss Heart' To Greet Public At Fund Kick-Off

LITTLE MISS HEART will be introduced to Franklin County residents during kick-off ceremonies for the 1963 Heart Fund Campaign at the Ohio Statehouse, Sunday, Feb. 17, at 12:15 p.m. The charming little lady, seven-year-old Patti Cope of 199 Little Flower-ln, Whitehall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cope. Patti is shown above, center, with her big sister Marsha, 15, left and her mother Mrs. Frank Cope. Patti attends Asbury Road School. Brother Ricky, 11, not shown, is also a student there.

Patti Ann Cope, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cope, 199 Little Flower-ln, Whitehall, will be introduced to Franklin County residents as "Little Miss Heart" at kick-off ceremonies for the 1963 Heart Fund Campaign in Franklin County Thursday, Feb. 7, at 12:15 p.m. on the Statehouse grounds.

"Little Miss Heart" will greet Heart Fund volunteers and the general public on the west steps of the capitol building.

Patti underwent open heart surgery for an inborn heart defect when she was only two years and nine months old—the youngest local girl ever to have had an open heart operation performed here.

Others participating in the noonday ceremonies will be Woody Hayes, head football coach, Ohio State University, general chairman for the campaign; Dr. James V. Warren, president of the American Heart Association, several heart surgery patients and campaign officials.

Featured will be the 95-voice freshman choir of Jones Junior High School, Upper Arlington, directed by Ray Vermilya.

Receipts received during Heart Month (February) support the activities of the Central Ohio Heart Association and its fight against heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, inborn heart defects, and rheumatic fever.

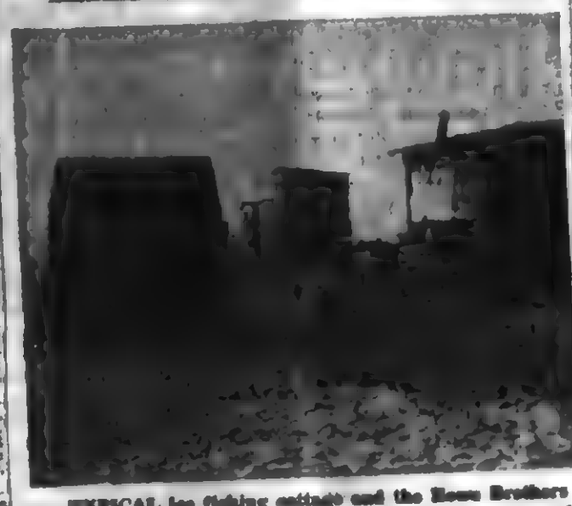
"Little Miss Heart" was operated on at Children's Hospital by Howard D. Sauk, M.D., for a ventricular septal defect (hole between the lower chambers of the heart). In the course of regular check-ups, the pediatrician noted a heart murmur which led to further diagnosis.

Open heart surgery, which mends faulty hearts, is accomplished with the aid of the heart-lung pump, developed by heart-fund supported research.

Eagles Slate District Meet

M. L. Huston, state trustee from Canton, will deliver the principal address at the 12th district meeting and initiation of new members by Columbus Aerie 207 Fraternal Order of Eagles, 771 N. High-st, at 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 10.

The Aerie's Ritual and Drill team will assist in the initiation. All Eagles are cordially invited to attend the district meeting and initiation.



Refreshments and dancing will follow the meeting.

'Village' Aims To Please Anglers

A UNIQUE BUSINESS that has grown in popularity with a lot of fishermen is that of the Rowe Brothers Ice Fishing Village at North Bay, Ontario. Pictured here is the entrance to the village, a collection of individual fishermen's huts on the very thick ice of Lake Nipissing, seven miles off shore near the Manitou Islands. Large pike, pickerel and white fish abound in the area and many fishermen who have found great delight in that section during the summer are now finding ice fishing and the hospitality of the Rowe Brothers an equally interesting experience. Transportation to the spot is provided by the specially-built Snowmobile. Lodging is available in nearby Lakeshore Drive motels. Even refreshments, in the form of fried fish, soup and hot coffee are available to the fishermen while he tries to lure the big ones through a hole in the ice.

TYPICAL ice fishing cottage and the Rowe Brothers Snowmobile. Information regarding this fishing spot and rates is available by contacting Loren Rowe, 276 Lakeshore, North Bay, Ontario.

Admit Attorney To Supreme Court Practice

Joseph J. Murphy, Columbus attorney, was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of The United States Thursday, Jan. 31.

Murphy, who resides with his family at 5297 Ivyhurst-dr, Pine Hills subdivision, was sponsored for admission by former Governor Michael V. DiSalle and James R. Burchfield, Columbus attorneys. Solicitor General Cox of Washington D. C. made the oral motion at the Bar while Murphy's wife, Virginia watched.

In the wide arena of the world, failure and success are not accidents as we so frequently suppose but the strictest justice. If you do your fair day's work, you are certain to get your fair day's wage in praise or pudding, whichever happens to suit your taste.—A. Smith

Spears Plays At Nebraska

Jerry Spears III, ex-West High basketball star, played in his first varsity cage game at the University of Nebraska, Monday night, when the Cornhusker quintet took on Iowa State at Ames, Ia.

Spears, who shares the City League scoring record (45 points in one game) with ex-East cager Larry Jones, is a second semester sophomore at Nebraska U. and just secured eligibility last week.

A 1958 graduate of West, Spears appears to be a likely starter for the Huskers in their remaining 11 games. Jerry, who transferred from OSU last year, has two and one-half years of varsity competition remaining.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Spears Jr., of 2999 Fremont-st.

Glenwood Nips West Park, 46-37 In Church Loop

In the first game Saturday, the Junior Hi-Y "Council" had their hands full in beating the Hilltop Church of God, 40-30. Leading the "Council" were Curt Vollmuth and Bill Holt with 15 and 13 points, respectively. Top scorer for the Church of God was Bill Rexer with 11 points.

Hoge Memorial played their bench the whole game and beat the Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs," 36-13. Hoge's first five didn't get into the game. Hoge was led in scoring by Tom Patterson with 10 points. Top scorer for the "Scrubs" was Felix Hoover with seven points.

THE THIRD GAME, between Glenwood Methodist and West Park Methodist, was a thriller all the way. Leading Glenwood in scoring was John Grashel with 21 points. John hit nine of 13 shots from the floor in a fine effort. Helping also in the game was Ken Wells with 10 points.

Leading West Park was Terry Breckenridge with 20 points. Dick Brown played a fine defensive game but got into foul trouble before the half. Glenwood finally broke the game open in the last four minutes and won, 46-37.

HILLCREST BAPTIST played a completely bewildered Burgess EUB team. Burgess had trouble all afternoon with their shooting and passing. The zone defense used by Hillcrest held Jack Husch to eight points. Hillcrest held a 27-10 halftime lead, and at the final buzzer it was 51-21 — Hillcrest on top. Leading Hillcrest was little Jimmy Wilson with 14 points.

The scheduled for Saturday: 12 noon — Junior Hi-Y "Scrubs" vs Hilltop Church of God: 12:45 p.m. — Glenwood Methodist vs Hoge Memorial; 1:30 p.m. — Junior Hi-Y "Council" vs Hillcrest Baptist; 2:15 p.m. — West Park Methodist vs Burgess EUB.

West Scalps Braves; Central Edges Irish

By Bob Lynch and Kenny Ash

Paced by Ron McDaniel's 23-point scoring spree, the West High Cowboys overcame an early deficit to defeat Whetstone, 60-55, Friday in the victors' gym.

Throwing a tight man-to-man defense around the Cowboys' high scoring Charlie Castle, the Braves temporarily befuddled the Broncos until McDaniel, Jerry Carter and Steve Bernard combined points and outstanding rebounding to manage a 28-26 halftime margin.

ALTHOUGH THEY were never headed again, the Braves caused the home squad considerable headaches as they never permitted the Broncos to achieve a substantial commanding lead. Even though they did lead by ten points with 59 seconds remaining in the contest, the final margin was only five points.

McDaniel captured game scoring honors with 23 tallies, followed by West's only other double-digit scorer, Jerry Carter, who netted 18. Jim Hughes and Karl Smith aided the victors' rebounding although they managed only six and four points respectively.

For the visitors, Tom Ihnat poured in 17 points to pace the Whetstone attack.

CENTRAL PROTECTED its 6-1 City League record Friday on the Pirates' home court, edging Aquinas 65-62.

Mike Welling, top man for the Terriers with 23 points, kept the Pirates in the game as Central closed the first period with a slim three-point lead.

The second period was even closer than the first. Aquinas, down by three points with four seconds left to play in the half, closed the gap as Pat Mentel, with 15 points for the Terriers, brought the ball down the floor and sank a last-second half court shot to bring his team within one point of the Pirates.

The third period ended in a deadlock as both teams battled to a 49-49 tie.

RAY REVELS, Central's 6 foot 4 inch center, put the Pirates in front again by dropping in two points on a lay-up. The Irish battled to regain the lead but Central held onto its slight advantage as time ran out. Tom Fullove and Dave Roberts paced the Pirate scoring attack with 27 and 15 points respectively.

The following evening Central, playing at Portsmouth, was upset by its host, 60-49, after the Pirates led for almost three periods.

Central took the lead in the first period 12-7. At halftime they were still ahead by one point, 25-24.

THE THIRD period played a new light on the game. Portsmouth moved out in front 40-37. Central couldn't get back in the groove, and Portsmouth took quick advantage, adding 20 more points to their third period score in the final stanza.

Tom Fullove was high point man for Central with 26 points and teammate Mike Grady added 11 more markers.

BISHOP READY managed a split over the weekend as the Silver Knights clipped Darby Township Friday, 60-49, before bowing to DeSales the next evening, 69-43.

Darby stayed in contention with the Knights for three periods Friday, trailing by three points entering the final period. But Ready, who got a 20-point performance from Paul Eberts, gradually pulled away in the closing minutes.

Jay Kubin dropped in 19 and Jim Muir added 12 more points to the Ready point total.

DeSales pulled away by two baskets before intermission Saturday and never trailed after as Kirk Sharrock hit for 28 points. Kubin's 11 markers paced the Knight offense.

OHIO DEAF CAME out on top of Holy Family Friday evening, 93-80, in a free-scoring battle. The Spartans pulled away to a 24-point halftime margin and the Raiders spent the rest of the game trying to pull up even.

Roger McKendry and Dave Lee supplied Family's scoring punch with 26 and 24 points, respectively.

AQUINAS TOOK it on the chin twice over the weekend in a pair of thrillers. The Terriers battled Central right down to the wire Friday before losing out by three points, dropping a tight 54-52 verdict to Watterson the following evening.

Mike Welling's 23 points were tops for Aquinas against the Pirates while Tom Woodward split honors with Welling against the Eagles—each with 12 points.

CHECKING ABOUND the area for Friday night action finds West (8-5) visiting league-leading East (13-1), Central (9-2) stopping off at Eastmoor (6-5), South (4-9) hosting Aquinas (7-7), Holy Family (2-13) traveling to Waterloo, and Ready (7-8) entertaining Coshocton Sacred Heart.

Only Saturday games on tap finds Ready ringing down the curtain on its '62-'63 season gy playing rost to Brookhaven (8-4).

THE HARD WAY—Cowboy cager Jerry Carter (24) looks like he's trying to put the ball through the basket the hard way—from the bottom of the net up through the hoop. Carter converted the drive-in goal regulation style for a West two-pointer despite the defensive efforts of the three Whetstone hoopsters pictured on the right.

Come On Fellows— Call Off The Feud For Valentines Day

Pro football, apparently unwilling to be elbowed out of the sports headlines by competing basketball news, hung onto its share of the spotlight last week as bed-ridden Jim Taylor reopened some old wounds by taking another verbose punch at that fuzzied image of the New York Giants' Mr. Sam Huff.

Sam, never one to slink away from a rebuttal, replied in so many words that his public image was being unduly tainted by Taylor's unkind oratory.

IN PRE-TELEVISION days, this kind of feud was usually endearing to the heart, reputation and wallet of a well-known sporting figure. Established stars like Babe Ruth, Jim Thorpe and Battling Siki supplemented box office appeal with their varied off-the-field antics.

But not so today in a world where now every second baseman is clean-shaven, all NBA guards wear only the finest swim suits and every pro-football end engages in the Vitalis 60-second workout.

The competition for that gleaming TV commercial smile has become about as fierce as preserving that starting spot afield.

IMAGINE THEN the "fading image" problem confronting Sam Huff each time Taylor tags him as some kind of a "dirty old man."

Mr. Huff, all milk and sugar, currently is involved in a cute little breakfast food commercial that depicts him as that nice veteran pro football player next door who probably would not even kick tires on a used car lot.

Taylor, who as far as we know isn't involved in any "image" commercials, simply doesn't have the problem so the feud probably isn't cutting down his trips to the bank.

Maybe the whole idea is rather trite but then what American mother would want her pint-sized little leaguer stuffing down the same "Sugar Wheats" that "some dirty old man" eats to sustain his rough-house tactics on the gridiron.

BUT WAIT A minute, this week shouldn't be cluttered up with feuds and the like. In keeping with the spirit of the season (Valentine's Day), we would like to dedicate the following humble offering to those unsung bench warmers who really make the game tick.

They're the only sporting link we could find to help commemorate this particular edition. Our only other association with Valentine's Day was some action that took

Cheerleaders Blank 'Sick' Central Quintet

Central High School's pep assembly Friday took on new proportions when the varsity cheerleaders, coached by Wayne Rittenhouse, took the floor in opposition to Sale Ellis' "battered" varsity basketball players.

Tom Fullove, hampered by a "broken hand" found himself unable to control the sharp shooting of Margaret Lewis.

SUFFERING FROM a "concussion," Gibson Hayes failed to give his usual stellar performance under the basket and Ray Revels gave evidence that his "bruised elbow" affected his foul line shots. His only contribution to the score was a basket for the opposing team.

During the intermission the varsity boys not participating in the game became cheerleaders and were assisted by the girls' drill team, the Pirateers. Final score of the game was: Girl Cheerleaders 17, Varsity Boys 0. Coach Rittenhouse's strategy of putting wire over the opposition's net proved to be a deciding factor in the victory.

Team members included: Cheerleaders — Margaret Lewis, Gloria Wilson, Jackie Fout, Judy Simon, Pat Crum, Delores Isenhower; Varsity—Tom Fullove, Ray Revels, Mike Grady, Gibson Hayes, Dave Roberts.

MAT WRAPUP

Pirates Sweep Pair; City Mat Meet Friday

Martins Ferry edged out host Worthington Saturday to cop the Cardinals' Invitational wrestling tournament and highlight mat activity around the area.

The winners took first place in three of the individual weight classifications to pile up 60 points as compared with Worthington's final 55 tallies.

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS finished in third place with a total of 45. Other team scores were: Circleville, 40; Arlington, 29; Toledo DeVilbiss, 26; Whitehall, 13 and Sandusky, 10.

Central's Pirates came up with a twin win in the grapplings circles during the week. The Pirates topped North, 43-5, before taking the measure of Hartley's Hawks, 38-10.

In other matches around the area, Pleasant View pinned Watterson, 34-13, Walnut Ridge outlasted Eastmoor, 24-18, East toppled Arlington, 26-9, West clobbered Linden, 29-16 and Bexley defeated Groveport, 27-16.

TOP FEATURE of the coming week's wrestling docket figures to be the City League meet Friday and Saturday at Walnut Ridge. Bexley visits Whitehall in a match Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Crowded into Friday's busy slate of grappling activity are Worthington's step off at Franklin Heights and Watkins Memorial invasion of Groveport (4:30 p.m.).

The Falcons compete again Tuesday, traveling to Pleasant View while Hartley entertains Grove City the same afternoon at 4:30.

Plant Tour Scheduled

The Foremen's Club of Columbus, Inc., will hold a plant tour of the Nippert Electric Products Co., 1759 W. Mound-st on Friday, Feb. 22.

The plant will be open from 7 to 9 p.m.

Club members, their families, and friends are invited to attend. Members are asked to notify the club office regarding the number of persons planning to attend.

FEATURES VALENTINE DISPLAYS

MRS. ELLA WARE, owner of Grove City Floral, 3627 N. Broadway, currently is featuring special Valentine floral arrangements. In addition to live red roses which are popular at this time of the year, artificial flowers in special Valentine containers are being used to brighten the home, she said. Mrs. Ware specializes in complete floral service for weddings, and makes the necessary flower arrangements for funerals. The shop also carries a wide variety of gift items.

Libertarian Exponent To Speak At Exposition

Leonard E. Read, president of the Foundation for Economic Education, Inc., will be the kick-off speaker for the Fourth Biennial Electrical Manufacturers Exposition, Tuesday, Feb. 12.

Read will speak at the kick-off luncheon prior to the opening of the three-day show in Veterans Memorial Building.

An out-spoken exponent for Libertarian Government, Read will speak on the subject of "The Essence of Americanism." Exponding on the "American Miracle," he states it is economic in this sense: "If an individual has the right to his life, it follows that he has a right to sustain his life —the sustenance of life being nothing more nor less than the fruits of one's own labor."

Read began his early education in economics at the age of eight when his father started him milking cows on the farm. He says, "I learned the relationship between hard work and a quart of milk. All else in economics is but embellishment on this primary lesson."

Serving On Wasp

Samuel D. Stilwell, chief aviation boatswain's mate, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Stilwell of 959 Sullivant-av, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Wasp, an anti-submarine warfare support ship operating from Boston, Mass. The Wasp was among the ships engaged in the United States quarantine forces in the Caribbean recently.

Charles Myers Receives Medal

Marine Corporal Charles A. Myers, son of Mrs. Stella E. Myers of 54 Brehl-av, was awarded the Good Conduct Medal recently while serving with the First Marine Aircraft Wing at Iwakuni, Japan.

The medal is awarded for outstanding service during three continuous years of active duty.

Paint Sale Record Set

R. S. McKay II, President Dean & Barry Co., reported a six per cent increase in paint sales during 1962 at the annual meeting of directors and stockholders recently held at the firm's offices, 396 Marconi-blvd.

A 71-year record high in both unit and dollar volume of paint producers sold was set for the year. A four per cent increase in total sales of both paint and jobbing items was also recorded.

McKay said steady progress is being made in the firm's program of opening new retail paint and wallpaper outlets in Ohio and neighboring states. Three additional stores in Delaware, Springfield and Toledo Southland Shopping Center were put into operation in 1962.

Suburban Absorbs Subsidiary

James R. Riley, president of Suburban Motor Freight, Inc., has announced the "complete integration" of Liberty Highway Co., with the parent line.

Suburban Motor Freight acquired control of Liberty Highway Dec. 31, 1956, through purchase of capital stock. Liberty has been operated as Suburban's major subsidiary since that time.

"All services performed by each company before the Interstate Commerce Commission confirmed the merger will be continued and, in time, expanded by Suburban," Riley said.

Suburban is a national regular common carrier. It's certificate of public convenience authorizes direct service in the six-state area of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and West Virginia, and interline accomodations to 41 other states, Washington, D. C., and Canada.

The Marshall Plan expired Dec. 31, 1951, after the expenditures of nearly $12½ billion to aid European recovery following World War II.

Judges Picked For Monkey Naming Event

Judges for Graham Shoes' "Name The Monkey" contest have been announced by Harry Graham, owner of the shoe store.

Jerry Wolfe of Frisch's Drive-In, Jim Wells, proprietor of the pet shop in the Great Western shopping center, Jeanie, of TV Kindergarten, and C. C. Hartley of Hartley Newspapers were named judges.

The contest awards a pet monkey to the person who can come up with the most original names for the three monkeys now in display in the window of Graham Shoes, 2384 W. Broad-st.

Entry blanks can be obtained from this newspaper or picked up at the store.

Graham said the contest will run through February.

Two Added To Deffet Sales Staff

Mrs. Eastman Eastman

George Deffet of Deffet Real Estate, 3225 W. Broad-st has announced Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eastman Sr., have joined the firm's sales staff.

The Eastmans will work in the general brokerage and rental field. Residents of the Hilltop for 15 years, the couple reside at 838 Wiltshire-rd. Both are active in church and lodge work, and have seven years experience in real estate.

West Area Men Serving In Far East

Two West Area Marines were among 900 Marines who spent Thanksgiving Day in the Caribbean, Christmas in Southern California, and New Year's Day in Hawaii — and are now in Okinawa.

They are Private First Class Norman J. Hicks, grandson of Mrs. Merley Thompson of 156 S. Eureka-av and Private Richard D. Mollette, son of Mrs. Pauline A. Mollette of 162 N. Sylvan-av.

The Marines were among 18,000 men called from the West Coast for the United States quarantine in the Caribbean during November. They returned to Camp Pendleton, Calif., early in December and departed, Dec. 27, for Okinawa.

The unit in which the Marines serve is the First Battalion of the Seventh Marine Regiment. The battalion has joined the Third Marine Division on Okinawa as part of the Seventh Fleet's force in the Far East.

Mormon Missionaries Here To Explain Church Doctrine

Two missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints have arrived on the Hilltop, and are conducting series of discussions explaining the Mormon Church.

Elder Jack Sullivan from southern Utah, and Elder Jay Manwaring, Denver, Colo., arrived three week ago, and are residing at 149 N. Burgess-av.

Anyone interested in hearing their series of six illustrated lectures may call them at BR. 4-7976.

Columbus Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is located at 3169 Olentangy River-rd. Services are held at 9:15 a.m. and at 5 p.m. each Sunday. All are invited.

Hilltop Leaguers To Fete Parents

Hilltop Intermediate Luther League will hold a Valentine Party and parent social Sunday, Feb. 10, 6:30 at the church.

Topic "Have a Heart," will be given by Michael Tripp. All parents of Intermediate Leaguers are invited.

Bob Jackson, Tom Carmody and Roger Bauer will be in charge of decoration. Baby sitting services will be available to the League families.

Rev. Roth Fills Detroit Interim

Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Roth, former minister of Hillcrest Baptist Church, will leave soon for Detroit and an interim pastorate at the church he served for 11 years before coming to Hillcrest.

The couple will remain in Detroit for three or four months.

The Roths have a married daughter living in Detroit.

Rev. Roth recently concluded a five-months' interim ministry with University Baptist Church, Columbus.

Symphony Campaign Under Way

The campaign, to continue throughout February, has a goal of $38,000.

The amount will provide basic funds for the 1963-64 symphony season, and represents an anticipated 35 percent of the total expenditures for 1964.

"Put Your Dollars to Music" is the campaign slogan, and Mrs. Ray V. Schumacher is campaign chairman.

Westgate Unit of the association has a committee consisting of Mrs. John Graham, 2505 Henthorne-rd; Mrs. E. D. Kimball, 694 Binns-blvd; Mrs. Jack Merriman, 44 S. Sylvan-av; Mrs. W. W. Sloter, 151 S. Brinker-av, and Mrs. John Stephens, 3945 Clime-rd.

Columbus Symphony Orchestra presents noted artists, and also provides a wide and varied youth program. Concerts are presented in elementary and high schools by orchestra members, and junior and senior music competitions are held annually for youth.

Spiritual Life Series Slated At Westgate

Dr. James Gibson

Dr. James Gibson, the Irish evangelist, will speak nightly except Saturdays at Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, 61 S. Powell-av, in a spiritual life services campaign Thursday, Feb. 14 through 24.

Gibson has had a continuing ministry in Columbus over the past 25 years, and has conducted more than 750 evangelistic campaigns, special meetings and church conferences.

Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Jones, pastor and wife from Third Avenue Methodist Church, will be gospel musicians for the services.

Mrs. Jones is pianist, organist and accordionist. The Jones' join their contralto and baritone voices with various instrumental combinations to present a variety of gospel song and hymn arrangements in their ministry of music.

Services will be held at 7:30 each night. Rev. Howard W. Buckley is pastor of the church.

PTA NOTES

JOHN BURROUGHS

John Burroughs PTA will meet Tuesday, Feb. 12 at 7:30.

It will be the Founders Day program, with all past presidents honored. Music will be by the mixed choral group from Columbus State School.

GEORGIAN HEIGHTS

PTA of Georgian Heights School will meet Tuesday, Feb. 12, 7:30 p.m.

Theme will be "Looking Into Our Past and Future." There will be recognition of Founders' Day, and Robert Mason from The Ohio Bell Telephone Co., will lecture and demonstration on space communications.

A social hour will follow.

CARD FETE SET

Twig 98 of Children's Hospital will hold its annual card party Wednesday, Feb. 20, 7:30 p.m. at City National Bank, 3100 W. Broad-st.

Thousands of tons of rock salt are mined annually from the vast vein of salt beneath Detroit, Mich. The rock salt lies only 1,137 feet beneath the city.

Clubs, Crafters Busy At Center

Glenwood Recreation Center Gleaners Club for girls met Saturday, Feb. 2. They played games and baked rolls for refreshments. Next Saturday, Feb. 9, the girls are planning a nature class. Each girl is invited to bring a pet and a little story of the animal's habits, etc. All animals must be caged. Jackie Jacobsen, leader, will bring several small animals: a rabbit, a guinea pig, and perhaps, a monkey. All girls from ages eight to 12 are invited to join the group which meets every Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

Arts And Crafts

The arts and crafts classes at Glenwood Recreation Center painted animal pictures and made a flower garden last week. Next week, the group plans to teach weaving and make small dolls. The center is open for this activity from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. every day. All children who are interested may come.

Louise Braille was born Jan. 4, 1809. She was the originator of the Braille system of printing and writing for the blind.

Buckeye Club Visits Museum

The Buckeye Club from Glenwood Recreation Center visited the Ohio State Museum recently. The boys were mainly interested in the communications developments and the relics from Ancient Egypt.

Transportation was provided by the Columbus Recreation Department.

a little BIG NOW

We all get a thrill out of seeing our children put on our hats or shoes. Obviously they don't fit now, but some day he, or she will grow to fit them. At the same time imagine that they are trying on our lives. Would they fit? . . . or do you live the type of life that you would want them to grow to. Live a life of worship of the Lord.

"Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Whizzers Win At Glenwood; Aces Whip Squires 42-36

The Whizzers ran their win streak to three wins and no losses in the Intermediate Boys Basketball League at Glenwood Recreation Center by stopping the Spartans 44-39.

In another game, the Aces handed the Squires their first loss 42-36. Anderson and McIntyre hit 15 and eight points for the winners. Jackson netted 10 for the Squires.

The Playboys, scoring 22 points in the third quarter, defeated the Imperials 48-43. Hanna, Penell and Hush each scored 13 points for the winners. Evans tallied 14 points for the losers.

SENIOR PLAY

The Untouchables inflicted the first loss on the league leaders, Cavaliers, 39-38. Stewart hit two of his 14 points in the last minute to give the Untouchables the victory. Shaffer hit 10 for the losers.

In another game, the Satins won 66-58 over the Commodores. Satins' playmaker and guard, Phil Tucker, hit for 21 points, 14 coming in the second half. Scheel led the losers with 19.

The Zephyrs defeated the Royals 62-47 with Johnson and Marshall hitting for 19 and 18 points. Nelson netted 19 for the losers.

The Knights stopped the Eliminators 43-25. Razicka's rebounding and 20 points was tops for the winners. Harrison led the losers with eight.

Ohio Wesleyan To Host High School Players

More than 1000 high school musicians and their instructors from all over the state will be on the Ohio Wesleyan campus Saturday, Feb. 9, for the 16th annual Ohio Wesleyan University High School Music Festival.

The festival is sponsored by the OWU music department, with Prof. Robert Bowlus as general chairman.

Students were selected on the basis of their ability.

During the one-day program they will be divided into two bands, an orchestra and a chorus of 800 voices. Each band and the orchestra will have 80 musicians. The groups will rehearse separately during the day and present a public concert at 7:15 p.m. in Gray Chapel.

Participating schools from the Hartley Newspapers area include Bexley, Central, Marion-Franklin and Whitehall-Yearling.

FINISHES TRAINING

Larry E. Eckert, nephew of Mrs. Robert Johnson of 248 West Park-av, completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Wit And Wisdom—

place in a Chicago garage a few years back but we guess that was rather one-sided and certainly not very sporting.

HERE GOES:

When sports wage set their minds to words
To sound the praise of warriors brave,
We wonder how they can neglect
The gals the guys enslave.

For where, we ask, in this fair land,
Where ever sports are played,
Is there a lack of female favor
That never dims or fades?

For fame can flee and glory die
On diamond, field or court,
But there's one that's always waiting
With loving, stout support.

Whether mom or wife or girl friend,
You'll find she's always there
When games are won or games are lost,
To give or take a share.

Dinners are reheated,
To dances always late,
She keeps her temper and her poise,
And just accepts her fate.

Who's there for every brooding coach
To lend attentive ear,
Or after that black Friday night,
To quiet "benching" fear.

Enduring smoky, replay meetings
Providing ego shove,
Enduring locker room aroma,
Believe me, men—THAT'S LOVE!

Victor Hixson Now At Norfolk

Victor L. Hixson, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hixson, 2738 Dibblee-av, is serving with Airborne Anti-Submarine Warfare Squadron 26, based at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va.

The squadron operates from the aircraft carrier USS Randolph. Both units were part of the recent United States quarantine forces in the Caribbean.

I believe that this is the largest ranch home in Whitehall. There are about 2,200 square feet of living space on one floor; one of the three bedrooms is 16x24 feet and the living room is 18x30 feet and carpeted with parquet floors plus a 16x18 library off one side of the living room. Huge kitchen has eating space and there is also a dining room. Two full baths. Outside there is a lot just a little under an acre with many tall trees. Very convenient location close to Town and Country and bus. Price is unbelievably low and far less than reproduction cost. Call me and I'll be glad to show it to you.

Old Trap Shooters Never Die - They Just Fire Away

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROB COCHRAN

According to the traditional joke, two golfers are standing in snow knee-deep on a tall Indian, and one says to the other, "I'm afraid, Clyde, this is our last round for the season." Trap shooters, I learned last week, go one step further and keep on shooting all winter, come snow and cold weather.

Talking to some shooters last Wednesday night at the El Rancho Gun Club, New Rome, one asked me not to publish any names for fear they would bring a padded truck around and round them all up. His ears and nose were bright red at the time from just finishing up a shoot of 25 birds at 16 yards. The temperature was creeping down toward zero. Frankly, it's not a sport for everyone.

But for real trap shooting enthusiasts it is fun, and here are some local shooters who stick at it all winter: Bob Bohannan, 2294 Onandaga-dr; Gene Stanton, 1355 Greenleaf-rd; Cris Brown, 635 Rome-Hilliard-rd; A. L. Wing, 1656 Brown-rd; Bob Logan, Galloway; Stan Hoover, 106 Morning-dr; Ralph Carruthers, 111 N. Kellner-rd; Al Kiefer, 3706 Brandon-st, and Herb Webb, 1608 Weber-rd.

The El Rancho is well suited for winter shooting if you must participate in this form of insanity. The clubhouse has a roaring fire in the fireplace to welcome shooters back inside. Picture windows permit observers to watch the shooting and still keep warm. In about two and one-half years of operation, weather conditions have stopped shooting on only two Wednesday nights. Shooters have come out several times when the temperature was well below zero.

Carl Walker, who manages the club with his brother-in-law, Myron Gifford, says that the coldest job is not shooting but that of the score keeping. "The shooters move around some," he claims, "the scorekeeper just sits on his chair and absorbs the elements." They take turns at this chore to keep from having any frostbite casualties.

Does rain stop the shooting? (Golfers have at least been known to seek shelter during a rain.) No; not usually. They shoot from the clubhouse porch if necessary.

The shooting club takes the place of the hot-stove league that used to gather in country stores. Around the fire, the talk is of hunting and shooting. The Saturday before I was there, a big red fox trotted across the trap range. This started an impromptu fox hunt, with trap guns and shells. Needless to say, the fox escaped but the strange safari will provide conversation for the rest of the winter.

A haven for those who like to shoot and those who just like to talk about shooting, the El Rancho is open on weekends in addition to Wednesday evenings. The shooting starts at noon on Saturday and Sunday and lasts until dusk. Lights are used only on Wednesdays. Nonmembers may shoot.

Concentration Of Gamebirds Seen

During the recent Arctic weather snap, a youngster phoned to ask if the cold and snow would kill all wildlife. I told him that hard winters take their toll, but that in areas of good habitat — with plenty of food and cover — broodstock would survive. The next day brought a thaw and made an honest man of your columnist. Going west on Trabue-rd, just west of Wilson, I saw 28 pheasants and 16 quail out in a stubble field eating. They appeared to be hungry, and paid no attention to me as I pulled off the road to watch. Cars and trucks buzzed by, and yet they fed in the snow. Come spring, some would still be there to continue nature's age-old cycle.

Balloon Days Scheduled To Help Heart Fund Drive

Big red heart-shaped balloons will make their appearance in downtown and suburban shopping areas Friday and Saturday, Feb. 8 and 9, when Ohio State University students from the residence halls observe Balloon Days for the benefit of the Heart Fund.

Approximately 400 men and co-eds will have the inflated balloons for sale at 12 shopping centers Feb. 8, between the hours of 6 and 9 p.m., and at the same centers and 10 downtown corners Saturday, Feb. 9, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Balloons sell for 25 cents.

Balloon salesmen will be on hand at the following shopping centers: Great Eastern, Great Western, Great Southern, Miracle Mile, Northern Lights, Amos, Graceland, Kingsdale, Lane Avenue, Tremont, Central Point and University.

Rose Week Slated For March 21

This will be a big rose year for Columbus, according to Richard Lawwill, superintendent of the Division of Parks and Forestry.

March 21 will begin Rose Week, according to Foster Franks, horticulturist with the division.

In an expanded service to the city, nine workshops will be held in various communities on rose planting and culture: Mar. 21, Franklin Park Shelterhouse; Mar. 23 and 24, Whetstone Shelterhouse; Mar. 25, Schiller Park Recreation Center; Mar. 26, Southview Park Shelterhouse; Mar. 27, Linden Park Recreation Center; Mar. 28, Westgate Park Shelterhouse; Mar. 30 and 31, Whetstone Park Shelterhouse.

Boy Scout News

By JIM RENSHAW
279-2841

The district commissioners meeting will be Wednesday, Feb. 6, at the home of Robert Ding, at 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Feb. 12, the council operations committee meeting will be held at the Nationwide Insurance Co. cafeteria. All members involved in this are asked to attend.

Scout Week will soon be coming up. All scouts and leaders are asked to wear their uniforms on Scout Sunday. Scouts are also urged to wear their uniforms during part of the week to school.

Any scoutmasters, explorer advisors or cubmasters having scout news are asked to call Jim Renshaw (279-2841) to have this information published.

Hoge Memorial Church will observe Boy Scout Sunday, Feb. 10, at the 9 a.m. worship service.

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts are asked to be in uniform and will help with the ushering.

Sportsmen Hunt On Public Area During Season

Sportsmen from 33 counties hunted during the month-long season on the Franklin-Pickaway public area, according to the Ohio Division of Wildlife. During its second year of operation the numbers of game animals taken were: 452 pheasants (released), 40 rabbits, 22 quail and 24 native pheasants.

A total of 2,123 hunting permits were issued.

Located just south of Columbus, this leased public hunting area is useful in relieving pressure from private land, said Virgil Scott, district game management supervisor for the division.

"While a number of counties were represented, 77 percent of the hunters were from Franklin County," he commented.

The area was in operation from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15. Free permits were issued for the total time, giving a fairly exact figure on the game harvest. Ninty-five percent of the hunters reported back to the checking station.

Stabbing At Gladden Stuns Youth Agency

The entire city, numbed by Saturday night's street murder near Gladden Community House, is groping for a solution to an upsurge in teen violence.

Richard Eugene Brown, 17-year-old student in the occupational division of Central High School, died of a stab wound during a brawl which followed a Valentine dance at the settlement house. His funeral was held this afternoon (Wednesday) at Enterprise, O.

Meanwhile, authorities are keeping a close watch for any signs of attempted revenge. Students reportedly were greatly upset at Central, Monday morning. School administrators, however, could not spot any groups organizing for reprisal.

A "Crown The King" dance will go on as scheduled following next Friday night's basketball game with Marion-Franklin, said Virgene Roe, coordinator of student activities. As is customary, a special duty city policeman will be present during the dance, Miss Roe said.

Patrol After Dances

"Police do not keep watch at Gladden dances, but do cruise the area when our activities let out," said Al Wilder, the center's director.

"We have never seen the need to have police on duty every moment," he added, "because our events usually are open only to card-carrying participants of Gladden. We've held only three such dances since last September."

Saturday night's dance was an invitational affair, however, because it was sponsored by a Gladden girls' club, the Hoboettes. A few East Side boys attended. A minor incident on the dance floor prompted a few of the boys to leave the center and drive back to the East Side for "reinforcements." One of those recruited was 20-year-old Ollie Todd, the confessed killer, who is the father of three young children. He reportedly was asked to drive the boys back to Gladden in his car so they would not be noticed.

Police said they entered the scene just as a fight developed during dismissal of the dance. Todd and his group joined the fight as more than 100 watched. Youths were swinging tire tools, clubs, shovels and other makeshift weapons.

Police said young Brown was leaving the center with his date, Gloria Eubanks, 16.

Commission Asks Review Of Clime-Demorest Rezoning

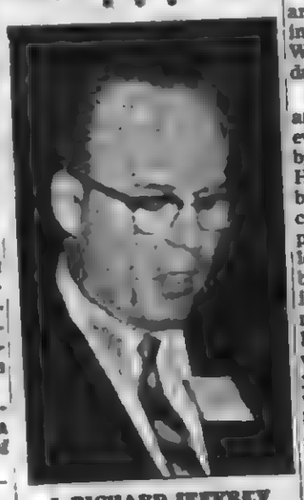
Hilltop real estate developer George W. Schaaf's request for the rezoning of a 58-acre site on the northeast corner of Clime and Demorest-rds for the building of twin singles, apartments and a shopping center has been held up by the Franklin County Regional Planning Commission for 30 days.

The planning commission shelved Schaaf's proposal last Friday until its next meeting, Friday, March 1 and asked the developer and regional planning staff to review plans for 34.5 acres of the tract to be used for building of deluxe apartments.

Since the planning commission works in an advisory capacity for rezoning cases, Schaaf could ignore their request and ask the Franklin County Rural Zoning Commission to review his application at a public hearing slated for 8:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 25 in the Franklin Township Firehouse.

Schaaf said, however, he would honor the review request and submit a written letter to the zoning commission asking for a 30-day delay on his hearing.

The hearing would be delayed for a month and a letter sent to area residents explaining the postponement if the developer's request is received, said Mrs. Thelma Hardy, zoning commission executive secretary.



If Schaaf's letter is not received in time for the commission to inform citizens through the mail, it would be read at the hearing on Feb. 25 and then a 30-day postponement would be granted.

Law requires the zoning commission to send out letters notifying residents of public hearings for rezoning 20 days before the meeting, said Mrs. Hardy. Residents should have already received announcement of the Feb. 25 hearing but had better check the mailbox for a cancellation notice before leaving to attend.

The planning commission balked at its staff recommendation when it asked the planning staff and Schaaf to review the plans for development of deluxe apartments on 34.5 acres.

The staff was against turning over control of such a large area for the number of Trustees Support Staffers

Trustees of Gladden Community House gave the Gladden staff a full vote of confidence Monday, two nights after the teen flare-up which resulted in the death of a youth.

In his first act after installation as president of the settlement, J. Richard Jeffrey read the following statement to about 150 persons present:

"The board of trustees of Gladden Community House has reviewed the entire situation and confirmed that the staff was on duty during the spontaneous incident which occurred on Saturday night. The staff of Gladden Community House discharged their responsibilities in a highly professional manner.

"The board of trustees, at a called meeting, reaffirmed their commitment to the existing program of this agency and the necessity to enjoin the entire community in the total responsibility to eradicate the basic causes leading to this type of situation."

Juvenile Care Crises Are Aired

Two public officials on separate occasions this week declared that neglected juveniles in Franklin County are not getting the proper treatment.

Columbus Safety Director Albert G. Giles was quoted by the press as saying that police are doing an excellent job of catching young law breakers, but the courts are being too lenient. He said penalties simply are not being imposed in the majority of cases. "They (the courts) should do more than just slap these kids on the wrist," he was quoted. Giles said auto thefts in particular are being neglected.

"Juveniles sneer at the police because they are confident they won't be punished," he said.

Thomas Applegate, longtime member of the Child Welfare Board, accused the county of "warehousing" neglected children at Franklin Village at double the cost of keeping them in their homes. While speaking at the Gladden House annual meeting he said the curtailment of child protective (case worker) services in 1962 was a serious step backward. Applegate commended Gladden for its voluntary work in keeping families together. "When we work positively toward the preservation of family life we are doing much to prevent juvenile delinquency," he declared.

Applegate pointed out that $1.2 million will be needed in 1963 to serve half the children who were cared for last year. He predicted that a bill will come before the legislature soon to obtain levy money for these children.

Notes and Nubbins:

When the kids in a Hilliard neighborhood got to comparing notes, their mothers had to get together and adopt a uniform price schedule for the Good Fairy who leaves coins under the pillow in exchange for extracted front teeth . . . The nearest thing to footprints on the sands of time some women will ever leave will be their spiked heel marks in the new kitchen linoleum floor . . . One of the good things that doesn't happen too often is to go to church and have the choirs' selection and the three hymns all turn out to be the good old numbers the congregation knows . . . With a daughter planning a September wedding I'd promise to vote for Kennedy next time if he'd put the expenses of such an event in his reformed tax bill.

Advertising Paid Off

Coca Cola men of this area were guests of their company at a big wing-ding Saturday at North High School and it brings to mind that this little item that you can buy in some places for less than a dime today is sold in 119 countries around the globe, the most widely distributed article in the world.

And it all came about through constant advertising. Back from the time the first bottle was produced, that name has appeared

THREE MORE AWARDS—one for local features, one for advertising, and one for news coverage were won by The Hilltop Record at the Ohio Newspaper Association's annual meeting last Friday. Displaying the awards are, left to right, Betty Daft, who has been on the Record staff 10 years; John Auble, Jr., feature writer, and George Bracken, advertising director.

Wins Again!

The Hilltop Record, oldest of the seven Hartley Newspapers, won three awards last Friday in competition with hundreds of large-circulation suburban weeklies from all over Ohio.

The awards climaxed the Hooper Newspaper Show at the 30th Annual Convention of the Ohio Newspaper Association held in the Deshler Hilton Hotel.

In separate classes the Record won second place for local features, third place for advertising, and third place for news coverage. The Record also received honorable mention for its editorials.

Record place in local features was won on the strength of five outstanding articles. John Auble, Jr., wrote three of them—they concerned football spectator etiquette, home brew, and kids' Kool-Aid sales and the law.

Bernie Karsko's story about a woman parachutist from Alton, and Joe French's personal-experience on the impact of the Billie Sol Estes scandal were also cited.

The Record, now in its 46th year, is edited by Marcus T. Orr.

Board Of Education Takes Stand In S-W On Land Transfers

South-Western City School District's Board of Education has decided to oppose a request from the Columbus Board of Education for the transfer of three plots of land for school purposes at a meeting Monday evening.

South-Western board members said they would take a stand on the issue in an attempt to prevent "the chipping away of their school district." The board feels that it must try and "preserve" the present school district.

Involved are 114.3 acres of land valued at about $24,700 already annexed into the city.

The three plots are located opposite Wedgewood-dr on Briggs-rd, adjacent to Bellflower and Harris-sts on Briggs-rd, and between Greenlawn Cemetery and Harmon-av.

Only about eight children would be affected by the transfer in the three plots at present but school officials expect subdivisions to be built in two areas in the future.

Once the Ohio Board of Education receives a letter from the district opposing the request, a hearing will be scheduled and South-Western board members will have an opportunity to voice their opinions, said Paul Walker, a member of the state board.

The Ohio Board of Education will make a final decision on whether to approve or turn down the request from the Columbus Board of Education for the land transfer.

South-Western board members announced the awarding of $460,000 general construction and electrical contract to Miller-Edwards Co. for the Pleasant View High School addition.

The addition will include 16 new classrooms and a 1,000-seat auditorium and music room.

The board heard from a representative of the company who had the low bid for a plumbing and heating contract for the Pleasant View addition. The representative agreed to supply the board with references from his last five jobs to prove his company's ability to finish the job on time.

School officials expect construction to start in early spring and hope students can attend classes in the new portion of the high school by the fall semester.

The board approved a resolution to buy 36 acres of land at $2,600 per acre, 600 feet south of the Rome-Hilliard-rd and W. Broad-st intersection.

Construction of either a junior or senior high school is contemplated for the area in the future.

Advertising bids for a multi-purpose room for Alton-Hall Elementary School were approved. Bids will be opened Mar. 14.

Appropriations for 1963 and a request from Teens Unlimited to use Grove City High School for their monthly meeting were also approved at the meeting.

Democrat Club Sets Installation Of '63 Officers

The Ninth Ward Democratic Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Feb. 19, at the Gladden Community House, W. Town-st and Hawkes-av, in the adult room.

Meeting will be called to order by Margaret Duey, president, at 7:30 p.m.

Jerry F. Ryan, chairman of the Franklin County Democratic Committee, will install the 1963 club officers.

Community Council To Hear Report On Westgate Center

Featured speaker at the 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 14, meeting of the Hilltop Community Council in the Valley-view 'Y,' will be Mel Dodge, supervisor of the Columbus Recreation Department. The public is invited.

He will tell of the progress and programming of the Westgate Park Recreation Center which is scheduled to open May 1.

At the business meeting, plans for the annual Easter egg hunt will be discussed. Committees for the event will be chosen.

Persons attending are asked to bring Valentines for exchange.

City Pushes Further Link To Wilson Rd.

The City Planning Commission this morning enthusiastically endorsed a plan to extend Wilson-rd all the way south from Broad-st to Alkire-rd. Harold Buchanan, director of planning, presented the tentative alignment.

This eventually would be a cross-town artery, extending about five miles from Roberts-rd to Alkire.

Mayor Ralston Westlake said the extension would be an important access road to the new outerbelt and would be used heavily by industrial workers in the area. He said the matter will be taken up soon with the Regional Planning Commission and county commissioners.

Collision Kills Samuel Webb

A two-car collision at W. Mound-st and Chestershire-rd killed a former Central High School and Capital University football player early Tuesday, police revealed.

Dead is Samuel Wilford Webb, 28, of 987 S. Richardson-av.

According to police, Webb was returning home from a date and was driving east on Mound-st. At 2:35 a.m., his car crashed into the side of a southbound car driver by Donald A. Novak, 39, of 904 Wiltshire-rd.

Nov k was uninjured and is being held by police for investigation of traffic manslaughter.

Webb was a 1958 graduate of Capital University. He taught biology at Eastmoor Junior High School for one year.

He was currently employed as an insurance salesman for Mutual of New York.

Survivors include parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Webb, Sr., with whom he lived; two brothers, Richard, Jr., and Donald; nephew, aunts and uncles.

Service will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 15, in the Jerry Speers Funeral Home. Interment will be in Green Lawn Cemetery.

'Glue Sniffing' Fad Filled With Danger, Officials Warn

The tragic death of one young boy last Friday, and another early Wednesday, focused public attention on the menacing fad of "fume sniffing," practiced by some city school children.

Sheldon Higgins, 13, of 402 S. Ogden-av, is the first local fatality from the dangerous practice of sniffing fumes for "kicks," and 15-year-old Donald Ellis, 311 S. Ogden-av, is the second.

The two Westmoor Junior High students had poured gasoline into a coffee pot on a stove, and were sniffing the fumes when an explosion occurred.

Airplane glue sniffing, started on the West Coast, has moved across the country, and has become a fad for some local juvenile groups, particularly in the last month. The effects of inhaling the fumes are described as "giddy, intoxicating."

City school, health and juvenile authorities, warning parents of the fad's potential danger, urge firm measures.

Dr. Harold Eibling, superintendent of Columbus Public Schools, reviewed the problem with all city school principals at a meeting yesterday.

He issued firm orders stating that any pupil inhaling fumes in school buildings or on school playgrounds, would be immediately suspended.

Dr. Francis W. Eberly, medical director of the Teenage Clinic, Children's Hospital, described the effects of inhaling airplane glue fumes as "a real and potential danger, causing damage to kidneys, bone marrow and liver."

He further pointed out that a child who appeared perfectly healthy, but had a weakness of the heart or lungs or a chronic liver ailment, would be especially susceptible to serious effects.

"One boy treated at the hospital, after sniffing glue, had a breakdown of red blood cells. Others treated here seemed unconscious."

He cited adolescents, from 10 through 14, as most frequently practicing the fad.

The injurious element in airplane glue, he said, is the organic solvents—benzene and xylene usually, and added that some manufacturers had added an unpleasant smell to the product to discourage the practice.

The concern police juvenile officers have shown for the problem was expressed by Sgt. Richard Griffith, who pointed out that the fad was being practiced throughout

Gasoline Blast Claims Second Teenage Victim Wednesday

Donald Ellis, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ellis, 366 S. Ogden-av, became the second victim of fire following a gasoline explosion, early Wednesday.

He died in Mt. Carmel Hospital, shortly after midnight, after suffering burns over 50 per cent of his body in a fire that followed experimental sniffing of gasoline fumes. He had been in critical condition since the tragedy, early last Friday.

His companion, Sheldon Higgins, 13, died in the same hospital Friday afternoon. His funeral was held Tuesday at the Jerry Speers Funeral Home.

According to sheriff's deputies, the two had played hookey from Westmoor Junior High Thursday, and had broken into the Hilltop Sportsmen Club, 3100 London-Groveport-rd, late that night.

Donald Ellis told deputies that around midnight they had poured gasoline into a pan and heated it on the stove, because they had heard it would produce a "high" feeling.

The explosion, apparently caused by the gasoline, ignited the boys' clothing and destroyed the club.

Donald dove into a creek to put out the flames, and

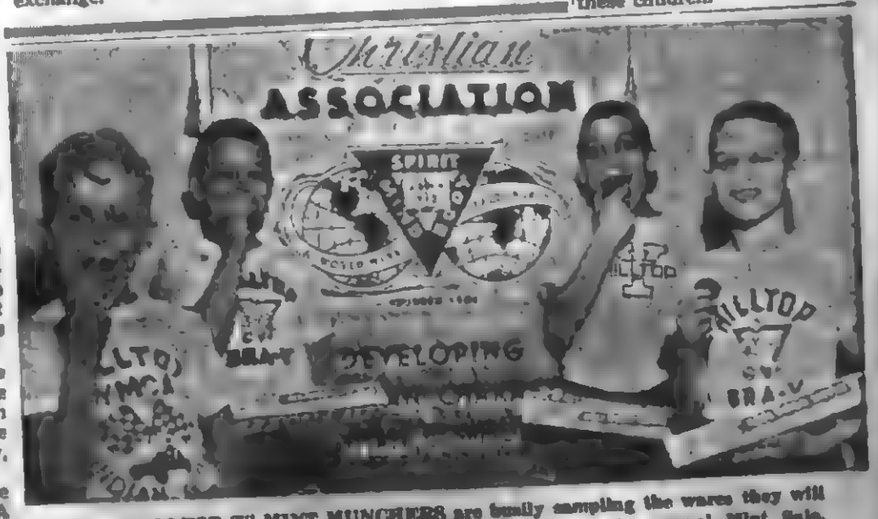
Hilltop 'Y' Mint Sale To Aid Mission Work

The annual Hilltop YMCA Mint Sale will start at 9 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 16.

Proceeds from this sale will be used to help meet the World Service goal of the Hilltop Branch. World Service is the missionary work of the YMCA to assist countries throughout the world in less fortunate areas.

Prizes will again be awarded to salesmen who show outstanding individual efforts. This sale will also allow boys an opportunity to earn their complete or partial fees for attendance at Camp Alfred L. Wilson.



All Gra-Y clubs will participate in this sale and will be working for special points toward their "Club-of-the-Year" totals.

The sale is open to all youth members of the Hilltop "Y" who obtain permission from their parents to take part in this project. Last year over 150 boys and girls participated.

This year's product will be an 18-ounce box of chocolate covered thin mints which sells for $1. The official sale is scheduled to end Saturday, Mar. 2.

Prizes for this year's sale will be: a Gra-Y or YMCA T-shirt for 24 boxes sold; large model (airplane, car or boat) for 48 boxes; 10 camp stamps or little league bat and ball for 72 boxes; 20 camp stamps or basketball or rod and reel for 120 boxes; 30 camp stamps or ball glove or

Eagles Slate Dinner Dance

The ritual and drill team of Columbus Aerie 297, Fraternal Order of Eagles, 771 High-st, is sponsoring a steak dinner, Sunday, Feb. 17, from 5 to 8 p.m.

The menu includes steak fullame or meat loaf, mashed potatoes and gravy, peas, cole slaw, bread and butter and coffee.

This dinner is open to all Eagles, their families, friends and guests. Donations are $1 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12.

Dancing will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

Soap Box Derby Plans Announced

Columbus boys will have the opportunity this summer to take part in the biggest Soap Box Derby yet, the 1963 running of the famous All-American coasting classic.

An official race franchise has been awarded to Columbus by All-American Soap Box Derby headquarters in Detroit.

For the second year the race, which will determine the city's representative in the national championship, will be sponsored by the Columbus Jaycees, local Chevrolet dealers and WLW-C. The race will be held July 13.

At stake for the young pilots of their small, self-built, gravity propelled racers will be $30,000 in college scholarship awards.

The Soap Box Derby is open to all school boys 11 through 15 years of age, inclusive. Any boy of qualified age living in the Greater Columbus area may enter the local race by registering with a parent or guardian. Youngsters will receive a free copy of the 1963 Soap Box Derby rule book and a brochure explaining the program.

Among prizes to be awarded the local champ are a $500 savings bond, a championship trophy and an all-expense paid trip to Akron to take part in the All-American.

Complete details of the 1963 race, including the site and schedule of clinics and other preliminary events, will be announced later.

Top Ranking Stars Booked At Vets Feb. 16

"Show of Big Stars," presenting the top recording artists in the rhythm and blues field today, will appear at Veterans Memorial on Saturday, Feb. 16. There will be two performances, at 7:30 and 10:00 p.m.

Headlining the stars will be Jackie Wilson, Bobby Rydell, The Orlons, Junior Lewis, Five Royales, The Exciters, Lou Christie, Jive Five, and Little Anthony.

Tickets are now on sale at Central Ticket Office, 37 N. High-st. Mail orders must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ONE WHO WILL MAKE IT

"CAN'T YOU SEE I have two feet of my own?" objected Delmas Lockhart to a cab driver who started to carry him into the cab for a trip to the Treatment Center of the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children recently. As the 1963 Easter Seal child in this area, Delmas represents all crippled children served by the sale of seals from Mar. 7 to Apr. 14. Delmas, who was born with cerebral palsy, is now six and is learning the joy of doing things for himself. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmas Lockhart, Sr., 1812 Stetson-rd.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

A special Valentine dance was held Feb. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Denver Hart were crowned king and queen of this year's festivities. A committee of boys and girls, [illegible] by Tom Helmick and Dorothy Flowers, were responsible for preliminary arrangements. They also crowned the king and queen. Dances are held each Friday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. at the Hilltop "Y."

The sale of camp saving stamps will begin at the Hilltop YMCA within the next week. This plan allows boys, over the age of eight, to begin saving part of their fees for the sessions at the YMCA Camp Alfred L. Willson in Bellefontaine. The fees for this year's sessions will be $27 for a six-day period and $52 for a 13-day period. For further information interested persons can call the Hilltop YMCA office.

The next meeting of the Hilltop "Y" Indian Guide Longhouse will be held Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 6:30 p.m. in the "Y." There will be an election of officers.

Currently heading up this year's Longhouse are: chief, Al Stephens; sub-chief, Mel Senerius; tally keeper, George Hughes, and wampum bearer, Harry Miller.

Detailed information on the Match Box Derby, which is scheduled for the latter part of April, will also be presented.

Junior Hi-Y clubs of West, Westmoor and Hilltonia will have a "Wild Night at the Y" on Feb. 21. The event will begin Thursday at 10 p.m. and continue through the hours of the late evening and early morning until 8 a.m. Friday, Feb. 22.

Activities planned include ping pong, pool and shuffleboard tournaments.

Movies will be shown throughout the morning and refreshments will be available.

Registration blanks and fees are due no later than Tuesday, Feb. 19. No registration forms or money will be accepted after this date.

C. R. Wilson III Is Named City Garage Manager

Chalmers R. Wilson, III, 35, of 4527 Aragon-av has been appointed office manager of the Municipal Garage by Mayor W. Ralston Westlake.

The post was created for the purpose of installing up-to-date management methods and accounting controls in the garage, Mayor Westlake said.

Wilson will be second in command to the garage superintendent.

Wilson is a graduate of Central High school and of Bliss College, where he majored in business administration.

Wilson has served in the U.S. Navy and the Ohio National Guard. He also has been national treasurer of Phi Kappa Gamma Fraternity, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a deacon in the Shady Lane Presbyterian Church and treasurer of Shady Lane Men's Association.

He is a member of the Masons, Scottish Rite and the Shrine, is married, and has three children.

Stolen Saddle, Blanket, Brings Jury Indictment

Donald Eugene Dearwester, 28, of 575 Wrexham-av, was indicted Monday by the Franklin County Grand Jury on a charge of receiving and concealing a stolen saddle and saddle blanket.

The saddle and the Navajo blanket belonged to the Franklin County Sheriff's posse.

Highway patrolmen reported that Ralph Raymond Milner, 34, of 1258½ Oak-st, admitted taking the saddle and of having Dearwester keep it at his home for him.

Milner has been charged in connection with the theft.

Election Board Ousts Bricker's Mayoralty Bid

West Side businessman, John E. Bricker, Democrat, will not be a candidate for Columbus mayor, the board of elections ruled Monday.

Bricker submitted petitions with 306 signatures less than required, the board explained.

The petition contained 3,628 signatures when submitted last Wednesday.

Election board workers declared 764 signatures invalid, leaving 306 needed for the required 3,170 names.

Workers found 637 signatures were not registered voters, 104 were not Columbus residents and 23 signatures were illegible.

Bricker is assistant vice-president of John Getreu and Son, Inc., hardware wholesalers at 670 Harmon-av.

Church 'Older Youth' Group Enters Movie Clean-Up 'Crusade'

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A church-affiliated group of young people, going under the name of "Crusaders," is making a big attempt this month to show the movie industry what the public wants in films.

The "Crusaders," 12-26-year olds from Broad Street Methodist Church, are entering into the challenge for a movie "clean-up" in their long-range efforts to learn to live better lives.

"We are not trying to clean up the movie industry as such," said Mrs. David Skeen, wife of the Broad-st church pastor. "This, at any rate, is not our long-range view.

"We're trying to teach youth to live better Christian lives and smut movies are just one thing that we feel a necessity to do something about."

In this direction, the "Crusaders" have bought out the New Main Theater, on E. Main-st, and are selling tickets for a movie entitled "Whistle Down The Wind," a suspense thriller starring English actress Haley Mills.

The movie is not religious in nature. It is certainly not a classic in movie-making but it is, as these young people see it, the type of film that the public wants and are thus setting it up as an example.

Much has been said in the Hartley Newspapers about the sex and violence that has been dirtying theater screens across the country. The "Crusaders" are taking the same view.

What makes this effort particularly significant is the fact that this is the first time a church group has ever endorsed a film and actively participated in promoting it.

Perhaps Student Chairman David Conlin summed it up best by saying, "If we encourage better pictures, we'll get better ones."

The "Crusaders," who have obviously given much thought and consideration to this precedent-setting venture, emphasized the fact that they are "not condemning films" but, rather, "just crusading for better motion pictures."

This group is, make no mistake, not making any moves to tear down the industry . . . an industry which is as much of an American tradition as apple pie.

"This movie we're endorsing," according to student leader David Sullivan, "is being singled out as an example to the movie industry of the type of film the public is demanding."

Of main concern to these workers are movies to attend on dates. Usually, groups of this type are concerned with the corruption of the moral standards of youngsters.

"Naturally, we hope to have children some day and we take the long-range view," commented Sharon Noftz. "But, right now, we're concerned with films suitable for kids of our age to see when dating."

They said there are "very few" movies suitable to attend on dates. The boys mentioned the fact that "some girls take a dim view of a boys' character if he takes her to see some of the films being shown in today's theaters."

With this thought in mind, the film endorsement has been planned for Valentine's Day — a usual time for movie dating.

"We have an immediate challenge and an ultimate goal before us," Mrs. Skeen added. "Our goal is to live to the fullest potential of youth in God and our challenge is to 'crusade' for clean movies by sponsoring one."

The older-youth-sponsored film will be shown at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Tickets, available at the door or through members of the Crusaders' Class (Broad-st Methodist Church, Broad and Washington) are $1.25 for adults and 50-cents for children.

Proceeds from the ticket sale will be used for a "Vision Project" whereby the class will support an "adventure in camping and Christian witnessing to enrich our own and other lives for Christ in summer of 1963," Mrs. Skeen concluded.

The group hopes to send members to Puerto Rico to exploit the movie idea there along with other Christian principles.

Gladden To Hold Family Night

Gladden Community House has set Friday, Feb. 15, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. as Family Night.

All parents are urged to attend with their children.

There will be euchre, chess, checkers, scrabble and volleyball games for adults.

Baby sitting and children's activities will be provided, plus a "big surprise" program and refreshments.

For further information, call Mrs. Smoot, CA. 1-7801.

Girls Complete Homemaking II

As a climax to a unit of work on etiquette and grooming, 20 Central High School girls, enrolled in Mrs. Richard Marsh's Homemaking II course, took a conducted tour of the Kahiki Restaurant and had dinner there, Feb. 7.

The girls, Mrs. Marsh, and some Central faculty members dined on exotic food.

A drop of glycerine added to soap-bubble mixture will give added color.

Local Girls Named Top Homemakers

Six girls of the area who were first in their high schools in the Betty Crocker search for the homemaker of tomorrow test given in December have been announced.

They are Janice R. Graham, Rosemont High School; Janet Sue Koehler, West High School; Barbara Ann Ryan, Holy Family High School; Peggy Ann Wagner, Franklin Heights High School; Mary C. Bennett, St. Joseph Academy and Margaret M. McGreevy, St. Mary of the Springs Academy.

They are now entered in a state-wide competition for the $1500 scholarship sponsored by General Mills. An award of $500 is given to the girl placing second, and a set of Encyclopedia Brittanica goes to the school of each state winner.

National winners will be selected when the state winners are given a tour of New York City, Washington, D. C., and Williamsburg, Va. The first-place homemaker will receive a $5,000 scholarship, one of 102 awards totalling $110,000 offered.

CITY EYES NARROW BRIDGE ON EAKIN-RD

ROBERT WOERNER, city engineer, reported his department is making a location survey at a narrow bridge on Eakin-rd, just west of Clarendon-av. Evidence that the bridge, located at a sharp curve, is a constant threat to motorists is seen in the above picture. The driver of the car was photographed just as he crossed the center line on the road to round the dangerous curve leading to the bridge. Large trees also hinder a view of the bridge for oncoming drivers. Engineers will study the traffic flow, alignment of the road and width of the pavement and bridge. Two persons were killed and three others injured in the vicaity of the curve on Jan. 14.

Area Men Will Serve HeartFund

Two residents of this area are serving as division chairmen of the Heart Fund drive now in progress and sponsored by the Franklin County Heart Council under the general chairmanship of Woody Hayes, Ohio State University head football coach.

They are Harry Richter, 306 g, Brinker, banking, and Carl Peterson, 3321 Eakin-rd, drugs.

In all, there are 18 divisions in this phase of the month-long campaign to raise funds for research, education and community service in the fight against heart disease.

There are nine business people in this area who are also taking part in the small business firms solicitation. They are Paul Meszaros, 895 Harwood-dr, chairman, Paulene Foddy, 462 W. Broad-st, Anthony Penzoni, 907 W. Broad-st, Ralph Burrell, 1278 W. Broad-st, Gene Wolfe, 2427 W. Broad-st, Paul Lugger, 2781 W. Broad-st, N. J. Malta, 3341 W. Broad-st, Steve Long, 647 Harrisburg-pk, and Ernest Gibson, 2804 Sullivant-av.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION SET

IRVING STEIN, owner of Grove City Furniture and Appliances, 3880 Broadway, is shown with one of the bedroom suites to be given away during the firms' First Anniversary Celebration. Coupons for the drawing can be found in this newspaper or picked up at the store. Stein said contestants should register in person but it is not necessary for the winner to be present. First drawing will be held Friday, Mar. 15. Similar drawings will take place during April, May, June, July and August. Stein said if the monthly winner does not need a bedroom suite, he will receive credit on any other items in the store. Grove City Furniture handles RCA Whirlpool appliances, Simmons and Sealy Mattresses and Hide-a-beds along with a complete line of furnishings.

27 Cadets To Win Rank At Armory

Graduation ceremonies will begin for 27 cadets at 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 16, in the Haubrich Armory, 4094 Sullivant-av.

Highlight of the activities will be when wives, sweethearts and friends of the graduates of the Ohio National Guard's Officer Candidate School pin the gold bars of a lieutenant to the shoulders of the men.

The public is invited.

The exercise is being held in conjunction with the Ohio Army and Air National Guard units in Columbus and Franklin County's annual "Muster Day."

Open house will be held at the Bush Armory, 2170 Howey-rd, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"Muster Day" was established in colonial times when once a year the male citizens of the community gathered on the village green, bearing whatever weapons they owned, to be counted in the annual census and to train for the defense of their communities.

This year, the day is a phase of "Operation 2,000," a statewide recruiting campaign to man Ohio's reorganized 37th Infantry Division and the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing.

TRAINED

North Shores, Inc., 144 E. State-st, has received a building permit to erect a one-story frame dwelling at 1045 Wedgewood-rd. Valuation is $15,000.

Kills Hint Of I-70 Altering

Harmon Merwin, director of the Franklin County Regional Planning Commission told Hartley Newspapers this week that a rumor being circulated that the route of the West Freeway (1-70) would be radically changed is false.

Merwin said it may have arisen from an informal session in which Columbus officials Robert Woerner, city engineer; Ernest Stork, service director; Jack Gallagher, traffic engineer; Harold Buchanan, acting planning director, and Merwin commented on suggested minor changes in the alignment of the freeway.

They gathered after the city hearing on Alum Creek-dr alteration in December.

He said "off the cuff" comments were made and evidently misinterpreted.

W. J. Crennan, head of the Urban Division, State Highway Department, said he knew nothing of a proposed major change in the Freeway route.

The West Freeway is proposed to intersect the Columbus Innerbelt at the Spring-Sandusky Interchange with points west between Columbus and Springfield.

CALLED UP

FIREMAN APPRENTICE Jon Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Morgan, 2271 Sullivant-av, has received orders from the Navy to report to Norfolk, Va., on Tuesday, Feb. 5, for active duty. Morgan attended West High School and has been in the Naval Reserve for 30 months.

Finishes Navy Training

Thomas T. Caines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Caines Jr., 479 W. State-st, completed recruit training Feb. 8 at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

During the nine-week course trainees were indoctrinated to navy life, trained in basic military skills and received tests and interviews to determine future training and assignments.

Symposium Set At Mt. Carmel

Sisters of The Holy Cross and the Medical Staff of Mount Carmel Hospital will present "The Mother M. Constantine Memorial Symposium" Wednesday, Feb. 20 in Marian Hall of Mt. Carmel School of Nursing, starting at 9 a.m.

All doctors of Central Ohio have been invited, and attending members of the Academy of General Practice will receive seven hours credit for post-graduate study.

Speakers for the morning session include Dr. D. Emerick Szilagyi, surgeon-in-charge, division of general surgery, Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, Mich., and Dr. Edmund D. Pellegrino, professor of Medicine, University of Kentucky.

They will discuss all aspects of anticoagulant therapy, its history, and the various drugs used in medicine and surgery.

A panel discussion will close the morning session and will include Dr. Pellegrino and members of the Mount Carmel Medical Staff. It will be moderated by Dr. Donald W. Traphagen, surgical co-chairman of the program committee.

A buffet luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. by the Sisters, under the supervision of Sister M. Frances Anthony, in charge of the Hospital dietary service.

Barbara Deitrich Bride Of Ernest J. Joly

MRS. ERNEST JOLY

St. Aloysius Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Barbara Kay Dietrich and Mr. Ernest J. Joly, Jan. 26. Fr. Maloney officiated at the nuptial ceremony at 11 a.m.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deitrich,, 895 Wiltshire-rd, and bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Joly of 19 Farnum-pk, Esmond, Rhode Island.

The bridal gown of peau taffeta was designed with a scooped neckline, bracelet sleeves, and a bodice frosted with alencon lace and seed pearls. The full belle, pleated skirt featured a full-length detachable chapel train, fastened in the front with a bow.

A double Swedish crown of alencon lace edged wth seed pearls held the bouffant veil of silk English illusion, and she carried a sheath cascade of snowdrift Fujii pompons centered with a removable white orchid.

Miss Patricia Kelley served as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Dolores Fulmer and Mrs. John McKitrick.

They wore identical sheath gowns of matisse velveteen, fashioned with scooped necklines, short sleeves, and full satin overskirts fastened in the front with bows. Each wore a matching satin circlet hat with face veil, and carried a French nosegay of pink demure sweetheart roses.

Mr. Richard Tremblay served as best man, and guests were seated by Mr. John Deitrich, brother of the bride, and Mr. John McKitrick.

Hostesses for the reception, held at Nationwide Inn following the ceremony, were Sally Figueroa and Sandy McMillen.

The new Mrs. Joly was graduated from West High School and is a member of Phi Delta Nu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Mr. Joly was graduated from La-Salle Academy and attended the University of Rhode Island. He is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, and is employed as a laboratory technician for US Rubber Co., Providence, R. I.

Following a wedding trip to Cincinnati, the couple is at home at 16 Lincoln-st, Esmond, R. I.
